

Teachings from Heaven

I love you with an Everlasting Love

God the Father

There are no adequate words to express the Lord's love for His people. How can anyone express his mercy for his children? We need to learn confidence. We need to learn how to trust in his sacrifice for us. Heaven is waiting for the return of her children. All the Angels are singing praises to God. Interceding for us. Why do we wait? We keep thinking we have tomorrow. What if there is no tomorrow? Only today. How can we prepare ourselves when we haven't even started a dialog with the Father yet? What are we waiting for? He loves us. He waits for us. He is there. Why can't we see that? Why have we removed ourselves from His presence? Time is of the essence. Tomorrow may not be here, like you think.

This is how you begin: Say hello. I am here. Say hello. Tell me your troubles. I am listening. Tell me your concerns. I am here. I never stop caring for my children. Your fears are important to me. You are the ones who have stopped listening to my call. Trust that I want you in my Kingdom. I would not have prepared a place for you if I did not intend on giving it to you. You keep walking away, wasting time with anything that floats by, useless things that grab a hold of your attention, your heart. How can I love you so much and yet you remain so far from my voice? Listen. Remove all obstacles from your heart and quiet yourself, listen. You are mine. You belong to me. I am your Father. I created you. You are my sons and daughters. Look to my Son for evidence of my love. Is that not proof enough?

Trust in my voice: I am calling you. Return to me. Leave behind the ways of men. Return to the ways of your Father. I have prepared a place for you. My Son insured that with His sacrifice on the cross. No one has such love. He paid your price. How can you turn away from such a sacrifice? How many times must I call you back to me? When will you finally listen? I am patient. I will wait for you. That is how important you are to me. Do not be afraid of today. Give me everything and I will give you peace. Give me your troubles; I understand. You are never alone. I have ensured that, by giving you an Angel for all your life. You are never alone. We are at your side - watching.

(God asks me to tell you about my vision.)

In the garden we are His beautiful flowers. Each day God passes over us like a cloud moving with a gentle breeze. He looks at all of us with great love. His love is like the sun's healing rays, shining on our leaves. He sees us. Sadly when we contemplate sin, weeds begin to encroach upon us. If we commit a sin, their roots shoot into the ground. Our Lady comes into the garden with her apron full of prayers and sacrifices of others. She offers them to her Son. She begs him to let her pick the weeds and free her children. He initially says "no" but she persists. She shows him the prayers and sacrifices she has. He cannot turn her down and agrees. Our Lady begins to pull the weeds. When all the weeds are cleared away she can see the sickly state of her children. She weeps and her tears nourish. God passes over and His rays of love shine down and once again the flowers are transformed into the beauty God had originally designed.

You see how my love heals! Prayer and sacrifice from my children soften my heart. When you pray or give sacrifices for your brother, wars can end. First you need to be healed yourself. Come back to me and I will send my Son to heal. He is the "Great Physician." I hear your sadness, your cries for my help. Where are your brothers and sisters? Did I not give you each other? Yet when you cry for me, so often you are alone in your prayer. How much I wish your brothers and sisters would stand with you in your sorrow! Fear not I still hear you and I will heal you. You are ill and don't realize it yet. Do not fear. I will help you see your weakness. Trust, you will feel my healing rays.

God the Father

My Mercy is infinite. "Why" you ask? How much does a parent love its child? Even when the child does wrong the parent is quick to forgive. When the child is ill the parent stands guard until the child is well again. Am I no different? Will I not guard you when you are sick? You are my children. Do I not forgive when you ask? But, you do not ask. You remain silent. Thinking you can handle it on your own. You lack trust in my mercy. You lack confidence in my ability to forgive this or that sin. I am disappointed when you sin. But I am more disappointed when you lack trust in my forgiveness. I love you. I desire you to be with me. I wait to welcome you back home. I am waiting to give you peace. Peace, that is what your soul longs for. You try to fill it with things of this world. There is nothing here for you that you can take with you. I am all that you need. I am the one who gives you peace. Things cannot give peace. That is the illusion of this world, so many things to distract you from me.

Return to your Father. Trust. Come back to me. I am waiting for your return. Don't keep me waiting. Heaven rejoices when a child comes home. Imagine the sorrow when a child is lost. Everyone is looking, desperate to reunite that child with its parents. But not so with my children who are lost. This world only makes it harder for them to find their way back home. Listen to my voice. Your world is ill. I will send My Son to heal it. Don't wait. Come to me. I will give you rest. I will restore you. I will give you health. You are mine. You belong to me.

God the Father

Today's scripture verse: Ephesians 4:1-2

I then, a prisoner for the Lord, urge you to live in a manner worthy of the call you have received, with all humility and gentleness, with patience, bearing with one another through love.

Come back to me. That is what I ask of my children. Come back so I can comfort you. I will heal all of your hurts. Listen to my words. I never deceive you. I am truth. You live in a world that worships lies, but do not be fooled. Instead open your hearts to your Father. Listen for my voice. You will hear me. You are mine.

God the Father

This world is consumed with one thing: Money. Money has become my children's god. You see the birds in the sky, the foxes running in the woods, do they have money? They have houses. They have food. I take care of all my creations. A bird falls from the sky - I am aware. How much more would I do for you? You have pets, and you care for them: feeding, housing, and providing for them. Do you provide for your children the same? If I take care of my sparrows why then are you not satisfied with what I have given you? I gave you all of my creation to have dominion over. Yet it has never been enough. I gave you each other and yet you hardly take the time to notice your brothers and sisters. Why? You placed greed ahead of each other and Me. So many castles yet those who occupy them are less happy than my children with no castle. Castles will not buy you happiness. It is your love for each other that will yield you the most happiness. How can so many of my children remain hungry? Did I not give you a world full of plenty?

No, you choose your objects over your brothers and sisters. You are each other's keepers. There is no greater gift than to love your brothers and sisters unconditionally. When you look back on your childhood do you remember the items or people? Have things shaped you or has your family? Your brother in a shelter is hungry. Do you know that? I can assure you. Yet you waste your gifts on useless trinkets that will just as soon rust. Why do I tell you this? I am the Father of all my children. I love equally. Each of my children I created. Your true beauty comes from the love you share. Look to your right then left. That is your brother and sister. I gave a command to love and take care of each other. Stop and return to love. Come back to me. I forgive so easily. Start to love. It is not too late for any of my children. No matter what you have done I will forgive. Just ask, come to me. I will feed you. I will shelter you. You are mine. I call all of my children back to their Father. Do not be deceived by a lack of love. Do not be persuaded by things of this world. Give me your "Yes" to love. I will give you the happiness you seek. I will give you the peace you long for. I love you. You are mine.

If you owned a garden what flowers would you plant: Roses? Lilies? Marigolds? How would your garden look if all you planted were Lilies? Boring? Every flower contributes a unique characteristic to that garden. Some give off a beautiful scent like the Gardenia, but has very little color. Yet the Tiger Lily is very colorful and has little fragrance. Some flowers bloom for a long time while others bloom fades very quickly. Can you see the connection? I made each flower. Unique, and yet when placed together brings out each other's beautiful traits. My children are uniquely beautiful like a flower. Each child is here bringing its own unique beauty. Why do you look at each other with a magnifying glass? Constantly looking for each other's flaws. You fail to see the beauty. If you had a garden and a certain rose bush needed water would you ignore it and watch it wilt and die? Or rather water that flower. Take extra care of it and support it until it is better, again blooming and completing the garden. How can you neglect your beautiful brothers and sisters? They are thirsty and hungry for love. All that you have I have given you. Some have been given much. Some have been given little. Those who have been given much should take care of their siblings who have been given less. Anyone who passes by a brother without caring for their needs, your gifts will be counted against you. Did I not command you to take care of each other? My son will not know you. How sad will that day be when your brother that you ignored is sitting at my banquet and you are left outside with your rusting things that you treasure so much. Seek the treasure of love and charity. Now how will you feel sitting next to that brother sharing in the banquet? Love one another.

Ask and you shall receive. Seek and you will find. Knock and it shall be opened.

Blessed Mother

My dearest children. How often a mother tries to comfort her wounded children. She wipes their tears. She smiles when her children are happy and weeps when they are sad however first and foremost a mother makes sure her children are safe. Not so with my children. The advisory is taking them from me through much illusions. They think they are happy but they are not. They try to fill their sadness with things of this world never thinking of the next one. Heaven is real. It is where all my children belong. Where are you? Where are you? Spending time distracting yourselves. You have stopped praying. You have stopped looking for my Son. Do you really think that the treasures of this world will make you happy. I can tell you that true happiness only comes from my Son. He is the source of all happiness. He is the source of true peace. He is the Good Shepard who laid down his life for his brothers and sisters. Yes he laid down his life for you so you may come home. Please stop thinking of this world as all there is. That is not true. That is false. Heaven is your home. My Son insured that with his sacrifice on the cross. All you need to do is accept this gift. With your heart. If you love my Son then you will heed his words. The Father commands us to love one another. We are to do that. If you did you would be happy and find peace in your world. Return to my Son where you will find rest. Love the Father. He is our Creator. Look at what he has given his children. Yet you still look elsewhere for your Father. He is not in things, but rather he is in your brothers and sisters. If you want to see the Father and want to see my Son, then all you need to do is look at each other. You are his greatest miracles. His children. You are his greatest creation. Love each other. Put God first. Then put your brother second. Put yourself third and you will have peace. You will have family. You are loved, you just need to give it and receive it. May my Son bless you.

God the Father

My children, why do you think you must love to be happy? How would your world, which I have given you, look if all my children loved? A woman is saddened because her husband is out of work. I say, is there not a brother or sister that could use this man's talent? Now someone says, "Yes" we could use his talent! This husband needs to repay his sibling by love in return. This love would be to do an honest day's work. My children, you want something for nothing. You have great debt because you keep convincing yourselves you need this or that "thing". You have surrounded yourselves to the point that your brother cannot find you and you cannot see him. Start to remove the obstacles from your lives. Then you can begin to fill yourselves with love. Why do you keep trying to live here longer? Again you have not trusted in me. I created a Kingdom for you. This is not your home. Your home is with me. This is where you learn to love. I created my children because I am love. You create without love therefore you have no peace. Your creations are nothing more than golden calves. You worship them thinking of how mighty you are. Yet nothing you make will bring you anything but disappointment. Your things will rust and rot. Feed your brothers and sisters, that is love.

Jesus

(I am to start this message with this dream I had.)

Two priests came to get me. One was older and one was younger. They were bringing me to see the Blessed Mother. She sent them to get me. Our lady then appeared to me. She said my name. She was so beautiful. Everything about her was beautiful. She was dressed in white with gold trim. Her dress sparkled. She began talking to me but I couldn't understand her. I was so distracted by her beauty that I simply couldn't pay attention to what she was saying. She then disappeared and two angels replaced her. They gestured at a screen that suddenly appeared. It was like a movie screen except instead of a movie it was real people we watched. One angel stood on the left and one stood on the right. The first person was a young mother. She was in her living room watching soap operas on the TV while sitting on her couch. She had two small children playing on the floor. The next was two teenage boys playing video games in a bedroom. Last we were watching people in a work office. There was a copier machine in the room. The people were dressed in business suits. They were laughing and making copies of themselves. The screen then disappeared. The angel on the left then said, "Look at how everyone was wasting his or her time. Your time here is very short and you do not make good use of your time. Remember this."

My dear children: You waste the precious time you have. You spend your time doing things for self-enjoyment. Focus your time on your brothers and sisters. Go to them and find out their needs. What can you do for them? How can you help them?

(I am to tell about another dream.)

I was walking down a street looking in store windows. When I looked in one store window I saw many people laying on the ground suffering. I saw Jesus walking around comforting them. I started to pray and repeat, "I love you" to Jesus. He looked at me and then continued to walk among the people lying there. I noticed some of the people were big strong looking men. But they could not get up. They just lay there. I began to pray again and continued telling Jesus "I love you." He looked at me. Again He went back toward the people. He knelt next to a man and lifted his head and offered him a drink of water. All of the people seemed so helpless. I felt so sad to see this. I prayed as hard as I could and continued to tell Jesus how much I loved him. He then walked to the window and smiled at me.

My children are hungry for the truth and what they get are lies. This one tells them one thing and someone else tells them another, so much confusion. My words are simple. Love one another as I have loved you. All you have to do is trust in that love. How are my children to trust in me when they are so helpless? Stop wasting your precious time that I have given you here. Spend your time listening to my words. I am calling my children back to me. Focus on the needs of your brothers and sisters. Find out what their needs are. Use your talents to help them. Then you will find happiness. Then you will not have wasted time here. You do not have a lot of time to learn about love. You must make the best use of the time you have. If you are a worker, then do an honest day's work. Do not cheat your brother. If you are the boss, treat your brothers fairly. Do not cheat them out of time or pay. Honesty is needed. Love comes from honesty towards your brothers and sisters. If you are a wife or husband, love each other, if you are a child then love your parents. You are all family. You are all my family. Start acting like that and you will have the happiness you seek. You will be filled with love and you will have peace. I will bless you and your work.

1/26/2011

Jesus

I am the Good Shepherd. I know my sheep and they know me. You hear my voice and yet how often do you ignore it? Waiting for my words to fade away? Then you think you can do your evil deeds as if I wouldn't notice. I see everything that you do. I see you do not put others needs first. Why is that? When will you feel that you have enough? I give you exactly what you need. If you ask me for something and it is good for you, then I give it to you. Your soul is precious. You are looking for earthly pleasures and comforts. I am giving you what you need to learn about love. Heaven should be your goal. I opened the gate; it is your job to walk in. I give you the graces necessary. You just have to accept them. My brothers and sisters do I not love you? Did I not conquer death for you? Did I not take your sins with me? Did I not suffer for you? How then can you so readily turn your back on each other without a moment of regret? You do not think twice about cheating on your brother! How much I suffered for you. I suffered out of love for you. My Kingdom awaits her children. But where are you? What are you waiting for? Come back. I will forgive. I am ready to welcome you home. Just like the father whose son was lost but then returned home. I have a feast prepared for you. Will you be sharing it with me? Please take care of your brothers needs. Do not leave them. You have so much suffering because you have such little love. I will wait. I love you. Listen to my voice. I am the Good Shepherd my sheep know my voice. Listen to me and love one another.

1/26/2011

Blessed Mother

My dearest children, I am your mother and I am asking you to listen to my Son. He is the way the truth and the life. No one loves you more than the Father who created you or the Son who redeemed you. Please turn back and put Heaven first in your hearts. Heaven is your home. That should be your goal. How do you get there? Love. Heaven is love.

Everyone in Heaven is happy. There is no sadness, only joy. You will be happy in Heaven. You have to choose to want to be here. How do you choose? You choose by loving your brothers and sisters. My tears are tears of sadness for my children. But you can change that. One act of kindness toward your brother can change everything. It is not too big of a problem. Your world is not so far gone. That is the devil deceiving you again. He wants this task to seem impossible. He wants everyone to give up. He does not love my children. He only knows hatred and jealousy. God is love. Your Father only wants His children to be happy. That is why you must choose the Father. You must listen and follow his words. Start loving each other. They are your family. Immediately forgive whatever they do to offend you. Do not hold anger in your heart for even a moment. You do not have the time to dwell on what they did. Just accept them and love them. Focus your efforts on being honest. That is how you show love. Treat everyone fairly. A mother treats her children with love and fairness. Isn't she teaching her children the same? I am your mother. I am teaching you, my children, the same thing, Love. Be honest with each other. Do not hold anger in your heart. Trust your Heavenly Father. Listen to my Son. That is what I ask of my children. I will pray for you. Pray for each other. I am blessing you with my motherly blessing. I love you all.

Jesus

Faith is like a tree in a garden. You feed it and it grows. The more you care for it the more that tree will protect you. If you do not nourish your faith then it will not grow strong. Instead it will be straggly with very little protection. How do you grow your faith? How do you nourish yourselves? You do it by visiting the sacraments. I am the Bread of Life. Come to me and I will nourish you. Then you can go and feed your brothers and sisters. If you do not nourish your faith, then you will get sick and you won't be able to take care of anyone.

My people, you long for someone to do your work for you. This is impossible. You must do your own work. I have given you everything you need. All the graces necessary for you are already there. You just need to come to the well and get a drink. Tend to your tree. Prune away the rotting branches. Nourish the roots so your faith will be well grounded. Then you will create something that will last forever. Treasure in Heaven. The stronger your branches the more your brothers and sisters can swing from them. They will see how happy they are and wish for their own strong tree. You will lead by example. That is how your world will change from sadness to happiness.

1/28/2011

God the Father

Return to the Father. That is what I ask of my children. You complain of how tired you are. Come to me and I will give you rest. Your load is hard to bear. Offer it up to me and I will lighten your load. Do you hear me calling your name? You must quiet your soul and listen. I am calling you. You need to love one another as I have taught this world since the beginning of time. My messages have never changed. I have commanded the same thing since the beginning, have I not? Love one another. Look at your brother he is in the desert. Look at him he is lost, he is sick. Where are you? You are occupying your time, but not looking for him. I see him. He is my child, just like you are all my children. You are all lonely in your deserts. Come to me and seek shelter in my heart. There you will find peace. Come to my Son in the "Bread of Life." Nourish yourselves, go put on your armor and seek your lost brother in the desert. He is calling, find him and bring him home. Cook for him and give him shelter. I promise you your reward will be great. The greatness comes from its eternal possession; never rusting or rotting unlike the rewards you seek here. I love you and you are mine. Come back to me and I will give you rest.

God the Father

A child is riding her bike. She falls off and injures her knee. What will the child's parents do? Pick up the child, comfort her and put medicine on her knee. Then the child will feel better to go and play again. That is what I do for my children. You sin, when you come to me, I give you comfort. I hold you in my arms. Listen patiently. Then I forgive. That is your medicine that heals your soul. Then you too can be happy and go off and play again. How easy it is for a father to forgive his children, especially when that child is truly sorry. A repentant heart I cannot refuse. Come to me. Do not be afraid. I do not have harsh words for you. I am your Father. I am love. I want nothing more than for my children to be happy. Do not be afraid. I will listen to you. I will comfort you. I will forgive you. A doctor cannot cure his patients if they do not seek help. I can assure you that you are sick and in need of a doctor. That is why I sent my only Son to heal this world. He is the Great Physician (Healer of all). But you do not seek. You keep hiding in the wilderness licking your wounds that remain infected. Stop trying to cure yourselves. The devil wants to keep you ill so you are not strong enough to turn away from his evil ways. He wishes to take my children from me. Not so, my children listen to my voice. Come back to your Father, I love you and you are mine.

1/29/2011

Jesus

I saw a vision of myself going to communion. I received the Eucharist and then walked to receive the Precious Blood. As I approached, Jesus crucified appeared standing behind the minister. I saw his head bleeding from the crown of thorns. Drops of blood dripped into the chalice. He told me that these were the drops of blood I had caused from my sins. My sins of pride were one of the thorns. He sacrificed and suffered for my pride. That is how much he loves me.

Brothers and sisters I have suffered much at the hands of my brothers. Never did I suffer without great cause. Taking upon myself all of your sins was my proof of my love for all of mankind. My sacrifice opened the door to my Father's Kingdom for everyone. When you have doubt, look at my wounds. I purchased each one for you. My love and mercy know no bounds. I would gladly suffer again for this world. When will you finally realize how much you mean to me? How much I want you to share in the banquet my Father has prepared for you! Please don't cause me to leave you outside. I am justice. I have to do the will of my Father. All of His children belong in Heaven. You have no idea how much Heaven grieves when her children are left outside wailing. My mother's heart weeps for her children. But it does not have to be so. Heaven rejoices when one of its children makes it back home. Just one repentant sinner is cause for great celebration. Will I celebrate your return? You need to only answer yes to my call. I will do the rest. I am just waiting to pour out my graces on mankind. Are you finally ready to accept them? Time is running out for you. You do not know the hour I might call you home. What will you do when I ask you how much you loved your brother and sister? I will ask how wisely you used your talents that I have given you. Please do not waste your time and talents. Heed my call. I love you and wish you to join me at the feast prepared for you from the beginning of time.

St. John Bosco

It is I, St. John Bosco, giving greetings from Heaven.

I have come to teach you about Christ the King. Listen to His words that He is teaching you. He is the way the truth and the life. If you believe in Him you will have eternal happiness. When I was on earth I ran a boys group. I was their teacher. Today our youth need leaders to teach and guide their formation. The youth have much distraction in their hearts. They have very few adults willing to teach them. That requires sacrifice on the part of the adults. This job is worth the effort. Believe me. Our youth will be lost if they are not instructed properly with love. First we must listen and gain their confidence.

They are used to being ignored by adults. We must change that. Turn off your TVs and go outside. Start talking about the things of Heaven. Give them a desire to be holy, chaste, and pure of heart. Give them a zeal for the Holy Spirit. They will grow in the faith if they are guided properly. Adults - study your faith so you can pass it on to your youth. They will benefit from your wisdom and experience. Pray to the Holy Spirit for guidance in this manner. Heaven is waiting to assist you. Do not let the youth of this world be lost for even a minute. They are worth your effort. Be patient. But mostly love. Show them by example. Love: Treat them fairly. Love: There is a crown in Heaven awaiting them. Do not let them get lost because you are too tired to aid them. No one should be lost on his or her journey to the Kingdom. I send you my priestly blessing. May the almighty living God bless all of you in your endeavors with the youth of this world. Amen.

Jesus

I wish to talk about my Passion. It is overlooked today. Forgotten. I suffered for my brothers and sisters. First: On the Mount of Olives: I knew what my Father was asking for me to give my all. This was a suffering I would have to do alone. I trembled at the thought. So many souls would be saved, getting to come home to Heaven. My Passion would open the gate for them, but many others would be indifferent. That is what wounded me the most. It was the indifference of my Father's children. It was my brothers and sisters that caused me to shed tears of blood. How could their hearts be so hardened? I still cannot understand the hard hearts of men, their continual distrust in my true presence. I was scourged for you. I wore a crown made of thorns for you. I bore a cross for you. I hung there for hours awaiting my death, my freedom for you. So many of my brothers and sisters rejoiced with me that day, but still my heart is saddened that so many of my brothers and sisters simply looked the other way. You have turned your backs on my sacrifice, my suffering. Please heed my call. Turn back to me again. My heart will not be angered. I will forgive everything. I am not mad at you. I am saddened by your choice to avoid the things of Heaven. Look around you. What have you surrounded yourselves with? Trinkets don't mean anything. But you ignore the real treasures that are free, freely given by me. Love does not cost you anything. I have already paid the price. You cannot repay this. Only accept it with a gracious heart. That is all I ask of you. Come back home. Return to the table of plenty. Leave your wicked ways behind you. Listen to my call. I am calling you home before it is too late. I am the merciful Savior but I will return as the just judge. I am warning this world. My brothers and sisters you are ill. You are deceived by the things of this world spending all of your time with self-entertainment. No one is praying. You are not talking to me. Therefore you are falling quickly into sin and don't even realize it. I am bringing my brothers and sisters back to my Father in Heaven. Please come back. Do not be left out in the cold. I wish for you to be in the light. I am praying for your safe return to my Kingdom. My Father has a place waiting here for you. You have a seat at the banquet. We are waiting for your “Yes”. I am sending my graces for you. Feel them in your hearts and lives. They are for you. Listen for my voice. I am calling you. Listen for my call. I am the Good Shepherd. My sheep know my voice. I know my sheep and they know me. I love you and I am blessing you with my priestly blessing. Return to the Father. Come back to me. I love you. You are mine. Remember that!

Jesus

Rejoice my brothers and sisters. Your King is here. I have come to save my people from themselves. You look to this world for answers to life’s problems and mysteries. Look to Heaven instead. That is where your true home is: with your heavenly family. I came into the world to establish my Kingdom on earth. I did this so you could learn love while you are here, to prepare you for your home in Heaven. My Father has given me the keys to his Kingdom. Here I reign. I am awaiting your “Yes” to my call. Simply say, “Yes” to me. I am returning to claim what my Father has given to me since the beginning of time. Brothers and sisters, are you ready? You do not know the hour or day I will come for you. Do not be caught out in the cold and dark wailing for me. I will not know you. I have come and warned you. Rejoice with your King. I have come to save my people from their wickedness. You mourn because you are unhappy with this world. My people you will never mourn in the Kingdom my Father has prepared for you.

2/2/2011

Jesus

Starting with a comment from Theresa

I wish I could write words eloquent enough to express how my heart feels about my Lord. The sun could rise and set unnoticed by me when I am spending time pondering the greatness of my King. I so often forget that Christ is a king. He has simply been my best friend. What is a best friend, someone who never lets you down. Jesus listens to my worries with a gentle concern. When I cry he is there holding my hand. When I am happy he rejoices with me. When I make a mistake he sits quietly, letting me talk through it, all the while encouraging me to make a better choice. So why do I still sin? Sin is what caused my best friend, my brother, to sacrifice his life for me. He endured sadness, loneliness, scourging, a painful crown of thorns placed on his head, yes, death on a cross. They nailed his hands and feet to a tree and hung him there to die. Who hung him there? I did, his best friend. I still do every time I disobey his commands. Every time I lie I am lying to the courts condemning my Lord. When I watch inappropriate things on TV, I have a whip in my hand lashing out on my best friend’s back causing his skin to bleed. When I am prideful, boasting about the things I have, I am causing his head to bleed from my thorn I placed in his crown. So what does my best friend do about all my transgressions? He looks down from his tree and forgives me. He tells His Father to not punish me I didn't realize what I was doing. I simply stand under him. I'm not saying anything. His mother stands next to me. She is weeping bitterly. Her cries intensify as my King tries to shift himself, seeking comfort that doesn't exist. He looks down at me and I see no anger in his eyes. Instead I see his smile. He even tries to offer me comfort. He wants me to do better, make better choices. I feel as if I cannot possibly bare this anymore. I scream at him, crying, "I never meant for this to happen." I try to find someone to help me get him down. I'm screaming, "This cannot happen again." Everyone around me is laughing. All the guards are ignoring Him. His mother weeps and her moans fall on deaf ears. I run back to my friend. Now I'm begging him. What can I do to get you down? Please don't let this happen, I get it, I'm sorry, and I will try better. His eyes look down toward me again. Tears fall down his dirty cheek and land on the sandy dirt below.

He said, "I chose this for you my friend. I will die soon. When I die I will be given the key to unlock the gate to my Father's Kingdom. He is giving it to me. My dear sister, I want you to be able to enjoy all, my Father has made for this world. There is a banquet set. I saw your seat. How sad Heaven would be without her children. Don't be sad. I'm doing this for you. My mother weeps for my suffering, but she weeps more for the people you see laughing at me. The guards who walk by as if I wasn't there, her heart is saddened for them because she knows if their indifference continues they will not be joining us at the banquet. Their angels will remove their place settings from the table. I need my brothers and sisters to warn each other not to be indifferent to their Savior. I would gladly hang from this tree forever if I thought all my brothers and sisters would look up, see me, and change their hard hearts. That was not the case. Angels sadly remove place settings everyday. They understand "Divine Justice." They know this is because of choices made by men. You don't have to make the same choice. You can choose Heaven by your saying "Yes" to the things of Heaven. Give me everything and I will protect you. Be not afraid of your mistakes. There is no mistake I would not forgive in an instant. My heart is open. I have shed all my blood for my people - My family. I have poured out my graces for this world.

As you walk through this world you will see many pleasures. Like a carnival calling for your attention, turn away. Put blinders on and walk quickly past these traps. The devil walks freely like a sheep. He is nothing more than a wolf waiting to devour the weak (the ones not paying attention). If you knew what a treasure you already had you would not want the money of this world. Your soul is more valuable than any treasure chest you could find. There is nothing here that you should focus your time and energy on except gathering your heavenly treasure. What is heavenly treasure? Love! That is all you need. Don't believe that? If everyone loved, would they share? If your child is hungry and your cupboards are full, you would reach in and give them food without thinking. Well it would be no different if you had love for your brothers and sisters. All you need to work on is love. All good deeds will happen from love. If you do a good deed without love, than you are practicing pride. Believe me - you do not need to practice what you are already very good at. You need to ask me for help in love. This is why I am here talking. I want to teach you about love. I want my family to have happiness. You will never be happy until you begin to love. The more love you give the less vulnerable you will be to the devil's illusions, his carnival of tricks. There is only momentary pleasure in his carnival and the cost is too high of a price to pay. He has no love for you. He despises you because of how much my Father loves you. You are so cherished by everyone in Heaven. You are wanted! Angels are happily singing and rejoicing awaiting your arrival. All of your family is praying hard; offering me prayers for graces to help you. One word from you: Yes, to Heaven. Yes, to my Father. Yes, to Me. Yes, to your family. Don't turn away and seek the pleasures still thinking you can give me your "Yes" later. There is no more waiting. Now is the time to turn over your hearts to me to change. You're scared to leave your things of this world. I understand your fears. Look up at me. I placed myself on a cross because that is what real love is. I laid down my life freely for you. No cost to you. I rose from the grave and opened paradise. You think your world is beautiful. My Father created it so, yes, it is beautiful. You cannot begin to understand the beauty of my Father's Kingdom. Every person here is love. There is no hatred. No jealousy. No anger. No illness. No sadness. There is only joy, peace and happiness. Everyone here is cheering for you to choose Heaven. Celebrations are danced and sung in the streets with horns blowing every time a brother or sister is saved. Yes, we really do celebrate because everyone here understands what your "YES" meant. They had to choose too and they know how happy they are. Start choosing Heaven. You will start to feel my presence. Give me your sorrows and I will turn them into joys. But you have to truly change. You need to seek Heaven, not turning back when your journey gets hard or long. Persevere. Heaven is worth your efforts. Again, if you need strength simply turn your eyes and hearts towards Heaven. I am here. Look at my cross and remember how much I love you. You are loved. You belong to me. You belong in Heaven. You are the rightful heirs. I made you my family. Be ready. I am coming to take you home. I love you with an everlasting love.

