

Chosen and Cherished to my Heart
You will always be

Volume 2

This is the second volume of messages received.

They are from July 20,2011 to January 19,2012.

7/20/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, my Mercy is with you. Have hope, for you are not forgotten. I have heard your pleas. It is my Mercy I wish to give; it is my Heart that I wish to unite with yours. Come to me all who are burdened and I will give you rest. I do not desire for you to have fear. No, I desire for you to have hope. Come to me with your concerns. Place your worries at my feet. I will place all of this in my Sacred Heart, my Heart that was pierced for you. There is no soul that will be turned away from the shelter of my Heart no matter how scarlet your sins. It is you that needs to trust in my Mercy. It is you that needs to trust in my love. Come to me my brothers and sisters, for my yoke is easy and my burden is light. It is my peace that I wish to give to you. I love you and I am blessing you with my priestly blessings.

7/20/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. My immaculate heart is the mantle that I wish to place you under. It is my motherly blessings that I wish to give to you. Know that you are loved. Understand that you are children of the Father; created in His image and likeness, chosen and cherished for all eternity. But my children, you must give your yes. You must decide for Heaven. The Lord has given you free will. The choice is for you and you alone to make. I am praying for you my little ones. I am constantly interceding on behalf of all my children. I love you. Know this.

7/21/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, my peace I give to you. My love for you is infinite. Hear me then when I tell you, do not fear coming to me with your sins. Yes, you are struggling with temptations (the temptation of flesh, the temptation of greed, the temptation of pride). These are all battles that you must fight. Then, ask for the grace to defeat and overcome these difficulties. Do not think that I do not understand. I too was tempted. But my love for you was and is my greatest sacrifice. Come to me and do not be afraid, for I will not condemn a contrite heart. No matter how scarlet your sins, I am greater than your many sins. My mercy endures forever. If then I have such love for you, would I not come when you ask? Would I not give you what you need to overcome your weaknesses? Yes, but you need to ask. You need to open your hearts and trust. Then I will heal your ills. I have told you, this generation is sick and does not realize it. But to those who are willing to listen, I say to you; Fear not, for I did not come to condemn you, but rather I have come to save you. I love you and I am sending my priestly blessings to you.

7/22/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. Pray from your hearts. Begin every moment just as you would begin a new day; fresh and awakened, present in everything you do. This way, you will not so easily fall asleep. Do not become lazy with your prayer life. You have many hours for yourself and still you offer very little, if any, to my Son. Place God first in your heart. Each moment, start your thought with Him in your soul. Then, He will bless those moments. You will receive graces and you will grow in faith. Take courage my children. Even though this may seem trying at first, remember how loved you are. When you love someone and place them first in your heart, everything becomes an easy task. I love you and I am blessing you with my motherly blessings. Know this.

7/23/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. You seek comfort in things. Look to my Son, He will comfort you. So many things are keeping you far away from my Son. Why do you seek comfort? It is because of your choices, my children. How often do you choose something that you know is wrong? You cave into temptation so easily. That is why I have asked you to begin fasting. When you fast, you deny yourself something that you want. Soon, fasting from things will become easier for you. I love you my children. I am only seeking what is good for you. Turn everything over to my Son, He is the way. The more you pray, the more you will become closer to my Son. If you pray as you fast, then fasting will not become a chore; rather, it will become a joy because you will be able to triumph over the obstacles that have been placed on your road. These obstacles keep you from my Son; thereby, keeping you further from the road that leads to Heaven. I love you and I am interceding for you. Know this.

7/24/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, what is the price of a mans soul? I tell you, there is no treasure that you have that could compare. Love one another. What good does it do, to build up treasure here on earth that will eventually crumble and turn to dust? Build treasure in Heaven, where rust will not destroy it or moths eat it away. What good does it, for a man to gain the whole world and lose his soul? Trust in me. I am the way. Brothers and sisters, take this time you have been given and use it wisely. Do not be caught off guard, you do not know the hour I will come. Be ready. You are priceless to the Father, begin to see each other this way. You are loved by me and my Father, love one another. Everything I have given freely to you, give freely to each other. Forgive and do not harbor anything against your brother, then I will not harbor anything against you. For the measure you use to judge your brother will be the measure I use against you. Have mercy for each other. I tell you, nothing goes unseen by my Father; and likewise, everything you do is seen by my Father. Therefore, watch that you do not be caught off guard doing misdeeds in the dark. Rather, remain in view so you will not be tempted. This day has been created for you. Rejoice and be glad. You are loved. This day offer me everything and I will bless it. I will send you graces to learn. I love you and I am blessing your efforts. Know this.

7/25/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, come to the table set out before you. The bread you eat is my flesh, the wine you drink is my blood. Whoever eats of my flesh and drinks my blood will reside in me and I in him, for I am the Bread of Life. You hunger for righteousness. This you will not find in the things you have made, for nothing you have will bring you this. What you yearn for, cannot be found in your things. Come to me. It is in my heart that you will find peace. It is in my Heart that you will find joy. To enter Heaven, you must enter through the gate that was paid for with my flesh and blood. Stop seeking pleasures in this world, for your pleasure will be here today and gone tomorrow. No, seek the Kingdom where you will have eternal happiness. I love you and I am blessing your efforts in this.

7/26/2011 St. Anne

My dear children, it is I St. Anne. Listen to the words of my Grandson, He has the words of everlasting life. How often do you read scripture in your homes? How much are you teaching your children about my Grandson? Children learn by example. Children learn from the love they are shown. Love your little ones. Take them into your arms. Help them to grow in their faith by the example you lead. Everything begins at home remember this. May the blessings and peace of my Grandson descend down on all of you tonight.

7/26/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, tonight I place you in the shelter of my Heart. It is here that you belong. It is in my Heart that I wish to unite myself to you. I love you and I am sending my priestly blessings to you.

7/27/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. So special you are to my heart. It pleases me greatly when I see my children progressing in their faith. So much do I wish for you to be happy. You see, happiness comes when you follow my Son. It is through your relationship with my Son that you grow closer to Heaven. I love you and I am sending you my motherly blessings. Know this.

7/28/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, to reach the gates of Heaven you must pick up your cross and come follow me. I am the way. Everyday you are given opportunities to grow on your journey. In every moment, you have to choose to give your “yes” to my will, my plan for you; or, you can walk away. This choice is always yours. But I warn you to choose wisely, for any choice you make you will be held accountable. Do not fear what I am telling you. I realize sometimes you will choose wrongly. Then, you are to come to me with true contrition. I will forgive you. I will give you the grace to try again and choose more wisely next time. I am merciful. I am slow to anger and so should you be. I am merciful to your mistakes and forgive quickly. This is how I wish for you to be to each other.

Dear brothers and sisters, this is a great opportunity right now. You have this present moment. You have the opportunity to give this moment to me and I will bless it. Build treasure for Heaven. Learn to love one another. Give your “yes” to me and keep close to my Sacred Heart. I love you and I am blessing your efforts. Know this.

7/29/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, tonight I wish to take you into the chambers of my Sacred Heart. It is in each chamber that I have placed you in. As you enter the first chamber, you are giving me your “yes”. The moment you offer me your “yes”, I place you in this chamber and I bless you. When you come to me with a contrite heart, I place you in the second chamber. It is in this chamber that my floodgate of mercy envelopes you. Here, you are forgiven and washed clean with my precious blood. The third chamber is where I send you graces when you come to me with your prayers. In my third chamber, all of your prayers are revealed and graces are poured out for you. In my fourth and final chamber, I place all of my Father's children who practice loving each other. Everything you offer on behalf of your siblings, I bless and place in this final chamber. It is my desire for you to strive for all four chambers. My Heart is where I wish for you to dwell. It is here that I wish to be united to you. I love you and I am blessing you with my Sacred Heart pierced open for you.

7/30/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, it is my desire that you be united to my Sacred Heart. Envelope yourselves in each chamber that has been pierced open for you. This is your salvation. Is there any greater sacrifice one can make than to lay down his life for his friend? You are my friends. It was my life that I freely laid down for you, no one took it from me. This was a gift I bore from my Sacred Heart, it is here that I wish for you to return. Do not remove yourselves from me by your poor choices. Do you not understand that your very souls are at stake? How dear you are to me. How I wish to gather each of you in my chambers where you are completely loved. How loved you are. How much I still wish to give you. But where are you? Open your hearts to receive my graces. Place yourself in my First Chamber by giving me your "yes". Here I will begin to change your hearts of stone. Brothers and sisters, this generation is not lost to my Heart; on the contrary, you are the very generation that I have poured out my mercy for. But again I ask you, where are you to receive my mercy? Have you placed yourselves on your knees with contrite hearts or are you still willing to wander in the desert with your bag of things? How long are you willing to carry around your bag of pride, or your anger? How long will you continue to have hatred in your hearts for one another? But even still, I ask you to fear not. I am patient. My yoke is easy and my burden is light. Come to me, I will forgive your hardened hearts. A truly contrite sinner will find himself placed in my Second Chamber, where I will bathe his wounds in my Sacred Blood. There, every sin will be washed clean. I love you and I am blessing you with my Sacred Heart pierced open for you.

7/31/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, tonight the chambers of my Sacred Heart are pierced open for you. Every step to my Heart has been outlined for you. To enter, you only need to give me your “yes”. How easily you will move through the chambers of my Heart when you begin to trust in me. I am leading the way, simply follow my voice. Open your hearts to me, truly I will fill you with good things. So often you become stalled in your prayer life. The Third Chamber of my Heart is where you need to place yourself when prayer becomes difficult for you. It is here that all your prayers are revealed. It is here where I place my graces in your soul. You must open your hearts to me. I love you and I am blessing you as you move through each Chamber of my Heart.

8/1/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, tonight I wish again to unite myself to you through the chambers of my Sacred Heart, pierced open for you. It is here that your salvation was won. It is in my Heart that all was laid bare for you, my Father’s children. Come and enter the chambers of my Heart, it is your “yes” that is the key to unlocking the door to my first chamber. What love I have to offer you. I will bless you. In my Fourth Chamber, I hold very dear to me all who have shone love to each other. It is in my Fourth Chamber that I remember what you have done to the least of your brothers. Truly, you have done to me and it is written on the wall of my Heart. It is here, in the Last Chamber, where you build your treasure. In my Heart, nothing will be lost or forgotten. So again I ask you; what good does it a man to build treasure that will not last, when you can build treasure that will remain with you for all eternity? What good does it a man to fill his home with worldly things and walk away empty at judgment? It would be wise for you to take this time and begin to reflect on what I am telling you. My Heart was pierced open for you. Everything I had was offered to my Father on your behalf; and now, you are His children, so loved and dear to His Heart. Much has been given to you already and yet more is waiting to be given to those children whose hearts are open and ready to receive these graces. I love you and I am sending you my priestly blessings tonight.