God the Father

Peace be with you, my peace I give to you. I simply ask for your "Yes" in return. My children if you only knew how loved you are. How much I cherish each of you. I created this beautiful world full of beautiful things in it for you. I made sure you would have everything you could possibly need for your physical comfort. I gave you each other so you would have companionship, you would have family. I gave you each other so you could love. To have the opportunity to serve each other, help each other. I prepared a Kingdom for you, a home to share with me forever. I sent my only Son to open the gate and you could walk in. This is how much I love you. I gave you angels, guardians to watch over you, help you when you struggle. They were created for you since the beginning. They are your friends to guide you. My Son poured out His graces for His brothers and sisters on His cross at Calvary. Do you see how wanted you are by me? How much I thought about all your needs, cared about every detail of your lives? There is no prayer that goes unheard by me. Even the faintest cry is noticed. Heaven is ready for your return. All you have to do is look towards the things of Heaven. My Son is pouring out all graces upon mankind now. This will not last forever. My justice will come. A parent at some point has to wake up its sleeping children. I am hoping that you will heed my warnings. I am love. I love my children and they do not even realize how much. One soul lost is one soul too many. Stay focused on the path to Heaven. Stay strong and listen to my voice. I am always calling for you. Like a Shepherd calling for his lost sheep, you are more important to me than any of my creatures. You are my children and I only desire your happiness. Your happiness on earth will come when you learn the lesson of love. Your happiness in Heaven will be your reward for your “Yes” while on earth. Know that Heaven is awaiting your answer. Prayers are being said so not a single one of my children will be lost. Your angels are fighting for you day and night. Simply listen for their voices. They will be guiding you towards love. Love one another. I love you. You are mine. You belong to me.

My people you are struggling because of the lack of love and kindness of your leaders. Your country needs to wake up and see it’s own destruction. You are like an ill child, wailing about injustice but failing to change your ways. You keep expecting others to step in and change your world for you. Then you can sit back and play a passive role in your life. That has been your trouble all along. You have allowed yourselves to be fooled into accepting the devil’s plan. He is winning without very much effort. You need to start listening to Heaven. You need to heed the warnings that are being given. More money will not bring happiness. You will only find happiness when you seek love. When you start to love your brother than evil will not be able to take a hold on your life. The more light you let in, the harder it is for evil to go unnoticed. Love is the light of this world. Look at your families. Are you happy? Are your children happy? If I called you home today would you be ready to face me. I see everything. I see exactly who you are. I see every corner of your soul. You would not be able to withstand judgment. This is the time to change and turn your lives around. I am mercy. You can come to me. I will forgive all your transgressions. Do not fear what you have done, I already know. I am seeking your change of heart. I am looking for you to say “Yes” I want to go to Heaven. Heaven is where you belong. Heaven was created for your happiness. I tell you hell was not created for happiness. The devil is trying to convince you that hell is fun. I can tell you there is no love in hell. Justice and punishment is hell. There is no love or kindness, only hatred and the stench of a lack of love. Anger is what the devil has. That is all. Not so with me. Not so with your Father. We are divine love. We are joy. Heaven is always light. Heaven is always joy. Everyone in Heaven is happy. There is only complete joy.

Jesus adds:

You must believe that my Father created Heaven for you, His family. The love we have for you is more endless than the oceans. There is nothing that exists except the Father's love for His children. I am trying to help you understand what is at stake with your choices. Nothing you do goes unnoticed. All your choices impact everyone in this world. Believe me you are not alone. Each person is very significant. Everyone has an important part in the making of this world. Even for my siblings that are here for only a few hours. Their lives have much impact on the lives of others. Nothing goes unnoticed by my Father. He is love. Choose Heaven. Only you can make this choice. Turn off the distractions and return to prayer. Ask for my help. I am listening for your call. I am waiting to pour out my graces for you. I love you. I laid down my life for you. I was here too, remembering. I understand your needs, if you will only trust what I am saying. Believe in me. Return to love. Start by loving your family, then your surrounding brothers and sisters. Continue loving everyone. Forgive immediately, and be slow to anger while quick to forgive. My message has never changed. You have just stopped listening. The one you need to stop listening to, is the adversary. He is leading you astray. Prayer, that is the weapon you need. Pray for Heaven. We are here listening. Call on the angels who stand by your side day and night. Ask for their help. They are waiting to help. It is their joy when they can escort you to my banquet table.

2/04/11

St. Michael

It is I, St. Michael. I wish to give you comfort and knowledge that I am receiving all your prayers towards this mission. I will safeguard the messages. Continue to pray and realize the devil will work tirelessly to have this mission end. He doesn't want the Father's children to awake from their slumber. I will make sure that the trumpets are blown loudly in all the hearts of men. Everyone shall heed the words of the Heavenly Father. He is King of all creation and everyone will bow to Him. All of Heaven is glad to sing praises to our God. Jesus is the Lamb slain for His people. Mankind will arise from its slumber. I will lead this victory fight yet again for the Kingdom of God. Listen for my call.

2/4/2011

God the Father

I wish to speak to my children. I want to tell you how loved you are. I want you to realize that you are my children. My family. In the beginning I made the angels to be your guides through this life. I created them to assist you here on earth and escort you to my Kingdom. They are here to help you. Listen to their voices. They are always that voice of reason in your head directing you to make good choices. It is out of love that I created them. They are my messengers. Carrying out my messages for your world. They were here since the beginning. I made your world with you in my heart. Knowing what you would need for your happiness. I gave you every sort of creature to behold. Beauty everywhere you looked, water to drink, food to eat and knowledge so you could build homes. I created you man and woman so you could multiply and fill this world with family. How could a father give so much and yet his children act as if they don't have enough? You look up and see only the sky, looking at what your weather may be. Do you ponder about the things of Heaven, calling out to me; giving me your day; telling me your needs; praying? No you just look up and then never think again. When you need me, then you pray. I listen and I give you what you need. Not what you think you need. I hear you. Nothing you say ever goes unnoticed by me. My graces are pouring out for this world. Just look up and say "Hello". Say "Yes" to my call. Realize that I am here, watching over my children just as any good father would. Your angels are constantly praying for you, constantly at your side. You are never alone. You are loved. You are mine. You belong to me. Remember you are loved. Look up and know Heaven is praying for you. We are watching over you.

Blessed Mother

Dream:

I had a dream that I was folding laundry. I was folding laundry with the Blessed Mother. She was folding my son's clothes. She folded each piece neatly and then kissed it before she put it down on the table. She kissed each piece of his clothing.

What task wouldn't a mother do for her child? What sacrifice is too big? Even if it meant sacrificing her own son. That was my gift to this world. I am that Mother. I sacrificed my only Son for the children of this world. How my heart sorrowed over this loss! I was consoled by the knowledge that Heaven was won for her children. I gave my "Yes" to the Father. My "Yes" meant a bittersweet sword. But that is what a mother does for her children that she loves. God is asking for you to say "Yes" to him today. Give him your "Yes". Give him your heart. My Son sacrificed everything for you. His own comfort was so freely given up and replaced by his courageous love. No complaint was uttered. Not a single sigh. He just loved and turned his Life over to the Father for you. So I ask my children this question. What sacrifice are you willing to make for Heaven? What comforts are you willing to give up to help your brothers and sisters? Remember Heaven receives all your sacrifices and prayers for your brothers and sisters. God uses these to pour out his graces on this world. You need to decide how important Heaven is to you. You need to fully give your "Yes". Hold nothing back. I am praying for you to make the right choice. I am interceding to God the Father for you. My Son hears the prayers of His Mother. Give me your yes. Offer me your prayers and sacrifices and I will give them to my Son. I will unite my prayers with them and bring them to my Son. He cannot refuse me. I love you my dear children. Please listen to your Mother. Trust the words of my Son. You only need to look at a Crucifix and realize how much you are loved. I love you dear children.

2/5/2011

Jesus

My dear people: My brothers and sisters: you wonder why your yes to Heaven is so important? You need to fully decide. When you are lukewarm then you will give up as soon as the task becomes too difficult. How many things have you started and when the task became too daunting you just threw it away, choosing another thing to again occupy your time until you get bored again. Your faith cannot be treated as if it were a hobby. That is how you are being so easily deceived. The devil has placed so many pleasures before you, that they are too numerous to count, each only satisfying for a brief moment. You become addicted to each item until the pleasure leaves and then you seek more pleasure. You are only thinking about your own needs. That is why your brother and sisters are going hungry right under your noses. You don't really pay attention to what is being said to you. You are only interested in what the next pleasure will be coming to you. How sick this world has become! Your gods are money, pleasure, castles, and trinkets, all the things that keep you from real happiness. Love is what brings happiness. That is why I keep telling you to take care of each other. Go and find your brothers and sisters that are lost. Go and take care of each other. But to do this you are going to have to listen to my Mother and give up your comforts. You have to turn away from the things of this world that are here to only confuse you. You are asleep and do not even realize it. You have stopped coming to the table and nourishing yourselves. You must return to the Father. You need to give Heaven your "Yes". Listen to our call. You do not have forever. Each of you will be called home. Again will you be ready to face judgment? I can tell you, nothing you treasure here will help you. You cannot buy even a single minute to add to your life. Therefore stop wasting what time you have left! Nourish yourselves. Start to focus on the lessons you are being given: practice love, be patient with each other, slow to anger quick to forgive. Remember, everyone is your brother and sister. You are all loved by Heaven equally. You are all cherished. Remember this and say "Yes". That is how you will start. Say yes and I will send my graces down to you. Then turn to your brother or sister and start practicing love. Heaven is waiting for you.

Jesus

Dream:

I was in our church. A priest was giving a heart-felt homily. Everyone in the pews was ignoring him. They were laughing and acting as if they were at a party. The priest dipped a palm branch in the wine and began to sprinkle the precious blood of our Lord on everyone. Afterwards, everyone became quiet.

My sacrifice on the cross was made for everyone. Each of my brothers and sisters were thought of when I hung up there. Listen to me. Now is the time to turn back from the evil of this world and embrace your crosses that I have sent you. Your crosses in this life are your salvation. You must carry your crosses with complete trust in my mercy. This is my plan for you. Stop complaining when your struggles become hard, instead look up to me and I will give you strength, through my graces. I love you. It is my desire for each of my brothers and sisters to join me at the banquet that my Father has prepared for us since the beginning of time. I came into this world for one purpose: Your salvation. My entire time here was for you to learn, to see my love for you, to teach you about love, Heaven and the Father. That was my purpose. Now you need to look up to Heaven and start living your purpose. That is to join us in the Kingdom. Each day you will have opportunities to make choices. Make each choice for Heaven. Offer me everything and I will bless your efforts. Believe me nothing you do will go unnoticed by my Father in Heaven nor I. I love you. Start loving your brothers and sisters as I have loved you. Learn from the lessons I have taught you and from the trials I will give you. Remember to have patience. Love comes from patience. Love is patience.

2/7/2011

God the Father

My dear children, how loved you are by all of Heaven. Cherish each other on earth as you are cherished in Heaven. From the beginning you were in my heart. I knew you from all eternity. Nothing goes unnoticed by me. That is how important you are to me. That is how special my children are. Keep My Commandments. That will be the key to your happiness. I love you with an everlasting love. You are mine. You belong to me. That is your lesson for today. Keep My Commandments. Watch how much your lives will change! Your happiness will grow. You will have peace. Love each other as I have commanded. Give me your "Yes" and I will bless all that you do.

2/8/2011

Jesus

I am the Lamb who took away the sins of this world for you, my brothers and sisters. Peace is what I came to restore. Peace to a broken world, a world in need of a physician and a people in need of a healing. My people, you are broken. As broken today just as you were over 2000 years ago. You are just as in need of me as my brothers and sisters back then. How long will I wait before I pass judgment on this world? My mercy is still with you. I will wait. You are my family. I love you. What am I waiting for? I am waiting for the hearts of men to return to God. Their hearts have become so hard and continue to still be. When will you realize what your choices will yield you in the end? There are so many sacrifices being offered up by your brothers and sisters that you don't even know about. Their prayers are being heard and offered as ransom for your misdeeds. That is why prayer is so important. Truly a war could end by prayer alone. If this nation would realize that, your wars could be over by now. Yet you still think you can depend on yourselves for everything. You act as if Heaven doesn't exist. As if no sacrifice was given for your salvation. Surely I can tell you I sacrificed myself for you. I laid down my life for the ransom of all. Heaven is your home for all eternity because of my sacrifice. How long will you put me off? How long do you think that no judgment shall come upon this world? My Father created this world. He created it out of love for you, His children. His family. Where are you? Where are your brothers and sisters? Hungry and cold! Why do you ignore the cries of your brothers and sisters? You cannot ignore them forever. You lack faith. You lack trust. The only way to change the course you are headed on is through prayer. Trust in my mercy for you. Trust in my plan for this world. Trust that you are loved. Trust that Heaven is awaiting the return of her children. Do you not yet realize how loved you are? Do you not see how much Heaven is hearing the cries of her lost children? Say "Yes" and return to the Father. He is calling for the return of His children. No one should be left outside. Everyone is invited to the banquet table. I am sending my priestly blessings to this world. You are loved. Remember that.

2/9/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: It is I your, Heavenly Mother calling out to my children. I am praying before the throne of the Father for you. I offer my Son's sacrifice and my suffering during that time to intercede for you. I love you and want for you to make a wise choice with your eternity. Remember this life does not end with death. It only begins. Heaven is ready for you to join us. The Father is calling for the return of all of His children. I am praying for you. I love you with my motherly love. I pray you answer "Yes" to God's call. I love you and you belong to Heaven.

2/9/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: How much I desire for you to want Heaven as your ultimate goal! How I wish that you would spend your time wisely preparing for your eternity. Your time here on earth is short. There is little time to wait until tomorrow to change your path. Follow my lead. Listen to these messages. Start with love. Love each other as I have commanded you. Be honest with everyone. Work hard, the Kingdom of Heaven is worth your effort. Follow the commandments of my Father. Share what you have. Use your talents wisely, always with the desire to help others. Prepare for your journey home. Now! Start preparing yourselves. Store up heavenly treasure. I come when you least expect. Like a thief in the night: Do not be caught off guard. You have been warned. Do not be surprised when this day arrives. It will come. I can assure you of that. Pray for the intercession of Heaven. We are here to assist you. I hear all your pleas. We know what you need even before you utter a single sound. Still, ask and pray. You are our family. You can anticipate the needs of your family members before they come to you and ask. Still, they do come and ask. Pray, I will listen. Your prayers are important to me. I love you. Remember how much you are loved and wanted by your heavenly family. You belong here. Heaven is your rightful place. I ensured that. Come back and we will welcome you home. I am Mercy. You have nothing to fear and no reason to wait. Return to the Father. You are His children. I love you and send my priestly blessings to your world tonight.

2/10/11

Jesus

I died for this world and then rose from the dead. I am the Lamb slain for her Kingdom. I am the Good Shepherd who laid down his life for his sheep. All of this I give to you. My brothers and sisters, my people: How much I have desired to bring you closer into my heart! But your hardened hearts have rejected my call. You have rejected me just as all the prophets before. Where are you now? Living as you had hoped for, you are a godless society. Are you happy? Is your cup full? Is there joy in your life? Heaven is calling her lost sheep for the last time. Again I tell you - I opened the Kingdom for you. You only have to accept this. Your "Yes" is how you start your journey back home. You are not happy. How can you be when so many of you are hungry? So many of you thirst. Again I tell you, you are asleep and haven't realized this yet. The devil has taken a hold of your heart. Where your possessions are, there too is your heart. What do you possess right now? Sacrifices ready to offer me for your siblings, or a house full of trinkets ready to rust and fall apart? Where is your treasure, in Heaven or here on earth? I tell you, now is the time to convert and be saved. You do not know the day or the hour I will call you to myself. When you see how much time you wasted on unimportant things you will weep with sorrow. When you see all the missed opportunities that you had to serve your brother, you will feel sadness for your selfish choices. That is why I am here. To show you the way back home. I am the way the truth and the light. You need to come to me and I will give you what you need. I will make your brokenness whole again. Come to me and nourish yourselves. Again, be not afraid of your transgressions. I will forgive. I am the merciful savior. I am slow to anger and quick to forgive. Remember that! That is what I expect of you: to forgive your brother and sister without hesitation. Stop looking for them to begin. Humility is what will soften hearts. Be humble so My Father and I can dwell in your heart. Pride does not come from Heaven. It is the deception of this world. So is your god of money. Money will not bring you even a second more of this world. However taking care of each other will yield you much treasure. Go out and seek your brother that you have a dispute with and forgive him. Ask for his blessings in return, then come to me and I will reward such humility with grace. How I desire if everyone could learn this! Set your eyes to Heaven. Give me your heart. Give me your "Yes" and I will bless you. You will be on the path to Heaven. Your reward will be a seat at the banquet prepared for you. So cherished are you my dear brothers and sisters! Wake up and realize the gold treasure you seek does not come from your world. That treasure you find in each other. I give you my priestly blessing and pray for your eternal happiness in my Father's Kingdom. You are loved. I love you.

2/10/2011

Blessed Mother

It is I, your Heavenly Mother. I wish to tell you how much Heaven is praying for you. I am offering the Father the sacrifice of my only Son for you. I plead to the Father for you constantly, offering my prayers and sufferings for my children. I wish for you to know how important it is, on this journey, to make the right choice. Your soul is precious in the eyes of the Creator. He made you out of love and with love. I can assure you no sacrifice or suffering is too great for the return of my children to their rightful place in Heaven, won for each of you by my Son. I love you all. Listen to your mother and return to family prayer. Parents protect your children. Husbands protect your wives. The devil comes silently. You must be ready for his assault. Never fear. Always give everything to God the Father and my Son. Then all you do will be a prayer. The devil cannot win a heart that is close to God. Place yourself in the Lord's presence always. I am blessing you with a motherly blessing. Return to the Father. That is all your focus should be now.

2/11/2011

Jesus

It is I, your King. Lord of all. Tonight I wish to again teach you about love. To love is to give completely of one's self. I gave everything for you. You need to do the same. How easy it is for you to have so little patience with each other. So quick are you to blame. Take no action. Instead, pray for wisdom in how to deal with your situation. Heaven is here awaiting your call for help. But no one is calling on us for graces. Believe me - if you ask you shall receive. Ask the Holy Spirit to give you knowledge about a situation. Then ask for the grace of wisdom in dealing with that particular situation. So many misunderstandings could be avoided by asking for these two graces. Stop and pray before you respond next time. See how easily peace is restored in your soul. Less fighting would take place if people practiced more patience. Love is not an act of receiving as much as it is an act of giving. It is a selfless offering of one's own self. The person receiving this gift should receive it with a pure and humble heart. Honesty is a part of love. When honesty becomes the center of your world, love will be present. A dishonest tongue only yields sorrow. Much malice comes from dishonesty. Fear not with this lesson. I have much love and patience for you. I am here to bring you out of the darkness and into the light where you belong. This is how you will win your freedom from sin: by practicing honesty and love of your brother. Everything else will naturally follow, without much thought or effort. First give your "yes" to Heaven. Keep straight your path. Pray often throughout the day, asking for intercession with your daily situations. Offer everything to the Father to bless. Next love your brothers and sisters with a selfless love. Looking for nothing in return except their blessing. Speak kindly always. Guard your words carefully; your words can easily become stumbling blocks on your journey home. Practice taking care of your siblings. Build heavenly treasure. Every good deed done out of sincere love will be rewarded greatly by my Father and Me. Listen to what I am telling you. Your life here will be peace and happiness. Your Heaven will begin here in your heart. Remember how loved and cherished you are. Treat everyone with that same love.

2/11/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children, I wish to also comment about love. So often you forget the importance of love and forgiveness. You cannot have one without the other. Forgive immediately then go and love. Offer kindness to everyone you meet. That person is your brother or sister. They are loved and cherished by all of Heaven just as you are. Don't turn your backs when they fail you in some way. No my dear little ones, you will also fail at some task too. You ask my Son for forgiveness then you must also offer that same forgiveness. Love each other with a pure heart and pure intentions. A pure heart will see God in each other. God is in all of you because you are His children. Created with love. I am your Mother and I wish for all my children to have peace and happiness. Yes that is possible. But first you must change within yourselves. Change within, then you will begin to see your brothers and sisters in a new light. A view through the eyes of love. I am blessing you with my motherly blessing and interceding for you all. You are all loved by Heaven. Return that love, my peace to you.

2/12/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: I come each night to bring you the "Good News" of salvation. It is love. Your salvation was already won for you by my sacrifice on the cross. I am the Unblemished Lamb slain for the sins of mankind. Now you need to accept this gift and grow from it. How do you grow? You will grow with much pruning. It is necessary to remove from your life all the unnecessary evils: Things that pull you away from the path to salvation. Listen to my words. This path is straight. It is you that keeps turning away from the road to wander off guided by illusions and temptations. Come back to the path. Focus on what you are hearing. Again I tell you. First give everything to the Father (Your complete yes). All that you have, was given to you, by my Father. Then go and take care of your brothers and sisters. They are in need of your kindness and love. First you must see everyone as your brother and sister. Yes I mean everyone. Each person is a child of God. Therefore they are your siblings. If you have someone you are not very fond of, show that person extra kindness. It is easy to love the people we are fond of. Challenge yourself and practice charity with everyone. Say only kind words. Watch your tongue to not talk crudely about anyone. Gossip can lead to death of that person's reputation. Do not be a party to that instead only be seen talking with kindness or be silent. Rather be silent than have your words be given back to you at judgment. How you treat others is how you will be treated. Make sure you love. Constantly strive for perfection in this. Ask for Heaven to help. Graces will be sent if you merely ask. Remember I am asking this of you to help you on your path. The quicker you learn love of neighbor, the faster you will advance through the rest of your lessons. I am blessing your efforts in this. Take heart. It is not easy, but your efforts will be rewarded. Happiness will be your treasure while you are here. I love you.

St. Anne

It is I, St. Anne (Grandmother of your savior). I wish to let you know how loved you are. Listen to my Grandson. He laid down His life for His people. My daughter herself sacrificed much during her time here on earth. She kept herself silent on many occasions. Practicing love of her fellow man. It was not easy for her. However, this is important for peace to reign in the hearts of men. Practice kindness. Think of how my daughter remained silent when her only Son was sacrificed on the Cross. How her heart was so broken. Yet she remained steadfast on her journey. She knew this was the Father's will and she was always obedient to the Father. Pray for her intercession and the forgiveness of my Grandson. He will answer a humble heart. Be faithful to your lot in life. Practice the virtues you are learning. All that you do will be blessed. Heaven is watching and praying for this world. Take heart you are not alone on this journey.

Jesus

Be the light to this world. This world is in much darkness. That is why you must learn the lessons given on love of neighbor. Taking care of each other. So much darkness exists in the world today. Everyone going about their daily tasks without much thought for their brother or sister. They are in need of your prayers and sacrifices. That is how they will receive the graces necessary to awake from their slumber. My Father in Heaven hears all of your prayers and sacrifices. These prayers are then turned into the graces that will awaken men from their slumber. My dear brothers and sisters you have so much to learn. Your hearts need to be open to the words from Heaven, the words of your God. Hear me now. Love! That is your path to happiness. That is what will yield you your heavenly treasure. I love you so much. You do not realize yet what love is. Soon you will understand what sacrifices have been made for you and how those sacrifices yield such love. Listen to the words of my Father, the Creator of all mankind, who created you out of love from the beginning. So loved are you. Soon you will begin to understand love and the sacrifices needed to give true love of neighbor. It is a selfless act. It is a giving without looking for a reward. Love much and always. Thank you for your time.

Time is so valuable because it is limited for you now. But soon it will be endless. Stay focused on the path I have set out for you. You will succeed with my graces and blessings. Remember, my graces are what will cause you to succeed. You must ask for these graces. Ask and you will receive them. I love you.

God the Father

My dear children, it is I, your Heavenly Father wishing to tell you, you were and are my greatest creation. I carved you from the palm of my hand. There is no other creature equal to my children. From the beginning you were in my heart. I created you with such beauty. Each of you is so uniquely beautiful to your Father. I created a Kingdom for your eternal happiness. You are never away from my heart for even a moment. You are my chosen people, my family. It is now that I again ask my children for their “yes” to me. Choose the path that will lead you to my heart, my Kingdom. Keep yourself present in this moment. Never looking back or forward. Just focus on the present moment. Give everything to me. I am your Father. Look to me for everything. I will take care of your needs. Start today. Right now and say “yes.”

2/13/2011

St. Anne

Dear, dear people: Where shall I begin? You need to learn about love. I am here to help you with this lesson. I can tell you that the easier way to learn about love is from the example of my Daughter. Her “yes” to God was given the moment the Angel Gabriel delivered the message from Heaven. She said “yes” to the Father, just as you are being asked to give your “yes” today. She loved the Father and trusted him with all things. Was she scared? Yes! Did she understand everything? No, but she trusted. You do not understand the ways of the Father either, but you must trust in His love for you. You must trust that He knows what each of his children need. That is why I tell you to look at the simplicity of my Daughter. She was quiet. She was pure of heart. She was selfless. She gave everything to God. She carried much burden in her heart. Her task was not easy. Much sorrow followed her during her journey here. But she trusted in the Father’s plan. She gave everything to the Father including her only Son. As I told you, she remained silent, holding all these things in her heart. She knew God’s plan was important. She was part of that plan. But she had a choice just like you. She had free will just like you. Think about her “yes” and what that entailed. Then think about your own “yes”. Pray to my Grandson for much light on this. Heaven is calling out to you. Stay silent to hear the calls. My daughter and I will intercede and pray for you. Peace to you. You are loved.

Jesus

Brothers and sisters, your world is in a state of turmoil. So many obstacles have been put in your path by the devil. Like litter in the street. You have become so weakened by sin that you can no longer discern the difference between good and evil. You do not know what is good for you. You look at the pleasure of something and say to yourselves that is good, because it feels good. Not so, only Heaven knows what is truly good for you. That is why you must return to a life of prayer and silence. Prayer is how you need to ask for grace to discern whether a situation is good or bad for you. Silence is how you will hear the answer. You need to stop talking and start listening. Open your eyes to what is happening around you. Where are you at, on the road to salvation? Are you straight or have you become distracted yet again. Pray to be placed back on the straight path. Remember Heaven hears all of your prayers. You only need to ask to receive. Focus on what is being said. You will begin to grow. Yes, uncomfortable at first, but soon this path will become easier. When you are heavy burdened I will come and lift your yoke.

2/14/2011

St. Michael

It is I, St. Michael sending greetings from Heaven. I stand before the throne of God ready to defend the safety of all His children. The battle between Satan and you children continues to wage on. War is at your doorstep. Pray for the intercession of your angels. We are the guardians of your souls. We are messengers of the King. Ready to wage war against the enemy. Mankind cannot understand the price of their souls. There is nothing that you have that is of greater value, yet you leave your greatest treasure defenseless. Unguarded so that any evil can come without your notice. Arise from your slumber and awake to fight for your right. You are heirs to the Kingdom of God. Bought for you with the blood of the slain Lamb, the true King. Keep watch over your treasure before you find your soul in ruins. We are ready to fight with you.

Ask for our help in this battle. Your cries will not go unheard. Your angel stands watch over you day and night. Believe and trust in the Lord. Victory will be yours.

Jesus

My brothers and sisters, your many struggles that you are enduring come from a lack of love. If you would begin to pray more, then you would begin to love more. Your relationships with each other need to begin with a concern for the other person's needs. It is a lack of love when you argue and get upset. You then fail to forgive and your heart becomes hard. That is why I am telling you to forgive immediately. Then put your siblings needs ahead of yours. You will do this by listening more and talking less. Show charity towards everyone. It is out of charity that true love will grow. Then you will really see every person as your true brother and true sister. You will see how you are a part of my Father's family. That is what these messages are all about: a return to family, a return to the Father. You cannot see God with a hard heart. That is why you must learn to love. Then you can follow the commands I gave you: To love the Father with all your heart and your neighbor as yourself.

An ocean is endless in appearance. My mercy is endless period! You just need to believe that and come to me. Trust in what I am saying. I will forgive all you have done. I will restore you anew. Simply ask. Seek the treasure of Heaven. That is done by love. You cannot yet realize how your heart will grow when you practice all I am teaching you. I love you with an everlasting love.

2/16/2011

God the Father

To a world currently consumed with greed. I give you greetings from Heaven. It is I, God the Father. I wish to talk about greed. Truly you have heard that greed is the root of all evil. I shall explain why. In your world you have created a hierarchy of people. At the top you place importance on those with wealth of money or skills. Then you have a large group where most people are, a variety of wealth and skills. Then you have the bottom, where you put the prostitutes, drug dealers, the poor and less skilled. You created this. Those at the bottom are just as loved and just as important as those at the top. You are the ones who choose to love them less. You deem them unworthy of your time or talents. Yet any of those children would be happy to share what talents or gifts they had. You see them as unhappy because, they do not have as much material wealth as you. I can assure you that it is not true. There are many children who are twice as unhappy at the top of your groups. If you would stop looking for faults in each other you could begin to see the uniqueness of each other. You are so beautiful like the many flowers growing in the garden. I see the beauty in all of my children. Nothing (made by man) in this world impresses me. What I long for from you is love: For my children to learn to love each other, to value everyone. Believe me I placed each of you on this earth for a reason. Each person contributes no matter how small a gift. That gift is to be shared among all my children. It is the gift of family. How happy you could be if you would simply love. Everything else would fall into place. Wars would end. Famine would stop. None of my children would shed tears of hunger and pain. They would know they are loved and wanted. I love and want all my children. I am the Father who made each of you, all chosen and cherished. There is no hierarchy in my heart. I love each of my children. In Heaven you will understand what love is. That is what Heaven is. I created a Kingdom of love. So much did I love you that I gave my only Son to this world. He laid down His life for you honoring my will. Is there any sacrifice equal to this? What are you willing to sacrifice of yourself for love of brother? Will you sacrifice your pride to learn humility? Will you sacrifice your wealth to feed the poor? Will you sacrifice your greed to learn love? I promise you no sacrifice you give will go without reward. Your treasure in Heaven will grow. That treasure will last forever. No one can steal it and it will never rot. Please start to seek the real treasure.

2/17/2011

Jesus

My dear brothers and sisters, you seek treasure in an earth that will just as soon pass away. Seek only the treasure of Heaven. There your treasure will not pass away. You wander about this earth waiting for someone or something to give you purpose. You look for something to fill the void in your heart. Stop looking for what is right in front of you: Your family. Your ancestors wandered in the desert trying to find their promised land. Why did they wander for so long? Lack of trust and love! They wanted to rely on their self, never trusting that the Father would provide for them. When He gave them Manna from Heaven they still sought other things, never satisfied. Why, because their hearts were hard. They were only thinking of their own personal comforts. It is in giving that you receive. When others become the focus you begin to realize that your cup begins to become full. You stop worrying about yourself. Just like a parent who goes without to make sure their child does not starve. Is that parent hungry? Yes, but they do not think about their needs, only their child's. This world needs to start focusing on their brothers needs ahead of their own. Then your cup will be full. You will not wander aimlessly through the earth. You will have purpose. It will be to take care of what is really most important: Your family. Focus on loving each other. Then no one will go to bed hungry. I love you and I am blessing you with my priestly blessing tonight.

2/18/2011

Jesus

From the depths of my Mercy I reach out to you my brothers and sisters. Listen to your Brother. I came into your world to serve. I came to lay down my life for you. Are you serving your brother? Would you be willing to lay down your life for your fellow man? That is what love is all about. Sacrificing yourself for others. How much are you sacrificing yourself today? Did you listen patiently when someone was talking or did you become impatient and abruptly answer him or her with little regard to the real question they were seeking? Have you practiced love for your brother by providing for his need, or have you worried about your own needs? Stop worrying about yourself. Have I not said that my Father hears all your cries? Does He not take care of the birds in the air and the fish of the sea? How much more important are you. You are His beloved children. Stop worrying about your needs and begin to focus on your brother. Have you practiced kindness or have you been guilty of slander? A tongue can become a deadly weapon to the soul. Watch your tongue carefully. Keep your thoughts pure. Focus on the beauty of each other's uniqueness. Then you will find thoughtful things to say.

A three-part message from God the Father

Part I

My dear children, it is I your Father sending you greetings from Heaven. Listen to my words. I love you. I have since the beginning of time. You were always in my heart. That is why I carved you in the palm of my hand. I created you in my image and likeness. That image is love. You are a part of me. You are my family. My chosen people, beloved above all. Do you hear what I am saying? Chosen, you are mine! Look around at your world I have given you. Can you see my love for my children? Have I not provided everything for you? In the beginning I knew your name. I called you out of nothingness. Now I am asking for you to come back from your exile in the wilderness. You have been away from my heart. You no longer hear me calling. Your world has become too noisy with your distractions. Turn off everything and listen to my voice. I love you. I love you with an everlasting love. A parent raises their children with much thought. They plan for their future. Provide for their needs. Making sure they are safe. They are happy. I am your Father. I provided you a world full of plenty. I made sure you had guardians to keep you safe. I gave you each other to provide you happiness. I created an Eternal Kingdom for you to share with me forever. I gave you my only Son. I willed for Him to offer me His life in exchange for your sins. I am a merciful God. My love cannot be understood while you are here. My justice is my love. I know, so many things you do not understand about your world or the next. Fear not. I have your happiness in my heart. I have your safety in my thoughts. I am your Creator. I know exactly what you need or want before you utter a single sound. That is how much I love you. Listen to me. Hear my voice. I love you. You are mine. Trust in my Fatherly care for you. Come to me. I will listen to your concerns. Do not be afraid to approach me. Like I said I already know what is concerning you. All you need to do is trust. Look up. I am there. Look at each other. I am there. This world I have given you. The Kingdom I have given you through the blood of my only Son. He paid the price of my justice for you. I set an angel before the Gates of Heaven. I could not let you in until all of this came to pass. You had to understand what a price is on your soul. The value cannot be understood except to tell you that it took the life of my Son to pay its ransom. That is why all of Heaven is calling out to you. Here everyone knows what complete joy and happiness is. Here no tears are shed. There is only love in my Kingdom. There is only light, never to be dark again (on earth where we have darkness and sin). Is that worth your yes? Can you accept that I love you? Can you understand that my love is unconditional? Can you see how to fully accept this love; you must learn what love is. You have to put down the things of this world that are keeping you from me. You cannot feel my presence when your homes and lives are so full of things. My love is present only now. You only have the present moment. Yesterday is gone forever and I have not yet given you tomorrow. Just this very moment give me your yes. Start anew. Let me enter your heart and begin to teach you about love. To learn you will have to sacrifice. You must learn this: to give love before you can receive. You must first serve before you can be served. Go out and love your brother. I gave you each other to learn. Go out and learn. Find your brother. Embrace him. Put aside your anger. Forgive immediately as I have forgiven you. Then come to my banquet where you will be welcomed. What you do for the least of my children, surely I will give you your just reward. Would a parent give their child a stone if they asked for a fish? Well neither will I give you a stone. Take care of each other. Then you will learn what love is about. Your treasure will grow. You will not regret even a second of helping your brother or sister. You will however have much sadness if you do nothing for them. Do not look away from their needs. Your Father sees everything. Instead seek them out. Do not wait for your brother to need you, and have to ask. Seek them first. That is where your greatest treasure will lie: The giving up of yourself. What you will lose on earth for the sake of one of my little ones, you will gain a hundredfold in my Kingdom. You are loved. Remember this. You are mine. I love you. Carved from the palm of my hand. I place you in my heart since the beginning. Chosen and cherished by me. I love you and you are mine.

2/20/2011

God the Father

Part II

Fear not my children, your Father loves you. Fear does not come from me. It comes from a heart that lacks trust. When you trust in my providence you are always happy. You are happy because you know that I am giving you exactly what your soul needs. I would not give you what you do not need. But your needs are different than mine. You think of things of this earth while I think from a perspective of Heaven. My plan is to call you home. That is it. No more no less. My way is not hard or burdensome. It is you that makes life hard by not surrendering yourselves to me. You listen to this world deceived from the garden by one of my angels who fell from my grace. He had pride. He wanted to follow his own plan. He rebelled against my love. Now he wants suffering for this world since he was cast to the ground you walk on. It is a wasteland to pay for his deception (I see people walking in the streets looking for trouble, in alleys wearing dark clothes committing crimes against their brother.) He deceived out of a lack of love. I created out of love. This you must understand. My Divine Justice is my mercy. I mold you and prune you with opportunities to grow in love. My Kingdom is love. No one can enter when they lack love. My Son paid too high of a price for this. He suffered much for your seat at the table. It is out of love for you that I willed him to come down and become a child of the earth. He felt all human feelings. He took on all sin for the salvation of mankind. That is my love for my children. How then can I not bring about perfection in my children through love? My Kingdom is eternal peace and happiness, a reward for your faithfulness to me, your reward for your “yes.” That is why Heaven is a choice. You must choose Heaven. You cannot buy your way in. No amount of your money can do you any good here. My Son opened the door for you. You must accept this with a complete yes. A yes that is unconditional and trusting in what you do not know. That is why you must begin to trust again. Stop relying on yourselves. Turn to me. I will give you rest. I will teach you how to love again. Look at the gift given to you: Life! There is no greater treasure that your world has: Life! Return to me. A man who is willing to lose his life for the sake of his brother will save it. But a man who tries to save his own life and ignore his brother has already lost his. Why? Lack of love! You cannot enter the Kingdom until you learn and have love within yourself. Not self-love but selfless love. That is what my justice demands from this world. I sent my Son to open Heaven. I sent Him to bring my children home. Where are you? Stop and pray. Where are you? Is your existence dark and lonely? Do you cry out in the night screaming injustice? Stop! I can assure you, you are not receiving anything except what you need for your journey. My children you are no different than your ancestors who cried injustices in the desert. They suffered from the same illness that this world suffers from: self-love and self-importance, pride. When you humble yourselves like little children then you will start seeing how all of your difficulties have come about. You will see the many times you lacked love for your siblings. How you deserted them in their time of trial. Yet you want those same brothers to be there for you. You hypocrites! Stop only thinking of yourselves. You are not alone. The more you see each other as siblings, my children, the sooner you will begin to focus on each other. Think about an injury you received, a cut on your finger. When you look at the cut and focus on it, it hurts. But if you quickly bandage it and start to focus elsewhere you soon forget that it even hurts. That is how I want you to live, focusing yourselves on helping each other, loving each other. Then you will soon forget about your sufferings and they will become joys for you. You will truly begin living your Heaven on earth. Do not feel that this is too burdensome for you. Am I not here? Didn't I tell you from the beginning that I hear all of your prayers? I will send you angels to guide you. I will send my Spirit to give you knowledge about areas of your life you are struggling. You only need to ask and you shall receive. I have not left you orphans. I love you with an everlasting love. You are truly mine and I love each of you. You are so close to my heart. A father only wants what is best for his children. I can assure you I am no different. I want peace for you. You just have to listen to my voice. I'm calling your name. I am calling you home unto my heart. My peace I give to you. I will bless your efforts and reward you. My Kingdom is here ready for your arrival. Your seat is ready for you at my banquet. Give me your "yes" and love one another.

God the Father

Part III

My dear children, I come to you tonight to teach you about faith. Faith is like a rose. First it starts out as a tightly woven bud. What lies inside is invisible to the naked eye, but with much love and tending to, it begins to unfold and burst forth. Growing in beauty and fragrance. This is how faith is. You must tend to your faith. You must nourish it, for it to bloom to its potential. Then everyone who walks by will see your faith. You do not need to say a word and everyone will still see its beauty. You are all my beautiful flowers in my garden. So beautiful are each of you. No two are exactly alike yet all of you together make a magnificent display. That is why your siblings are so important. You need each other to learn about love. Everyone has a different talent to share. Put those talents together and you have a masterpiece, my masterpiece, made out of love. If you could only see the beauty that lies in each of you, and understand how special and unique each of you are, then when you place each together, you would know this is my greatest creation of all: Family! My family! That is why not a single soul should be lost from me. You cannot understand the beauty and preciousness of your soul. So priceless is it that only my Son's life was ransom enough. Ponder that. Nothing else was fitting enough. All the treasures and still none compared to the treasure of your soul. That is how special you are. That is why Heaven rejoices so much when a lost child returns home. That is why trumpets sound in the streets in Heaven celebrating a repentant sinner. In Heaven you understand that treasure, the beauty of your soul. If you could understand this you would never jeopardize your purity. You would not want to stain its beauty with sin. Practice love. Practice charity. Your treasure in Heaven will grow. That treasure is, understanding yourself and your place in the Kingdom. In Heaven there is only happiness because you have knowledge of how truly loved you are. You feel your soul's uniqueness. You are wrapped in my heart. Never do you feel jealous or look for faults in your siblings. No, you rejoice in the Kingdom. You share in the eternal banquet. You celebrate in the streets when a brother or sister comes home. You share in that love. That is why I tell you, you can start living your Heaven here on earth. Start loving each other. Stop looking for faults. Take nothing to your heart except love and charity. The faster you forgive the faster you feel love for that brother. Remember no one here is perfect. You will make mistakes too. Do you want someone to hold a grudge against you or do you wish for forgiveness and their blessing. That is why you must begin to change your heart now. That change will begin with a simple "yes." Say yes to me. Call out to me and I will send down my graces to you. I will send a legion of angels to help you. I will not abandon you in this effort. I love you. I am your Father. Remember I called you out of nothingness into this world. I have given you everything to live here. I have given you everything you need to prepare for the next. Each other. You need your siblings to get to Heaven. Every cross I have given you is to help teach you a lesson. Maybe that lesson was patience. Maybe it is to accept my will. Maybe it is to teach you about greed or to let you see yourself as I see you. I also send you opportunities to let your siblings have the chance to grow in faith by helping you. Accept help, you are doing your sibling a great favor. You are allowing them to earn treasure in Heaven. You are letting them practice charity. Yes it is humbling to accept help. But my child you need to learn humility. Remember you suffer a great deal from pride. When you come across a difficulty remain silent and pray from your heart for my help. I will send you what you need to accomplish your task. Trust in my providence for you. My goal is to bring you home. I love you. You belong in Heaven with your family who is praying and waiting for you. Remember you are chosen and cherished by me. Uniquely beautiful and at the same time a part of a much grander picture. A family. You are never alone. I am here. I did not leave you orphaned. Grow in faith and trust. Love one another as I have loved you. I am sending you blessings from Heaven. Stay straight on the path. I will help you. Rely on me. I love you and you are mine.

Jesus

My dear people, it is I your King, your Brother. You need much help as you start your journey. Ask for help along the way. Heaven is ready to assist her children. All of us are waiting for your return home. Listen carefully to these messages. Learn from what is being taught. This journey will not always be easy. Fear not I am with you. Constantly sending my graces. Accept them. Do not turn away from my voice. I am the Good Shepherd. My sheep know my voice. You will hear me calling out to you. Listen. So loved are you by all of Heaven. Your return is very important. Come back to the ways of the Father. Not the ways of men. Remember your world is currently sick and in need of a physician. I am coming. You will not be left desolate. Listen to my voice. I love you. Come to me for forgiveness. I am mercy. You need not be afraid. The devil can no longer trick you with his illusions. No, I am coming. I am bringing my Father's children back to him. You must choose your path quickly. Choose the path that leads to Heaven. That is where you belong. You are the rightful heirs. I opened the gate. You are my brothers and sisters. That makes you rightful heirs to the Kingdom. But you still have the free will to choose. Only you can make that choice. Heaven is calling out to her children. Choose Heaven. I am blessing you with my priestly blessing. I love you all.

2/22/2011

Jesus

Fear not it is I your Lord calling to you from Heaven. Listen to my voice. I love you. So much has been given to you. Still much more will be given. Listen carefully. We are here helping you on your journey home to Heaven. Where you belong. You are my brothers and sisters. So loved are you by all of Heaven. Listen, now is the time to change. Now is the time to leave behind your wicked ways. Turn back to the Father. Remove all obstacles that have been placed in front of you. Open your hearts to Heaven. You will grow in faith. I will send my graces for this. Just ask and you will receive. Give your "yes" today. Now is the time to awake and open your heart to God. Love each other. Take care of each other. I am blessing you tonight.

2/23/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Fear not, I am the way the truth and the light. I am the Bread of Life sent from Heaven for the salvation of this world. Here you have many sufferings. You have many trials brought on by your sins, sins of the flesh, sins of malice, sins of greed. You have hard hearts and are unwilling to practice the virtues you have been taught. How much longer do you think your world can continue on the path it is on? Trust. That is what I ask of you. Trust, that is how you begin to change. You have been asked to give Heaven your "yes." We are requesting this because that is how you start any task. First you must decide it is a task you are willing to do. You say "yes," which means you are agreeing to complete this task. Your "yes" to Heaven means you are agreeing you wish to come home to Heaven. Now you need to start that journey with trust. When you trust a teacher you will follow their instructions. You will do as you are asked. You know in the end you will succeed in that class. You will gain knowledge of that subject. I am your teacher. My instructions are easy to follow. You must listen with your heart. You must trust in my mercy. You must trust that you are truly loved. You must trust that you belong in Heaven. Will you be expected to sacrifice during this journey? Yes! I will ask you to deny yourself and pick up your cross and follow me. Then you will learn love. You will stop worrying about your needs and trust in God's providence for you. You will focus your attention on your brother. Teaching your children about love, kindness and charity. Heaven is your home. You have a seat at the banquet. I would not say this if it were not true. How happy you will be when you are in Heaven for all eternity, where every tear is wiped away. You will not regret anything you sacrificed here for the Kingdom. Why? Because you will see how much time you have wasted on things that brought your soul no treasure. You will be happy that you chose Heaven. You will see how all your efforts produced much fruit. When you do deeds out of love they produce good fruit. A fruit all can share in. When you put yourself first, doing what benefits you, then you will produce rotten fruit that will decay before your eyes. Put others first. Place yourself last. Then you will receive a just reward: The knowledge of loving your neighbor. My children, what you treasure is not what the Father treasures. Trust that you will be given exactly what you need to gain the Kingdom of Heaven. Brothers and sisters, take time to reflect on this. Take time to pray and ask for graces to help you through your crosses. Take time to enjoy what you have been given on earth. Then you will have a joyful heart. Love each other. Take care of your siblings then you will have happiness. I am sending you blessings tonight.

2/23/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear sweet children, so much information has been given to you, so much instruction on your path to holiness. I love you my children. I am sending you my motherly blessings tonight. Listen to what you have been told. My Son is truth. Fear not. Ask Him for the graces to succeed and He will be there. You truly have nothing to fear on this journey.

A conversation with Jesus on His Passion

My heart has such sorrow. I offended my Lord. Tonight I ponder His Passion. When he knelt in the garden, did he know I loved him? Could he see me crying with anguish in my soul? He clenched the earth in his hand. Knowing all along the suffering he was about to endure. When he saw how the guards would be laughing at him, did he remember the times I laughed at others misfortunes? How could I face him tonight? He will look at me with sweat dripping from his brow. Blood will begin to appear. I cannot take my eyes off of him. I can see he is tired and lonely. Will he remember the times I unfairly corrected my children because I was tired? He prays to the Father asking for this cup to be removed. No, this must continue as the Father has willed it so. Judas comes and calls out to Jesus. He opens his arms and kisses him on the cheek. How many times have I acted nicely to someone's face only to gossip about that same person when they walked away? Am I Judas? Have I kissed you too? Tonight I must face you. I caused this. I see the soldiers mocking him and hitting him. Yelling at him. He says nothing. Tears roll down his dirty face. Jesus can you see I am sorry now? I want to take back every cruel thing I ever did. I want to correct every hurt I ever inflicted on anyone. He gets up. You were taken to judges. People told lies to have you condemned. I lie. I judge others. I know you told us not to, when you walked the earth. Why did I not listen? My heart has grown cold. I became indifferent to others. Am I in the crowd talking about you, watching your suffering for entertainment? You remain silent. Everyone is yelling. They accuse you and you stand still. You don't yell back. You don't defend yourself. No, You just love. You are already forgiving us. I want to turn away but I must continue on. They are taking you to be scourged. Jesus I cannot find words. My heart aches for you. I know I have sinned with my flesh. Am I a guard holding the whip? What difference does it really make? I am no better. I may as well have scourged you. My sins have brought you here. Oh world, can you truly continue with your sins of the flesh now? Holy spirit, give me the gift of fortitude. Help me to continue on. I know what is coming next. I cannot bear this. How could I suffer from pride? When did I become so self-important? A crown of thorns was woven for you, my King. You look at me. I see the blood trickle down your forehead. I want to run and hide. Your eyes speak to my soul of love. How can you love me? I have done nothing to deserve your love. Your crown should be magnificent. Pearls rubies diamonds gold. Not thorns.

My daughter I wore this crown with love. Your beauty lies inside your soul. Look how you weep. Look at your sorrow. My mercy is greater than your sins. This is how much I love you. This is the crown that freed you from your pride. There is no suffering that is too great. The value of your soul cannot be understood. I love you. You are mine. I forgive you. The moment you were sorry I forgave you.

They placed a cross upon his back. The wood was heavy and rough. How can I complain about my crosses? They are not worth mentioning. Why can't I remain silent and be strong.

You have to trust in my providence for you. Give me your cross. I will carry it for you. I will make your burdens light. You forget to ask. You try to handle everything on your own. Pray, I am listening. I love you. Did you forget I am here? I am waiting for you to ask me for help.

The nails were pounded into your flesh. How can hands that are made for love do such cruel things? I can feel my own hands burn and ache. I wish I could take away some of your discomfort. There is no position that will give you relief now. Your Mother is here. Quietly weeping a mother's sorrow. She is so beautiful. Words cannot describe her. She never takes her eyes off of you. She has joined you with her love. Each breath leaves you gasping for the next. Yet you still utter a plea to your Father. You say forgive us. We did not know what we were doing. Jesus, we knew we were sinning. We became so indifferent to your cross. I just didn't realize how sin caused such suffering.

My daughter. You do not know the price of your own soul. If you did you would never want to sin again. That is why this world needs my mercy. Everyone has fallen asleep. Where is everyone? What are they doing tonight? You try to comfort me. But where are your brothers and sisters. They do not realize what little time is left. I will come when you least expect it. You must guard your soul. There is no greater treasure you possess. Be ready. Ask for my mercy. It will be yours. This sacrifice was the only ransom able to pay your debts. I love you. I have said to you no sacrifice is too great for your soul. Be not afraid. Do not feel hopeless. I love you. I forgive you. You belong to me. Your seat is at the table. Stay close to my heart. Then you will stay straight on the path.

My king took his last breath. He laid down his life for me. He laid down his life for you.

My children, my brothers and sisters, I love you. Stop looking to the things of this world to give you happiness. There is nothing here that will give you a second more to your life. Focus on the path you are choosing. Heaven is a choice you make everyday. Give me your yes today. I love you and you are mine. I am the Good Shepherd who laid down His life for His sheep. I know my sheep and my sheep know me.

2/25/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters, my mercy is for you. Immerse yourselves in the floodgates of my love. I came to redeem this world. I came to deliver you to my Father in Heaven. To free you from sin. Look to my heart. It is wide open for you. Do not turn away. Do not wait for tomorrow thinking you have tomorrow. Today is all you have, for tomorrow has not been given to you yet. Come to me when you are burdened. I will give you rest. My yoke is easy. Do not try to carry all of this yourself. I am here.

2/26/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear little ones: How I wish to fold you into the mantle of my protection. This journey is a difficult one. Many sacrifices will be needed to stay on the path. Do not worry, Heaven is watching over you. You are not alone on this journey. I am your mother. I am interceding before my Son. Ask for his help. Ask for the graces necessary to overcome any obstacles. You are so loved by all of Heaven. Listen to my Son. He is truth. He will not lead you astray. No, He is the way, the truth and your light. He will light the way to your path of salvation. Remember the sacrifice He made for you on Calvary. Listen to Him. I am interceding for you.

2/26/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Open your hearts tonight. How small you are. Your problems seem so large. Do you not trust that I can assist you on your road? What difficulties do you have? What graces do you need? Ask! Ask and you shall receive. I am here! I will give you what you need to increase your faith. How do you nourish your faith? Prayer! Come to the table. Repent of your sins. If you do not yet love your brothers and sisters then you must stop everything you are doing. I can assure you nothing else is as important. Stop and go to your brother and sister. Ask for their forgiveness. Forgive them in return. Then come to the table and I will feed you. Your cup must be clean inside so I can fill it. Love: Put others ahead of yourselves. That is how you will grow in faith. When you find difficulty with this task remember to pray and fast. Fasting clears the body and offers sacrifices for your brothers and sisters. It was through prayer and fasting that much evil was cast out of souls. Your world is sick. Prayers and sacrifices are needed. You must stop waiting. You do not realize the state your world is in. Listen all around you. Quiet yourselves. Then pray to My Father. Ask him to enlighten your heart. You will see the condition of your soul. Where is your love? Where are you headed with your choices? Have you given Heaven your "yes"? These are the questions you need to ponder. Ask yourself again. What choices are you making? Pray for my help. I will assist you in this. Listen to your angels. They are constantly at your side giving you guidance. They are your guardians. I am sending you my blessings tonight. I love you. You are mine.

2/27/2011

Jesus

A message prior to Mass:

If you knew what value coming to my table of plenty offered your soul you would never want to leave. But faith is not something to be kept hidden away rather it is to be shared. It is a light for all to see: A light leading my little ones out of darkness. Come to the table of plenty. I am the Bread of Life.

2/27/2011

God the Father

Look into the heart of My Son. There you will find love. That is the love I have for my children. When a parent has a child, no sacrifice is too big. A parent will do anything for their child that is safe. They feed and clothe them, provide love and shelter, ensure their child has everything necessary to grow into adulthood. That is what I provided for my children. I gave you a world with food. I clothed you and provided shelter. Then I ensured your eternity with the sacrifice of my only Son. Simply look at His heart. Pierced open for the salvation of my children. That is how loved you are. Now I ask for you to show love and kindness to each other in return. That is how you will enter the Kingdom. You will join your ancestors at my table of plenty. Sitting next to your brothers and sisters that you chose to love here on earth. (This does not mean we get to pick and choose whom we love. We will get to sit next to each other because we chose to love.) I gave you each other to learn love. This is a lesson that you need to practice everyday. You can only master something that you practice. So practice love. I am love.

2/28/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Your greatest possession is your soul. If you understood this how carefully you would spend your days here. You would choose wisely what entered your heart. Pray for my graces to understand this. The value of your soul cannot be understood because you have hard hearts. You are asleep and not listening to my voice. The greatest treasure, you will build in Heaven is each other. I tell you, your greatest treasure is your brother and sister. That is why I tell you to love each other. When you begin to love with a selfless love then you will build treasure for the Kingdom. Here your treasure will never rot or decay. Love each other as I have loved you. My peace, be with you.

2/28/2011

God the Father

My dear children: I call on you tonight to look into your hearts. What do you see? What are you longing for? What have you placed first in your life? These are the questions I ask my children. Your answers reflect where your heart is. If you are spending your time working then your heart lies in work. If you are watching television then your heart lies in entertainment. If you are spending time with your family then your heart is with your family. Pray! Look at the questions, and again look into your heart. Have you given me your “yes?” I am your Father. I love you. You belong to me.

3/1/2011

God the Father

My dear children: What is faith? Where do you walk each day? Are you looking ahead or behind you? Faith is trusting in your Lord. If you look behind you, focusing on what was and living in the past you are not trusting in me. I am not a God of the past. I am a God of the present. Do not look past today. I did not give you tomorrow. Trust in today. Live each day renewed. Give me your “yes” today. I will bless your efforts. I will send you graces necessary for today. I am your Father. I love you. You belong to me. Faith is, trusting your Father.

3/1/2011

Jesus

My people, my brothers and sisters: You look to find peace in your heart. To seek peace you must deny yourself, pick up your cross, and come follow me. I am peace. My peace I give to you. Your crosses are what will gain you the treasure your soul needs. These treasures are patience, kindness, honesty and love of brother. These can never be taken from you. When you practice kindness, then kindness will begin to grow in your heart. What you give freely away will come back to you sevenfold. If you are honest then you will gain respect. Those are the treasures you should seek. Do not waste your time on things that will bring you no yield. Those things will only collect dust and rot away. Things that distract you will only lead you astray on your path to the Kingdom. Pray that you use your time wisely. Remember you do not know the hour I may call your name. I will ask what you have done with the graces you received. I will look to see what fruit you yielded for my garden. How will you answer? I am sending you graces. Ask and you shall receive. Use these graces for treasure in Heaven. That treasure is your brothers and sisters. I love you and I am blessing your efforts.

3/2/11

Jesus

My people, my brothers and sisters: I wish to talk again about faith. Faith is like a tree you plant in the garden. It starts out so small. Care is needed so the roots will grow deep in the ground. Then strong winds will not topple it. When the roots are deep, droughts will not kill it. You must grow your roots of faith. Deeply seated in your soul. Then when difficult storms enter your life you will come through it unharmed. What grows strong faith? Trust in me. Trust that the Father will provide for your needs. Practice charity with your brothers and sisters. Practice kindness towards each other. Come to my table so you can be fed with the Bread of Life. That is how you grow faith. Open your hearts tonight. Do not allow yourselves to have hard hearts. No, listen to my words. They are gentle and full of love. Have hope in my voice. Remember you are loved. My Father created you out of nothingness and breathed life into you. He gave you your greatest possession: A soul, to be loved for all eternity. Have no fear in growing a strong tree in His garden. His family. I am blessing you tonight with my priestly blessings. I love you with my heart pierced for you.

3/3/2011

God the Father

My dear children: I love you with Fatherly concern. Concern for where my children are headed. Your choices are not made with your brothers and sisters in your heart. Open your hearts to me tonight. I will change your hearts of stone. I long to reside in each of you. That is why I ask you to give me your “yes” today. Each day you have a choice to give your “yes” to me, or to the things of this world. Tonight give your “yes” to me. Then I will send my graces to teach you love. Love for your brothers and sisters. Then your choices will lead you to my Kingdom, your home. Listen to my fatherly love for you. Remember how loved you are. Look to my Son for proof if you still doubt.

3/3/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: I am the Bread of Life. You are hungry for truth. You will never be satisfied with the things of this world. No they are to fleeting. You only have today. Make your choices for Heaven. Soon it will be Lent. Look to my cross when you have times of suffering. I too suffered at the hands of my brothers and sisters. I understand, the value of each of their souls. I forgave immediately even from my cross. That is what I am asking of you. Forgive with an open heart. Love with kindness and charity. Joy will come from your efforts. Again look to me if you struggle. I am here. I will send you angels: Guardians of your souls to help and encourage you on this difficult journey. You are never alone. Trust in Me. I am Mercy. I lead the way. I opened the door for you. All you need to do is enter. Love will be your key to entering. Your brothers and sisters are your treasures you will take with you into the Kingdom. Leave no one outside. Each of my Father's children, have a seat at His table. All are welcomed. Love as I have taught you. I am blessing your efforts. I love you with brotherly love.