8/2/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. So much has been given to you by my Son. He is the way, give Him your hearts. My immaculate heart was pierced open by a sword for you. It is through my immaculate heart that I intercede for all of my children. Humble yourselves. Be contrite as you stand before the Lord your Savior, it is through His sacrifice that you were saved.

Remember this; I love you my little ones, give everything to my Son. When you pray to Him, pray from your hearts. The more you open your hearts to my Son, the more He will be able to fill them with good and holy virtues. I love you and I am interceding for you. Know this.

8/3/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, listen to what I am telling you. There are many paths that lay before you. Some of these paths are easy and feel good, other paths are difficult and littered with thorns. Do not be fooled into choosing the quick and easy road. It is in this road that many deceptions are waiting. Choose the narrow road. Yes, it is difficult. Yes, there will be thorns that are laying along your path. But this road is the road where many lessons will be learned. Forgiveness, Kindness, Patience, Mercy, this is the road that leads to my Heart. It is in my Heart that all of those thorns will be turned into roses. When you enter the Kingdom that has been created for you, all of your difficulties will be forgotten. Instead, your sorrow and tears will be turned into joy and laughter. Ponder what I am telling you. Stay close to my Heart. It is in my Heart that I wish to be united to you. I love you and I am blessing you with my priestly blessings.

8/4/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. I hold each of you, my children, in my immaculate heart. I love you. So special you are to me. I intercede for you always. It is you that now needs to kneel down and return to a life of humility and prayer. So often you find yourselves becoming distracted to the point that you forget my Son. I can assure you, He has never forgotten you, my little ones. Take what I am telling you seriously, this is the opportunity for you to choose the path that leads to my Son. Open your hearts to Him so you can hear His voice, not with your ears but with your hearts. I love you and I am sending you my motherly blessings.

8/5/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, tonight I wish to teach you again about my Mercy. I have told you my Mercy is for this generation. You are the children who need this mercy the most. So many of you have drifted away from my Heart. You are lost in your own wilderness, where you are at is dark, what you will experience in that darkness is misery, what you long for, you will not find. That is why I have come to tell you again that I am Mercy. What I am offering you is salvation, freedom from the prison you have placed yourselves in by the choices you made. Do you still not realize your choices affect the brothers and sisters that have been placed in your life? Every action has a consequence. That is why I tell you, be merciful to each other just as I am merciful to you, love one another as I have loved you, and forgive each other as I forgive you. My Heart has been opened for you. It is my love for each of you that causes me to again plead for your return to my Heart. Enter the Chambers of my Heart. The more you begin to trust, the quicker you will progress through each Chamber. But again still I tell you, never become discouraged. Discouragement is a trick the devil places in your heart so you will not try. Remember, I love you. Have I not said my yoke is easy and my burden is light? Then do not fear coming to me. I will wipe your every tear. But you must trust in me. Take refuge in my Sacred Heart. Place all of your prayers in my Heart. It is in my Third Chamber that all of your prayers will be revealed and graces given to you. Trust in me, I am the way. I love you and I am sending you my priestly blessings tonight.

8/6/2011 God the Father

My children, it is I your Heavenly Father. Grace is my gift to you during your difficult moments. A father does not abandon his child during difficult times and neither do I, I have loved you since the beginning. I will love you always and without reserve. So often you have forgotten that you are loved. You have become too accustomed to the ways of men and forgotten the ways of your God. Am I not merciful? Have I not responded to the cries of my children? Yet my ways are not your ways. Therefore, do not listen to what the world is telling you. It is teaching things that do not come from me. Instead, listen to my words. My words are truth. I love you with an everlasting love, my child. You are cherished and chosen by me. Do not forget, you have a place in my Kingdom awaiting you. Return to my Heart by giving your “yes” to me. I am. My child there is nothing else you need.

8/7/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for her people. Do not fear coming to me tonight. My Heart is open for you. Merely give me your “yes” and enter into the First Chamber and receive my blessings. Here in my First Chamber is where I wish for you to dwell. It is here that I wish to begin embracing your efforts. Your journey begins with a simple step. Deciding on which direction you will go and then moving forward. I am here with you as you move through each chamber of my heart. It is in my heart that I will feed you my flesh and blood. Here you will receive true food. I will nourish you and give you strength to endure all the obstacles that lie ahead of you. How hard it will be for my Father's children, who try and travel alone. Without food to keep themselves strong. I tell you the truth, they will fall prey to everything that comes along. They will tire very quickly and become lost. That is why I tell you to give me your "yes". Enter into my Heart. I am the narrow road that leads to your heavenly home. All who come through me will have eternal life. For truly I am the Lamb slain for her people. I love you and I am giving you my priestly blessings.

8/8/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, enter the chambers of my Sacred Heart that was pierced open for you. Give me your "yes" in every present moment and I will bless you. My child how often do you need to hear you are loved before you believe this. I never grow weary of telling you I love you. How many times must I call your name before you begin to hear me. I will call you even to the ends of the earth. It is in my Second Chamber that I give you my greatest gift, my mercy. I bathe you in my precious blood and cleanse all of your sins. It is in my Second Chamber that you are redeemed. Are you not precious to me? Yes, my child you are precious to me. That is why I laid down my very life for you, because you are precious to me. Chosen and cherished by my Father. So again I tell you do not fear entering my Second Chamber. What you lay at the foot of my cross I have already witnessed. When you are truly sorry I forgive you. A contrite sinner touches my heart. It is these very souls that please me. I see their efforts. Nothing goes unnoticed by me or my Father. Therefore, do not waste your time waiting to come to me. Come at once and receive my mercy. My mercy is for anyone who wishes to receive it. I love you and I am blessing you with my priestly blessings.

8/9/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, enter into the chambers of my Sacred Heart. It is in these very chambers that you are loved. My love for you is eternal. My Mercy for you is endless. What does it take from you to enter into my Heart? Your "yes". Your desire to be united completely to me. This comes from trust. When you begin to open your hearts and pray you will enter the Third Chamber of my Heart. In this chamber all of your prayers are revealed. Your heart is opened and I will fill you with good and holy virtues. Here you will be fed. However you must empty yourselves so that I can place my gifts in your heart. Begin to remove the clutter that has been filling your lives. This clutter may be anger towards a brother or sister. Remember everyone is your brother and your sister. Maybe pride is filling your heart. Begin to humble yourselves. Then I can fill you with the grace of humility. Everything I give you is so you can be happy. I love you. It is my desire that you spend eternity united to my Heart. That is how loved you are. You do not belong to this world. No, you belong to my Sacred Heart. It is in my Heart that you are loved. It is in my Kingdom that I wish for you to enter. But to enter Heaven you must enter through my Heart. I am the way. I love you and I am blessing your efforts tonight.

8/9/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. How dear you are to me. I love you and I place each of you in the mantel of my motherly love. Contemplate what my Son has told you tonight. Remember this is a journey. We are here to assist you. You are never alone. My children, I stand before the throne of Heaven interceding for you. It is my love that causes me to shed tears when my children walk away from what has been given to them from my Son. Please take what has been told to you seriously. There is not as much time as you think in your life. Do not wait until tomorrow to give your "yes" to my Son. You have not been given tomorrow. Give your "yes" in this present moment. You must decide for Heaven. But my dear children this is a choice only you can make. I love you and I am interceding for you. Know this.

8/10/2011 God the Father

Dear children, it is your "yes" that I seek. A father wants only what is best for their children. I am your Father. It is my wish for my children to be happy. But, what is real happiness? This is where my children are being deceived. You are being led astray by what you are hearing. This will make you happy or that will make you happy. Happiness does not come from things. Happiness comes when you share what you have with a brother or sister who has not. When you share you are placing their needs ahead of your own. You will be happy when you understand that your small sacrifice brought happiness to your siblings. I love you and I am giving you my blessing.

8/10/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, enter the chambers of my Sacred Heart pierced open for you. To enter my Fourth Chamber you must renounce yourself pick up your cross and follow me. It is in my Fourth Chamber that you learn selfless love. Here you begin to understand what it means to sacrifice yourself for your brother. In my Chamber I will give you a taste of my sacrifice for you. Yes this was difficult and yes I suffered. But are you not worthy of this gift? You are priceless to my Father's Heart. If you could begin to understand how truly loved you are you would travel through my Chambers so quickly. It is the denying of one's self that allows for virtues to grow. Here you empty yourself and give to your brother. How I desire to fill you with good things. Here is where you build treasure. Real treasure that will not rust or decay. Treasure that will only grow. What treasure is this? Your brothers and sisters reclining with you at the banquet prepared for you by my Father. There is no greater treasure than your soul. Do not forget for a moment that you were created from my Father's Heart. What greater treasure is there? Love one another and strive for this. I love you and I am blessing your efforts.

8/11/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. Your happiness comes from helping others. This is a fruit from your denying of one's self. The more you learn service to others the happier you will be. Do not look for your reward when you do a good deed. Your Heavenly Father has already seen what you have done and will reward you. My children when you seek only the reward you will soon become unhappy again. Then you will start seeking pleasure instead of true happiness. Therefore, do not seek a reward. Instead simply do a good deed for your siblings out of pure love from a heart that is pure. Then my Son will bless your efforts. Ask for help with this. We are here to help you. I love you and I am interceding for you. Know this.

8/12/2011 God the Father

My children, you were created from my Heart. It was there that I formed you. I made you in my image and likeness. You are mine. You belong to my Heart. My child you are not lost to me. You are cherished. I call out to you from the depths of my Heart. Return to where you belong. You were not created for this world. You were created out of love. You belong in Heaven with me. This is where I wish for you to dwell. But you are lost. Wandering and misguided by your will. Where is your heart? How long will you keep this hard heart of yours. How long will you put me off? I am patient. I will wait for you to change. Give me your "yes". You have been granted this moment. I have given you this as a gift from my Heart, out of love and kindness towards my wayward children. Do not remain lost to me. A father searches for their lost child. I will seek you out. I have given you my only Son as a covenant of my love for you. He opened the gate that leads to your eternal home. A home that I created for you, for your eternal happiness. It is your happiness that I wish for you to have. But you do not understand what happiness is. You still think you can create your happiness from things. This happiness comes from love alone. It is love that I wish for you to learn. I have given you each other to learn love. Yes, my lessons are not easy, nor is learning these lessons. Much pain and suffering occurs when you forget to love. But now is your opportunity to change this. Return to my Heart. Begin to see each moment as an opportunity to grow in wisdom. Trust in my providence for you. Does a father provide for his children? And yet you fail to trust in my providence for you. Trust that you are loved. I have given you this day. Be grateful. You have this moment to decide. Where will you place your heart? In things that will quickly fade or in a Father who loves you. I love you my child and I am giving you my blessing.