3/4/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Live your life with joy in your hearts. You are children of the Father. You have the Kingdom as your home. Rejoice in this knowledge. Begin today on your path to this Kingdom. Your angels are lighting the way. I am sending graces to you. Open your hearts to these graces. This road will have difficulties. Never weary, I am at your side. Come to the table and be nourished by me. I am the Bread of Life. I love you.

3/5/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear little ones: How your world suffers. Listen to my Son. He is peace. He is truth. He will lead the way to happiness. To have joy, you must learn to love. That is an obstacle for you. You worry so much about your needs. Do not fear about what you have or don't have. Trust that your Father is taking care of your needs. Your home is in Heaven. That is why my Son suffered at the hands of men. He suffered out of love for His brothers and sisters. You suffer from a lack of love for those same brothers and sisters. You must learn to love. Then you will have happiness in your hearts. Pray. Ask the Father to send graces for this. Ask my Son to break your hearts of stone. I am your Mother. I am praying for you. I am interceding for you. You are loved. Please wake up and look around. Where is the love in your world? Is it for each other, or for yourself alone? Stop and love each other. Listen to the cries of your brothers and sisters. Silence yourselves so you can hear my Son. He is calling to His lost sheep. Pray that you are not left outside in the cold. I love you and I am offering up many prayers for my children. Learn to love. Pray from the heart. Open your heart to my Son. Give the Father your "yes" today. I love you and I am sending my motherly blessings.

3/5/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: You are loved by all of Heaven. You do not yet realize what is at stake. You keep thinking tomorrow I can do this or that. Tomorrow I can change my path. You have not been given tomorrow. Start today. Change your path to a path of love. Start to see each other as brother and sister. Do not look at each other as strangers, you will start to form hard hearts. You will think this person has greater value than someone else. I can assure you, each of you is loved equally by my Father. Each of you is precious in the eyes of Heaven. Do you realize the importance of your brothers and sisters soul? Have you thought about how a single act of kindness can change the hard hearts of men? Start praying for each other. You are your greatest treasures. Learn to love each other as I have loved you. There is no sacrifice too great. Look at what I sacrificed for your eternal happiness. I understand the value in your greatest possession: Your soul! Do not be deceived by the evil lurking in this world. You are loved. Your soul has great value. No one is greater than the brother who is willing to lay down his life for another. To learn selfless love you must deny yourselves pick up your cross and follow me. I love you. I am the Bread of Life. Come to me and you will never go hungry or thirsty again, for I will give you the Cup of Salvation and the Bread of Life. Come to the table and be nourished. I am blessing your efforts tonight.

3/6/2011

Jesus

Blessed are those who come to the table of plenty to nourish themselves, for they are truly being wise. My brothers and sisters: Again I tell you tonight the importance of nourishing your soul with truth. I am truth. My words are truth. I say to you this world of yours will pass away but my words will not pass away. Truth is what your world needs. Truth is what will help you to grow in faith. How can you say you love your brother and lie to that same brother? Where is your love? Again I tell you it is self-love that you have. You need to speak the truth. Humility comes from truth. It is a prideful soul that looks to lie. Trying to protect what? Nothing good will come from deceit. Deception will yield your soul nothing. On the other hand truth will yield your soul a great bounty. Treasure for eternity. How can you come to my table and receive Me into yourself, then quickly turn to your brother and lie? Love is what you need to practice. Spend your time practicing love. Pray for my graces in this. You are not strong enough to resist the temptation of pride. You are still asleep and weak in your prayer. Come to me for nourishment. Come to me for graces. Haven't I said, "ask and you shall receive, seek and you will find, knock and the door will be opened for you." I will open the door to my heart: My endless mercy of graces for this generation. But you must enter and be willing to receive these graces. Open your hearts to me. Open your hearts to each other. Then you will learn to love freely, with pure and honest hearts. That will be your treasure you seek. There you will find the joy you long for. First you must change the path you are on. Enter into my heart. I love you. I am blessing you tonight. Remember nothing is impossible with me. I love you.

3/7/2011

Prayers for you to recite from Jesus

Prayer:

Heavenly Father I give you my yes today. I thank you for loving me so much. Help me to contemplate your everlasting love for us deep within my soul.

Help me Father to see what a treasure my soul really is.

Help me Father to understand its value.

Help me Father to avoid any sin that would stain my soul.

Help me Father to remember my home is with you in Heaven.

Heavenly Father I give you my yes today. I thank you for loving me so much. Help me to contemplate your everlasting love for us deep within my soul

Teach me Father to be kind to my brothers and sisters.

Teach me Father to listen patiently to their needs.

Teach me Father to see the beauty of their uniqueness.

Teach me Father to love everyone unconditionally.

Heavenly Father I give you my yes today. I thank you for loving me so much. Help me to contemplate your everlasting love for us deep within my soul

Remind me Father that everyone is my brother and sister.

Remind me Father that we will share in the banquet you have prepared for us since the beginning of time.

Remind me Father that my heavenly treasure is my brothers and sisters.

Remind me Father that your Son's sacrifice was the only ransom worthy of my soul.

Heavenly Father I give you my yes today. I thank you for loving me so much. Help me to contemplate your everlasting love for us deep within my soul

Thank you Father for creating a kingdom called Heaven.

Thank you Father for making us your sons and daughters.

Thank you Father for giving us each other to learn love.

Thank you Father for sending your only Son to open the door to your heart.

Heavenly Father I give you my yes today. I thank you for loving me so much. Help me to contemplate your everlasting love for us deep within my soul

(Ending prayer: This can be prayed by itself especially when we are struggling with charity)

Heavenly Father I give you my yes today. I give it to you freely. I accept whatever crosses you send me because I understand it is for the good of my soul. Today I will carry my cross quietly and patiently for you. I will not abuse the graces you are sending me. Instead I will use those graces to help my brothers and sisters so we may all share in the banquet you have prepared for us.

3/7/2011

God the Father

My children. I give you this prayer tonight. It is to remind you of the lessons you are receiving. I ask you to recite it each day and whenever you are struggling with charity towards your brothers or sisters. This prayer will remind you how loved you are. You are all my sons and daughters. I love you so much. My heart is open to you. In the beginning I told you this is how you begin: Ask! I am here. Talk, I am listening my children, I am here. Your seat is at the table. Your name is on your place setting. Give me your “yes” and enter through the door my Son has opened for you. I love you with an everlasting love. You are mine. Chosen and cherished by me, your Heavenly Father.

3/8/2011

St. Anne

My dear people: It is I, St. Anne sending you greetings from Heaven. Here in your world you have much sadness and doubt. You lack trust in my Grandson. Try to listen to what He is saying. What is He asking of you each night? Trust in Him. Love each other. Unite yourself to the Heavenly Father. Build treasure in Heaven. If you do all of this, what has He promised you? A Kingdom you can call home. He promised you Heaven. By opening that door for you with His sacrifice on the cross at Calvary. All you have to do is accept this and enter. How do you enter? By giving God, your “Yes.” That is how. So listen to my Grandson. Really hear what He is telling you. Then you will have peace in your hearts and joy in your lives. I am blessing you with my grandmotherly blessing. I love all of you too. Just ask my Grandson for your needs. He will answer you.

3/8/2011

Jesus

My dear people, my brothers and sisters: How often I tell you, you are loved. Still you do not understand fully that love. Spend time in prayer. Ask for my graces in understanding this. I will send my graces to you. The depths of my mercy and love for you cannot be understood now. Soon you will come to understand this when you enter the Kingdom. In my Kingdom there is only love. For now pray for understanding. Trust in me. I am calling you home to my heart. I love you with an everlasting love.

3/9/2011

Jesus

My people, my brothers and sisters: This is a time to reflect on your lives. Now is the time to discern which path you are choosing today. Will you give your “yes” to Heaven, or will you stay asleep in your faith? If you choose to give me your “yes”, now is the time to renew yourself in my graces and mercy. Take this Lenten season to reflect on my sacrifice for you. What price did I pay to open the door for your eternity in the Kingdom? What price are you willing to pay to enter that door? By price I mean, what sacrifices are you willing to make for the Kingdom prepared for you? How are you going to go about earning heavenly treasure? Will you help feed your brothers and sisters? Will you offer prayers for those who are spiritually sick? Are you willing to provide shelter to those who are homeless? These are the sacrifices I am talking about. What price is too high for someone's soul? The answer is in my passion.

3/10/2011

Jesus

My brothers and sisters: To learn love you have to place yourself last. Put others needs ahead of your own. Take care of your siblings first. Make sure their needs are met. Then go and seek what you need. Is that not what a parent does for its child? A parent does this out of love; you too must do this to love. Again I tell you, to learn love you must put yourself last. Joyfully attend to the needs of others. Rejoice. What you do for each other you have done for me. My Father will reward you. This is the treasure you must seek. That treasure will be love. I am blessing your efforts in this.

3/10/2011

Conversation with Jesus

My Lord, I offer you my suffering tonight. What I have to offer you seems so small. So insignificant compared to your Passion. I ask to join my suffering to yours. I wish to unite myself completely to you. I ask for nothing except to offer this to my brothers and sisters. I ask for your infinite mercy for all of us. Lord please wake up all of our hearts, especially when we wish to complain and talk poorly of each other. Please help us to have the grace of silence. Let us see each other as you see us: Beautiful flowers in your garden. When we become upset give us the grace to forgive so we do not carry anger in our hearts. When we become lost on our journey, Lord, send us angels to lighten the right path. Then give us the grace to walk in the right direction when we see the path.

My daughter you only need to ask. My heart is a heart of mercy. I give my heart to you. Opened for this world. Stay close to my heart and you will be on the right path. I suffered out of love for you. I willingly laid down my life. No one took my life. No, I chose to give my life in exchange for your freedom: to open the gate to my Kingdom. Just as no suffering is too much, also no suffering is too small when offered with love. When you offer me the least little thing but have much love and trust my heart is opened for that favor.

My Lord, I judge. I long not to, but I still find myself judging others. I want so much to have a heart like yours: full of love and kindness. I wish to feel compassion and understanding, instead of superiority and ignorance.

My daughter, do not judge. For the measure you are judging others, will be the measure I use for you. Compassion comes from love and concern. Listen to your siblings before you form an opinion. Kindness comes from a desire to serve others. I came into this world to serve. If you wish to lead then you must first serve. When you serve you discover what the needs of your siblings are. Then you will develop compassion for those needs. Give your heart to me. I will send you graces. My yoke is easy and my burden is light. Come to me and I will give you rest. Be at peace. I am blessing your efforts. A heart will change when you have the desire to change and learn love. Be patient. Love is patient.

3/11/2011

Jesus

Come to me you who are heavy burdened and I will give you rest. It is I your Lord sending you comfort tonight. Your hearts are heavy burdened. Give them to me. My mercy is endless for this generation. My heart is opened to you. Come into the chambers of my heart and seek comfort. I will give you comfort. I have not abandoned you. No, I am with you always. You are troubled because you have not chosen your path. You lack trust in me. You have little faith because you are asleep. Now is the time to arise from your slumber and look around. Where is your treasure? Scattered about. Falling into ruins. I have told you the treasure you have stored up will not last. It will rot and decay. That is why it is so important for you to give your "yes" today. Empty yourselves so I can fill your heart with good things like honesty, humility and love of neighbor. Those are the treasures I wish to fill in your heart. I will give you the graces to start anew. These treasures will not rust or decay. They cannot be taken from you. A kingdom is built on the love of its people. It grows as its people grow. Honesty nourishes it. When you have an honest heart, the things of this world will not deceive you. I love you. Come to me and I will nourish you. I am the Bread of Life, a shepherd calling its sheep.

3/12/2011

God the Father

Part 1

My dear people: It is I your Lord. To understand love you must first learn what love is. Love is putting others needs ahead of your own. Love is sharing your banquet with others. Love is always taking the last seat at a table. Love is offering yourself for the sake of others. Love is patient. Love is kindness. Love is never jealous or hurtful. You must freely give your love and it will come back to you. Practice loving each other, this is what I have commanded you to do. First love your Father with all your heart. Then love your brothers and sisters. Therein lies your treasure. When you love you will begin living your Heaven here on earth. I am blessing you tonight.

3/13/2011

God the Father

Part 2

My dear children: I come tonight to talk again about love. A child can never hear too often, "I love you" by their parent. Well, I am your Father. I wish to tell you that you are loved by me. I created you out of love. I am love. Your value cannot be measured except to say, I sent my only Son into this world so you could once again enter the Kingdom I created for you: your eternal home. Yes I created this because of my love for my children. Do I guide you throughout your time on earth? Yes! That is why I created angels: Your heavenly companions to guide you during your time here. I am merciful. I am also justice. A good parent teaches their child values. With love and discipline. Again, I am your Father and I teach you lessons to guide you. Trust in my justice. I seek only what is best for your soul. My mercy is what I have for my children. I am patient. Understand that you are loved beyond measure. Chosen and cherished by all of Heaven: your eternal home, with your eternal family. I love you.

3/14/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear little ones: It is I, your Mother reaching out to you tonight. I am calling on you to take this time and renew yourselves with the Father through my Son. He is the way. Look to his teachings while he walked the earth. What did He preach about? Love! Compassion! Forgiveness! Look to my Son, He is still guiding your hearts with lessons on love. Pray that you may understand and keep the two commandments he preached: To love the Father above all and to love your neighbor as yourself. My children: Who is your neighbor? It is everyone. You are all children of the Father. You are all siblings, part of a heavenly family. Help each other. Practice love. Keep prayer in your families so you can pass this down through all generations. I love you tenderly. I am sending you motherly blessings. Remember I am praying for each and every one of my children. Pray for each other. May you have peace in your families and may that peace extend throughout your world.

3/14/11

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Tonight I ask you to look around at your current path. Where are you? Look around at your homes and families. Look at your work. That is where you are at, on your path. What you surround yourself with. This is where your heart lays. So I ask you again. Look around and discern in your heart: Is this where you wish to be? Are you living the will of the Father? Are you taking care of your fellow siblings? Are you practicing love? Charity? Forgiveness? Patience? Or are you staying stagnant for fear of changing? Have you become so comfortable that you wish to not rock the boat? Look around. Are you asleep? Pray for my graces to help you see where you are. Give your “yes” to God each day. Stay close to my heart and rely on me for guidance. Then you will be assured of where you are at: on the road to Heaven. I love you and I am blessing your efforts tonight.

3/15/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Tonight I ask you to contemplate My Passion. To understand love you must remember what was sacrificed for you. I laid down my life for you. Do not let those just be words to you! Do not just say, “He laid down his life for me” and pass over the words like wind. No, walk through the words in your soul. Sit with me. Let me enter your soul. When you contemplate this then you will start to understand the depth of love I have for you. How important your soul is. What a price I paid for your freedom: The true weight (value) of your soul. When I suffered out of love for you, my mother was present to comfort me. Be present to comfort each other. Start loving each other as I have loved you. Be willing to make sacrifices for each other. No matter how small they may be. Their value is immeasurable when given out of love. How do you measure the value on someone's smile? Or the peace they have when they retire for the night? How do you measure comfort? It is immeasurable. That is how you begin to grow. My brothers and sisters: Wake up and look around. I guarantee there will be opportunities to aid your family here. Just be silent and listen. I tell you, put yourself last, put others first and listen. What you do for the least of My Father's children, you do for me. Yes, the brother who suffered much for love of you. Learn to love. That is the path that will take you to Heaven. I love you. I am blessing your efforts tonight. My peace be with you.

3/16/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Look to my hands, feet and side. There you will find my love for you. I am the unblemished Lamb slain for this world. But where are my brothers and sisters? Where are you? That is the question I wish for you to ponder tonight. Enter into My Passion. Take that walk with me. Remember the price I paid to redeem your soul. Pray! My mercy is for now. It is wide open to all who come and seek shelter in my heart. Do not look at yourself and think I am not worthy. No, there is nothing you have done that I will not forgive in an instant. My mercy for this generation is an endless ocean of graces being poured out for you. I still ask of you to again ask yourself, where are you? Then come to me and I will renew your soul. This journey is difficult, but I will assist you. You are not alone on this journey. Remember your angels; they are there to guide you. I love you. Trust in me. Trust in my mercy. Trust in my love for you.

3/17/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Practice charity. Begin to build your treasure in Heaven. Where your heart lies there also does your treasure. Practice charity. I am sending you my blessings tonight. My mercy is open to you. Ask for graces. My peace is with you.

3/18/2011

God the Father

My dear children: Return your hearts to me. I am your Father. I am your Creator. Give me your “yes” tonight. Do not let barriers separate you from Me. Remove all obstacles from your life. Do not let your things take over your heart. They will not bring you happiness. True happiness comes from me. I am love. That is what I created you from. My love. Come back to me, my lost children, you are loved.

3/19/2011

Jesus

My peace I give to you brothers and sisters. Unite yourselves to my heart tonight. Give me your “yes”. Each night I will ask for you to give me your “yes”. Every moment you have a choice. Many obstacles will come before you, and you must surrender yourself to me. Give me your “yes” in every present moment and I will bless your efforts. I am sending graces to you. Look into your heart, this is where I will dwell. Unite your hearts to mine pierced for you. I am the way. You cannot enter the Kingdom on your own. You must enter through me. I am truth. Trust in my words. Stay close to my heart and you will not be far from the path to Heaven. Brothers and sisters, you are so loved. Listen to those words. Repeat them to yourself every day. If you knew how loved you are then you would not want to risk wandering away from my heart. Turn away from anything that leads you astray. When you struggle look to me for mercy. I am an endless ocean of mercy. My heart is full of tenderness for this generation. Take these words into your heart tonight. You are cherished by all of Heaven. I am blessing you tonight.

3/19/2011

Blessed Mother

Dear children: I place each of my children in the mantle of my protection and motherly love. I am interceding for you before the throne of my Son. This is a time of God's mercy for you. Return to love. Turn away from sin. Focus on the path that leads you to my Son. Pray! Pray for graces to help you with this. Offer up sacrifices for your brothers and sisters. The more you pray for each other the more love will reign in your hearts. The more love you have, the more my Son will dwell in you. Open your hearts today. Empty yourselves, so my Son can fill your souls with good things like patience, kindness, charity and love. These are the treasures that your soul is seeking. When you enter Heaven you will be so happy. You will be so glad you chose the path of love. Listen to your mother who loves you. I gave my "yes" to the Father. This was a difficult journey for me. My "yes" cost me my Son. But my "yes" also opened the doors of Heaven through my Son's "yes" to His Father. A yes can be difficult, however the Father turns all tears into joys. Much greatness comes from suffering. I love you and I am encouraging you to give your "yes" to Heaven. Pray the prayer that the Father has given you. Many blessings will come from those words prayed with a loving heart. Remember I am praying for you my dear little ones. You are not alone on this journey. I love you. I am praying for you.

3/20/2011

Jesus

My people, my brothers and sisters: Yet again I come with much love. Listen to the words I am giving you. There are many things that are being said in your world. So much of what is being said is not truth. These words are not coming from love; they are hidden by much evil. I am truth. Look around you. What do you see: suffering, loneliness, children lost, mesmerized by the deceptions of this thing or that thing. You must remove all the obstacles that you are surrounding yourself with. Turn off whatever is keeping you from my heart. Turn your eyes toward me. I am the way, the truth, and the light. This is the path you must take for salvation: The road that leads to my heart, my mercy. Pick up your cross and follow me. Will this be easy? No! But I am here with my graces pouring out to you. Ask and you will receive. Give your "yes" tonight.

Trust in my love for you. Trust that if you choose Heaven you will be happy. Your crosses will become a joy for you. You will understand how every trial is an opportunity to earn grace and thus earn treasure. My treasure will not decay. I love you. I am sending you my priestly blessings tonight.

3/21/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Pray that you become holy, just as the Father is holy. Holiness is what you should be striving for. What is holiness? Holiness is uniting your self completely with the Father. Holiness is a virtue that comes from love. Practicing virtues is what yields holiness, honesty, charity, and Love of neighbor. Do you see the connection? Are you beginning to understand? All that I am asking of you comes down to two simple commands. Love and unite yourself to the Creator (Your Father) and love your brothers and sisters unconditionally. (Just as you would yourself.) All of the messages can be summed up in these two commands. If you truly followed this then you would be holy. You would have joy and peace in your heart. You would trust in the Father's providence for you. That is what I am teaching you. Listen to this and take these words into your heart tonight. I am blessing you. I love you. Give your solemn yes to the Father tonight. Everything will flow from that yes. My peace is with you.

3/22/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Pray with a trusting heart. The Father hears all of your prayers. Nothing goes unnoticed by the Father. All in Heaven hears even the smallest cry. Much love is being given to this world. What are needed are sacrifices, given freely to the Father. What kind of sacrifices? Put others ahead of yourself. Listening more and talking less; giving without the anticipation of receiving. All of this should be done with much love for each other. You should expect nothing in return. Then my Father who sees all will reward your efforts. Man has yet to understand the way of God. Our ways are not your ways. We create out of love. You create to destroy. When you start to love and see each other as brothers and sisters you will stop wanting to destroy. Instead you will want to take care of what has been given to you. I love you. Trust my words. You are loved. Look around, are you ready to deny yourselves, pick up your crosses and come follow me? This is the time to answer yes. You will not be alone in this endeavor. No, you are not orphans, you are beloved children of the Creator: Chosen and cherished, each unique in the garden of life. Where your place is waiting for your arrival. My peace, I give to you tonight.

3/23/2011

Jesus

My peace I give to you tonight my dear brothers and sisters. I long to teach you about understanding: What it takes to have understanding of your brothers and sisters needs. First you must remove all anger and hatred from your heart. Ask me to replace that anger with graces of love. I will soften your hard heart. Begin to remove the obstacles in your vision. (The plank of wood you have in your eye that is preventing you from seeing your brother and sister.) You still see them as strangers, strangers needing things from you, inconveniences. You are still looking at them with a magnifying glass. Ready to defend and protect your treasure. (Your earthly treasure that you are hoarding.) This treasure I have told you will rot and decay right before your eyes. Soon it will be no more. What then? How will a pile of rubble serve you? No, instead start to change your view. Begin to have understanding of your fellow siblings. They are here to learn just as you are. They are on a path also, just as you are. They are lost, just as you are. That is why I am asking you to look around. Start to seek out your brothers and sisters. Offer them your patience. Offer them a meal. Offer them understanding. This is how you begin to build up treasure in Heaven. What greater treasure is there than my Father's children that He created out of love? This treasure will grow and flourish before your eyes: A heart that knows love. A heart that understands love. A heart united to me. Trust that I will assist you with my graces. I love you. Look at the sacrifice I was willing to make for your salvation. What are you being asked to give? What do your siblings need? I tell you nothing is more important than the treasure of your siblings here on earth. Take comfort in each other. What you give you will receive. Also, the measure in which you judge will be the measure you are judged by. So stop judging each other. Instead learn to become compassionate instead. Pray for the gift of compassion. Ask and you will receive. I love you and I am sending my blessings to you tonight.

3/24/2011

God the Father

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Father. Tonight I wish to teach you about love. I filled this world with love. Look around. A mother loves her child. Children love their parents. A husband loves his wife. A father loves his lost sheep. But you keep that love in your own tight circle. When someone walks by, you have no love for that person. If they call out for help, their cries go unheard by men. Sometimes my children are homeless. Sometimes they are dirty. They are lost and confused. But still they are my children. I love each of them. You look at them as unworthy of your time. You see their sins. You look as if you have no sins. You are no better than the Pharisees. They judged and placed themselves above their brothers and sisters. You are doing the same. You are deciding which sin is greater. I tell you all sin wounds your soul. I am the judge. I will judge according to the measure you are judging each other! What can change this broken world? Love. I sent my only Son to teach love. He pleased me very much. Why? He loved his brothers and sisters. He offered prayer and sacrifices for you. That is why I gave him the Kingdom to rule forever. He rules with love and mercy. This generation must learn love before justice descends down upon it. Start to love.

3/25/2011

Jesus

My brothers and sisters: I come to teach about faith. Faith is like a tree in the garden. When a person has strong faith their tree will shelter them from any storm. Their tree will not be affected when there is a drought. However a weak faith is like a small tree. This tree has potential to grow if nourished properly from prayers, sacrifices and graces. If the tree remains small then it will not be able to protect you during a storm. This tree will fade away during a drought. God is the gardener in this garden. He nourishes his children's trees with living water. Faith is a gift from the Father. Gifts can be placed on a closet shelf and forgotten about. When trials come where will your faith be? Place your faith in the center of your heart. Come to the table and receive the Bread of Life. I will give you everlasting food. Give your yes tonight. This will be the first step on your path to strong faith. Do not hide your light. Let it shine for all the world to see. Then everyone will see your joy and wish to join you on your road. Whoever leads a little one to my mercy will receive mercy when I come as the just judge. You will receive the merciful Savior instead. Grow a strong tree of faith. Trust. I am sending you graces to water your tree. I am blessing you tonight.

3/26/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Contemplate your love for your brothers and sisters. What obstacles do you have in your heart that is keeping you from seeing everyone through the eyes of love. All of you are my Father's children. My Father loves all equally. Do you remember that you are chosen and cherished by my Father? Well, so is the person standing next to you. Look into your heart and contemplate what obstacles are there. Then come to me and ask for graces to overcome those obstacles. Ask and you shall receive. I love you and I am blessing you tonight.

3/26/2011

St. Paul

Beloved: It is I, St. Paul. I come tonight to tell you how important it is to listen to the words being given to you. How foolish a person can be when they think they do not need to call on the mercy of the risen Lord. Christ died on the cross for our salvation. He freely gave His life and took it up again. Opening the door to our salvation. Give your “yes” to Him tonight. Do not be afraid that you are too lost. I was also lost and now I am in Heaven. There is complete joy here. Pray for the graces to follow the path to Heaven. Heaven is opened for all of God's children. All that is needed is a desire for Heaven. Give the risen Christ your “yes” tonight. Graces will be sent to aid you on this journey. I am praying for all of you tonight.

3/27/2011

St. Paul

Beloved: It is I, St. Paul coming to speak to you about your walk with Christ. Each child is expected to join the Father at His table of plenty. All are called. Where will you be? To attend this banquet you must first arrive at the feast. Jesus is the sacrifice prepared for your salvation. He not only opened the gate to Heaven. He is the Bread of Life. To come to this understanding you must walk that journey with him each day. This walk is a walk of faith. When you walk with trust and love in your heart then your journey will be filled with joy. You will arrive at your destination quickly. To walk through this land without Christ will only lead you to much division and darkness. You will be lost and wandering in your own desert. Instead I urge you to walk in the light of Christ. Then you will not be lost on your way to the banquet that the Father has prepared for all his children. Praise be to Jesus Christ.

3/27/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: I call on you tonight to serve each other with compassion and love. Have understanding and kindness towards each other. This is the direction I am giving you tonight on your road to my heart. (My heart that has been pierced for you.) I love you with an everlasting love. Just as the Father loves each of you with an everlasting love. I am blessing you on your journey tonight. Give me your “yes” tonight as you accept this task.

3/28/2011

St. Michael

It is I, St Michael sending greetings from Heaven. I've come to sound a trumpet in your hearts tonight. It is time to arise from your slumber and take guard of your soul. Do not leave your house abandoned so that anyone can enter and take from you what is rightfully yours. Call on us your Heavenly guides to help you in this battle. We are here to assist you. Continue to pray and offer your trials to the Father to bless. Seek His Son, your Savior, in all your daily tasks. Come to the table and receive the Bread of Life. This will be your armor. Strengthen yourselves and ask the mother of God for her intercession of prayers. Win over your brothers and sisters with much love and courage. The victory will be your seat at the feast prepared for you. And joining along side of you will be the brothers and sisters who hearts you won for God.

3/29/2011

Jesus

Come to the table. It is I your Lord. Calling to you. Listen to my voice. I am the Good Shepherd calling my lost sheep. I will seek you out even to the ends of the earth. That is how loved you are by me. No one should be lost from my heart. No, My heart has been pierced for all. Listen to my words. I would seek you out to the ends of the world. That is how important and loved you are. Heaven is your home. You have a seat at the banquet prepared for you. Return to my heart. Put away all obstacles keeping you from me. Fear not, for I have mercy for this world. There is nothing so great a sin that my love cannot conquer. Trust in this. I conquered death for your salvation. I am the Bread of Life. Come to me.

3/30/2011

Jesus

Be not afraid. It is I your Lord. Tell me about your fears. Open your heart to me. Tell me what is troubling you. I come with much love. I am pouring out my mercy and graces to this world. Dear brothers and sisters you are so loved by all of Heaven. Be not troubled tonight. Take comfort in my heart opened for you. My Father hears all of His children's prayers. The Father hears even the smallest cry. How loved are you? So loved that the Father sent me into your world to bring you home. All of my sufferings were offered out of love for you. So again I say fear not. I am with you. Place your trust in me. Give your "yes" to Heaven. This is where you belong. This is your true home. Spend your time learning love. Practice charity towards your brothers and sisters. Practice patience in your own daily trials. These trials will lead to graces. Suffering with love yields much. Look at the rose. Many thorns cover the branch and yet a beautiful flower emerges. The fragrance rises up to Heaven and pleases the Father. Your patience and acceptance of the sufferings and trials in your life also pleases the Father. All of your tears here will be no more when you are home in Heaven. You truly are beautiful flowers in the heavenly garden, each unique and cherished. Remember how loved you are and extend that love to your brother and sister tonight. I am blessing you with my priestly blessing. Go and take care of each other. I am with you.

3/30/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: I am offering my prayers to the Father on your behalf. (I see our Lady at the throne of Heaven praying before God the Father, her Son, and the Holy Spirit.)
How special you are to me my dear little ones. This journey is difficult. There are many thorns along the path. However, you are not alone. I am taking your prayers and turning your thorns into rose petals that I bring to the Father. (I see her on a dirt road. She is picking up thorns. As we pray, the thorns turn into petals, which she places in her apron. She is collecting them to show and offer them to God.) Your efforts are like a beautiful fragrance rising up to Heaven. Ask my Son for graces to endure what lies ahead for you. He is your merciful Savior and your just King. But, he is also your brother who loves you, just as all of Heaven has much love and hope for all of God's children here. You are loved. Know this.

3/31/2011

God the Father

It is I, your Heavenly Father. My Kingdom I created for you. Where are my children who I created this for? Lurking behind. My Kingdom is a choice you have to make. This requires your "yes". I created you with free will. That is correct: You can choose eternity in my Kingdom or you can choose to have your place setting removed. I am love. I am your Father. A parent always wants to have their children home. If a child were lost wouldn't that parent go to any means possible to find their child? I am your Father. I am seeking my lost children. This choice is yours. I love you with an everlasting love.

4/1/2011

Blessed Mother

Faith is a journey of trusting in the Lord. My dearest children: as you walk along your paths, stop and look at where you are. Who is walking next to you? Who is near you? These are the brothers and sisters that the Father has placed in your life. They are a part of your journey: your walk in faith. Share this time with those brothers and sisters. Put away your differences. Start to heal old wounds. The journey you are taking now will continue on in Heaven. Only in Heaven you will have complete joy and understanding. You will see the beauty in everyone. So take this time and realize now that you are walking through God's garden. Stop and take in the beauty of each other. Appreciate what everyone is carrying as they take each step. We are here praying for you. Your angels are close at hand. Ready to assist you at a moments notice. My Son is sending many graces to you tonight. I am praying in particular that you will grow in faith. I love you my dear children. I am with you tonight.

4/2/2011

Blessed Mother

My beautiful children: How cherished you are in God's garden. Each of you is a treasured flower. Your prayers and efforts rise to Heaven with a beautiful fragrance of the love with which you prayed from your heart. In the Father's Kingdom we are all praying for you. You are not alone in your quest. Look to my Son. He is the key that unlocks your salvation. Come to him to receive the Bread of Life. You need to nourish yourselves. This journey will be long and difficult at times. Turn to my Son for strength. He is the life giving bread. There is no battle you cannot win with the help of my Son. I am praying for you my children.

4/3/2011

Jesus

Lamb of God you take away the sins of the world have mercy on us.
Lamb of God you take away the sins of the world have mercy on us.
Lamb of God you take way the sins of the world grant us peace.

My peace I give to you brothers and sisters. I am the Lamb slain for her children. Tonight I wish to teach you about charity. I want you to look around at where you are at this present moment. How are you treating those around you? (Your fellow siblings.) When they anger you, are you quick to forgive as I have instructed you, or are you holding anger in your heart? A grudge? Anger does not come from me. I am love. If you are having anger in your heart towards your sibling, practice listening. Much misunderstanding comes from a lack of willingness to listen to others needs. Then reach deep in your soul. Remember how loved you are by me. Know that I also love this sibling. Forgive them. I will forgive you. Charity comes from a forgiving merciful heart. Next, offer them your friendship. Your time is a valuable offering. Time is charity when shared with loving kindness. Treat others as you wish to be treated. Keep a watch over your tongue. Use your words for acts of kindness. Never utter malice or falsehood about anyone. Just as words can lift the spirit, they can crush it also. Practice charity towards everyone you meet. Your efforts will be rewarded. I hold you dearly in my heart when you are charitable to any of my Father's children. The more you are merciful the more mercy you will receive. Then you will be moving forward on the path to the Kingdom. I am blessing your efforts. I love you. My peace I give you.

4/4/2011

Jesus

Heavenly Father I give you my "yes" today.

Brothers and sisters: Your yes is important. You are uniting yourselves to the will of my Father. You are uniting yourselves to me. I am in the Father and the Father is in me. Give us your yes tonight. Accept whatever crosses you are baring. Ask for the graces to bare these trials patiently and with much love. When you approach a trial with love and acceptance. The load will become more bearable. You need to ask for the grace of patience. Every cross will yield you much fruit if you surrender that cross to me. Again,

I ask you to give your yes to us. You will not be led astray. I am truth. I am the Good Shepherd who laid down His life for His sheep. You are mine. You are my sheep. No brother or sister should be lost to my heart. Remember I will seek you out even to the ends of this world. That is how loved you are. Do not be deceived by the things or promises of this world. There is much hatred and illness lurking about. Do not let yourself be fooled by the easy paths being offered. Instead unite yourself to me. Stay close to my heart. I am the path to salvation. Come and follow me. I will give you the graces needed to enter the Kingdom. I opened the door for you. You just need to enter. The quickest way is to enter through the chambers of my heart. I love you and you are mine. Come and see I have a place for you at the banquet table. Do not turn away from what is yours. (I see the lord raising his hand toward Heaven and the other hand is pointing to a pile of rubble heaped on the floor in ashes. The pile is items from earth that we placed in our hearts instead of God. These are the items we made our god .)

4/5/2011

God the Father

My dear children: How hard your road is at times. There is nothing that happens to you that I do not see. I love you so very much. I created this world as a school of love for you. My Son is your teacher. What were His words when He walked this world? Love, Forgiveness, Honesty, Forbearance, Understanding! Much was taught. So few listen. How many turn away from my heart when the journey gets difficult? Do not be afraid. I have much compassion for my children. Look to My Son. Unite yourself to His Passion. That day, while extremely difficult, opened the door to Heaven and My heart. Heaven is a place I created out of love for my children. Only love can enter. Remove hatred from your hearts. Say yes to this path leading you to your true home. Do not look back at your past mistakes. Just offer me those sorrows. Be contrite and I will forgive. The only time you have is the present moment, nothing else. I have not yet given you tomorrow. So place your present moment in my fatherly arms. Give me everything. I will bless your efforts and we will reign in your heart. I am your Father. I created you out of nothing. And yet I created you with love. You were in my heart from the beginning. I created messengers to assist you during your journey. I sent my only Son to lead you to me. Come to My heart. I love you and you are mine. You belong to me.

4/6/2011

Jesus

My brothers and sisters: Tonight I come to teach you about loving from a trusting heart. A heart that trusts in me pleases me very much. Never fear coming to me with your troubles or concerns. I am listening with a loving heart. Never fear coming to me when you have sinned. Thinking that your offense will be so wounding to me that I could not possibly forgive you. No my dear brothers and sisters, quite the contrary, you are more in need of my mercy. I tell you this world has more access to my merciful heart. I have opened the floodgates of my mercy. All you need to do is believe in what I am telling you. Trust in me your merciful Savior. Look to My cross. Is that not a brother who loves you? If I was willing to lay down my life for you then surely I will forgive you of your mistakes. Yes I am offended when you choose to have a hardened heart, towards your siblings. That is why I came into this world: To light the way. I am the light. Come to me and I will give you the graces to change. I will help you grow in faith and love. I will nourish your soul with my body, for I am the Bread of Everlasting Life. I am the true bread that came down from Heaven to bring you salvation. Do not be afraid to come to me, I will comfort your wounded hearts. Remember I am love and mercy. I am the Good Shepherd. Fear not. Choose the path that leads to my heart. Give your yes to me. Heaven celebrates the return of a lost child. There is no child that should be lost. My Father loves all of His children. How close you are to our heart. How dearly you are loved. You are so precious. Remember the value of your soul. I know your value. I was that ransom. My life paid the price for yours. Nothing you have done will ever stop me from loving you or seeking you out. Even to the ends of this world. Come to me and fear not. I love you. You belong to Heaven. This is your home. Never forget, you have a seat at the banquet, a seat that has been purchased for you. You are the invited guest. Even more than that, you are family. I am blessing you with my priestly blessings. Have peace in your hearts tonight. Open your heart to me and I will dwell in there.

4/7/2011

Jesus

My brothers and sisters: Heaven can be compared to a rose plant. The rose starts out as a branch with thorns. The branch is your faith. The thorns are trials you endure along the way. When you nourish your faith the rose's branches grow strong and large. How do you nourish your faith? Simply come to the table and receive my body. I am the Life Giving Bread. Follow what I have been teaching you. Love your brothers and sisters. Give your yes to the Father. Begin to build a treasure that will not rust or decay, one that cannot be taken from you. This is how you begin to build faith. Then trust in your God with all your heart. Offer everything to me and I will give you the graces necessary to succeed. After much love you will be rewarded with the most amazing flower. Heaven is that rose: So beautiful and fragrant. A rose is a treasure to behold. Heaven is your reward for growing so strong on your journey. You are all so beautiful. God is the gardener. Yes, He will prune away at the dead branches. Yes, the weeds will be removed too. So carefully will He take care of each of His precious flowers. Completely trust in the Father. Unite yourself to my Passion. Place yourself in the chambers of my heart. I love you. I am blessing your efforts tonight. My peace I give to you.

4/7/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: I am placing each of you my little ones in the mantle of my motherly protection. Pray from your hearts. Offer everything to my Son. Offer Him your trials, your difficulties and your joys. Unite yourself to Him completely. The closer you place yourself to my Son's heart; the straighter you will remain on the path to Heaven. Give me your prayers and sacrifices. I will place them in my arms and present them to the Father. I am offering Him all the sacrifices and prayers of each of my children. Even the tiniest sacrifice or good deed done from the heart is great in the Father's eyes. Your world deserves justice. I am pleading for the continued mercy of my only Son. I intercede night and day before the throne of Heaven. But, I need the prayers of my children. Pray from the heart with love. Practice loving each other, kindness and charity from the heart. Prayers and fasting can truly end wars. You must begin to pray and fast. Trust in the graces my Son is sending. Use these graces wisely. Love always. Be quick to forgive. I am sending you my motherly blessings. I love each of you, my dear little ones. Remember I am your mother. I am praying for you. Do not forget to call on your angels for help. They are here to assist you. You are never alone. You are very much loved and wanted.

Jesus

My dear brothers and sisters: Heaven can be compared to a man setting out on a great journey. He begins by preparing for his trip. He studies his road map. Prepares his car. Looking inside to make sure everything is clean and running correctly. He fixes any problems he finds. He packs his essentials and he is ready to start. Once he is on the road he has no idea what awaits him. He may run into problems, or the trip may go smoothly. Your journey to Heaven is much the same. Do you not study your faith? Are you looking into your soul for areas that need to be tended to? Are you packing your graces and treasures, your good deeds to bring with you? You also do not know what lies ahead for you each day. Some days are smooth while others have difficulties. Remember my dear brothers and sisters you are here on a journey home. This is not your home but rather a learning time filled with my grace. You are not alone. You have all of Heaven praying for you. Your angel is your passenger guiding you. Reading your maps. You have choices all during this trip. Will you stay straight or will you stop along the way and get lost? If you do or if you are, fear not. I will seek you out. Simply call on me. Ask your angel to guide you back on the correct road. Unite yourself to the chambers of my heart. The closer you are to my heart, the more direct you will be on the path. You will not stop traveling until you reach Heaven. This is your home where you will have eternal joy and happiness. I am blessing your efforts. Say yes to this journey and trust in my providence for you. You will never be abandoned from my heart. No matter what you think or have been told. I am mercy. I have love for this generation. I have compassion for all of My Father's children. If I did not, would I have sacrificed my life for you? No, I laid down my life freely. No one took it from me. I gave it freely out of love. That is how loved you are. When you are lost call out my name. I will hear you. I am sending many graces to this world. These graces are for you. My mercy is for you. You are loved and you belong here in Heaven. You belong to the Father's heart. He created you out of love. Return love. You will do this by giving your yes to the Father. That is giving yes to His will. Remember you are truly precious in the eyes of the Father. My peace I give to you.

Blessed Mother

My dear children: How much a mother loves her children. Each child is so special to her heart. No child is alike. Each child has a different personality, different gifts and abilities. Does a mother love her children differently because they have different traits? No, a mother loves her children equally. She will sacrifice for all of her children. I am your mother. I love all of my children. You are all important to me. I place all of my little ones in the mantle of my protection. Pray from your hearts. Pray very hard trying not to become distracted. Keep your heart centered on my Son. He is calling His sheep. Listen to Him. He is the Good Shepherd. You are so loved by all of Heaven. I am praying for you tonight. I love you my dear little ones. I pray you keep straight on your path.

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Heaven can be compared to a farmer planting a harvest. He begins by first preparing the soil. He removes all obstacles and debris from the land. He then plans which crops he will plant. Much care is taken to prepare the soil before he places a single seed in the ground. Once planted he watches his crops emerge from the ground. Taking great precautions to ensure their health. Again, much care is taken to make sure pests do not eat the plants before they produce fruit. Finally the time comes to harvest. With hard work and grace a large yield will be his reward. That is how you are to care for your spiritual life: your soul. Much effort needs to be placed on your growth. What will be your reward: Heaven. Your banquet is awaiting you. Just like the farmer who will harvest what he sowed, I will come and bring each of my brothers and sisters home to the Father. If you only knew how important your "yes" was. Unite yourself to my heart. Give your "yes" to Heaven. Begin to plan out your path. Tend to your soul. I am blessing your efforts.

4/10/2011

God the Father

My dear children it is I your Father. I am coming to you tonight to talk about love. Love comes from the desire to give. I created you out of my desire to have a family. You are my family. You are each my children. A parent chooses to have life because they love their future children. This is my plan from the beginning. When I created this world out of nothingness, I created it for you. You were always in my heart. I knew each of you by name. I carved you out of the palm of my hand. I breathed life into you and that is how you came into existence. You were created out of love from my heart. I wish for you to now take this love and offer it to each other. Return love for love. Come to me. I am love. Again I ask you this same question. Why are you building so many castles? Why are you trying to fill yourselves with things? My love is the only thing that your soul needs. My love is all that you long for. Give me your "yes". That is what I am asking for. I love you and you are mine. You belong to me. I created Heaven for you to have as your eternal home. I created earth for you to learn love. I gave you each other to love. I created angels to help guide you on your journey. I am your Father. I created all of this for you. Why? Because you are more precious to me than you can understand. You are mine. I love you so much that I also gave you my only Son. He offered His life in exchange for your sins. He opened the door for you. And I accepted this out of love and a desire to have my children home with me. You are loved. I love you. You are not abandoned or orphaned. You are dearly loved by me, your Father.

4/11/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: You are such beautiful flowers in God's garden: So special and unique. If only you could see yourself the way Heaven sees you. How does a parent see their children: Through the eyes of love. When they talk about them their faces light up. They see all the wonderful traits in them. Yes, sometimes children disappoint their parents, even causing them to worry. Yet they still see all the goodness. They see joy in each child. A parent does not focus solely on the poor qualities, the negative. No, they encourage their child. They offer support and love. I am no different. I love each of you my dear sweet children. I see you with the eyes of love; through Heaven's eyes. I am here to offer you encouragement. I know there are trials in each of your lives. Yes, difficulties lie ahead for each of you. But do not fear such events. You are not alone. I am always praying and interceding for each of my children. Truly you are loved. You have a special place in all of our hearts. Never forget that you are called to be great saints in Heaven. You are chosen and cherished by the Father. You are here because the Father loves you and created you from that love. Give your "yes" to the Father's plan. Listen to my Son. He offered His life for you. He is the Good Shepherd calling each of you His sheep. Do not be troubled tonight. Keep your eyes turned towards Heaven. Trust that the Father is hearing all of the prayers of His children. I am praying for you tonight.

May my Son bless you and keep you close to His heart. Unite yourself to Him. This is where you belong. I love you and I am praying for this.

4/11/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Tonight I wish to remind you of the importance of giving me your “Yes”. This is how you begin your journey. Any task you wish to achieve must begin with a firm commitment. You must give it your “Yes” or you will never complete what you started. Giving your “Yes” means you are committing yourself to the journey. When you give a firm “Yes”, you will not begin to sway at the first sign of difficulty. You will keep persevering. You will continue to look ahead and stay firm in your commitment. When you finally reach your destination you will look back and be joyful about your decision. What seemed so difficult now will seem less so in hindsight. That is why I desire for you to give your “yes” today. You must give your “Yes” with love. Open your hearts so I can dwell there. I will fill you with the graces necessary to accomplish your journey. You will have many crosses to bear. But the more you bear them with patience and offer them to me, with love, the easier the crosses will become for you. When you love from the heart you can endure much more than you realize. How much did I endure out of love for you? Trust in Me. Trust in what I am telling you. I promise to send you graces. Just ask. Come to Me. Place your concerns in my hands. I will give you comfort. Remember Heaven is your home. Seek the treasure that does not rot or decay: The one that cannot be taken from you. You are loved by me. Know this. I am sending you my blessings on your journey tonight. My peace I give to you, my brothers and sisters.

4/12/2011

God the Father

My dear children: It is I, your Father. I wish to express my sincere love for my children. This generation is not lost to me. No, you are very much in my heart. I know you are troubled. There is much sorrow and difficulty. You have free will. You can choose to give me your “Yes” or you can choose to say “No”. My heart will always be for you to say “Yes”. I wish for you to freely want this. What I have for you, I created out of love. My children, listen to my heart. How much you are loved. Take comfort in this. Your many trials are brought on by your hard hearts, your difficulty in seeing past your own pride. How many times have you fallen for the illusions, set out to trap you, because you feel a sense of entitlement, rather than humbling yourselves and seeking the treasures of Heaven instead? How many times have you put yourself ahead of your brother, even when he had the rightful place? You still placed yourself ahead. Come back to me. Stop where you are at right now and look up. Close your eyes and call my name. I am listening. Some trials are placed in your path to help you grow. Other trials you have created for yourself. Remove the clutter from your hearts tonight. Start anew. I am your loving Father. I am merciful. I am also just. I will judge you by the measure you are judging others. So instead of looking at what everyone else is doing and trying to compare, look up. Close your eyes and call out to me. Reflect on your choices. Be contrite for your mistakes and I will forgive. Be joyful when you choose the treasures of Heaven. Your reward will be great. I am a giving Father ready to reward those children who seek the right path. Follow the guidelines you have been given. Love your Father with all your heart and love the brothers and sisters I have given you. Look to my Son for an example of this love. Begin to practice charity. This is the virtue I wish for you to work on. Then practice honesty starting with yourself. Then move out from there. When you live an honest life, a life for others, you will be joyful. You will have a full cup, ready to overflow. You will already be living your, "Heaven on Earth." I am blessing you tonight.

4/13/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: Come to your Mother and offer me your prayers and sacrifices to bring to my Son. I will unite myself to all your efforts. A mother's heart is unchanging when it comes to her children. Even when children make poor choices a mother's love does not change. She merely unites herself to that child, trying her best to intercede and help him or her make better choices in the future. It is not for a parent to judge their child's actions. That is for God alone. No, instead a parent takes all of this into their heart and prays to God for mercy. That is what I am doing for you my dear little ones, praying to my Son for his continued mercy on your world. I unite my prayers to yours and offer them, to my Son.

4/13/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Come to the table set out before you. Here you will find the Bread of Life. Here you will drink from the Cup of Salvation. My mercy is for you. Do not be afraid to come to me tonight, for I will give you peace. I will lead you to the chambers of my heart. Unite yourself to my sacred heart pierced for you. It is through my heart that you will enter the Kingdom prepared for you. I am the way. You must come through me. Ask for My graces in this. Again I tell you I have much love and mercy for you, my brothers and sisters. My peace I give to you.

4/14/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children. Pray from your heart.

4/15/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters do not be troubled tonight. I came into this world to bring you salvation. I am the resurrection. I am the Bread of Life. Hear my voice calling out to my sheep. I am the way. Come and follow me. Do not be afraid. Take comfort. You are loved. I am your merciful Savior.

4/15/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: Pray from your hearts. Pray without ceasing. The more you pray the more you will be filled with joy. Soon you will be celebrating the resurrection of my Son. Remember how truly loved you are by Him. He freely laid down His life for you. He said, "Yes" to His Father's will. You are being asked to also say, "Yes" to the Father's will. Say yes from your hearts. I am praying for you. Always remember that you are loved and wanted by all of Heaven. Your prayers are being taken to Heaven. I am your mother and I am always interceding for you my dear children. You are special to my heart. I am placing you special in the mantle of my motherly love tonight. May my Son bless you and your "Yes" to the Father's plan.

4/16/2011

Jesus

My brothers and sisters: Carefully ponder what I am telling you. The weight of your sins I carried with me to Calvary. Each transgression was a thorn I bore for you. Every time you utter my name do you think of the price I paid for your salvation? Do you speak my name with love or do you have no thought at all, merely letting your tongue run unguarded. When will you wake up and realize how special you are to me, how dearly you are loved. When I speak your name, tears of patience roll down my cheek, patience for your return, giving your "yes" to the path that leads to my heart. How wounded I wait for you. Yet I am merciful. I am patient. I am love. I freely gave my life for you. You have the freedom to say "Yes" to my heart or turn away. The decision is yours. Ponder in the depths of your soul how loved you are by me. Then say my name with love from your heart. I am love.

4/17/2011

God the Father

My dear people: It is I, your Father. I come tonight to talk to you about forgiveness. Forgiveness comes from the heart. It is an act of love. I love. That is why I so freely forgive. But you my dear children do not practice forgiveness. Instead you hold onto your anger. You begin to have hard hearts. Then you are not able to see your brothers and sisters as family. They become strangers. Love comes from forgiveness. To seek forgiveness I ask that you begin by forgiving your brother or sister that you have a difficulty with. Immediately forgive that sibling. Open your heart to them. Then come to me. I will bless your efforts. I will also forgive easily all your transgressions. Remember, you also walk a difficult road not unlike the sibling that you are having a hard heart about. To begin to learn love, my children, you must begin by learning forgiveness. Then you will have removed the hatred from your hearts and I can fill your heart with graces. Love will begin to fill your heart and overflow. This is how peace will return to your world. Let your hearts overflow with love for your siblings, then you would not be so quick to judge or offend them. They would also not wish to offend a brother so loving and willing to forgive. Sound familiar! My Son is your brother who loved you so freely. He was quick to forgive your transgressions. Even when those offenses occurred during His Passion, He laid bare on a cross and was pleading with Me for forgiveness of you His brothers and sisters. What was the outcome of such an act of love: Paradise, your entry to the Kingdom created for you! He opened the door to my heart. Begin to forgive one another. That is what I am asking of my children tonight. I am blessing you my children. Return to my heart. Give me your "Yes" in this request. I love you and you belong to me.

4/17/2011

Blessed Mother

My children: Listen to your Heavenly Father. Begin to love. Pray to the Father. Ask for His help, with this request. When you begin to pray from your heart, you will begin to grow in love. Love the Father with all your heart. Practice loving each other just as my Son loved you so much. Hatred will only end when you replace that hatred with love. Begin from the heart. I am praying for you my dear children. You are very much loved by me. So special you are to my heart. Look to my Son if you get lost along the way. There is no greater love than to lay down your life for another. He laid down His life for all of you. That is how loved you are. Now go and love each other. I am praying to my Son to send you graces tonight, in particular for this virtue. May my Son and all of Heaven bless you!

4/18/2011

St. Paul

Beloved: It is I, St. Paul coming to talk to you about repentance. This is a time of grace for your world. This is a time to reflect where you are. Jesus Christ is the living bread sent from Heaven, born into your world, nailed to a cross by mankind and freely did all of this so you could enter the Kingdom of Heaven. Now is the time to reflect on where you are at this moment. If you are living a sinful life repent to the Lord for He is merciful. If you are living and doing wrong by your brother, repent because that brother is just as much a child of God as you are. If you are speaking falsely or with a hurtful tongue, repent; your tongue should be used for the praises of your King. So much has been given to you. Such a price was paid for you, by a King you hardly know. Now is the time to change this. Return to your Savior. It is not too late. Your generation is in a time of the Lord's mercy. Envelope yourself in this grace. May the almighty Son of God bless you tonight.

4/18/2011

St. Anne

My dear children: So much for you to ponder these days. My Grandson is looking for your trust and your "yes". All of Heaven is praying for you to return to God. This is your path. This is the road to salvation. My Grandson, He is the way, the truth and the life. Now go and follow Him. He will lead you to the Father's heart where you belong. I am praying for you.

4/18/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear little ones: Let peace reign in your hearts tonight. Again I am interceding for you. How loved you are. Know this.

4/19/2011

St. Michael

It is I, St. Michael, sounding a trumpet in the hearts of all mankind. Arise from your slumber. The hour is now to lift your hearts to the King. Turn away from all evil-doing and return to a life of holy virtues. Ready your soul and keep a watch always. Do not be left outside in the dark. Keep close to the road before you: the road that has been marked with the slain Lamb's blood. Pick up your crosses and follow the Lamb of God who takes away your sins. The hour is at hand and do not delay. Call on us your guardians for assistance. You are the children of God. Place the Kingdom prepared for you in your hearts. Your seat has been purchased, by the Lamb that was slain. Do not look away at what was given to you so freely. Free to you, yes; but at what cost to your Father? At what cost, to our Queen? At what cost, to your Brother? Are you ready to stand up and turn away from what is keeping you from saying “Yes” tonight. All of Heaven is watching and waiting for your decision. Prayers are being offered on your behalf. Understand that you are loved. Understand that you are also being led astray by the evil one lurking behind every thought, word and deed that is done with a hard heart. Do not be led astray by his illusions. Nourish yourselves with the Bread of Life. Come to the table. Unite yourself to your King and Savior. He is the truth. He is your salvation. I wish you peace on your quest tonight.

4/20/2011

Jesus

Hear the words of your Lord: Love one another, practice kindness, be charitable, do not give false testimony against your neighbor, do not slander, do not commit any falsehoods, and treat others as you wish to be treated. This is what I ask of you tonight. This is the commandment I give. Love one another as I have loved you. Peace will reign in your hearts when you allow Me to enter in. Remove the hatred that you are harboring now. Begin anew. I will send you the graces necessary for all of this. You merely need to ask. I love you. Give your “Yes” tonight. My Kingdom is yours. Begin by giving your “Yes”. Whoever believes in me will have eternal life, for I am your Lord.

4/21/2011

Jesus

Lamb of God you take away the sins of the world have mercy on us.

Brothers and sisters: Celebrate the feast that has been prepared for you. This is my body offered to you. I loved you so much that I freely laid down my life for you. No one took it from me. No, I placed myself before My Father as an offering for you, dear brothers and sisters. What you have been given came from the very depths of my heart. Rejoice, for what was once dead has come back to life. Come to the table and eat of my body, drink of my blood. My body is the Bread of Life. My cup is the blood, shed for your salvation. Do this in remembrance of me: your Brother who loves you from the very depths of my being, I am your King, I am your Shepherd, I am your Bread from Heaven, and I am your friend. Do not fear coming to me tonight. Enter into the very chambers of your salvation. The hour is at hand. I have come to make all things new. I am the merciful Savior, present from the beginning. You are always in my heart. Do not turn away from what is rightfully yours. No, tonight give Heaven your “Yes”. I am offering you eternal life, I’m offering you a seat at the table. A place reserved for you. My Kingdom is calling all of her lost sheep home. (Everyone in Heaven is ardently praying for us). Unite yourself to my passion. There you will find strength in your time of sorrow and loneliness. There you will feel my love pouring out for this world. How loved you are my brothers and sisters. Know this in your heart. Be happy for your seat at the banquet has been purchased with the blood of the Lamb, slain for your transgressions. Sealed with my blood. I have come and taken away the sins of this world. I have mercy for My Father's children. I am blessing you tonight. My peace I give to you.

4/22/2011

Jesus

Good Friday

Dear brothers and sisters. Tonight you enter into the remembrance of my Passion. My love poured out for all of mankind. When you look at my wounds do not fear coming to me. Yes, your sins pounded those very nails into my flesh. Your pride pressed those thorns into my scalp. And your lust led to my scourging. Yes, I suffered greatly for you. Not once taking my eyes off what lie ahead of me. I picked up my cross and bore the transgressions of all mankind. I carried them along a road littered with illness, sadness, and anger of my brothers and sisters: My lost sheep of Israel. I loved you every moment and every step I took. So do not fear coming to me tonight. What I did, I did out of pure love for you. This is what love is all about; freely denying oneself for the sake of another. There were many difficulties on my road to Calvary. Much like your own roads you are taking tonight, I understand your pain. I understand your weakness. That is why I came into this world. To be united with you. To offer myself as a ransom for your sins. I came to heal mankind of its sins. The blind could see. The lame could walk and the deaf heard. You are never lost from my heart. It is your choices that separate us. I am always here loving you, waiting for you to come back to my heart. Have peace, I am the lamb slain for her people. Soon we will celebrate my return: When all the hearts of men will be laid bare before Me. Be glad for the Kingdom prepared for you is here. I am the resurrection. I am the Bread of Life. Come follow me and you will have peace. You will have eternal happiness. I am blessing you.

4/23/2011

St. Paul

Dear brothers and sisters: I have come to share the "Good News" of Jesus Christ. He was, is and always shall be King and Savior to us all. My peace to you. Let us learn from the gift of our Lord's Passion. He truly loved us with His whole being. He made us children of His Father and sons and daughters of His mother. All we have, He has given us. Let us rejoice in such a giving King. The gates have been opened and the Kingdom is waiting for our arrival. Now is the time to come to the table and share in its feast. My prayers and greetings are with you. May the almighty living God bless each one of you tonight. The Lamb of God has taken away the sins of the world let us rest in His peace.