8/13/2011 Blessed Mother

My children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. I have come tonight to tell you again how truly loved you are. My dear little ones; each of you are so very precious to all of us. Especially your Father and my Son. You are very dear to their Hearts. So dear that no one should be lost. That is why I have come to tell you to return to a path of holiness. Look once again to my Son for guidance. Learn from the example He left you. The more you begin to resemble my Son the closer you are to becoming holy. Begin to live your lives with holy virtues. Try very hard to avoid anything that will cause you to sin. If you only knew how happy you will be in Heaven you would not take such foolish chances with your souls. Take this time seriously. Now is your opportunity to learn love and choose the will of my Son. You have been given the gift of free will. This is a gift given by your Father. Use your freedom to choose the path that leads to my Son. It is in my Son's Heart that you will have happiness. It is there that you will find peace. I love you and I am sending you my motherly blessings.

8/14/2011 St. Maximilian Kolbe

Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord. Brothers and sisters, it is I St. Maximilian Kolbe. In life you have many choices. There are many paths you may choose from, and each path will lead to an end. I am here to tell you, take the path that leads to the Lord's Heart. For some this will be a difficult choice. But when you make this choice with love, really there is no other choice to make. I chose to resemble Jesus. I followed his example and laid down my life in exchange for my brothers. I chose this out of love. Follow the example Jesus set out for everyone. I am praying for you as you continue on your journey. Keep the faith.

8/15/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. So much love I have for you my children. I united my suffering to that of my Son's on your behalf. This is what a mother does for her children who have gone astray. I gladly offer any sacrifice for my children especially when that child returns to my Son's Heart. I love you and I am sending you my motherly blessing.

8/16/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. Open your hearts to my Son tonight by giving Him your "yes" in each present moment. This is the first step on your path to my Son's Heart.

Take each step carefully as you approach every obstacle. Ask yourself will this choice lead me closer to Heaven or will it cause me to stray away from the path to my Lord's Heart?

Then choose wisely. Because my children the choice is yours to make. I am praying for you to make good and holy choices. I love you and I am sending you my motherly blessings. Know this.

8/17/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for her people. To give your "yes" freely, is to trust in my will for you. That is what I ask of my Father's children. To trust in what the Father has provided for you. This world was given to you for you to have dominion over. Yet you feel as if you have nothing. Look around at what has been given to you; opportunities to learn love. Chances to be patient. Ways to show kindness. This world is your journey, not your destination. Your journey is about the choices you make. It is your choices that will lead to your destination. I love you and I am blessing your efforts.

8/18/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for her people. Children of my Father, enter into the Chamber of my Heart that has been pierced open for you. Envelope yourselves in my Mercy. It is my Mercy that I wish to pour out onto this world. Come to me and enter into my Second Chamber. Pour out your ills and sorrows and I will forgive your sins. I will comfort you and fill you with grace. Here I will wash your garments with my Precious Blood and make you new again. I love you and I am blessing your efforts.

8/19/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for her people. Do not fear entering the Chamber of my Sacred Heart. You only need to give your “yes” to enter. Here you will find salvation. Here you will find comfort. Here you will find peace.

So much I wish to give you and so much I have already given you. But you keep choosing things over me. Where your heart is, is also where your things are. Far from my voice and yet I keep calling you. My lost sheep. I am the Good Shepard who lays down His life for His sheep. Return to my heart that has been pierced open for you.

I love you and I wish for you to place yourself in my First Chamber, opened up for you. I love you and I am blessing your efforts.

8/20/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for her people. Listen to what I am telling you. Open your hearts, look inside. What do you see? Is this the path that you are willing to take, or is there another road you should be on. If your road does not lead to my Heart then you are not following my words. Listen to my voice. I am calling you out of the desert that you have placed yourselves in. This is not where you belong. You belong to my heart. You belong to the Father. It is in our Hearts that we wish for you to reside. That is why I tell you pick up your cross and come follow me. I am meek and humble of heart. This road is a difficult one. But you do not walk alone. Do you not have angels to help light your path? Do not go where darkness prevails. Rather travel where the roads are lit. There you will not be tempted to go off course. My child, come to me when you grow weary. I will give you rest. For I have told you my yoke is easy and my burden is light. Come follow me. In my heart you will find peace. In my Heart you will find comfort. In my Heart you will find rest. I love you and I am blessing your efforts.

8/21/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, my peace I give to you. I am the Lamb slain for her people. In my Heart there are four chambers for you to advance through. It is my desire for you to dwell in each of my chambers that have been pierced open for you. I tell you the truth it is in my heart that I wish to unite myself to you. It is in the chambers of my Sacred Heart that I wish to comfort you. It is in the wall of my Heart that I have written your name. It is here that you are loved. It is here that I pour out my graces for you. It is here that I give you my Mercy. Brothers and sisters, remember that it was my Heart that blood and water poured forth for the salvation of all. Yet which of my brothers or sisters will come forth to receive my cup of salvation? When will you unite yourselves to my Heart. I am the Bread of Life. Whoever eats of my flesh and drinks my blood will have eternal life. But where are you? I call out to you tonight. Return to my Heart. It is in my chamber, that I wish for you to return. Here is where you will be forgiven of your many sins. Here I will wash you clean. Here I will nourish you. If you could only begin to understand how precious you are. What was sacrificed for your redemption? My heart is poured open for you. Simply give me your “yes” and enter. Here I will place my arms around you. Here is where you belong. I love you and I am sending you my priestly blessings tonight.

8/21/2011 God the Father

My children, it is I your Heavenly Father. Where are you tonight my child? What path have you chosen for yourself? How far away from my Heart will you allow yourself to be led, before you realize that you are being lost? My child, never should you be lost to me. I am your Father. You are mine. I love you. It was from my Heart that I created you. It was from my Son's Heart that you were redeemed. How precious you are to me. Open your eyes to the path that you are on. Then open your heart. Is this where you wish to be? My child it is time to return home to my Heart, where you belong. I love you with an everlasting love. Chosen and cherished to my Heart you will always be. I send you my blessings.

8/22/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for her people. Enter into the chambers of my Sacred Heart. Here I will comfort your sorrows. Here you will find true joy. Brothers and sisters, now is the time to learn what has been told to you. Return to my Heart. Remove all the obstacles that have become road blocks for you. Every choice you make sets the direction that you will travel. Which road will you take? Give me your “yes” and take the road that leads to my Heart. Yes, this is the road less traveled. Yes, this road can be littered with thorns. But I promise you, you are never alone. I will never abandon you. Each obstacle you encounter, on the road that leads to my Heart, I have placed to help you grow in virtues. I have placed many challenges to help you learn love. Here you will find what you have been searching for, true happiness. Gladness will reign in the hearts of all who remain steadfast on the road to my Heart. This road will lead you home where you belong. In my heart you will wander no more. I love you and I am blessing your efforts.

8/22/2011 Blessed Mother

My children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. I bring you glad tidings. I am joyful when my little ones work so hard striving for the Kingdom. I know that this is difficult for you at times. That is why I encourage you to continue praying from your hearts. Pray constantly for my Son to bring you graces as you travel along your road. Know that I am interceding for you constantly before the throne of your Heavenly Father on your behalf. I love you my dear little ones. Never travel far from my Son's Heart. Keep close to him through the sacraments. Remember to keep family prayer time a priority for yourselves. This is how you will keep your families nourished in faith. My Son has the words of everlasting life. It is wise to listen to all He has told you and keep His words close to your heart always. Then you will not fall away. I love you and I am sending you my motherly blessings tonight.

8/23/2011 Jesus

Come to me all who are weary and I will give you rest. Brothers and sisters, do not fear entering the chambers of my Heart. My Heart was pierced open for you. I bore my cross willingly for all mankind. I did this for your freedom from sin. Your freedom from eternal death. How I long for all my Father's Children to return to my Sacred Heart. That is why I tell you do not fear. Though your sins are many my Mercy is even more than your many sins. Brothers and sisters, you will walk a long road with many obstacles set in front of you. Each step comes with a choice. This choice always remains yours. Again I tell you, you do not journey this road alone. Your angel remains steadfast at your side helping to light the way. But you have been given the gift of free will from my Father. Even your angel can not interfere with your decision. They can only help offer you support and encouragement as you decide. That is why I am telling you, you are loved. So dearly by all of us. You have been given each present moment to choose what is good and holy. I will always be here when you fall. Simply come to me with a repentant heart and I will forgive you. I will place you in my Second Chamber where I will wash you clean and pour out my Mercy to you. I will give you graces to help you avoid the same mistake, when that obstacle once again comes along in your path. Do you see how loved you are? Do you understand that you are truly never alone on your journey? This is your journey with your choices to make. Remember you are loved as you make each choice. I love you and I am sending you my priestly blessings.

8/25/2011 Blessed Mother

Dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. Blessed is the holy name of my Son, Jesus. My children, how often you take the name of my Son in vain. You have been careless in keeping the commandments. My children you must not become lax in your faith. My Son will judge you by the choices you make. Keep God's commandments holy. When you love your God above all else you will no longer offend Him. Instead you will speak His name with loving praise. Work hard to not offend my Son. Pray from your heart everyday. Keep close to my Son always. Then you will comfort Him instead of wounding Him. I love you my dear children. I am praying for you. Give my Son your "yes" tonight. I am sending you my motherly blessings. Know this.

8/26/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, tonight I call you to enter the chambers of my Sacred Heart pierced open for you. Place yourself in my First Chamber by giving me your "yes" in this present moment. Here I will bless your efforts. Here is where we begin our journey together. When you enter my Heart, I will dwell with you. In my Heart you never walk alone. I will guide you gently along your path. When you fall simply come to me and I will place you in my Second Chamber and wash off all of your soil. I will heal your wounds with my Precious Blood and I will place my Mercy in your soul. Here you will be comforted and I will wipe away your tears. Ask of me anything. In my Third Chamber I place all of your secret desires (prayers hidden from the world) Nothing is hidden from me. I love you infinitely. Every prayer is known by me before the prayer falls from your lips. I will answer your prayer if it yields fruit for your journey. Remember my desire for you is your return home. Home is where you will be comforted. To enter my Fourth and final Chamber you must reach an understanding of selfless love. Here is where the Kingdom is built, with one act of kindness. Here I will remember every good deed done out of love for your brother. I will reward you. I have told you, there is no sacrifice that is too great or too small, when done with a loving heart. A pure heart that seeks no attention for itself. Your heavenly reward will be great. It was from my Heart that I laid down my life for your freedom. This sacrifice was indeed great. But what value would this have if it was done out of anything but love. What makes a gift valuable, is the love behind the gift. So I ask you to strive very hard for my Fourth Chamber. I love you and I am blessing your efforts.