4/23/2011

St. Anne

My dearest children, it is I, St. Anne: My prayers and love are with you tonight. All of Heaven rejoices with you. Celebrate the love my Grandson has shown to His people. He is the Good Shepherd. He keeps watch over His sheep. Yes, now is a time of rejoicing. I love you and again my prayers are with you tonight.

4/23/2011

St. Michael

Greetings, it is I, St. Michael sounding trumpets of gladness. The King of salvation has won the Kingdom for His people. The Master has bared everything and now the cup of salvation is full, ready to be poured out upon the whole of mankind. Let your hearts be lifted up to Heaven and the sounds of trumpets echo in your soul.

4/24/2011

God the Father

Dear children. It is I, your Father who comes to you tonight with open arms. Ready to embrace my children. So much I have created for your happiness. Look around did I not give all of this to you? Did I not create the air you are breathing or the water that sustains you? Did I not create the very earth you walk on? I even created the food you eat, but my greatest creation was you: My children. My greatest mercy was sending my only Son into your world. I sent Him to redeem you. I sent Him to bring you salvation. That is how much I love you. That is how merciful my heart is for my children. Come tonight and lift your hearts to me. Give me your "Yes" and I will fill you with peace. Place me first in your hearts. Nothing should come before me in your hearts. You are mine, are you not? You belong to me. What I have given to you, I have given out of love. It is your love that I wish for in return. I have given you the freedom to say yes to your Father or turn away from all that is yours. My desire is that you will freely give your "Yes" to me. This is what I am asking of you, my children. To return to my heart and rid yourselves of the things that lead you so far from me. What will you lose, leaving behind those things that really cost you your precious time, instead return to my heart. Spend your time on the things that bring you eternal happiness. I will bless you and you will have treasure in Heaven.

4/25/2011

God the Father

My dear people it is I, your Father. Tonight I wish to teach you about grace: My grace. My grace comes from the center of my heart. I send it to you and it touches your very soul, the soul I breathed life into. My grace helps navigate you through your time here. It is your compass steering you. My love is why you exist. My grace is what helps you take each step. My arms are full of graces to be sent to you. How do you receive these graces? Ask! My children ask your Father! Ask me for everything! I have told you repeatedly nothing goes unnoticed by me, nor can you stay hidden from my heart either. My heart is where you belong. My mercy is the very well you need to draw near. Give me your yes and I will fill your soul with grace. I will fill your soul with love. I will give you my mercy. How can I so easily forgive? Because, I love so easily. So much have I given to my children, even my only Son. How many times would you sacrifice for your own child? How many times would you show your child mercy? If your child needed help would you not give it? Again, do you not try to guide your own children's lives? When they are lost do you set out to find them? All of this I have done for you. You have the freedom to choose your path. Set the course for my heart. I love you with an everlasting love. I carved you from the palm of my hand. My child you are loved. Never did I leave you orphaned. My blessings I give to you. Yes, you belong to me.

4/26/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Tonight I give you my mercy. Tonight I unite myself to all of my brothers and sisters. Look into the chambers of my sacred heart. What do you see: a heart that is pierced open for you. Your name is carved in my heart. My blood poured out for mankind. Yes, but it also poured out for you personally. Do you not understand that I love you each in a special way? You are so important to me. You are loved and don't realize to what extent this love is. It is not trickled from my heart but poured out. My mercy is infinite. My love is infinite. I am patient. I am mercy. I am love. I am the resurrection. I am your salvation. Pick up your cross and follow me. How, by trusting, that I will provide the graces necessary for you to follow. The path to my heart is straight. It is the devil that puts obstacles in your path. The obstacles look so enticing. They seem to be a relief from your suffering. Yet when you taste of its fruit, it is bitter with remorse. Instead hold fast to the path to my heart. Offer everything to me. Stay close to my heart and you will stay straight on the road before you. My brothers and sisters, I cannot stress enough the importance of giving your yes. I have said, I will continue to ask for your yes every moment. You are uniting yourself to the will of the Father and His plan of salvation. You are saying yes to my merciful heart. Heaven is yours, freely given to you. All you have to do is say yes and set forth on the road. My love will sustain any difficulties you encounter. All you need to do is trust in my forgiveness. Trust in my mercy. Trust in my love. Say, "Jesus I trust in you." Repeat that to yourself until it is ingrained into your heart. My brothers and sisters, I am blessing you tonight. My peace I give to you.

4/27/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother sending you warm greetings from Heaven. My dear little ones: How loved you are. Continue to offer me your prayers and sacrifices. You are such beautiful flowers and your prayers are beautiful petals that I bring to my Son. He in turn showers you with graces. So much good comes from even the tiniest sacrifice when given from a heart full of love. Tonight my dears focus your attention on putting God the Father first in your hearts, joined with my Son. Then place your thoughts towards your brothers and sisters that need your love and prayers. That is how you become holy. My Son already knows what your needs are. Trust in him. Put away your concerns for yourself and place others ahead in your heart. Then you will grow in love. You will emulate my Son. You will be giving your “yes” to him. I am interceding for you always.

4/27/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Do you understand how the smallest sacrifice will grow and bloom in your heart? So many great things start out as tiny prayers: Just a whisper heard by the Father. His heart is moved by the sincerity of this small prayer. He blesses it and sends graces to help this person become holy. A great saint is born out of such a tiny prayer. Never underestimate the love Heaven has for her children. Or the power a simple “yes” to God has. You are all called to be saints. How do you accomplish this: by whispering your yes, then trusting with your whole heart. Allowing the Father to enter your soul and fill you with grace. Come to me and I will give you the Bread of Life. We are all one body. We are all one family united by our love. This is what Heaven is. It is your eternal home. I love you and I am sending you blessings. May your hearts burst open with love and peace, tonight.

A conversation with Jesus

My dearest savior: I open my soul to you tonight. I ask to be with you during your lonely moments in the garden. It is here where you contemplated the suffering your yes would bring to you, physically and spiritually. I would have quit, but not you. You never took your eyes away from the road even for a second. My heart aches for you. How forgotten you are. How hard is it for your family to remember your sacrifice for even a moment. Must we have hard hearts? How can we be so inconvenienced by all of this? Is that not what we are? Do I not look to see what time it is during Mass. How much longer I ponder. Can I not even bear one hour with you? Yet tonight I shed tears of regret. I cry of all my broken promises I made to you. How many times did I tell you today I will pray more. Today I will unite myself to you. Today I will love everyone more. That is until you send me someone to love, someone who is troubled, someone who curses and yells. Then I see hatred. I feel anger and indifference. Oh my Jesus, how much longer will you put up with my prideful wretchedness? I see your face and love you. Jesus I love you. Give me Your heart to love the way You love. Give me eyes to see others the way you do. Take away my pride. Remove my selfishness.

My daughter: Look into my heart. I see your efforts. I see your desire to please me. I also see your difficulties. Have I not told you to give me everything, even your sins? Keep nothing from me. There is nothing I Will not forgive. Am I not merciful to all my Father's children? Even on my cross I forgave and offered salvation to the brother hanging next to me. You are in just as much need of my mercy. You need my healing from your wounds. Place your head upon my shoulder. I bore all for you. You belong to me. Remember all are equal in my Kingdom. All are welcome in my Father's home. If it were not so I would not have said it. Believe in me. I am truth. Trust in my love. I forgive your weakness. Tonight your words are salve to my wounds. Your tears comfort my loneliness.

If only I could remain hidden deep inside your heart. If only I could dwell where I would no longer offend you.

My daughter: you please me when you care for your children, when you obey my commandments. Place yourself last and put others first. This is how you will begin to resemble me. Be slow to anger and quick to forgive. Remember not to judge. Do not become afraid. I do not place fear in the hearts of men. No, that comes from the one who fell from grace. He tries to deceive all of my Father's children. He only knows hatred and jealousy. Do not be deceived. Trust in my mercy. My heart is an ocean of mercy for this world. I will pour out graces for all mankind. Return to the ways of God and leave the ways of evil. You belong in Heaven. You belong to my Sacred Heart. My children, I suffered for all of you. There is no elect in my heart. All of you are chosen and cherished. I love you infinitely. Rest your hearts in my arms, and there you will find love. There you will find the happiness you seek. How hard you try to fill yourselves with things that only bring you, short lived pleasure. Yet I offer you true happiness. Open your hearts to me. I am your salvation. My peace I place in your hearts tonight.

God the Father

Open your hearts to me tonight. It is I your Heavenly Father. Tonight I wish to talk about my mercy. My mercy is endless. So is my love for my children. I sent my only Son into the world I created, to help My children come back to their Father. Some have chosen the path home. Others start out on the right path and turn back when the road becomes difficult. Still others change course almost as soon as they get started. And some, they do not know there is a path. My children if you only knew how loved you are. How I created all of this with you in my heart. (My Son) He gave His "yes" freely and without regard to His own personal comfort. He gave from His heart. He gave everything. In turn, I have given Him everything. If you wish to become holy follow My Son. When you give freely without concern to what you will get, my heart is filled with joy. My child understands love. My mercy is my love. The more you love the more willing you are to forgive. When you come to me and are truly sorry for your mistakes, my heart is softened and I forgive. I give my graces to that soul, so they can overcome their mistakes in the future. This is how a parent looks to guide their children. Not with anger or harsh words, but with love and comforting words of acceptance, for their child's attempts. When a child shows effort, how can a parent get angry? I too look at the efforts of my children. I look into your hearts. I look for your "yes" in each moment. In every step you take. I am not angry. No, I love. Only love emanates from me. I am justice and I am mercy. Yes, that is how a parent needs to be so their children can be truly happy. But first and foremost I am love. Never be afraid to come to your Heavenly Father. I see your concerns. I hear your worries. Come to me and I will give you comfort. I will send graces to help guide you. My child you are never away from my heart. I know the very number of hairs on your head. Nothing is hidden from me. I love you with an everlasting love. I send you my blessings and peace tonight.

Blessed Mother

My dear little children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother sending you warm greetings. You are so special to my heart. Truly you are loved by all of Heaven. Listen to my plea to you. Begin to pray from your hearts. Return to prayer as a family. When my Son returns as the center of your family, you will have happiness and joy again. You will live a life of peace. Graces will envelope your lives. Bring yourselves back to the Father. Make this your choice. Give your "Yes" freely. When you begin to pray as a family your children will learn about the Father from you. They will learn about my Son's love and compassion for His brothers and sisters. Read the bible to your children nightly. Much can be learned, by following the examples of my Son. I want your lives to be filled with joy again my children. So much sadness is in your hearts. You lack trust in my Son, you lack faith in your relationship with the Father. You doubt where your home is (Where you belong.) I am your mother. I assure you Heaven is real. It is your true home where you belong. My Son paid the price for you. He did this solely out of love for you. Do not turn your backs on such love. There is nothing in your world worth risking your eternal reward for. Begin tonight by giving your "Yes" to God. Return to a life of prayer. Return to the Sacraments to give you strength. This is a long road. But you never journey it alone. My Son is always at your side. Your angels are carrying the light to guide your path. I am interceding with my prayers before the throne of God for you my children. But all of this can only be done with your “yes”. The decision is truly yours. I love you, know this, I am folding you in my mantle of motherly love tonight. You are so dear to my motherly heart. My heart too was pierced for you. I accepted this sword out of love for my children. You may feel lost in this journey but know that you are never lost to my heart. I bless your decisions and I am praying earnestly for you tonight.

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: It is I your Lord. I am Divine Mercy. Come tonight and envelope yourselves into the depths of my mercy. My mercy is an ocean of graces pouring out to all who come to me, with child like trust. I forgive everything that you need to tell me. I see your contrite hearts. Look to my hands pierced for you. Look at my feet, they walked a lonely hard road for you. Look at my head, I wore a crown of thorns for you. Look at My flesh, torn open for you. And look into my divine heart, pierced open so the floodgates of my merciful blood could be poured out for you. Brothers and sisters: If you do not believe in what I am telling you, look at what I offered for you. My love has no conditions. My heart has mercy for my people. Come instead tonight and nestle yourself in my bosom of love. Place yourself deep within the chambers of the very heart I unite myself with you tonight. Do not be afraid. No matter how dark your sins may be, I will forgive. No matter how torn and tattered your garments are I will make them new: I am your King, I am the king of salvation, brought down to your world to free you from the bondage of sin. Call out to me. I will hear you. Whisper your troubles. I will give you grace. Come to Me tonight and give me your “Yes” and I will give you freedom. I love you with an everlasting love.

5/2/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: I am the Lamb who takes away the sins of my people. Do not be afraid to seek comfort in my merciful heart tonight. My heart is open to you. Brothers and sisters, it is you who turn away from my mercy. Do you really believe that your sins are too great that I could not possibly forgive? I tell you, there is not a sin that I will not forgive. If you have sinned a thousand times then I will forgive you a thousand times. There is nothing you can do to remove my mercy from you except refusing to trust in My love and forgiveness. Have I not loved you since the beginning? Did I not bare everything for my people? I came into your world to teach you love and forgiveness. I came to show you the way. Today you are so lost from my heart. You choose the things of this world instead of dwelling within me. Come to me my child and I will give you rest. As I have told you, my yolk is easy and My burden is light.

5/3/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Open your hearts to me tonight. If you want to enter the Kingdom you need to trust in me like a child. Children trust that their parents will care for them. When a child asks his mother for some food, they know she will give them food. They trust completely. They do not hesitate for a second wondering if their mother or father will give them what they ask for. The only time a parent refuses their child is when, what they ask for is unsafe or harmful to their child. That is why I tell you, “ask and you shall receive, seek and you shall find, knock and I will open the door. Whatever you ask for, I will grant if your request is within my will for you. My brothers and sisters, you need to have child like trust. Trust me with everything. Do not fear coming to me. I already know what is in your heart. Come to me and trust. When you pray, pray from your heart. Do not just pray with your lips. No, look inside your heart. Quiet yourself. Then unite yourself to me. I am here. I will listen. Then tell me your desires. Place your trust that I will give you what is necessary to help you grow in love. Have patience while you carry your crosses. Your cross is what will help you grow in faith. Ask only for the graces to carry your cross. If you wish to follow me you must pick up your cross. I know a cross can be difficult to bear. When you are troubled, call out to me. I will assist you with graces. I tell you all of this because, my desire, is for your salvation. I love you. Give your “yes” to me and I will bless your efforts.

5/3/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear little ones. I am praying for you tonight. I hold each of you dearly to my heart. Do not be troubled. I am your mother and I love you. Give your “Yes” to my Son. Trust in Him and begin to pray from your hearts. Dear children, I love you and I am placing my mantel around you tonight.

5/4/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: It is I, your heavenly mother. Come to my Son and be changed forever. This is the day to turn a new page in your life. Begin to trust my Son with everything. Start to offer Him all of your trials and successes. He will bless your efforts. If you want to grow in holiness follow my Son. He is the way. Remember that His path will lead you to Heaven. That is where his road to Calvary leads, to your eternal salvation. Your opened gate to paradise. His Kingdom. Heaven. Your true home. I love you dear children. I am interceding for each of you to my Son.

5/5/2011

God the Father

My children it is I your Heavenly Father. Come and share in the feast.

The bread you eat was offered for you.

The wine you drink is the blood for your salvation.

Rejoice.

What you receive was freely given to you.

Enter the Kingdom that was prepared for you through My Son.

5/6/2011

God the Father

My children: It is I, your Heavenly Father. Listen carefully to what I am telling you. Go out look around. Where is your mercy? Why do my children continue to go hungry, when so many of my children are wasting the blessings they have? What is more important? The things you are surrounding yourselves with or your brothers and sisters. What you do for the least of my children you have done for me. I will reward you. What will your reward be? You will begin to grow in love. Joy will fill your heart. You will begin to understand the value of each of my children. Where your treasure is there is where your heart also is. My children where is your treasure? What have you surrounded yourselves with? How many things will you continue to get before you have happiness? I have told you happiness does not lie in things. If you want joy then begin to take care of your brothers and sisters. What you give to my children with love I see. Set your heart on a path towards Heaven. Along this road I will place people in your lives. This is to learn love. Not every person will be joyful. Love them any way. What sacrifice is there in loving someone, who is your friend? I ask you to love my children who are not your friends. When you fill your hearts with joy, you will be joyful. Place me first in your heart. Spread your love to everyone. Give without seeking a reward. I will reward you. I am sending you graces to aid your hearts. I love you.

5/7/2011

Jesus

Dear brothers and sisters: Look into the chambers of my heart. Reflect on what you see: My love and mercy for you. Now I ask you to look into the chambers of your own hearts. What do you see? Do you see love and mercy for your brothers and sisters? Do you see kindness offered? Do you see forgiveness given? If you do not see these virtues then neither do I. What good will it do you, to gain the whole world and lose your eternal reward. When you come before me at your judgment how will you explain the lack of kindness and love you showed the very people I placed in your life. Every person you meet is an opportunity for you, to grow in love.

A person becomes a saint by learning to love. These brothers and sisters (the saints) followed my example and put their brothers and sisters ahead of themselves. They offered their things and replaced them with virtues. They looked inside themselves and pursued the path that brought them to my heart. Was their journey easy: No! Much suffering occurred. They were not sad. No! They were filled with joy. Why? Because they saw the happiness when their siblings changed their course and began to journey with them towards Heaven. They trusted in my providence. I tell you each of you are called to be saints. Just look inside your own hearts. What have you placed first in your life? What have you placed second? Stop where you are. Pick up your cross and come follow me. I love you. I am sending you graces so you can see your heart. Just ask me. I will reveal your difficulties. How much your lives would change if you start loving everyone you encounter. Pray. I hear your prayers. You are in my merciful heart. Offer me your “yes” in this task. I am blessing your efforts.

5/8/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother. My dear children: How much I wish for you to know you are loved and wanted. What a price my Son paid for your coming home. That is how wanted you are. So dearly He holds you in His heart. My children why do you turn away from such love? So often you place meaningless things in the way of your heart. You let so many distractions eat away at your precious time. Soon your day is over and you neglected your prayer life. Everything came ahead of your Lord. How easy it is for you to forget what sacrifices have been made for you. Please listen to your Mother. Begin each day with your “Yes” to my Son and your God. When you place Him first your day will be blessed. You will begin to focus on the path that lies ahead of you each day. Ask my Son for the graces to obtain all the virtues throughout your day. Offer Him all of your trials and joys. I am placing all of you in my immaculate heart tonight. I love you my dear little ones. Seek Heaven with your whole hearts. Place God first in your hearts and begin each day with my Son. How quickly you will grow in love and faith. I love you and I am interceding for each of you.

5/9/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children. Learn the lessons you have been given. Take each lesson to your heart. Start to practice the virtues. Then you will grow in holiness. You will be happy. Let love reign in your heart. Give your “yes” to God. Everything will fall in place from there. I am sending you my motherly blessings. I love you my dear little ones.

5/10/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: When you unite yourself to my Sacred Merciful Heart you unite yourself to my cross. My mercy is for all of God's children. Spread that message. Everyone is entitled to my mercy. This generation is in need of my graces and mercy. Come to me and I will make you new. If only you realized how loved you are. If you could understand the depth of that love you would carry your cross with joy in your heart. You would see the battle and know that triumph was yours. No more would you shed tears. Only love and joy would be your garments. Start living your Heaven today. Begin first by giving your "yes". Then turn to your brothers and sisters and love them. Look tenderly at them and have compassion in your hearts. These very brothers and sisters are the ones who will teach you mercy. They will teach you patience and forgiveness. You just have to open your heart and begin to see them as your brothers and sisters. My brothers and sisters: Do not hide your faith. Uncover your faith and trust so the world can see your light. Just as your guardian angels light your road, you must light the road for your brothers and sisters. No one should be lost to my heart. I love you and I am giving you my priestly blessings tonight. My peace I give you.

5/11/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: Come to me with your prayers and I will offer them to my Son. I will place them in my mantel of love. In return I will send you my motherly blessings. I will intercede for each of you before the throne of God. My dear children I love you. Return to a life of prayer. Place God first in your hearts. Then you will be happy.

5/11/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: How often you come before me and yet your hearts are far away. You pray with empty words. Focus on where you are. You are far from me because you have chosen to place things ahead of me. You have made gods out of your things. You have become weak in your prayers and weak in your faith. How will you stand when temptation strikes at your heels? So easily you will fall. Instead place me first in your heart. When you wake up start your day with me in your heart. Keep your heart and mind united to me throughout the day. When difficulties or temptations arise ask for my intercession. I will give you the graces necessary to help you grow from your difficult situation. Rely on me for everything. Then you will stay close to me. Do not wander away from my heart. You belong to me and I love you. Give me your "Yes" in every moment. I am blessing you. May peace reign in your hearts and families tonight.

5/12/2011

St. Therese (the little flower)

Dear Children of God. It is I, St. Therese of Liseux. If you want to become holy, be little children of the Father. Trust God with all your heart. When I was small I offered everything to God. Even the smallest tasks can be pleasing when you remember to offer it to God. Give Him everything. I promised to spend my time here in Heaven praying for you. I send you my prayers tonight. I wish to tell you how beautiful Heaven is. So much love and joy. You can feel yourself bursting with happiness. I love you children of God. Pray very hard while you are here. Then you will be joyful. I love you.

5/13/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters come to me and I will give you rest. I am the Lamb slain for her people. Do not fear coming to me and confiding in me. I am Mercy. I hear all of your worries and concerns. Nothing eludes my heart, especially when you unite yourself to me. I love you. Take refuge in my Sacred Heart pierced open for you. When you enter into the chambers of my heart you unite yourself to my Passion. You unite yourself to your salvation. Heaven was created for your happiness rejoice in this. What was once lost has been found. Give your yes to Heaven. That is your eternal reward. I am blessing you tonight.

5/13/11

Blessed Mother

My dear children: How I love you. I am always ready to intercede on your behalf. I cannot tell you enough to begin to pray from your heart. Return again to prayer in your families. Let your homes be a light for others who are in the dark. Pray for all children to be united to the Father. How happy Heaven rejoices when a lost child returns home. My children I love you. Take shelter in my immaculate heart. You are loved.

5/14/2011

Jesus

Dear brothers and sisters: Listen to this story:

There was a young man traveling a long distance. He stopped after some time and took out his map. He was planning the rest of his journey. He realized he was hungry and located a diner along the route. As he entered the diner, he was accosted. Two large men robbed him and beat him. The waitress called for help and they beat her and robbed the diner. When the police arrived they helped the man and his waitress. Before long the two men were apprehended up the road. Who in this story deserves my mercy? I tell you I love each of them equally. Each child

I hold dearly in my heart. Do not be so eager to throw away your brothers and sisters even when they harm you. I alone will judge their actions. Nothing goes unseen by me. Remember my justice is my mercy. When they are in prison, who will visit them? Do they not deserve the same love? How easy is it to love those who love you back? Love my children who are difficult to love. Many graces can be given through such love.

5/15/2011

Jesus

My brothers and sisters: I am the Good Shepherd. I know my sheep and my sheep know me. Listen. Look into your heart. I am calling out to you. As I have said no one should be lost to my heart. Yet so many distractions in your world keep you from me. You have let things enter your heart ahead of me. Do not fear. I am all love. I am all mercy. I have forgiveness for you. Now is the hour to stop where you are at and give me your yes. Put aside all distractions and let me again reign in your hearts. I will fill you with peace. I will send you graces. I am the light. Do not entertain in the dark. Only evil will come from this. Rather keep yourself in the light, away from all darkness, where what you do can be seen by all. There you will find favor with God. Your efforts to live a holy life will be rewarded. I love you and I am sending my peace to you tonight. Be a light for the entire world to see. Then your brothers and sisters will find their way. What joy you will have when you share a seat at the banquet with those very same brothers and sisters that you helped. Trust in what I tell you. Your reward will be great. I am blessing your efforts tonight.

5/15/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: How much a mother loves her children. Even if that child disappoints, a mother's love will always heal and soothe her child. I am your mother. I intercede for you. So often I pray for my children to return to a life of purity, a life of prayer, a life of virtue. These are not lofty goals that cannot be reached. These are goals that merely need grace to attain. I am praying for you to receive graces from my Son for these very goals. I love you dear children. Heaven is your home. Here you will have such joy and happiness. What seems like a large sacrifice now will be a joy for you in Heaven. You would gladly sacrifice much if you could begin to understand how loved and wanted you are. You are never far from my heart or prayers. I sacrifice much for you dear children. That is how much I love each one of you. I sacrificed the life of my only Son. What greater sacrifice can a mother make? Even Abraham was spared this sacrifice. There is only love for you here. No sacrifice is too great when your eternal soul is concerned. And likewise no sacrifice is too small when made with love and a trusting faithful heart. I love you my dear little ones.

5/16/2011

Jesus

Dear brothers and sisters: How I long to teach you about my mercy. My Passion is my mercy. Each of you was in my heart when I bore that heavy cross for you. Every flesh wound carried a name: Pride, Lust, Envy, and Anger. My love for you conquered all. Even death itself I conquered. Each one of you was in my heart in every moment. How I longed to bare everything for your salvation. If only you could understand the depth of my love. You would not hesitate to trust me in every moment: Even when you take your last breath. Everything I have given for you. So do not fear coming to me. Even if your sins are many I will forgive them all. I will kiss your every tear. I am love. I am mercy. I am the gate that leads to your home. Your home, created for you. I would not tell you this if it were not so. Come to me. Place all of your fears and concerns into the chambers of my Heart. It is in these very chambers that I have carved your name. My brothers and sisters: Take what I am telling you, deep into your own heart. Begin to see anew. When you look at each other look with love. Look with compassion. Be slow to anger and quick to forgive. Keep nothing that will cost you your soul. Remove everything that causes you to sin. Empty yourselves of all evil and I will fill you with good and holy virtues. Remember everyone you meet along your road is an opportunity to learn love. They will help you grow in virtues and faith. Likewise you will be a source of light and comfort to them. I am sending you my priestly blessing. You are loved. Remember this. My peace I give to you.

5/17/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Enter into the chambers of my Heart. There you will find peace. There you will find forgiveness. There you will be comforted. In these very chambers I held each of you so dearly. You were in my heart during every step I took. It is in my Sacred Heart pierced for you that I ask you to unite yourself to me. Give me your "yes". I will heal all of your wounds. I am mercy. I am love. I will send you graces to give you virtues so that you may begin to live each day anew. You can begin to see your brothers and sisters through my eyes: the eyes of love and mercy instead of eyes of anger and jealousy. My brothers and sisters: Give me your hearts so I can change them from hearts of stone to hearts of love that cry out to their lost brothers and sisters, hearts that love everyone with tenderness. This is how you enter into my love. This is what I ask of you. To begin to love everyone you encounter. Love them unconditionally. Love them without expecting to be loved back. Then I will bless you. So many graces you will receive. How your treasure will begin to grow. You are mine. I love you. You belong to me. My peace I give to you. I am blessing you tonight.

5/17/2011

Blessed Mother

My dearest children: I love you. How much I seek for you to be happy and to have joy in your heart. You must stop looking at things to find your joy. Instead turn your hearts towards my Son. He is the way. In Him you will find everlasting life. In Him you will find everlasting joy. He is the resurrection. So much love I have for you my dear little ones. I hold each of you in my immaculate heart. Know this.

5/18/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones how special each of you is to me. You are my little flowers in God's magnificent garden. You must begin to realize you are loved. Do not turn away from such love. God created you so beautiful. It is your love in your heart that makes you this way. When you have anger and hatred in your hearts your beauty is replaced with scorn. Keep love in your heart. Then you will remain beautiful. I love you and I am blessing you with my motherly love.

5/19/2011

Jesus

My dear people: How much I love each of you. How much I bore for all of you. Know this. Everything I had I gave to you. No one took my life from me, I freely gave my life. Accept this. If you cannot accept these words then look at my wounds. So much I gave. Never once were you away from my heart. Every moment I thought of you. Return to my heart for this is where you belong. I am the Good Shepherd. I know my sheep and my sheep know me, so much I long to have every child return to my arms. To sit at the banquet prepared for them. Do not turn away from my heart. Do not be deceived by the pleasures that cause sin and destruction of your soul. Remove everything that takes you away from my heart. Then come to me. I am mercy. I will forgive. I am slow to anger and quick to forgive. That is why I tell you to not be afraid. No matter how scarlet your sins, I will forgive. I love you and you are mine. Come and dwell in the chambers of my heart. Here you will find rest. Here you will be comforted. Here will I dry all of your tears. My brothers and sisters: Know that you are loved and wanted. Know that you have a seat at the banquet in Heaven. All of this waits for your coming home. Start today by giving your "yes" to my plan. Give your "Yes" to my will in your lives. Give me your "Yes" so I can change your hearts. So much I am ready to give you. If only you would turn your eyes and hearts towards me. My heart is overflowing with graces for my Father's children. This is how loved you are. I am sending you my priestly blessings tonight. I love you with an everlasting love. My peace I give to you.

5/20/11

God the Father

My dear children: It is I your Heavenly Father. I've come to teach my children about grace. Grace is my love extending out to you to help you during difficult moments. When you are questioning whether this is a good decision for you, ask for graces to help you. I hear your prayers. They are in my heart. If what you ask leads you to my will then I send you that particular grace. That grace may be patience, enlightenment, a softened heart, wisdom or fortitude to bare your current cross. All of this comes from the same place: My fatherly heart: My love and desire for my children to live holy lives. I am your Father. Ask of me anything you wish. Do not be discouraged if I do not answer the way you had hoped for. A parent always knows what is good for their child. My goal is always the same: Your happiness. But you must understand many graces come from suffering. Look to the suffering my Son endured. Had it not been for His willingness to suffer, the gate to Heaven would have remained shut. My children you would have not realized the great value you are. How loved you are. Accept my will in your lives. My graces will be sufficient for what you are enduring. You just need to ask for my grace. When you ask for this, you are asking to be united to my heart. I love you with an everlasting love.