8/27/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for her people. Whoever eats of my flesh and drinks of my blood will have eternal life. I will make my dwelling with them and they will reside in my Heart. Brothers and sisters, entering into my Sacred Heart begins with your “yes”. When you begin to humble yourselves like little children you will begin to see what is at stake. The road to my Heart begins with your “yes” in each present moment. To begin giving me your “yes” you must deny yourself, take up your cross, and come follow me. I tell you the truth. If you do not begin to remove the pride from your hearts, you will never learn the things I am telling you. Pride is a deafness to the soul. You only hear what you want to and you ignore the difficulties. But haven't I said that graces come from bearing difficult crosses? Learning begins when you humble yourselves and open your hearts. My words are only difficult if you choose to remain steeped in your sinful ways. But I am asking you to walk in the light. Here the path will lead to my Sacred Heart. The obstacles will help you learn and you will yield much along the way. Love everyone I have placed in your lives. Yes, I mean everyone. If this is difficult for you simply look up to me. Recall how I loved you even to my death. Are you always easy to love? Love each other. This I have commanded you to do. I love you and I am sending my priestly blessings to you.

8/27/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. You are very dear to my immaculate heart. I love you and I am praying for you. Offer me your prayers and I will give them to my Son like rose petals. So many graces can be obtained from sacrifices done with a loving heart. Even the smallest sacrifice can earn many graces. Pray from your hearts.

8/28/2011 St. Michael

Holy people it is I St. Michael, coming to awaken mankind from his slumber. Arise and take notice of what is surrounding you. You have been asked, if you are on the correct road that leads to your Lord and King. You are a holy people who need to have strong faith. I have come to help light your path. If the road you are traveling causes you to fall into sin, you need to stop and change direction. There is only one road that leads to Heaven and that is through Jesus Christ. He is the Risen King, who was slain for your salvation, has become the gate you must enter through. Rely on the heavenly help that has been offered to you. We are here to help guide you on your journey. But you must wake up and put on the armor of virtues. Then you will be ready when the Lord calls you. I St. Michael am guarding you.

8/29/2011 Blessed Mother

My children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. How happy a mother is when their children are growing healthy and strong. Parents work very hard at providing their children healthy things to eat. They try to help their children learn about the world and keep them safe from danger. I am your mother and this is what I want for you my dear children. I want you to fill your souls with good and holy things. I wish for you to learn the many lessons that are being given to you each night. I desire that you grow in your faith. Most importantly, I wish for you to stay far from the dangers of sin. Your souls are so very precious. Work very hard at tending to them just as you would a prized flower. I wish for you to be in Heaven with me. But this choice is yours to make. I pray for you to choose wisely and make good and holy choices. Then your souls will be healthy. I love you and I am interceding for you always.

8/29/2011 Jesus

I am the Lamb slain for her people. Brothers and sisters, I send you my blessings. Remember how loved you are. My Heart is the door which you must go through. Give me your "yes" tonight and enter the chambers of my Sacred Heart pierced open for you I love you and I am blessing your efforts.

8/30/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I call each of you to enter my Kingdom. My Kingdom was created for you from my Father. Dear brothers and sisters, out of the depths of my Heart I call you each by name. How loved you are by me. This is why I ask you, to love each other as I have loved you.

Learn from the lessons you are being given. Each lesson details the different parts of the journey, that you are taking. Where does this road lead you to? It is my desire that the road you choose leads to my Heart. But this choice is yours to make. You are free to choose that road. I love you and I am blessing your decisions.

8/30/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. How loved you are by everyone in Heaven. Everyone is waiting joyfully for your coming home. This is where you belong dear children. Continue to make good and holy choices. I love you and I am interceding for you always. Know this.

8/31/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for her people. Tonight I ask you this question. Where are you right now in this present moment? Ponder this. I love you and I am sending you my priestly blessings.

8/31/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. So great are your fears. Be not afraid. My Son has a merciful forgiving Heart. Simply turn to Him and ask for forgiveness. Then pray very hard for the grace to overcome your sinful ways. My children if you only knew how much I loved you. You would dance for joy. I am praying for your conversion to my Son's Sacred Heart. The quicker you reconcile yourself with my Son the faster you will move through the Chambers of His Heart. I love you my dear little ones. Know this.

8/31/2011 St. Michael

Holy people it is I St. Michael, coming to sound my trumpet in the hearts of all mankind. Awake from your slumber and realize what is at stake. Your very souls are being left unguarded by you. You have left your house desolate. Be ready, for you do not know the hour when your Risen King will call your name. I am watching over any child that calls out to me for my intercession. You are loved by all of Heaven. Remember this.

9/1/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I say to each of you unless you let a grain of wheat fall to the earth and die, it will just be a grain of wheat. But when you die to yourself just like that grain, much will grow. You are children of my Father. You must learn to die of yourselves. This happens when you begin to fast from the things you desire. The more you are willing to sacrifice the quicker you will grow in virtues. A robin builds a nest for her future young. You are building a nest in your souls for your future and that of your children. The greater your nest the more love it will hold. Then your brothers and sisters can reside with you. Build your faith. I love you and I am blessing your efforts.

9/2/2011 Jesus

Be still and know I am with you. Even till the ends of the earth. Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for her people. Do not look to the end of your road. Instead simply look at what is right before you. A task can seem daunting when looked at in its entirety. But if you take that same task and proceed step by step, you will complete it with very little difficulty. This is how I wish for you to view your prayer life. Take each prayer one word at a time. Focus on each word and let that word sit on your lips for a moment. Then place it in your heart. Truly, if you pray from your heart, much merit will be gained with that prayer. I love you and I am blessing your efforts tonight.

9/3/2011 Blessed Mother

My children it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. Know that you are dear to my immaculate heart. I am always interceding for you my little ones. You must learn to pray from your hearts.

Prayer is very important and must not be overlooked. Pray until your prayers become joyful to you. Listen to my Son. Read his words often. Use Him as an example everyday. He is your brother and King. Is He not a good role model for you? Strive to resemble Him in each moment. I love you and I am sending you my motherly blessings. Know this.

9/3/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, tonight I ask each of you to draw near to me and enter the chambers of my Sacred Heart by giving me your “yes” in each present moment. So much I have given and there is still so much I wish to give. But you must open your hearts to receive these graces. Love one another, then you will grow in virtues. The more you love the more you will resemble me. I love you and I am sending you my priestly blessings.

9/4/2011 God the Father

My children, it is I your Heavenly Father. Where are you at my child? Have you wandered off your path or are you staying straight? Everything around you, I have placed in your path. Nothing you choose goes unnoticed by me. I love you and I hold you dear to my Heart. I created you from the depths of my love. And from the depths of that love I give you mercy. Come to me. Never be afraid. So much do I wish for all my children to give me their “yes” in every moment. You do not know how many more moments you may have before I call you home. Live each moment as if you are waiting for my call. Then you will spend your moments that you have been given wisely. It is a foolish man that wanders about never looking for opportunities to do my will. My child do not be foolish. Stay straight on the path I have placed you on. Take every opportunity given to you, to do my will. Then when I call you out of your wilderness, you will be ready to come home and join me in the feast, I have prepared for you since the beginning of time. I love you with an everlasting love. Chosen and cherished, you will always be to my heart.

9/5/2011 St. Paul

Greetings dear brothers and sisters, it is I St. Paul, sending you greetings from Heaven. I have come to tell you strive for holiness. Remove all doubt from your hearts then your obstacles will become easier for you to also remove. Christ your Risen King is Lord of all. He has come to redeem the lost children. Return to your Father’s Heart where you belong. You have seen how difficult this journey can be without a strong prayer life. How quickly you can become lost. Do not wait for tomorrow to change your hearts. Change them now. I too was lost. Do not wait for tomorrow to change your hearts. Change them now. Believe the words of Jesus Christ. He is True King and True Shepherd. He will call you out of darkness and bring you into the light. Brothers and sisters be ready for His call. I love you and I am praying for your willingness to have changed hearts. Love and serve each other. Then you will be serving your Lord.

9/6/2011 St. Paul

Dear brothers and sisters it is I St. Paul, sending you greetings from Heaven. Take your prayer life with much seriousness. Everything that has been given to you are graces to help you grow in faith. But to grow in faith and prosper with the graces given to you begins with a strong prayer life. Everything grows from here. How do you grow in your prayer life? By keeping the commandments given to us by Jesus. Love your God with all your heart mind and soul and love your neighbor as yourself. The rest will fall into place from here. So I ask each of you to stay strong. Keep your faith alive through a strong prayer life and trust in the one True King Jesus Christ, who is truly risen. May He bless each of you as you journey your way towards home. I love you and I am sending you my prayers tonight.

9/7/2011 Jesus

Dear brothers and sisters, how often I call out to each of you, my Father's children and yet you still do not hear me. Your world has become too noisy and you have allowed yourselves to become too distracted. Begin to open your hearts and build a strong prayer life. Take this opportunity to use the time you have been given wisely. You have been given this day and still you waste much of it in idle pleasure, forgetting where you belong. How many times I have said you do not belong to this world. No, you belong to my Father. You belong to me. My Sacred Heart has been pierced open for you. You only need to give me your "yes" and enter my First Chamber. So much I have awaiting the soul that returns to my Heart. Dear brothers and sisters, if you do not believe these words then merely look at my wounds. Is that not proof enough for you? I love you. Change the direction you are going and choose the path that leads to my Heart. My yoke is easy and my burden is light. When you return to my Heart then you will hear me calling you out of your wilderness. I am the Good Shepard who laid down His life for His sheep. I know my sheep and my sheep know me. My child you are my sheep. I love you and I am sending you my priestly blessings.

9/8/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. Today I especially call you to live your lives prayerfully. Always seek my Son in everything you do. Ask the Holy Spirit for the wisdom to choose wisely. In every choice seek the Kingdom first. My dear little ones, you are so important to me. I love you so much and I want what is best for you. That is why I again plead with you to live holy and virtuous lives. Let your lives be an example of love. Always try to resemble my Son as you walk along your road. Begin each day with a prayer giving your "yes" to God. End each evening the same way. Remember to treat each other with love. You are each other's brothers and sisters. Remember this, I love you and I am interceding for you.

9/9/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I came down to join you here on earth. I took upon myself all of your transgressions. I laid bare everything before my Father and interceded for you on your behalf. Blessed are my Father's children who have accepted my words into their hearts. For truly blessed are they. I shall remember them before my Father. For those children who continue to turn a deaf ear to my words I caution you to repent and turn away from your wickedness or I will say to you, I do not know you. I will deny you before my Father, who is all-righteous. For this is the reason I came into this world. I will separate the sheep from the wolves. I will call the righteous from the wicked. Where are you tonight? Listen for my voice. I am the Good Shepherd. I know my sheep and my sheep know me. My child you are my sheep. Return to my Heart. Then you will also return to my Father's Heart. For I am in the Father and the Father is in me. I love you and I am sending you my priestly blessings tonight.

9/10/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for her people. Listen to this story: There was a farrier who took great care of many horses. Around the town he would go fitting horses properly for their shoes. He took great pride in his work. That is what the kingdom of heaven is like. Each child properly cared for.