5/21/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: You long for happiness and joy in your hearts. Only my Son can bring true happiness and joy. Open your hearts to Him tonight. Listen to His words. He has the words of everlasting life. Is He not the Lamb slain for His children? Well you, my dear little ones, are those very children that I am referring to. How much my Son sacrificed for your happiness! Keep Him in the center of your lives. Pray often and from the heart. Read the bible nightly to your children and in your families. And remember to love and take care of each other. I love you and I am sending you blessings from Heaven. We are here praying earnestly for your conversions. How loved you are, my dear little ones. Know this.

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: I am the Lamb who takes away the sins of this world. My peace to you. Now is the time to change the path that you are on. If the road you are on leads you away from my heart then stop, before it is too late. Turn and repent. I am Divine Mercy. I will accept you lovingly in my arms. If your road is leading you towards me, but occasionally you become stuck; call out to me and I will send you graces. Now you can pick up yourself once again and come follow me. My children you are nearer to my heart than you can imagine. Everything, I have offered for you. In my Father's house there are many dwellings. If this were not true I would not say so. I am calling out to my lost sheep. Listen to my voice. Return to my heart. This is where you belong. I am in the Father and the Father is in me. Give your “Yes” tonight. My Kingdom belongs to you, my Father's children. Do not turn away and replace your everlasting reward with fleeting things from this world. I tell you what you hold in high revere will turn to dust before your very eyes. Instead fill your hearts with the things of Heaven. Do not let your hearts be led astray. Hold steadfast in your faith. Trust in my providence for you. Trust in my mercy. What I have to offer you is everlasting life. I am the Bread of Life. Whoever comes to me will never hunger or thirst again. I love you with an everlasting love. My peace I give to you. I am blessing your efforts in this.

God the Father

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Father. Tonight I wish to teach you about wisdom. Wisdom is a gift A grace that touches your heart. This grace gives you guidance during moments in your life when you need to make choices especially when justice is concerned. Come to me and ask for this grace. So often you make decisions based on inaccurate information. You rely on yourself instead of seeking guidance from your Father who sees and knows all. Who among you has the right to judge another, or pass judgment on a situation? Would you judge that person or situation with a merciful heart or would you have compassion and kindness putting the other person's situation ahead of your own. My children: Wisdom comes from the heart. Again I tell you, it is a gift that I will send to my children who ask. Then you will choose wisely with love instead of rendering a judgment with hatred. It is peace that your world needs. Begin to ask for my graces. Peace will only come to this world when you return to my heart and begin to love each other. When you give me your “yes” then I can give you the wisdom to learn love, a selfless love for each other. Return your hearts to me, then you will begin to sow peace. I love you with an everlasting love. I am blessing you my children tonight.

5/22/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones: Pray from your hearts. So loved are you by the Father, Your creator. You were truly created in His image and likeness. Each of you has the capabilities to love. You choose to place your needs ahead of your brothers and sisters. Pray for wisdom. Let the Father touch your hearts so you can begin to have hearts ready to change your world. My dear children wars will end and peace will return when you begin to learn love. Pray very hard for this. I am praying and interceding for you. Time is so short. Please do not waste the precious little time you have here. The Father is merciful. Yet he is also just.

5/23/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother. My dear children you must open your hearts so you can hear the words my Son has been giving you. His words are a road map to your home. When you follow a map you know where you are going. You will not get lost. I love you and do not want to have any of my children wandering in the desert. Do not be lost to my Son's heart. Go where my Son is leading you. He is the way. He will lead you to everlasting life. He will lead you home where you belong: In Heaven where no tears are shed, only joy and love. This is where you will have true happiness. I love you my little ones. Know this.

5/24/11

Blessed Mother

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones: Open your hearts to my Son tonight. He is the way. He is the path that will lead you to Heaven. My little ones: Make Heaven your focus. When you place God first in your hearts you will be better able to pick up your cross and follow him. You will follow him all the way home. It is in the Father and my Son that you will find true happiness and joy. I love you and I am interceding for you. Know this.

5/25/2011

Jesus

Dear brothers and sisters: Tonight I will tell you of my Mercy. It is endless for you. Just as the ticking of a clock my heart is beating out of mercy for you. All you need to do is come to me with a contrite heart and I will forgive. I will heal your soul and make you new again. How loved you are by me. Your every concern is important to me. Nothing goes unnoticed. You are the one who must choose Heaven though. A gift can only be offered. If it is forced upon, then it is not a gift. My suffering and my Passion was a gift I bestowed upon the whole of mankind. So much did I want to offer everything to my Father on your behalf? So again I tell you. You are the ones who must choose to accept this gift. Are you ready to say "yes" to me? I am the way. To enter Heaven you must come through me. My ways are not burdensome. Nor is my yoke heavy. Trust in me. Unite yourself to my heart thereby uniting you to my plan. I love you with an everlasting love. It is my peace that I offer to you. I am blessing your efforts.

5/26/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: It is I your Heavenly Mother, my dear little ones. Do not rely solely on yourselves. Call on Heaven to help you during difficult times. I love you and I wish to comfort my grieving children, in particular my children who have been lost. You must trust in my Son your Savior. He is the way. Stop whatever you are doing and ask yourself: "Is this leading me to Jesus or leading me away from Him?" If your choices are leading you away from my Son then stop what you are doing. Look to my Son for guidance in that matter. The more you begin to pray from your hearts the easier it will become for you to answer that question. When you reside in the dark it becomes difficult to discern which road you are taking. That is why I am encouraging you my children to begin to live in the light. Then you can see clearly where you are going. Know that you are loved and I am interceding on your behalves. Do not be discouraged when you struggle. Simply pray and ask for the graces to help you with your difficulty. This is a time of grace. Give your "Yes" to my Son in everything you do, so He may bless your efforts. I love you and I am sending you my motherly blessings tonight.

5/27/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: I am the Lamb slain for His people. Tonight I am going to teach you about sacrifice. When you sacrifice anything it must first start out in your heart before any action can take place. If you sacrifice without love then you are merely doing it for show. You wish for others to see you and think how great and holy you are. I tell you if you do anything without love you are doing the work of the devil. Pride has become a stumbling block for you. First look into your heart and ask yourself what is your purpose in suffering and what do you expect in return. Your sacrifice should be selfless, only looking for my reward. Seek first the Kingdom with all your heart. Then everything you do will be pleasing to me. I will bless your sacrifices. When you sacrifice do not tell your brother that you are sacrificing for them. Instead remain silent and offer me your silence. I will in return bless your efforts. Many graces can be gained when you sacrifice from your heart. Many difficulties you will encounter when you sacrifice from pride. Remember this. I love you and I am blessing you tonight.

5/28/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones: How fast your gardens grow when nourished with life giving water. The same is true with your spiritual life when you nourish yourselves with the Life giving Bread of my Son. Just as you are tending your gardens, start tending your souls. What can be more important? I love you and I am interceding for you. Know this.

5/28/2011

Jesus

My brothers and sisters: Hear what I am telling you.

Two men walk into a store. Each has a shopping list of things to buy. The first man carefully looks over his list and buys everything on it. He only purchases what is on his list. The second man also follows his list. However he notices some items on sale and purchases extra items to give to his neighbor who has fallen on hard times. Now the first man goes home and unpacks his groceries feeling good about his purchases. The second man goes first to his neighbor and gives them what he bought on sale. He then returns to his house like the first man and unpacks his items.

Which man is following my commandment? I tell you the second man. Even though his act of kindness was small he still took care of his brother. How simple it is to take care of each other. Now I ask you to go out and take care of a brother of yours. Whatsoever you do to the least of my Father's children you do for me. I love you and I am blessing your efforts in this.

5/29/2011

St. Michael

Greetings: It is I, St Michael. I come tonight once again to awaken mankind from his slumber. May you hear the trumpets in your soul. Now is the time to get up and remove all the obstacles that are blocking your path. The hearts of many have become hardened. No longer do you hear your Lord calling out to you. You have become lost in your own wilderness of hatred and scorn. You deceive even yourselves. No longer should your words be empty. Gird yourselves with the robes of repentance. Return your hearts to the Lord. He is your true King. He is the Lamb slain for the salvation of mankind. Get up and quickly turn away from the wrong choices you are making. I am here to assist you. Turn your ears away from the noise filling your soul. Instead quiet yourselves and listen once again to your Shepherd calling out to his lost sheep. So loved are you. Let God your creator and Father once again reign in your hearts. This is the day to truly start anew. For truly the Kingdom of the Lord is here. Dear children you do not realize what is at stake, your very eternity. Are you so willing to throw away what you do not know you have, for things that only bring you temporal joy? Instead open your hearts to your Father. There you will find true joy and everlasting life. I too stand before the throne of the almighty interceding for you. May the Risen King bless you and send you the graces to open your hearts once again.

5/30/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones: How easily you avoid the difficult tasks in favor of the easier option. No my little ones, do not look for the easy way out. Toiling in the dirt can lead you to learn many things you never knew about yourself. Instead of choosing the easiest task, choose the task that will lead you closer to my Son. He did not choose the easy road. His road was covered with many thorns and difficulties. Yet those thorns were attached to roses. You my dear children are roses in my heart. Choose the tasks wisely and learn about love. Then you will find happiness. Be a joy to each other. I love you and I am interceding for you.

5/31/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Tonight I wish to yet again talk about my Mercy. If you counted all the blades of grass covering your planet you would come nowhere near the vast mercy I have for you. It is infinite. That is why I tell you do not fear coming to me. Even if your sins are as many as those blades of grass I will forgive them all. You only need to ask and trust in what I am telling you. Brothers and sisters, how much mercy are you willing to give to each other? How many times will you forgive your brother or sister of their transgression: An acre's worth, or maybe only a patch of grass. So small is the mercy you carry for each other. What I am offering to you is what you should offer your siblings: unconditional love. When you begin to remove all hatred and pride from your heart then you can fill it with love and mercy. Unite yourself to my Sacred Heart. I will fill you with graces to soften your heart. So loved are you by all of Heaven. This is the very love you need to spread throughout the world. My love is infinite. So is my Mercy. This is the message I wish to be spread to the ends of the earth. All of you are equal in my heart. And likewise all of you are entitled to my Mercy. Come to me and do not be afraid. My yoke is easy and my burden is light. Did I not come into this world to save it? Did I not lay down my life for each of you? I am the Shepherd calling out to you. Listen to my voice. You belong to me. Know this. I love you with an everlasting love and I am blessing your efforts.

6/1/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones: You are so special to my immaculate heart. I place each one of you in the mantel of my motherly love. Do not be confused by the things of this world. Confusion does not come from God. Begin to pray from your heart. Listen to what my Son is telling you. He is the way. But you need to listen with your heart. It is the noise that you are surrounding yourselves with that is causing your world so much confusion. My Son's words are not confusing. No, His words are everlasting. If happiness is what you seek then you must return your hearts to Him. Give Him your "yes" in every moment. He will bless your efforts. This He has told you. I love you my dear little ones. I only wish for your happiness and peace. But I wish for true happiness: The happiness and joy that you get when you unite yourselves with your Creator. He is all love. Know this! I love you and I am interceding for you.

6/1/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: I came into this world not to condemn you, but to save you. Today that message has not changed. My love is everlasting. So is my Mercy for my people. My Father created a Kingdom for His children. In this Kingdom there are many dwellings. I would not tell you this if it were not true. Would a father create such a place if he did not intend on his children residing there. But you have turned your back and walked away. Instead of placing your Father first in your heart you have placed things. You have made gods out of your items thereby sinning against the First Commandment. You will never have happiness or peace in your world unless you change your hearts and return to a people who place their Creator first. What you think is rightfully yours will be taken from you. And what you have made your god will crumble and turn to dust before your very eyes. The choice is yours and only you can journey this road. Which way you go is truly up to you. My brothers and sisters: Hear what I am telling you. No man can serve two masters. You will love one and despise the other. Look around at what you have surrounded yourselves with. That is where your heart lies. You have already decided which master you will love. I tell you this because it is not too late to change. Now is the time to repent of your mistakes. I am merciful. Any child who comes to me with a contrite heart I will forgive. I will send that child graces to help them change. This is not an easy task. You are never alone in this. I am always with you. Even to the ends of the earth. That is how loved you are. Do not fear what I am telling you. I tell you this out of love and mercy for my brothers and sisters. I will come as the just judge. How will you be ready to face me, if I do not tell you? I will come like a thief in the night. Now is the time to prepare for my arrival. I love you with an everlasting love. I send you my blessings tonight. My peace I give to you.

6/2/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: I am the resurrection. Those who believe in me will have eternal life. Brothers and sisters: So much has been offered to you. Your very souls were saved by my sacrifice. Yet you question this very fact. You question your very existence. You exist because the Father wills it so. You are here because the Father breathed life into you. He did not bring you into existence to be slaves. No, He made you His children. He is your Father. You were created from love. This is in the depths of every child's soul. You were not created to hate. That is a lie. You have hatred in your hearts because you have placed everything ahead of your Father. You spend more time worshiping your golden calves than you do worshiping the one true God. Today you need to repent and return to me. I have such love for you. How many times will I forgive you? As long as you ask, that is how many times. Trust in my Mercy. Trust in my love for you. Look at my hands pierced for you. Did I not wear a crown of thorns for you? Did I not bear a cross for you? I laid down my life for you, my brothers and sisters. No one took it from me. I freely gave it as a ransom for your many sins. What I laid down I also took up. I am the resurrection. Whoever believes in me will have eternal life. My Father has given me His Kingdom. To enter the Kingdom you must come through me. I am the way. Give me your “yes”. I will break your hearts of stone. Give me your “yes” tonight. I am sending graces to you. Do you not know, that you are never alone. I am with you always. I love you and I am blessing you with my priestly blessings.

6/3/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Listen to what I am saying.

There were two men in a field. Each one was harvesting corn. The first man harvested his corn all day. He toiled in the earth and finished when at sunset. The second man also harvested his corn, however he offered his day to me. He too toiled until the sun set.

Both of these men did my will. Yet only the second man offered me his day. Only the second man received my blessings. How many times do you toil away at your work without offering me even a moment of your day? Yet I tell you, you are never away from my heart for even an instant. Even from my cross I loved you. Everything I have given you, yet you still forget me. Place me first. Offer me everything then I will bless your work. Unite everything to my Sacred Heart. So much love I have for you brothers and sisters. My Mercy is endless. I am with you always, even till the end of time. Keep holiness as your armor. Gird your waist with the fruits of honesty. What you robe yourself with now, will be your reward in the Kingdom. I love you with an everlasting love. My peace I give to you.

6/4/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: To learn love you must start with compassion. You need to see each other's uniqueness. I have told you stop looking for the iniquities in each other. Yes, they are there, however it is in weakness that you find opportunities to aid each other. It is in those traits that you begin to learn compassion and thus learn love. Truly I tell you to enter the Kingdom you must learn love. Everything you do must begin first in your heart. Then your actions can spread out from there. When you begin with love, your actions will yield you much fruit. Listen to this story.

A young girl is cooking with her mother. Her mother asks her to crack some eggs for the cake they are making. As the young girl begins to break the egg she thoughtfully asks her mother, "where does this egg come from". Her mother answers, "a chicken." "Where does the chicken come from". She answers, "God made the chicken." "Why did the chicken give us this egg", she asks. Her mother says, "Because with this egg we will be able to make this cake to share with our family." The daughter smiles and cracks the egg.

My children: Do you see the simplicity. Everything has been created for you with love. You do not go hungry because the Father has provided good things for His children just as this mother was for her family. Understand the more you are willing to have compassion for each other the more you will resemble me. I love you and I am blessing you tonight.

6/5/2011

God the Father

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Father. How loved you are by me. How I desire that you return to my heart. I cannot force you. It is out of my love that you have the freedom to choose. You can give me your "Yes" to Heaven or you can walk away. The choice is always yours. My desire though is for all my children to come home to me. I am love. My heart is where you belong. So much I have given to you and so much more I still wish to give. But you must accept this. How many times do you turn away from my heart? How often I long for your return. I am still patient. Each one of my children deserves my mercy. But each of my children demands my justice. My mercy is my justice. Open your hearts to what I am telling you. I love you. You are mine. You belong to me.

6/6/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: I am the Lamb slain for you. Open your hearts to me so I can fill them with good things. You hunger for salvation and do not realize that you are hungry. You have filled your hearts with things instead of allowing me to fill them with graces. Come to me and I will give you Life giving Bread. Then you will no longer hunger. Come to me and I will give you a drink from my cup of Salvation. Then you will no longer thirst for things. I am the Bread of Life. Whoever comes to me shall have eternal life. This is my gift to you. So much have I loved you, even to my death and never for a minute did you leave my mind. I am the resurrection. Whoever believes in me will have eternal life. I have given everything to the Father on your behalf. He in turn has given me His Kingdom. I am the gate in which you must enter. Do not be afraid of my words. Remember it was because I loved you that I bared everything for you. Give me your “Yes” and I will break your hearts of stone. I have made you my own. Chosen and cherished by me. My Kingdom is where my Father’s children belong. You do not belong to this world. You belong to me. I love you with an everlasting love. Know this. My peace I give to you.

6/7/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones: Your days are longer, yet you spend little time in prayer. To understand love you must begin to pray from your hearts. Open your heart to my Son so he can fill it with good things. My children you must begin abstaining from the choices that push you farther away from my Son. Instead begin to choose holy virtues that will nourish your soul. I am praying ardently for my children but I need your prayers and sacrifices. Remember even the smallest sacrifice is great when done with a loving heart. You are my dear flowers in God's garden. I place all of your prayers and sacrifices in my mantel like rose petals I give to my Son. He blesses all of your efforts. I love you my children. I hold each of you in my Immaculate Heart. Remember what a treasure you are to my Son. Begin each day with prayer and end each night the same. In that way my Son will bless everything you do and no sacrifice will go wasted. Your time here is short my children. Make good use of the time you have. I am sending you my motherly blessings. Know this.

6/8/2011

Jesus

My brothers and sisters: Listen to this story.

Two men are working in a vineyard. The first man spends his days carefully watching his grapes. He removes the weeds as soon as they appear. When the grapes are ripe he will harvest his vineyard. The second man spends his days foolishly. He neither tends the grapes nor removes the weeds. When his grapes are ready to be harvested he will not have a successful harvest.

Do not be foolish with your time here. The time will come to harvest. I warn you do not leave your soul unguarded where weeds can surround you and choke you off. I am the vine and you are the branches. Any branch that does not produce fruit will be cut off and thrown into the fire. How little regard you have for your own soul, so many graces are wasted. I did not come to condemn you but rather I came to save you. You belong to my Sacred Heart. It is my desire that you will be seated at the banquet prepared for you since the beginning of time. Begin today by giving your “Yes” to my will for you. Start to remove all the weeds surrounding you. Instead surround yourselves with my graces. Come to me and I will heal you. Truly you are ill and still do not realize this. I love you and I am sending you graces. Open your hearts to my words. Now is the time to repent and change. I love you. I have placed each of you in the chambers of my Sacred Heart pierced open for you. Come to me. I am merciful. I am blessing your efforts. Know this.

6/8/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: Pray from your hearts. Ask my Son to bless your day. I love you. I am interceding for all of my children. My dear little ones: Your time here is so short. Begin to place your trust in my Son. He sacrificed so much for you. So loved are you. Know this. Again I ask you to pray from your hearts. Begin to pray as a family. It is my desire for prayer to return to families. Pray especially reading from the bible each night. Then you will learn how much my Son loves you. I am sending you my motherly blessings tonight.

6/9/2011

God the Father

My children: It is I, your Heavenly Father. So much is given to me in words and yet your hearts are far from what you say. You are lost because you have allowed yourselves to be led astray. This is not what I wish for my children. I only desire your happiness. I wish for you to enter into the Kingdom I have prepared for you. Your eternal reward: My Son laid down His life as a ransom for your soul. He gave me His "Yes". His mother gave me her "Yes". This was a yes given freely out of love: A selfless love. You my children have much love for yourselves but very little for your neighbor. Follow the commandments I have set upon all of mankind. Then you will learn love. My will is for you to have eternal happiness. To join me at my banquet prepared for my children. Give your "Yes" to my will. I am your Father. I created you out of my love. I created you in my image. What image is that? Who am I? I am love! I love you. You are mine. You belong to me. I am blessing you tonight.

6/10/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones: So special are each of my children. So happy you make me when you open your heart to my Son. Follow Him. Happiness will come to your world when you start to seek the ways of my Son. Seek first the Kingdom. That is what my Son has told you. You must listen to His words. My children: How I love you. Each of you are so special to me. I place each of your prayers in the mantle of my motherly love and offer them to my Son. He in turn sends graces to you His brothers and sisters. How much faster you will move closer to the road to Heaven when you give your “Yes” to my Son. He is the way. I love you and I am sending my motherly blessings to you tonight. Know this.

6/10/2010

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: To enter the Kingdom you must come through me. I am the way the truth and the life. Listen to this story.

Two men are walking down the road. They pass up a man who is begging for money. The first man reaches into his wallet and hands the man a dollar. The second man rolls his eyes and walks away. He admonishes the first man telling him he is wasting his money. This man should get a job instead of begging.

I tell you no one should judge another man’s soul. The first man did the right thing. He loved his brother and helped him. He did not judge or question his motives. Instead he simply helped. Love will only enter your world when you stop judging each other. You must put your brothers and sisters needs ahead of your own. You have placed yourselves on such pedestals and placed others far below you. I tell you those you have placed beneath you will be entering ahead of you in my Father’s Kingdom. If you wish to seek the Kingdom, start to put others first. The more you give without expecting any reward the quicker you will learn what selfless love is. The more you practice this selfless love the sooner you will have peace in your world. My children, I tell you do not judge one another lest you wish to be judged by the same measuring stick. Instead love one another as I have commanded you. Then you will have happiness. I love you and I am blessing your efforts.

6/11/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother. Open your hearts to my Son tonight. Give Him your yes in every moment of your lives. Then He will bless your every moment. I am praying and interceding for you. Pray from your hearts. Then you are not praying with empty words. All of your prayers are heard. When you pray from your hearts you open your heart to receive my Son’s graces. My dear children: Pray! I love you and I am sending you my motherly blessings. Know this.

6/12/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Listen to my words.

Two men were traveling along a road. They began to argue with one another. Neither man was willing to give in. They decided to go their separate ways.

After awhile the first man began to feel sorry. He stopped walking and went after the other man. When he caught up to him he found the second man still angry. He apologized and asked for forgiveness and the man refused. The first man went away sullen. He felt remorse for having caused an argument to begin with. I ask you. What did the second man gain by holding a grudge? Nothing. The first man was trying to live my commandment of love. How often do you prevent your brother from following my commandment of love? How often do you refuse to forgive your brother and yet wish for me to forgive you. I tell you first go make up with those you have offended. Immediately forgive your brother and accept his apology. Then you will have true happiness. Then you will seek the Kingdom, before you come to the table set out before you. Love your brother. That is what I command of you. Open your hearts to these words tonight. I love you and I am blessing your efforts.

6/13/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones: My immaculate heart was pierced with sorrow for the Passion of my Son. Today my heart is pierced for my children who are wandering lost. This world has become your desert. You remain in exile because you have lost faith. You have lost your way. My children turn your hearts over to my Son. He is the true way. When you give your "Yes" to Him you will no longer be lost wandering in exile. Rather you will be united to Him. I am your mother and I love you. In order for you to give your "Yes" to my Son you must listen to what He has been telling you. Read the bible every day. Begin to pray from your hearts. This way you can ask for my Son to bless your day. You can open your hearts to receive His graces to help you along in your journey. But to open your hearts you first have to empty yourselves of everything that keeps you from my Son. Remove all distractions from your mind and heart. Then you can pray without ceasing. Begin to fast on Fridays. Fasting helps to cleanse your body and soul. You must begin to deny yourself in small things so when the devil comes to tempt you, you will have the strength to deny yourself from sinful pleasures. It is important to purify yourselves now while you have the freedom to do so. Your time here is so short. Before you realize it you will be before my Son in judgment. That is why I am asking you to begin to open your hearts now. Give Him your "Yes". Then He will bless your efforts. You will rejoice when you see the joys and happiness in Heaven. You will never regret this choice. But this choice only you can make, my little ones. Choose wisely. I love you and I am blessing you with my motherly love.

6/14/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones: How happy I am when my children rejoice in my Son. Place yourself in His presence always. I love you my little ones. I wish for happiness in your lives. This happiness will come when you unite yourself to my Son. Pray often, dear children. Pray from your hearts. I love you and I am interceding for you always.

6/14/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Turn your hearts towards me. Listen to this story.

There were two bakers. Each one was instructed to bake a cake for the king. The first man placed all the ingredients in the bowl. Mixed them properly and produced a fine cake for the king. The second baker placed his ingredients in the bowl but used old yeast. When he baked his cake the cake did not rise and he was not able to produce a cake for the king.

What do you think the king did to that baker? I tell you do not be caught off guard. Keep your souls in a state of grace. Do not become lazy in your prayer life. Or it will become old like the yeast and will not grow. No, instead tend to you faith by keeping a strong prayer life. Then you will produce good fruits and I your King will reward you. I love you and I am blessing your efforts tonight. Know this.

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Come to me all who are weary and I will give you rest, for my yoke is easy and my burden is light. Brothers and sisters: I ask you. Why do you place such burdens on yourselves? You have created your heavy loads by trying to fill your lives with things. You try to seek happiness in things. I have told you if you wish to seek happiness you need to pick up your cross and come follow me. So much I have given you already and so much I still wish to give. But you must open your hearts to receive my gifts. You have turned your hearts away from me. I will break your hearts of stone. I love you. Listen to what I am telling you. You have a road set out before you. I am waiting at the end of your road with open arms. Ready to carry you home. Yet you still wish to become distracted with useless things. How long will you forsake me my child? I have never forsaken you. I have loved you even to my death. Truly if the whole world forsakes you, I would never. I am mercy; so ready am I to forgive you. Come to me with a heart that is contrite and I will forgive. I will shower you with graces. My mercy is endless for my Father's children. You are loved. Accept this. Begin anew by giving your "Yes" to all that I have asked. Unite yourself to my will then you will have the happiness that you seek. Open your heart to my love. Then you will have peace. Do not place your heart in treasures from this world. Instead begin to build treasure in Heaven. Where no thief can enter and steal it or have it fade away into dust. I love you and I am blessing you tonight.

6/16/2011

God the Father

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Father. My children: Come to me and open your hearts to me tonight. Give me your yes in every moment. How loved each one of my children are. So special you are to me. I have loved each of you since the beginning. I carved each of you out of the palm of my hand. Chosen and cherished are you by me. Do you know this? You are! Each of you is unique and special in my heart. Did I not say that I know the very number of strands of hair on your head? Did I not create a Kingdom for my children? You were made out of love. I made you in my image and likeness. Who am I? I am love. You were created from love. Look inside yourself. What do you see? Do you see hatred, anger, or jealousy? Then you are choosing the wrong path. You are not those things. These are the things I have been telling you to stop filling your hearts with. Instead of hatred fill your heart with love. Instead of anger fill your heart with peace. Instead of jealousy, fill your heart with compassion. All of this you already have in your heart. You must begin to search for these virtues. I have placed all of this within you. Open your heart and do not turn away. I have not forgotten you my child. I have not left you orphaned. I love you with an everlasting love. You are mine and you belong to me.

6/17/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children. It is I your heavenly mother. Pray from your hearts. Open your hearts to my son. Listen to him. Is he not your brother who sacrificed his life for your salvation? Is he not your king? He is truth. If you wish to become holy you must follow him. He is the way. I love you my dear little ones. Know this.

6/17/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters. Listen to this story: A young man was traveling a long distance. He was carrying quite a heavy load. Everyone he passed by all commented on his load and how heavy it was. But no one offered him any help. A poor man was on the street corner begging for money to buy himself food. The man put down his heavy load and pulled out some change. The poor beggar offered to help him carry his heavy load. They walked a short distance when the poor beggar stopped looked the young man in his eye and asked him why did you stop to give me money. The young man smiled and said. Friend you were hungry.

How often do you let your judgement of others prevent you from helping your brothers and sisters out. No one was willing to help the young man carry his heavy load. And likewise no one was willing to give the poor beggar money for food. Yet they saw each other as a brother in need and helped each other. I tell you whatsoever you do to the least of my fathers children you do to me. I love you and I am blessing your efforts tonight.

6/18/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: To follow me, you must not fear opening your hearts to what I am telling you. Each of you is here for a purpose. Each of you is called to be my apostle. I have said you are chosen and cherished. What I have given you I have given out of love. But you still do not give from your heart. You see each others as strangers instead of friends. If you love me then you will follow my commandment to love each other. I am calling each of you to my heart. You belong to my Father, if this was not so, I would not tell you this. You do not belong to this world. No, you belong to my Father and therefore you belong to me for I am in the Father and the Father is in me and we are one. I do not consider you strangers but friends. I did not die for strangers. I laid down my life for my friend. You belong to me and I carry you in my heart. Rejoice in this. For you are loved by my Father and by me. This is what I wish for you to know. I have loved you even to my death on a cross. Love each other as I have loved you. Truly I say to you whatsoever you do to the least of your brothers you have done to me. Love one another. I love you and I am blessing your efforts tonight.