Great pride is in the hearts of all when a child comes home to receive their just reward. My child what reward are you seeking. That of men or of me Where your treasure lies there too does your heart lie. I love you and I am sending you my priestly blessings.

9/11/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, enter through the Chambers of my Heart that has been pierced open for you. Much hatred exists in your world because you have yet to gain an understanding of how loved you are by your Heavenly Father. If you understood the value of your soul you would also understand the value of your brother's soul. Then hatred would not exist. Only love would. This cannot be understood while you are here. This can only be understood when you are in Heaven, because you will be with your Father. In Heaven only love resides. Strive for Heaven in every choice you make. I tell you this because this is where you belong. Here is where you are loved. Here is where all of your tears will be wiped dry. Begin to love one another. Then you will be living your heaven here on earth. You will light the way for your brothers and sisters. I love you and I am blessing your efforts tonight.

9/12/2011 St. Michael

Dear holy people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound my trumpet and awaken the hearts of all mankind. Arise from your slumber. Now is the time to open your hearts to the one True King. He is Lord of all. Ask for help as you journey down your roads. We are here to assist you. Now is the time to awaken yourselves and see where you are headed. Which direction do you plan on going?

Head in the direction that leads to the voice of the Shepherd. Do not busy yourself with idle things. Instead choose to spend your time following in the foot-steps of the Lord. There you will follow Him straight to Heaven. Pray from your hearts and heed His call.

9/13/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, turn away from the evil, that is causing you to turn your backs on the gifts I am offering you. I have come to offer you salvation. I have come to offer you freedom from the bondage of sin. For you have I laid myself bare before mankind and my Father. For you did I offer myself as a holocaust. This I did my child, because you are loved. So chosen and cherished are you to my Father. Your very soul is a wonderment yet you do not see this in yourself or that of your brothers and sisters. I will break your hearts of stone. You are blind to the things of God. Open your eyes and look at what has been offered to you. A feast at the table of plenty. I have given you my body as true food. I have given you my blood as true drink. Nothing has been spared for your salvation. Listen to my words. I have the words of everlasting life. My child who ever believes in me will have eternal life. I will call your name. I love you and I am sending you my priestly blessings. Know this.

9/14/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Good Shepard who laid down His life for His sheep. I know my sheep and my sheep know me. I ask you again, to evaluate where you are at, on your journey. What are you choosing when you are presented with obstacles that require you to make a choice. Are you thinking of your eternal soul? Have you pondered the value of who you are? You have heard that you are chosen and cherished by my Father. This is truth. Take these words into your heart when you are deciding your choices set before you on your journey. What lies ahead for you will be determined by the choices you are making. Do not fear your decisions. If your choice causes you to move away from my Heart, repent and fall to your knees. I will forgive a repentant sinner. I will place you in the Second Chamber of my Sacred Heart. There you will receive my mercy and graces to help you better choose next time. I love you and I am sending you my priestly blessings.

9/15/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, it is I, your Heavenly King, coming to call your name. Listen to my words. You have journeyed a long distance and still you are far from where you need to be. Silence yourselves so you can hear my words in your hearts. I am calling my Father's children. I am calling you to return to our Hearts, united in love for you. The chosen children of my Father. Chosen and cherished in His Heart for all eternity. Yet you do not comprehend this even though your ears hear these words. So much love do I have for each of you. So unique are you in the Kingdom. This is where you belong. Here is where your home is. Return to my Father's Heart.

9/15/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. How special you are to my immaculate heart pierced with seven sorrows for you. Each sorrow caused me much suffering. Yet I suffer more for my children who remain lost. How bitterly it wounds my heart when a child turns their back on my Son. So much has been offered for you dear children. Pray very hard for each other. You do not know the value of your prayers. Even the tiniest prayer will earn much merit, when prayed with a loving heart. I love you my dear children. Know that I am always interceding on your behalf. I love you and I am placing each of you under my mantle of motherly love. Know this.

9/16/2011 Jesus

Dear brothers and sisters, it is I your Heavenly King opening my Heart that was pierced for you. Offer me your "yes" and enter into the First Chamber where you will be blessed. Come and dwell with me and I will dwell with you. By giving me your "yes" you are opening the door for me to enter into your heart. Here I will give you graces to break your heart of stone.

Whoever asks shall receive. Whoever seeks will find. Whoever wants, it will be given to him. But I tell you, I will come knocking on the door to your heart. Whoever hears me and opens the door I will enter and dwell with him. But whoever does not open the door to his heart I will not enter. Woe to that child who will not receive what is being offered. He will be left alone with his many things that will turn to dust before his very eyes. I love you and I am sending you my priestly blessings. Know this.

9/17/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. How many of my children try to comfort the hearts of their mothers. Yet my heart was pierced with a sword and still I receive little comfort. I remain this way because of the lack of faith you have for your Risen King. My Son who gave up His very life for your salvation. You turn a deaf ear to His words and my pleas for your return go unchanged.

Your hearts have grown hard, this will not change until you give your “yes” to my Son. When you unite yourselves to Him, graces will be poured into your hearts. Love and peace will again return to your world. But you must stop thinking you have forever to start. My children your time here is limited. None of you have been given tomorrow. That is why I implore you to change at once. Open your hearts and return to my Son. I am constantly praying and interceding for you. But I need your prayers and sacrifices also. Pray from your hearts. Pray without ceasing. Wars can end when the hearts of men return to God. If you wish to comfort me then return to a life of prayer. I love you and I am sending you my motherly blessings. Know this.

9/18/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for her people. Come and enter into the Chambers of my Sacred Heart. Here you will find comfort. Remove your garment of pride and clothe yourself in humility. How can I turn away any child that comes to me with a humble contrite heart? For such children my Mercy flows out of my Sacred Heart. Their gentleness soothes the many offenses committed against me. Do not be afraid to draw near. My Mercy far out weighs your sins. In my Second Chamber I will wash your soul clean. I will dress you in my Mercy and graces. The longer you remain in my Heart the more you will resemble me. Let my Heart become your home. Here you are loved. Ask of me anything. If it is within my will for you I will grant it. Especially when asked during the three o clock hour. Here is where my Mercy is poured out for all who come to receive it. Ask and I will place you in my Third Chamber. I love you and I am sending you my priestly blessings.

9/19/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. Have joy in your hearts always. You will have joy every time you give your “yes” to my Son, your Risen King. I love you dear little ones. I am your mother and I only desire what is beneficial to your soul. I am always interceding before the throne of Heaven for each of you my children. I love you and I am sending you my motherly blessings. Know this.

9/19/2011 Jesus

I am the Lamb slain for her people. Brothers and sisters, each step in your journey begins with a decision. A choice. I have come to place this in your heart. Make your choice that of Heaven. Place Heaven always first in your hearts. You will do this by choosing to give me your yes with each step you take. There will be many choices along the road you journey. You will sometimes fall. When you do look up and ask for my help. I will give you my Merciful Heart and lead the way. I will give you the graces necessary for you to remain steadfast. My child you are never alone on your journey. Help is every where you ask. But you need to ask. Clothe yourself with humility. That will be your armor when temptation strikes. I love you and I am sending you my priestly blessings.

9/20/2011 Jesus

Dear brothers and sisters, it is I your Heavenly King. Where are you at? So often I ask you this because you become so easily distracted. You start very strong and quickly fade. You are like seed scattered on rocky ground. Plant yourself firmly in my Heart. Then you will not tire so quickly. Take each step with much love for everyone I have placed on your path. Then you can grow in virtues. The more you do for the least of my Father's children the further I will place you in the Fourth Chamber of my Heart. It is in my Fourth Chamber that I wish for you to strive for. Here I will reward you with treasures that will not rust or fade away. Build up your treasure. That is my desire for you. This I have commanded. Love each other, as I have loved you. I love you and I am blessing you with my priestly blessing.

9/21/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. I ask you tonight in particular to pray and fast for the conversion of your world to my Son's Sacred Heart. Begin first by giving your "yes" and living the messages that have been given to you. The more you open your hearts and learn to love the quicker you will grow in virtues. Then you will live good and holy lives. You will be happy because you will be filled with God's love. No longer will you have your hearts filled with things. Begin to pray and fast. I ask you too fast in particular on Fridays. When you fast begin with prayer, offering everything to my Son. Keep nothing for yourselves. Offer all of your graces for the return of your families to my Son your Risen King who is, was and will always be. I love you and I am sending you my motherly blessings tonight.

My dear people, it is I your Heavenly King. Brothers and sisters, where is your journey taking you tonight? How often are you asking yourself this question? I can assure you it is not often enough. You grow weary so easily, because you do not armor yourself with prayer. You rely on your own defenses and no longer seek help from me. Am I not here? Do I not have your best interest at heart? How long did I ponder, where I was at when I bore your transgressions on my cross? Is it too much to ask you to ponder this also? I tell you, not even for a moment did you escape my thoughts. I held each of you in my Heart. That very same Heart that was pierced open. My Heart where blood and water poured forth for the salvation of all mankind. Is this not the same Heart that I have taken you on a journey through? Is it not my desire to place you in each of my four Chambers? My child you are loved. You are not forgotten. But you are asleep. You are ill and have yet to realize this. The sooner you return to my Heart the quicker I will place my Mercy in your soul and heal your afflictions. Yes, your great pride. Clothe yourself with a humble heart. Then you will see me. I love you and I am sending you my priestly blessings.

9/23/2011 Jesus

My dear people, it is I your Heavenly King. Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for her people. I sit on the throne of Heaven. I sit at the right hand of my Father. All of His Kingdom, He has given to me. I rule as the Just Judge and the Merciful Savior. Tonight I come to you as the Merciful Savior. Open your hearts to me and be not afraid. Do not fear coming to me with your many transgressions. My Mercy far outweighs whatever your many sins may weigh. But do not delay. Do not hang onto your sins. I will come as the Just Judge. Whatever grudge you hold against your brother forgive immediately. Make recompense to this brother and seek his forgiveness as well. Then I will hold no grudges against you. Truly I tell you the measuring stick you use against your brothers will be the same stick I use against you. No one is perfect except the Father. But I say to you, go and win over your brother's heart. Then your reward will be great. Go and be perfect just as your Heavenly Father is perfect. I love you and I am blessing your efforts in this.

9/24/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. Prayer is your weapon to defeat the devil. When you are tempted to choose what will lead you away from my Son, pray. Ask my Son for the graces to overcome your stumbling blocks. Then the devil will flee. Say the name of my Son often with complete love and reverence. So much has He offered to His Heavenly Father on your behalf. I too pray to my Son on your behalf. When you pray from the heart your prayers rise up to the throne of God like incense. My children pray from your hearts. Let every word be a joyful song to the Lord. Then He will bless you. I love you my little ones. I am always interceding for you. Know this.