6/18/2011

Blessed Mother

My children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones: So loved are you by all of Heaven. Pray often and from your heart. Unite yourselves to my Son. The closer you unite yourself to Him, the more you will learn to love each other. The more you learn to love, the more you will begin to resemble my Son. My children I am praying for you. Offer me your prayers and I will bring them to my Son in my mantle of motherly love. I am interceding for you always my little ones. Know this.

6/19/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: I am the Good Shepherd who laid down my life for my sheep. I know my sheep and my sheep know me. But who are my sheep. I tell you anyone who believes in me is my sheep. I love you and I am sending you my blessings tonight.

6/20/2011

God the Father

My children: It is I, your Heavenly Father. Listen to my words. I have loved you since the beginning. From Abraham to my Son I have not left you orphaned. My children: Your ways are not my ways. I love. I create from love. You lack love in your hearts.

You love only yourselves. When you begin to return to a people who place me first then you will learn selfless love. You are lost: wandering in your own desert. What are you waiting for? My Son has already come. He opened the gate for your salvation. Yet you wander as if you have nowhere to go: Homeless. Well you are not homeless. You have a home with me. I created a Kingdom for you, given to my Son. He awaits the return of His brothers and sisters. I wait for your return to my heart. Now is the time to turn away from your wickedness. Turn your back on all evil and come back to your Father where you are truly loved. My children: Now is the time to decide for Heaven. Put all of your focus on this. Only when you decide to give me your yes, will you begin to follow the path that leads you to my heart. I love you. I have never left you orphaned. Give me your yes and I will make my dwelling place with you. I will give you the graces to endure all the trials that lay ahead of you. I am not burdensome, I am love, I am justice, and I am mercy. I love you with an everlasting love. You are mine and you belong to me. My peace I give to you.

6/21/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Just as the rain falls and washes the planet clean, my mercy falls from my heart onto your soul and washes your sins clean. It is my mercy that frees you, from your bondage from sin. Brothers and sisters: I call out to you from the depth of my mercy. Repent from your wrong doing. Turn away from sin and return to me. I am the Good Shepherd. I know my sheep and my sheep know me. You are my sheep. Whoever listens to my words and hears my voice crying out to their soul is my sheep. But you my dear brothers and sisters are lost sheep wandering further away from my voice. You are filling yourselves with wasteful things and not tending your souls. You are not focusing on the things of Heaven. I have told you, where your treasure lies is where your heart also lies. You cannot serve two masters. You will love one and despise the other. Do not make false gods for yourselves. You have only one God: The God of Abraham, The God of Isaac, the God of Jacob. Place all of your trust in me. This is where your treasure should be. Then you will have treasure that can be destroyed or taken from you. I love you and I am blessing you tonight.

6/21/2011

Blessed Mother

Dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones: You are in my heart always. I am interceding on your behalf my little ones. I have come to tell you pray from your hearts. You must pray until prayer becomes a joy for you. You have so much distraction in your world, distractions that are keeping you from my Son. You must remove the obstacles from your life and return to a life of prayer, placing God first in your lives. When you place my Son first in your heart he will bless all that you do. The closer you are to your Lord the more you will love. The more you love the more you will resemble my Son. What beautiful children you will be. I love you and I am blessing you with my motherly love. Know this.

6/22/2011

Blessed Mother

My children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones: How special each of you are to my heart. I place each of you in my mantle of motherly love. My desire for you dear children is to learn love. I wish for you to have happiness and joy. The only way to be joyful is to learn love. How do you do that? Listen to my Son. His words are the words of everlasting life. His words are truth. He is love. When you have love you will have joy. When you begin to love each other as my Son has commanded you, only then will you begin to realize peace in your world. All of your sufferings come from a lack of peace. That is why I tell you to pray from your hearts. To open your hearts to my Son so He can fill them with good things: Graces. When you begin to pray from your heart you will learn to love and the more you love the more you will resemble my Son. My dear little ones: Trust in my Son. Give Him your "Yes" in every moment. I am with you and I am sending you my motherly blessings. I love you my dear children. Know this.

6/22/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Tonight I ask you to enter in to the chambers of my Sacred Heart. There you will find love. There you will find comfort. There you will find peace. I love you and I am uniting myself to you. Look inside your own heart. Ask yourselves if you have love for all the brothers and sisters I have sent you. Is there any one you have neglected or were short with? Do you have a brother or sister that you have not reconciled with? This is what I am asking you. Go now and reconcile with them. Go and listen to their needs. Go and love one another. Then come to me. I love you and I am blessing your efforts in this.

6/23/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: I am the Lamb who took away your sins. My mercy I give to you. My peace I give to you. In my Father's house there are many dwelling places. For this I laid down my life, so all who believe in me may enter the Kingdom thru me. I am the gate. This I must tell you. My children, you are lost, but not to my heart. You will never be lost to my heart. But your choices are leading you further and further away from me. No longer do you hear my voice calling out to you. But I will seek you out even to the ends of the earth. If only one of my Father's children was lost, I would seek that child out and return to my Father with His child in my arms. Yet, so many of you are wandering lost. Stop wandering and return to me. I love you. Listen with your heart. I am mercy: Ready to forgive you. All you need to do is trust in me. Trust that I love you. Trust that I will forgive your many transgressions. Trust that I have come into this world not to condemn you but to save you. I was pierced in the head with thorns for you. Nails were driven through my hands and feet for you. My body was scourged for you. I laid down my life for you. I am the Lamb slain for you. Now do you hear my voice calling out for my lost brothers and sisters? Every moment you have choices. You can give your “Yes” to me or you can turn away. I am always waiting with open arms. You have nothing to fear. My Mercy is for this generation. So much I am ready to give any soul who gives me his or her “Yes”. What does giving your “Yes” mean: Accepting my will in each moment you have, trusting in my providence for you. Unite yourself to my sacred heart. Fear not. For truly you are loved. I am blessing you with my priestly blessing tonight.

6/24/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: It is I, your Heavenly King who ransomed Himself for His people. I am the Good Shepherd who laid down His life for His sheep. I am the bridegroom who gave everything to his bride. I am the friend who laid down His life for His enemy as well as His friend. All of this and you still wonder do I love you? Will I forgive you? I have already answered you. I said “Yes”. I gave my Father my “Yes” to His plan. Then I gave Him everything. When you give your “Yes” that is the first step towards your road. After you say, “Yes” then you must take your first step and trust. This is what I am asking from you: give me your “Yes”. Then take your first step towards your true home in Heaven. Do not look back and say I will not forgive you. No. I forgive all of your sins. My mercy is endless. Do not fear taking this first step. I love you. You belong in Heaven. This is your home that my Father created for you. But you must start by giving your “Yes” and then taking the first step. I love you and I am blessing your efforts tonight.

6/25/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Listen to what I am saying.

Two men cross the street. Each man is crossing at the same time. The first man carefully looks both ways and proceeds to the other side. The second man does not look. Instead he is distracted by his surroundings. He never crosses the street but instead remains distracted.

That is how my lost brothers and sisters are. You become so easily distracted that you never make it across the street. You remain in the same spot. That is how your prayer life is. You begin to pray and become distracted, never moving forward crossing the street to my heart. That is why I tell you, you honor me with many words but your heart is far from me. Begin to remove the distractions from your life that keep you from crossing your street. I love you and I am blessing your efforts. My heart is open for you.

6/26/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones: How special you are and how loved you are by all of Heaven. My little ones you must realize the importance of tending to your prayer life. This is how you grow closer to your Creator and King. Pray from your heart. Open yourselves so my Son can fill you with good things. You have so much to learn and such little time to learn it in. Especially when you waste the precious time you have. Take this time and use it wisely. Do not be foolish. I love you and I am interceding on your behalf. Pray from your hearts. I love you. I place each of you in the mantle of my motherly love. Know this.

6/27/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: My peace I give to you. Listen to this story.

Two women were working side by side. Each one was knitting with yarn. They were gossiping about another woman who was not present. They were making all sorts of false accusations against her. They showed no love or kindness to this woman. Now the woman they were talking about was at that very moment taking care of her small children. She was having a difficult day.

Suppose those two women offered to help her. All three women would have had joy with their time. Do you think the women who were gossiping really felt joy when they returned home? I tell you the woman who was tending her small children did have joy in her heart. I blessed her efforts and she was doing my will for which she earned treasure in Heaven. The other two women were not keeping my command of loving their neighbor, nor were they practicing charity. See what missed opportunities happen when you waste your time. Heed this lesson. Practice charity. As I have told you. Seek out your siblings who are in need. Do not wait to be asked. Instead offer with a loving heart. I will bless your efforts and you will build treasure in Heaven. I love you. I am sending you my priestly blessings tonight.

6/28/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones: Tonight I ask you to pray in particular for those brothers and sisters who are lost and far from my Son. Pray from your hearts for their return to the sacraments. All of God's children belong in Heaven. No one should be lost to the Father's heart. Practice kindness always and show charity towards everyone you encounter. Remember my little ones you are a light to others. The more you follow my Son the more you will help your brothers and sisters follow the road that leads to my Son. You are here to help each other. You are here to learn love. I am praying for you always. Give my Son your “Yes” in everything that you do so He will bless your every moment. Then you will have happiness in your heart. What a joy you will have when you lead others home. I love you and I am sending my motherly blessings tonight. Know this.

6/29/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: I call you this, because you are not just creatures created by my Father. No, you are His children. You were born out of love and great sacrifice. For this reason I call you brother and sister. Listen to me when I tell you go change from a life of sin and splendor. (I see a man with jewels on his finger eating large amounts of food.) Instead return to a life of prayer. You have many things and yet you are spiritually naked. Instead of clothing yourselves with virtues you have clothed yourselves in the clothes of hell. But do not fear. All you need is trust in my Mercy. Come to me and I will wash your garments clean with my blood. I will feed you with my body. Then you will never hunger again. I call you unto myself. You belong to me. I did not lay down my life for a stranger, but rather, I laid down my life for you my friend. Again, I ask you to clothe yourself with repentance for great are your many sins. And again I tell you my Mercy is greater than the many sins you have. I did not come into the world to condemn it. I came into the world to save it. I came to bring the lost sheep home back to my Father where you belong. I love you and I am blessing your efforts in this.

6/29/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones: You hunger and yet you do not feel your hunger pains because you have filled your souls with things. Empty yourselves and pray for my Son to fill you with His mercy. Ask Him to fill you with the graces necessary to give Him your “Yes” in all things. I love you my dear children. I wish for your happiness. I wish for you to be filled with good things. I love you and I am interceding for you always. Know this.

6/30/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones: When you sacrifice, sacrifice from your heart. Everything you offer should be done freely. Do not give, seeking something in return. Just give from your heart. Then you will build treasure in Heaven. Practice kindness with each other. You are so easily angered by your brother's faults. Do you not have faults also? Yes my children, no one is perfect except God. That is why you need to have forgiveness for one another. Be slow to anger and quick to forgive. Then my Son will have mercy for your faults. I love you and I am interceding for you always. Have peace in your families. Let your homes become a dwelling place for my Son. Then you will become a light for the rest of the world. Know this.

7/1/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: There are many lessons you still need to learn. But of all the lessons the most important of these is love. You have much love for yourselves and very little for your neighbor. Yet I have commanded you to love your neighbor as yourself. This self-love has become a stumbling block on your road towards Heaven. You must learn to love. Each of my Father's children has a purpose here on earth. Each of you has been given the graces to work together. How do you begin to turn your self-love into selfless love?

- First stop judging each other. I have told you, you will be judged according to the measuring stick you use on your brothers and sisters. This judgment comes from comparing yourself to others. This is the very ruler that I am talking about. Do not compare yourself to anyone. Each of you, are on a different journey. Yes, your roads are meant to intersect, but only to learn love and compassion. I have told you, that each of you, are unique and special. Like flowers. No two are alike yet all are needed to complete the garden. So, stop looking at each other's faults. Instead look at each other's uniqueness.
- Next learn to give from your heart. You are always making sure your needs are met to an overflowing abundance and yet you let our brother go hungry. Are you not your brother's keeper? Did my Father not give you each other to learn love? Since the beginning you were instructed to be fruitful and fill the Earth. Not destroy the very children placed in your wombs. So much has been given to you and yet you cry out because you lack. Begin to give to each other, then no one will be lacking.
- Finally, accept everything as a gift from the Father. All you have has been provided for you. Have I not said that I am sending you graces for this or that virtue? Begin to place your focus on each other. Learn to forgive and have mercy for each other. Then my Heavenly Father will have mercy for you. Is not your life worth much more than the birds in the air and yet my Father provides for them. If then, you are so important and loved, why then do you not see this in each other? Remove the hatred from your hearts then you will begin to see each other with the eyes of love.

Love each other. That is what I command of you. I love you and I am blessing your efforts in this. I place each of you in the chambers of my Sacred Heart. It is in my Sacred Heart that you will find forgiveness and mercy. What I have freely given to you, freely give to each other. Then peace will reign in your world. My peace I give to you.

7/2/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones: I'm calling you, my children to live your life in a state of grace. This will be easy if you give your "Yes" to God in every moment. Offer everything to Him with love. You are His children. How loved you are. Begin to open your eyes and hearts to the ways of the Father. Begin living your faith. Keep holy the Sabbath (for Christians this is Sunday the Lords Day.) Follow the commandments you received. Peace will only return to your world, when you place your hearts back in the merciful hands of your Father. I love you and I am blessing you with my Immaculate Heart tonight.

7/3/2011

God the Father

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Father. Know these words: I have loved you always. Since the beginning I loved you. I formed you in my image and likeness. I carved you in the palm of my hand. Chosen and cherished are you my sons and daughters. I created you from the depths of my heart. I breathed life into you and you came to be. My child: There is nowhere else you belong except in my heart. A parent does not give birth to their child and wish their child ill (not sick but ill willed.) No a parent prays for their child to have a happy life. They look forward to watching their child grow up. Will this child make mistakes, yes. Do my children make mistakes, yes. Yet I am merciful. I am slow to anger and quick to forgive you. So much do I love my children that when you make mistakes, I do not abandon you. I do not leave you out in the cold away from my heart. No, I sent my only Son, so all might be saved thru Him. I created Heaven for my children. Even when you turn away from my heart, I still love you. Do you not know that I am merciful? So often you are so discontented. Do not be so. It is my will that my children are happy. But happiness does not come from things. Happiness comes from love. I am love. I created you from this love. I gave you each other to learn love. Simply trust. There is nothing that you need that I do not already know. I hear every prayer uttered from your lips. I know them even when they are just being formed in your hearts. Trust that I will provide everything you need, everything that is good for your soul. I love you and I am blessing you tonight.

7/4/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: You long for peace in your world yet you do not have peace in your households. How do you expect to grow this peace? If you want peace then forgive your brother always. Do not harbor anger in your heart. The more you love someone, the harder it is to become angry at their faults. It is easier to forgive a friend than an enemy.

So have everyone you meet be a friend to you. If you look at each other as strangers, then I will see you as a stranger too. Remember what you do to the very least of my Father's children you do unto me. I love you and I am blessing you tonight.

7/4/2011

Blessed Mother

Dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones: Pray from your heart. Pray until it becomes a joy for you. I love you and I am sending my motherly blessings to you tonight.

7/5/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: I am the Lamb slain for His people. Listen to what I am telling you. According to the measure that you judge your brother is the measurement that will be judged against you. So I warn you do not be so eager to pass judgment on anyone. Instead have compassion and forgiveness, be the garments that you clothe yourself with. Then my Father will have compassion and mercy for you. If you find fault with your brother gently point out the situation. Always remain steeped in love, for you also have faults that you need to be made aware of. If your brother becomes upset with you do not retaliate back with anger or a hard heart. Instead retreat and offer patience. Then come to me and pray for grace for your brother's eyes to be open. Again I remind you that you too will wish to become upset when you find your faults revealed. My brothers and sisters, how much you suffer from pride. Pride is a lack of selfless love. Again I tell you if you have pride, you suffer from overabundance of self-love. This self-love will become your stumbling block and cause you to pass judgment on each other. Something I am warning you against doing. Practice loving, your brothers and sisters, by being slow to anger and quick to forgive. I love you and I am blessing your efforts.

7/6/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Enter into the chambers of my Sacred Heart. What do you see, love and mercy. Everything I endured at Calvary, I did for you. Never once did you leave my thoughts. Each moment I bore everything freely, patiently. When my brothers accused me falsely I did not protest. When they struck me I did not strike back. No, I loved even those that hit me without recourse. This I did for love of neighbor. I did not set out to give you a command of love of neighbor and not live it, as an example for you. If you want to learn love, follow my example. I loved even while enduring suffering at the hands of my brother. I forgave even while hanging from my cross (A cross that I bared for you.) Did I not tell you, that I came into this world to save you! Then trust my words today. Truly, you are loved, by your Heavenly Father. I have loved you even to my death. Therefore, I ask you to love one another as I have loved you. This command I wish for you to follow with your whole heart. When you begin to love your brothers and sisters, wars will end. Peace will return to your world. I love you and I am sending you my priestly blessings tonight.

7/7/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Tonight I wish to talk to you again about my Mercy. My Mercy is for each of my Father's children. No one is excluded from my merciful heart. You only need to open your repentant heart to receive this grace. My love for you is as endless as the oceans are to the naked eye. So much I long for you to come home to our hearts. Heaven is where you belong. My heart is where you should place your every thought, word and deed. Steep yourself in my love. Remove the shell that surrounds your hard heart. When you begin to open your eyes, do not become discouraged like the Pharisees. They remained steadfast in their ways never letting go of their pride. You my brothers and sisters must listen to me. Let go of the pride and replace that with repentance. Then come to me. I will not have harsh words for you. No, instead I will embrace you with open arms. You only need to trust in my mercy for you. You only need to seek my forgiveness and I tell you, you already have that. Look to each other for opportunities to love. Look at each other for opportunities to practice patience and always have a compassionate heart. The more you forgive your brother, the more you will resemble me. Be merciful just as your Father and I are merciful. I love you and I am blessing your efforts tonight. I am the Lamb slain for His people. Whoever believes in me shall have eternal life. My peace I give to you.

7/8/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Tonight I wish to talk about grace. Grace comes from my heart. My heart is united to the Father. I ask for you to unite your heart to mine. That way you belong to me. It is in your heart that I wish to make my dwelling place. This requires two things. First you must remove all hatred from your heart. To remove it you must first remove hatred from your thoughts. Your heart will follow. Remove all anger towards your brothers and sisters. Begin to forgive immediately. Do not harbor old insults. This will yield you nothing except wasted time. Then give me your "Yes". Such a simple word yet it seems so difficult for you to take hold of. Fear is keeping you from trusting in me. Trust! I love you! Did I not say, that I will provide for you? Will I not send you graces for this or that virtue? I already know your needs. Trust in my providence. What I am giving, has already been given to me, by my Father. I have told you that I am in the Father and the Father is in me. But I tell you this. You belong to me. My Father loves you. It is here that we wish for you to unite yourself to.

7/9/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones: Heaven is calling out to you my dear children. You must prepare your hearts for your eternal home. Now is the time to convert and turn your lives over to my Son. He is the only way. He is the door, which you must go through to enter Heaven. He is calling each of you. But you must open your hearts to hear him. You will not hear this call with your ears. He is speaking to your hearts. He is calling you dear children. He knows each of you by name. That is how special you are. I love you my little ones. Know how special you are to my heart. I am asking you to begin to pray with zeal. Pray with earnest. That is how prayer will become a joy to you. Then my children you will hear my Son calling your name. I love you and I am blessing you with my motherly love.

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: I call each of you unto my heart. So much of what has been said has fallen on deaf ears. What I am telling you must not just be heard but taken deep within you. When I tell you that you are loved these must not just be words to you. They must enter into the depth of your being. You must contemplate this. Trust in this. Believe in this. Then start to live this. When will you believe you are loved by Me? When will you trust that I love you? You will begin to start making changes in your life. You will live your life knowing that you are loved. When you look at your brothers and sisters you will see my eyes staring back at you. Why? Because you will know that I love you. Brothers and sisters: this is what I want you to focus on tonight. Talk to me! Tell me your concerns! Then open your hearts and know I love you. I love you and I am sending you my priestly blessings tonight.

St. Michael

My dear people: It is I, St. Michael coming to sound my trumpet and awaken the hearts of all mankind. Arise from your slumber. The time is now to give your "yes" without delay. So much of your time here has been already wasted. This must end. You must once again return to your child like ways and trust your Heavenly Father. Give your "yes" to your risen King who was victorious over death and opened the door to Heaven for each of you. Understand the value of each present moment you have and use this wisely. Rely on your guardians to help light your road. Then be resolute in following the path that leads you home to Heaven. This is the Kingdom that has been created for you. Blessed are the wise, who will heed this call. May the risen Lord bless you.

Blessed Mother

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones: Listen to my Son: He is the way, the truth and the life. No one will be able to enter the Kingdom without entering through my Son first. I love you my dear little ones. I wish only for your happiness. But to become happy you must begin to completely surrender yourself to His Divine Will. You must give Him your "yes" in everything you do. Then He will bless your efforts and you will be happy. The more you surrender to my Son the greater your joy will be. I love you and I am interceding for you.

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: You continue to seek happiness in your things and come up empty instead. Things will not fill the void you have created by distancing yourself from my heart. That is the illusion you are living in. Only when you open your hearts and return to me will you have real joy and happiness. The more you come to me the more I will fill you with good things. The more graces I will give you. So many graces I have waiting to bestow upon my Father's children. But where are you? How long will you continue to distance yourself from my heart? Soon you will realize that you have been asleep in your faith. Woe to those brothers and sisters who continue to remain in their sleep. How will they prepare for me when I come knocking on their door. Whoever hears me knocking and opens their door, I will enter and make my dwelling there. Ponder what I am telling you in your heart. I love you and I am giving you my priestly blessings tonight.

Blessed Mother

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones: a sword pierced my immaculate heart for you my children. Gladly I offer everything to the Heavenly Father on your behalf. It is my desire for you to offer everything to your Heavenly Father for each other. How quickly you would grow in love when you unite yourself on behalf of your siblings. Pray from your hearts. I love you and I am interceding before the throne of your Heavenly Father and my Son on your behalf. Know this.

God the Father

My children: It is I, your Heavenly Father. My children you wonder where I am when you look at the evening stars. Look no further than your own hearts. You ask yourself who I am. I have told you I am love. You my child I created from love. Just how dear are you to me you ask? I know the very number of strands of hair on your head. I know your needs and wants. I hear your prayers before they reach your lips. And yes. I see your weakness and struggles. There is nothing that is hidden. My child there is nowhere you can go where I will not seek you out. You are mine. Chosen and cherished by me. I do not just love you today. My love is eternal. You are my children. I did not create you and then turn my back on you. No, I made a covenant with you. My desire is to have each of my children return to my heart. So much do I wish to give you! Do not turn away and hide. My love will seek you out. Do not wander aimlessly in the desert. The desert is not where I want you. It is in my heart that I wish for you to reside. My child so little do you truly understand and what you do know, you have yet to take your knowledge and unite it to love. What good are your acts if they are not united to love? What good is your sacrifice if it does not yield any fruit? Where will your treasure be? Everything you have I have given to you. Do not long to look up at the heavens and ponder my existence. Look at each other and ponder how you can face your Father if you do not begin to love the very brothers and sisters I have placed in your life. My children: Begin to love each other. Remove whatever is blocking your path. Truly you are loved by me; created in my image. Return to that image of love. You must decide for goodness and leave your wicked ways. Each moment has been given to you as a gift. Do not waste the gifts that you are receiving right now. Surrender yourself to me. Give your “yes” to me. I will bless you. It is my desire for you to return to my heart where you belong. I love you and I am blessing you.

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Let the little ones come unto me and do not prevent this for I tell you the Kingdom of Heaven was made for such as them. Understand what is at stake with each passing moment. What you choose WILL have a great impact on everyone around you. Each person you encounter was placed on your journey; no one will cross your path without a purpose, all of which leads to the lesson of love. I have entrusted you with the care of each other. You are to lead by example: My example. Do not teach others to sin for twice will be your punishment. But I tell you those who teach about my love and mercy to their brothers and sisters twice will be your reward. My Father has given everything to you. Nothing has been denied you except that which causes harm to your soul. Tend to the garden that has been set out before you, for each flower is precious to the eyes of my Father and likewise, no flower is hidden. Each one has been chosen to be there. Take care of what you have been given. For if you do not it will be taken from you and given to those who will. I love you and I am blessing you in this matter.

God the Father

My children: It is I, your Heavenly Father. The lessons being presented to you are to assist you on your journey. It is a road map. Before you continue moving forward you must look at this map. Begin to seek which direction you are going: North, South, East or West. Then give your “Yes” and move forward with your decision. My child, everything has been set out before you. All you need to do is give your “Yes”. You will not travel this road alone. I have assured you of this. I have given each of my children an angel: A guardian to help light the way. Which road are you seeking? The road that leads to my Son: your Brother? It is that road that will lead to my heart and your eternal home. I love you and I am giving you my blessings.

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: Listen to what I am telling you. Tend to your garden. That is, cultivate your faith with prayer. Do not pray with empty words; no, pray from your hearts. Unite yourselves to my most Sacred Heart. It is in my heart that you will find peace. It is in my heart that you will find comfort. What you are seeking cannot be found in the things of your world. Again this is the illusion that you become so trapped with. What you seek is joy. What you are searching for is understanding. My brothers and sisters: The only way to uncover what you are searching for is to place yourself before me. Empty yourself of all pride. Then will you begin to understand the truth of what you are really seeking? I am ready to forgive anyone who comes to me with a contrite heart. No one will be turned away from my mercy. All are entitled. Do not be ashamed for what you have done. I already know your errors. It is not my desire to disown you; no, my desire is to bring you home where you belong. You are loved. You are not your sins. You are a child of my Father. Your sins are caused from weakness: a lack of trust. I know you are weak. It was that very weakness that I took to the cross with me. This I did out of love for you dear brother. So I tell you do not fear coming to me. I only have love for you. I only have mercy for you. Trust in what I am telling you. Empty yourselves of everything that causes you to sin. Then come to me and I will fill you with good and holy virtues. I will robe you in truth. I will give you what your heart seeks, for I am the way, the truth and the life. I love you and I am blessing your efforts.

7/18/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones: So much has been given to you for your preparation to come home. Many graces are being placed in your souls. It is your job to stay focused on the road that lies ahead of you. Listen to my Son and follow His ways. The more you strive to resemble Him the happier your time here will be. Your hearts will be filled with joy instead of resentment towards your brothers and sisters. That is why you must pray from your heart and unite yourselves to my Son. I love you and I am interceding for you. Know this.

7/18/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: The quickest way to Heaven is through the chambers of my Sacred Heart. Place all your trust in me. I am the way. I am the gate you must enter through. My yoke is easy and my burden is light. So much I have given you and so much more I still wish to give. But you must have an open heart to receive these graces. So I ask you again empty yourselves of the things that are weighing your hearts down. These things are only causing you to distance yourself from me. I love you with an everlasting love. It is my peace that I wish to give to you. Allow me to reign in your heart. I love you and I am blessing you with my priestly blessings tonight.

7/19/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: What good does it do a man to gain the whole world if he loses his soul in the process? Likewise what good does it do to fill your house with worldly things that will rot and decay and have no treasure in Heaven? It is a foolish man who builds his house on sand. Do not be foolish. Build your faith on solid ground. Then when you are put to the test your faith will not crumble. I have told you, "You cannot serve two masters". You will love one and despise the other. You must decide which is of more value to you: Your things or your eternal soul. It is your possessions that cause you to close yourself off from your brothers and sisters. You try to fill the emptiness with your things. Likewise you are choosing to fill your heart with things that will destroy you. Place me first in your heart. I will fill you with good things that will help you grow in holiness. Everything I give you comes from my heart. That is because I love you. I do not place my love in things that are here today and gone tomorrow. Listen to what I am telling you. So much of your time has been wasted on serving yourself. You have made yourselves your own gods. No longer do you place your trust in me or seek my forgiveness. What you have placed your trust in, is empty, void of love. Look around at what you have surrounded yourselves with. Again I ask the same question. To whom are you serving? I love you and I am blessing you tonight. My peace I give to you.

7/20/2011

Jesus

Brothers and sisters: My mercy is with you. Have hope, for you are not forgotten. I have heard your pleas. It is my mercy I wish to give. It is my heart that I wish to unite with yours. Come to me all who are burdened and I will give you rest. I do not desire for you to have fear. No, I desire for you to have hope. Come to me with your concerns. Place your worries at my feet. I will place all of this in my Sacred Heart. My Heart that was pierced for you. There is no soul that will be turned away from the shelter of my Heart, no matter how scarlet your sins. It is you that needs to trust in my mercy. It is you that needs to trust in my love. Come to me my brothers and sisters for my yoke is easy and my burden is light. It is my peace that I wish to give to you. I love you and I am blessing you with my priestly blessings.

7/20/2011

Blessed Mother

My dear children: It is I, your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones: My immaculate heart is the mantle that I wish to place you under. It is my motherly blessings that I wish to give to you. Know that you are loved. Understand that you are children of the Father, created in His image and likeness. Chosen and cherished for all eternity. But my children: You must give your “yes”. You must decide for Heaven. The Lord has given you free will. The choice is for you and you alone to make. I am praying for you my little ones. I am constantly interceding on behalf of all my children. I love you. Know this.

Postscript

This concludes the first volume of messages. The second volume will pick up starting July 21, 2011. I can assure you the lessons continue to be quite moving and have certainly changed the way I view God’s mercy and mission for us. I would like to personally thank my family for their continued support on this mission. This work would not exist in the timely production if not for their support. I would especially like to thank and acknowledge my mother for her dedication to edits and most of all keeping me on track for getting this to print.