9/25/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for her people. Where are you at tonight my child? Do you hear me calling you unto my Heart? Or have you journeyed in the wrong direction. Walking further and further away from me. I am the way. Whoever comes to me shall not fear. For I am meek and humble of heart. Rest in my love for you. Listen to my words. I love you. Change from the direction you are going. Each moment I wish to unite myself to you. Simply give me your “yes” and enter into my Sacred Heart. I have a dwelling place for you. Simply say “yes” and enter. Here all of your sins will be washed clean. Here all of your worries will be comforted. Every prayer will be revealed and all of your good deeds will be brought to light. Truly I am the way. To enter the Father you must come through me. So again I ask you where are you at tonight? Place yourself in the Chambers of my Heart where every tear will be wiped dry. Where you will never hunger or thirst again. I am the Bread of Life. I love you and I am sending you my priestly blessings.

9/26/2011 God the Father

My dear children, it is I your Heavenly Father. Tonight I have come to tell you do not be lost in your wilderness. My child I have not forsaken you. On the contrary I have come to seek you out. A father does not leave a child alone in the dark to fend for himself. Likewise a father does not leave the bedside of a sick child. So much do I wish for you to understand that I am your Father. I do care about all your needs. I hear the cries of my lost children. But you are not lost to me. I know where you are at. It is you who have lost the way. You have distracted yourselves. You are like children who became so engrossed in what they were doing that you forgot to go home when the street lamps went on and now you are wandering in the dark. My children all you need to do is call out to me, I am there. My love will once again light your way to my Eternal Heart. Simply stop and call out to me. I love you my child and I hold you so dearly to my Eternal Heart. Remember this.

9/27/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I pour out my graces to any child that humbles himself and gives me their “yes”. Begin each day by uniting yourself to my cross. This cross is your salvation. Do not be like the prideful children who refuse to carry their crosses. They simply attempt to drag them behind with much complaint. No my child, I desire that you carry your cross robed in humility. Then I will lift you up. The more you resemble me here, the more you will resemble me in my glory. Humble yourselves always. I ask you to bare whatever trials I send you. Trust in my providence. Everything has been given to me by my Father. I wish to give much to you. Begin to trust in me for everything. Even when your cross seems unbearable, know that I am here. I love you. Simply call out to me and I will place you in the Chambers of my Heart. I will unite myself to you. Know that I am the Merciful Savior that bore everything for your salvation. If you wish to follow me, you must deny yourself, pick up your cross and then come follow me. I love you and I am sending you my priestly blessings tonight.

9/28/2011 St. Michael

My dear people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound my trumpet and awaken mankind from his slumber. Arise and take notice of what is before you. The King of Glory has risen. Alleluia. Take this time to put aside your idle pleasures and focus on the messages that you are receiving. This is the map that leads to the Heart of your Savior. Take your map and place your trust in your Risen King. He has conquered death and won your salvation. No longer are you a hostage to death. For He came to free you from your chains of bondage. Rejoice in this. You are a holy people of God. Live each moment that has been given. Now is the time to begin building your treasure in Heaven. Call on us to assist you as you journey each day. Every moment belongs to the Lord. Offer Him your “yes” in each and every moment. I love you and praying for your safe journey towards the Kingdom. May our Risen Lord bless you and send you His peace.

9/29/2011 God the Father

My dear people, it is I your Heavenly Father. How often I wait for my children to return to my Eternal Heart. My child how long will you continue to wander about seeking what will only harm you. If you ask me for a fish, will I give you anything less? But you do not even ask for this. You remain silent and prideful. Pride is what causes you to have a hardened heart. It is only when you humble yourselves and become like children that your hearts grow soft. My child how I wish to break your hearts of stone and give you hearts for loving. But you must offer me your “yes”. I have given you the gift of free will. That is why you must choose your path. My wish is for you to say “yes” and return to me. To leave behind your wickedness. Return to a holy life. Do you remember that you are dear to me? That I created you out of love. You are chosen and cherished by me for all eternity. I wish for nothing to separate us. But my gift to you is the freedom to make your own choices. Yes, even if that choice is to walk away from everything I am offering you. I am a jealous God, I wish for you to remain in me. I love you with justice and mercy. My child ask for my Mercy. I love you with an everlasting love. I give you my blessings tonight. I love you.

10/1/2011 St. Theresa of Liseux

Dear children of the Father, it is I St. Theresa, sending you warm greetings from Heaven. I wish to ask each of you to take notice of the people that have been placed in your lives. How can you be a servant to them. Do not try to do things that are so difficult that you are discouraged quickly. Try a smile or kind word. Offer that kindness to Jesus. Everything you do for others matters. Yes, even the simple smile can brighten a brother or sister’s day. Smile often and be cheerful. Forgive quickly. That is very important. It is so easy to wish to hold a grudge and be angry. It is much harder to forgive. But that is how you will progress quickly to Heaven. I love each of you children and I am praying for each of you.

10/2/2011 Jesus

Come to me all who are weary and I will give you rest. For my yoke is easy and my burden light. Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for her people. Do not place heavy burdens on others. Rather spend your time trying to lift your brother’s load. Is it not better to help one another? I ask you, what good does it do a man who has two coats when he can only wear one? How much better is it to give away what you have excess of. Then others will benefit from your kindness. Kindness is a great virtue to practice. All who practice this I will place in my Fourth Chamber. Then I will reward your act with kindness in return. I have told you what you do for the very least, you do for me. Even the smallest kindness will gain you much merit. You will be learning selfless love. Something you are very much in need of learning. I love you and I am blessing your efforts. Know this.

10/2/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. How happy I am when my children are working very hard. So much time is wasted. Let your work be an example of your faith. Be vigilant. Always work from a loving heart. Then everything you do will become a joy for you. I love you my little ones. Know this.

10/3/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for her people. Today you view your world as if you are advantaged. Yet there is so much you are lacking. You lack faith. Your riches are man made and not from Heaven. What good will all of your advantages get you when you are standing before me in judgment? Where will your treasures be, when I call you from your journey? Brothers and sisters do not be fooled into thinking that you are full. I tell you the truth, what you think you have, can be gone in an instant. You must begin to build treasure that will last; kindness, mercy and love. Do not build a castle for yourself that will crumble. Instead build your faith. Then you will stand strong when the wind blows. Listen carefully to my words. I love you and I am blessing your efforts.

10/4/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, it is I your Heavenly King, coming to call all of my Father's children. No one is least in my Father's Kingdom. No one is least in my Heart. I love you and place my mercy into your souls. You only need to trust in my love and return to my Heart to receive this. I tell you the truth, no matter how hardened the sinner, I will not turn away a contrite heart. Simply give me your "yes" and enter my Heart that was pierced open for you. Brothers and sisters, do not rationalize away your difficulties and think I will not call your attention to these errors. It is when you begin to recognize your wrong doing that you can begin to change. To become humble of heart, you must give up your pride. How can you do this if you are blind to your sins. Ask me to open your eyes. I will do this and much more. I will melt your hearts of stone. I will give you the grace of a repentant heart. Then you can come to me and be truly sorry. If you only knew how much love I wish to shower on you. How ready I am to welcome you home, in my arms. My Mercy is for you. But you must ask for this. Come to me with your troubles and concerns. I will never abandon you in your hour of need. I am beside you waiting for you to reach out. Trust in my love for you. Trust in my words. If still you do not believe then look at my wounds. My child you are loved. Believe this. I love you and I am sending you my priestly blessings tonight.

10/5/2011 St. Faustyna Kowalska

Dearest children, it is I St. Faustyna, wishing you well. I have come tonight to reassure you of your victory over the devil. Every time you trust in Jesus you become victorious over the devil. So I wish to assure you of this. Trust, was what I recorded in my diary. These words have not changed. They were and are the same. Trust, the Lord is Merciful. Simply trust in His Mercy. Be obedient to the commands given to us by our Heavenly Father. Those commandments have gone unchanged also. Did not Jesus tell us the world will end but His words will never end? Then remove the doubt that lingers in your hearts and simply trust Him with everything. I love you and I too am praying for each of you. May the Lord's Mercy descend into your very souls and may you trust in this very Mercy.

10/6/2011 God the Father

My dear people, it is your Heavenly Father. Look up. You see the many stars that I have placed in the night sky. You wonder with such amazement. So numerous are the stars that they cannot be counted by mankind. Yet I know the exact number. Just as I know the very number of strands of hair on each of my children's head. Do not compare yourself to anything. You are as unique as a snowflake that falls to the earth. My child no matter how small and insignificant you may feel at times, you are priceless to my Heart. That is why I have said you are chosen and cherished. I have chosen you. You did not choose me. Cherished, the value of you, cannot be measured. Even with all the time that you can comprehend right now, you could never begin to comprehend such love I have for you. That is why I ask you to trust in your Father. Trust in my providence for you. I take care of the birds in the sky, can you not expect that you are so much more to me? I created you from my love. It is my love that I placed in your soul. Then I set you free. I gave you the gift to freely love me or not. Understand free will is a gift, because you are my child. My hope is for you to begin to see what you have been given. To begin to open your hearts and eyes. To accept my love and return to my arms where you belong. I have created all of this for you. My child you are loved. Chosen and cherished by me. I love you and I am giving you my blessing.

10/7/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. If you wish to enter Heaven you must enter through my Son. He is the gate. His love opened the door that had been locked. This was done because Heaven was created for you. You do not belong to the earth. You belong to your Father. My children, I love you. Prayer is how you begin to enter in communion with my Son. Your prayers need not be wordy or difficult. Pray simply from the heart.

Focusing all of your attention on your Lord. Pray from your hearts. The more you pray the more prayer will become a joy for you. Then you will begin living your heaven on earth. My children, I am your mother. It is my most ardent desire that all of my children return to my Son's Heart. Thereby returning to the Father's Heart. Simply give your "yes" in every moment. Then my Son will bless you and you will begin to enter into the chambers of His Heart. Pray my children. Pray for peace in your hearts. Peace in your families and peace in your homes. Know that I am interceding for you before the throne of my Son. Offer me your prayers and I will bring them to my Son in my apron of motherly love. I love you and I am praying for you. I send you my motherly blessings. Know this.

10/8/2011 God the Father

My dear people, it is I your Heavenly Father. I ask you to travel down the road with confidence that I will provide for all your needs. My love will be your guide. My angels will help light your path. Never are you alone on this journey. Whatever is needed by you I will provide. Trust in this. Is it not my desire for you to be with me always? If I provide for the birds in the sky, who are not my children, how much more will I do for you. You are my children. Chosen and cherished by me. I have called you out of nothingness and set a blaze in your heart. However it is you that must believe that my love for you is a flame in your spirits. In my image I made you. Out of love I created you. You are mine. You belong to me. Yet I have bestowed the gift of free will. To freely love me or not. To choose my will or walk away from all that I have prepared for you. My child if you only knew, what my love for you, has awaiting to every child that calls me Father. I unite myself to you through my covenant. I have blessed you and made you my people. You are my child and I love you. Return to my Heart and give me your "yes" in every present moment. I love you and I give you my blessings.

10/9/2011 St. Paul

Praise be Jesus Christ, who is the Lamb slain for her people. Brothers and sisters, it is I St. Paul, sending you greetings from Heaven. Some of you are traveling a great distance towards the Heart of Jesus. While others have become stuck in their sinful ways. Still others have turned a blind eye to the path laid before them. Brothers and sisters take heart, for this is a journey. Wherever you are at, you are not alone. We are all called to help each other. No one travels alone. Give your "yes" to the Father and He will give you the graces necessary to continue moving forward. Do not look back you cannot change where you have been. Do not look ahead for the road may change direction. Instead focus on hearing your Shepherd calling out to you. Go where He leads you. Follow Him always, for in Jesus Christ is truth. He is the very door you must enter through. For now, focus on the present moment. Offer everything to your Risen King. Ask of Him anything and trust that He will give you everything you need. I am praying for you as you continue your journey. I love you and I send you my prayers and blessings.

10/10/2011 God the Father

My dear children, it is I your Heavenly Father. Hear my voice and take my words into your heart. You are priceless to me. I am your Father. It is out of the depths of my love that I called you into being. Hear this so you may begin to believe that I am your God and you are my people. Chosen by me. A father does not leave his children abandoned. Nor does a father allow his children to place themselves in harms way. No, a good father is always present. Lighting the way for his children. You are my children. Out of justice I teach you how to love. Out of Mercy I place you in the bosom of my Son. In His Heart He calls each of you. I love you. I give you my blessings. Use them wisely.

10/11/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, it is I your Heavenly King coming to unite myself to you. Enter through the Chambers of my Sacred Heart that has been pierced for your salvation. Brothers and sisters, know that everything I had, I laid bare for your salvation. Trust in my Mercy for you. My hour has come and never for a moment did I stop thinking about my love for you. Everything I endured I did because you are loved by me. I ask you again trust in my Mercy for you. Do not look into your hearts and think there is no room for forgiveness from me. My child the moment you begin to realize your sins I am placing you in the Second Chamber of my Heart. Do not fear me for I tell you the truth, fear comes only from the enemy who wishes to keep you far from me. So I tell you fear not. No matter how scarlet your sin my Mercy will make you new again. I will place my peace in your soul and unite myself to you. No enmity shall exist between us. For you are loved by me and because I love you, my Father in Heaven loves you. Remember to love your siblings as I have loved you. Be merciful just as I have shown Mercy. Where there is war, sow peace. Give what you have to those who need. Then you will build treasure in Heaven. Whatsoever you do to the least of your brothers and sisters, you will have done unto me and I will place all of this in my Fourth Chamber. Brothers and sisters, keep my commandments. If you wish to resemble me. You must learn to love. Everything will flow from there. Love, that is what I command. That is what I desire from you. I love you and I am sending you my priestly blessings.

10/12/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. I come tonight to again ask you to pray with an open heart. Give your “yes” freely to my Son. Hold nothing back. When you give your “yes” do not have your mind on other things. No, my little ones, surrender yourselves completely. Pour open your hearts to my Son. Keep nothing from Him. He is your Savior. He is also your brother whom loves you very much. Listen to Him. Take His words deep into your hearts. Ponder them daily. Remember to keep family prayer active in your lives. When you place God in the center of your families then all you do will be blessed. Teach your little ones how much they are loved. How special they are to my Son, their Heavenly Father. The more your children understand how wanted they are by all of Heaven, the more they will strive for holiness. I offer these same words for all of my children at every age. Know that you are loved by all of Heaven. Strive for holiness. If you knew how loved you are, never again would you put your souls in danger of sin. My children, strive for holiness. I love you and I am sending you my motherly blessings. Know this

10/13/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, it is I your Heavenly King. Open your hearts and listen to these words. A man can only travel in one direction. Whether that be forward, backward, or even in circles. Where your heart is, that is the direction you are going. If you are a lover of sinful pleasures, then that is where your heart will lead you to. If you love me and keep my commandments then I will be the direction you will head. Every step begins with a choice. A choice that you are free to make. But I warn you, each step will yield you an outcome. How far will you be led astray from me. Even when I call out to you, will you continue to stray? Brothers and sisters, open your hearts and choose wisely. Do not wander blindly down the road or you will fall into perdition. No, listen to my words, I love you. Begin each step with a “yes” to my will for you. Then I will place you in my First Chamber of my Sacred Heart. I will give you every grace necessary to see your soul and open your eyes to where you are at. Just ask. I tell you the truth any brother or sister who unites themselves to my Sacred Heart will not be lost. I will seek them out. No one should be lost to me. Remember this, I love you and I am giving you my priestly blessings.

10/14/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for her people. Listen to my words. Choices are placed before you throughout your road. When you come upon a choice ask for help before making a final decision. Each decision will yield an outcome. Therefore I caution you to make wise and holy choices. All choices impact those placed in your lives. You are not here alone. Therefore, you must choose with the understanding that your choice can help or harm a brother or sister, that I have placed on your road. You are to always understand that you are here because you are loved and you are to learn how to love with a selfless heart. Call on your Angel to help guide your decisions. Ask the Holy Spirit for the gift of wisdom. If you still are having difficulty ask for clarity. I will open your heart so you can see with love. Yes, you need to see with your heart. Many of you are blind even though your eyes work perfectly well. Many of you are sick and feel well. And still many of you are asleep and do not realize it yet. For now I wish for you to know that you are loved. I love you and I am sending you my priestly blessings.

10/15/2011 St. Theresa of Avila

Peace be with Jesus Christ, now and forever. Dear children, it is I St. Teresa of Avila, coming to deliver a message to you. Rejoice and be glad you are children of the King. Your seat has been purchased with the blood of the Lamb. He is risen therefore rejoice and be glad. Each day, foster in yourself a passion of truth, for in truth lies the virtue of faith. Faith is the revealing of the truth of Jesus Christ. Therefore be a seeker of truth. Secondly be a giver of love. The greater you love the more you testify of your belonging to the Kingdom. What is Heaven? Love, a love given by the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, to all of the children, for which Heaven was created. Therefore be lovers of love. Freely giving and receiving of this. Go and spread the good news of Jesus Christ. You are no less apostles of Jesus than His very own. The more seeds you scatter the more you will reap for the Kingdom. Go and be sowers of men. I love you and I am praying for your intentions. May the Risen Lord have Mercy on each of you and may peace reign in your world.

10/16/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. Open your hearts to my Son. My children, how much you suffer because you lack trust in my Son. Everything you need will be provided for you, simply trust. I ask you to pray with an open heart to the words of my Son. His words are everlasting. How much joy you will have when you begin to trust. You will begin to see your sorrows will become joys to you. This is because you will understand the merit you receive from bearing your crosses patiently and with much love. When you love, everything will become a joy. Difficult tasks become easier because your heart will be lifted. Give everything to my Son. Offer me your prayers and I will place them at the feet of my Son. I am always interceding for you my children. I love you and I am praying for you. Listen to my Son. He has the words of everlasting life.

10/16/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for her people. If you wish to unite yourself to me you must deny yourself, pick up your cross, and come follow me. I am the way. No one can go to the Father except through me. I love you and I am blessing your efforts.

10/17/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. How precious you are to my immaculate heart. My dear children, if you knew how loved you were you would dance for joy. Never would you put your souls in jeopardy. You are children of the Heavenly Father and you are my children too. So much does all of Heaven rejoice when a child returns to the Father's Heart. In Heaven you are happy. You are completely loved. Everyone in Heaven is happy and understands how important your time here is. Do not waste your precious gifts holding resentment and anger towards each other. Anger is the opposite of the joy you will realize when you humble yourselves and forgive. Forgive each other quickly. Stop looking at the faults of your brothers and sisters. Rather help to bring out the love in each other. My little ones, you must lead by setting an example of love. The more you begin to let love reign in your hearts the greater peace you will have in your world. Place everything in my immaculate heart. I will offer everything to my Son. I place all of your prayers at the feet of my Son. I love you my children. Know this.

10/18/2011 St. Paul

Brothers and sisters in Christ, it is I St Paul, coming to share the good news of Jesus Christ. He is the Lamb who was slain for our freedom. He is the Risen Christ who opened the door. Who among you is ready to face judgment? What if your judgment was to happen today? How would you respond to our Savior's questions? When He asks you if you fed Him or gave Him a drink would you say yes? Or would you answer when did we see you to give you something to eat or drink. I can assure you this day will come when you least expect it. Ready yourselves, begin to live your faith. Not in words, but in deeds. Do for others as our Lord instructed us. Then you will be able to say "yes Lord, I took care of my brothers and sisters." Then you will be welcomed to the banquet. You will join us in Heaven where everyone is happy and joy fills the streets. Do not cause yourself to be left out in the darkness. Do not waste the many blessings given to you. Make good use of your time and talents. I love you and send my prayers for you.

10/19/2011 God the Father

My dear people, it is I your Heavenly Father. My children, where are you at, on your journey. I bring this question with a loving heart, not a stern query. My children, I am your Father and I have a great love for you. You are chosen and cherished equally in my Heart. That is why I ask you to take notice of where you are at. Yes, I have asked this of you before. Yet it needs to be repeated. So often you become stuck or distracted, that in an instant you forget you are on a journey. You forget what your goal and purpose is. You become lost and begin to wander further away from my Heart. A father never allows his children to wander away without calling them back. Even when you are older and wiser a good father still checks on the whereabouts of his children. I am no different. I formed you in my image and likeness. I call you out of the depths of my Mercy and forgiveness. Give me your “yes” tonight. There is no love greater than mine. I love you my child and I hold you dearly to my Heart. I love you with an everlasting love. Chosen and cherished you will always be to my Heart. I give you my blessings tonight.

10/20/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. Have a heart that is charitable and kind. Remember so much merit can be gained when you show your brother or sister an act of kindness. It is through love that your enemies become your friends. Then your friends become your brothers and sisters. Love much my children. Hatred will yield you nothing. Revenge will only gain you a scornful heart. It is love and mercy that should be the clothing that you wear. I love you and I send you my motherly blessings. Know this.

10/21/2011 God the Father

My dear children, it is I your Heavenly Father, coming to talk about your salvation. Where do you see yourselves at the end of your time here? Or do you not wish to ponder this. Do not be so unwise as to move about with no regard as to where you are at. This is not your permanent home. You belong to my Heart. It is here that you were formed. Here you are my beloved. No child goes unloved. Just as no prayer goes unanswered. You need to understand that my answers are not always the same as your desires. I am looking out for what is good for you. Your happiness is my concern. But my child do you understand what real happiness is? Are the things you are asking for really going to make you happy? Look into your heart for this answer.

You have journeyed a long distance and still you are far from my Heart. You still place things between us. My child do you not see how beautiful you are? Did I not create the sun to warm your face and the moon to light your sky? I have done this to give balance so you could thrive. What you have and what you need are where your difficulty lies. Do not long for things. Instead long for my will in your heart. Days will pass quickly and still go unnoticed by men. Do not allow yourself to forget where you belong. You have not gone unnoticed by me. I am placing you in my Heart. Simply accept my love and I will place the graces necessary for you to live out my will for you. I love you my child. You are chosen and cherished to my Heart. I love you with an everlasting love. I am sending you blessings. Use them with a selfless heart.

10/22/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, it is I your Heavenly King coming tonight to teach you about faith. Faith is like a mustard seed. It begins small, but when it is nourished a large tree is formed. How do you go about nourishing your faith. Listen to this story: There was a young man wishing to begin a job. He had the desire to do the work. He even had the knowledge to complete the task. What he lacked was the tools. How can he build his ideas without the tools he needs. There are many parts to faith. You must have the desire to grow. You must have knowledge of right from wrong and finally you must have the tools to go forth. What are you lacking in your faith? Do you lack a desire to love and forgive? Do you lack wisdom of the laws? Or do you merely lack the ability to teach others. Did I not say to you ask and you will receive? Seek and you shall find, knock and the door will be opened for you. Come to me. I am the Bread of Life. Unite yourselves to my will for you and grow. Spread out like the lilies in the field. Soar like the birds of the air. Deliver my words of love and mercy throughout the world. It is my desire to have all of my brothers and sisters enter my Father's Kingdom. No one should be lost to my Heart. My child you must deliver this message of hope to children who are lost. I love you and I am sending you my priestly blessings.

10/23/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for her people. Fear not, I am here. Listening to your concerns. You are never far from my Merciful Heart. My Heart is open for all. You need only to unite yourself to me, by giving me your "yes" tonight. My child do not be saddened this evening. I have told you that I was keeping you hidden a while longer. You are not ready yet. You must trust in my purpose for you. Do not hesitate in what you are doing, I am blessing this. My will is being completed by your willingness to accept what I have given you. There will be many crosses to bare along this road. Did I not tell you that to resemble me you must pick up your cross and come follow me? Take heart my daughter, I have not abandoned you.

On the contrary I am with you. You only need to trust in what I am telling you. I love you. Know this. My love for my Father's children can not be understood by men at this time. Take heart, I am the Just Judge who will make everything new again. I am the Merciful Savior who awaits the return of my brothers and sisters into my Heart. I love you and I am sending you my priestly blessings tonight.

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. My prayers are with you as you journey along your road. Take heart and understand that you do not take this journey alone. Heaven is by your side. Your angels are guiding your path. Take heart, you are so loved by all of Heaven. I love you my dear little ones. Know this.

10/24/2011 God the Father

My people it is I your Heavenly Father, coming to talk to you tonight about greed. Greed is a present evil that men have turned their hearts over to. It has become a god to them. I am your God alone. I have chosen you. You are mine. Yes, you belong to me. My children do not fill your hearts with things that will only yield you a temporal happiness. Instead begin to fill your hearts with a desire to love, to care for your fellow brothers and sisters. This will yield you much. The treasure you will receive will never be taken from you. You are to love. This is what is commanded of you. When you learn this, I can assure you greed will no longer take a precedent in your heart. You will soon see the true wealth of giving. Taking care of each other. I love you with an everlasting love. You are chosen by me and cherished in my Heart. I give you my blessings to help you overcome this great difficulty that exists in your hearts.

10/25/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. Begin to understand the value in sacrificing. When you deny yourself of little things you will be able to deny yourself of things that are harmful to your soul. Sacrificing small things will help you grow in selflessness. When you give up something, think of how your sacrifice can help a brother or sister. By denying yourself, what can you then be able to do for another? See my children, you begin to learn selfless love. The more you love the more you will begin to resemble my Son. He loved so much. He loved you even to his death. A death which He bore selflessly for your salvation. Begin to learn sacrificing. Even the smallest sacrifice when done from the heart will yield you much. Grow in love like beautiful flowers my children. I love you dearly and hold each of you close to my immaculate heart. I love you and I am sending you my motherly blessing.

10/26/2011 God the Father

My people, it is I your Heavenly Father, coming to talk about love tonight. Love is a term used so loosely by my children. Yet the understanding of love is lost to so many. Love creates. I created you from my love. Love chooses wisely. Love is never self-serving. It is always self-sacrificing. Love is an act of selfless giving. That is why I have commanded you to love me with all your heart, mind, and soul. I wish for you to give me everything. To hold nothing back. Out of the depths of my love I created you with free will. That is why I ask you to choose wisely. Begin and end everything with love. Before words ever leave your lips first let them linger in your heart. Then your words will be words of love. Let every action you take towards your brothers and sisters come emerged in love. Then my child, I will reward this effort. I will unite myself to you through my Son. You will surely have a seat at my table that I have prepared for you since the beginning of time. A seat that my Son purchased with His love for you. A love so great that even death held no grasp over. My child learn to love. I love you and I give you my blessings on this very important task.

10/27/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, it is I your Heavenly King coming tonight to teach you about trust. Trust is an unbreakable union between two friends. You are my friend. I ask for you to trust in me. My love for you was unbreakable. Even to my death nothing would have changed my Heart. I knew my Father's will. Yes, His will was difficult. But I loved you, even death would not change this. Therefore my love was trustworthy. Why then do you find it so difficult to trust in me? Do you think I have changed? No, do you think I would not forgive your many sins? I have told this to you already. I would forgive a repentant heart. Therefore I ask you, why do you continue to find it so hard to trust in me? I am your friend. There is nothing that should come between us. Unite yourself to my Sacred Heart and trust that I love you. Trust that my Mercy is for you. Believe that I came to do my Father's will. His will to open the gates that your pride closed. Brothers and sisters, what more could I have bore for you than my own flesh and blood. How a soul wounds my Pierced Heart when they come to me lukewarm and lack trust in my love for them. Learn to trust by giving me your "yes". You will stand before me in judgment. There is nothing you will be able to say to defend yourself. Even your pride will be taken from you. Do not turn away from my love. I love each of you so dearly. I hold you in my Merciful Heart. Simply come to me and I will make you new again. I will break your hearts of stone. Trust, I love you and I am giving you my priestly blessings.

10/27/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. How I love you my dear children. Pray for the gift of wisdom to understand my Son's words. I love you and I place you under my mantle of motherly love. Know this.

10/28/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, it is I your Heavenly King. Listen to this story: There was a stout man who went about the village talking incessantly about the gifts he had. He would share this with anyone who would listen. There was a small boy who would come to hear him each night. He marveled at what gifts this man received. Now the man with the gifts noticed the young boy coming each evening to hear him talk. He would look around at all of the people who would gather and still his eyes always noticed the young boy. After a while everyone grew tired and bored of his repetitive stories. They would mock him and talk about him behind his back but the young boy would quietly sit and listen eagerly as the man chattered on about his gifts. One day the boy did not come. The man began to wonder what had happened to the young boy. He searched him out and could not find him. The man felt sad and withdrew from the town. Why did this man who once talked incessantly withdraw himself? He learned through the silence of that young boy that a gift has no value unless it is shared. The man saw the kindness in the young boy. Even though he did not know who he was or where he went he still felt the lack of judgment this boy offered him. He simply loved. Be simple, learn to love each other. Do not judge, or I will hold you accountable. Be meek and kind in heart. Then I will reward this. So great is the kindness of a small act of love. This, brothers and sisters you must strive for. I love you and I am sending you my blessings tonight.

10/29/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. I come tonight to offer you words of encouragement. Stay strong for the journey you are on is a difficult one. Often you will grow weary. Do not be fooled into thinking you can stop and rest for a while. My children, you have been asleep far too long. No my little ones, stay strong by uniting yourself to my Son's Sacred Heart. He will provide you with the graces necessary to continue on. Offer me your prayers and I will present your prayers to my Son in my apron of my motherly love. Know that for every thorn placed beneath your feet, I have placed its rose petal in front of you, to cushion your feet from the thorn. That is what my love and intercession does for my children. My love is salve for your woundedness. I love you my little ones and I place you under the mantle of my motherly love. Know this.

10/30/2011 St. Michael

Peace be with the children of God. It is I St. Michael sending you greeting from Heaven. Arise from your slumber mankind. The hour is near when the trumpets will blow for all. Rejoice in this. He who was slain is truly risen. What was perilous in mankind's eyes is not so in God's eyes. Be ready and clothe yourselves in humility so God will find favor in you. You do not know the hour when your King will come to ransom you. Let the Kingdom of God reign in your hearts in every present moment. You are loved children. Ask for my intercession and I will assist you in your battle. Resign everything to the Lamb who was slain for your freedom. In Him is your salvation. May the ever living Son bless you and keep watch over you. May peace reign in your soul tonight.

10/31/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, to enter the Kingdom you must enter through the Chambers of my Sacred Heart. It is in these very chambers that salvation was won and the gates opened up for you. Take heart in what I am telling you. To be received by me you must become like little children. Heaven was made for such as these. My Father's Heart is moved for His little children. (Jesus paused for a moment) Trust me in everything. There is no difficulty that you will endure without me by your side, if only you ask. Ask of me anything and I will give you what your soul needs. Especially at my Hour of Mercy when my Heart was pierced open for all mankind. It was that very hour that my Mercy, poured forth for your sins. Brothers and sisters, if you ask of me anything, would I deny your request? Trust that I hear your prayers. They are placed in my Third Chamber. But you must always understand my answers are not your desires. Just as my ways are not your ways. Trust, it is in a trusting heart that I seek my pleasure. Unite yourself to me. Offer me everything and make us a dwelling place, in your soul, then the Father and I will make our dwelling place in you. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings tonight.

11/1/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, it is I your Heavenly King coming to teach you about virtues tonight. Virtues are holy gifts that I place in your heart to help you grow. But you must accept these gifts and use them with love. You must give your "yes" and journey forward just as your brothers and sisters before you. There is a great feast in Heaven awaiting my Father's children who accept me into their heart. You accept me by giving me your “yes” and then spending your time here united to my will. It is through uniting yourself to my Sacred Heart that you receive my many graces., Virtues that I wish to bestow in you. Therefore I ask you again to come to me with contrite hearts so that I may place my Mercy in you and cleanse you from your sins with my blood. Place yourself in my Second Chamber and I will give you the virtue of hope in my Mercy. Never fear, my love is greater than your many sins. Remember this, I love you and I am giving you my priestly blessings.

11/2/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. I come tonight bringing you loving words. My children, practice kindness so you may grow in the virtue of charity. Begin to pray for your brothers and sisters. Pray for your family here ( on earth ) and those who have yet to enter the gates of Heaven. Praying for others is a very holy thing to do. This will gain you much merit. How often you forget to pray for each other. I love you my dear children and I am sending you my motherly blessings tonight.

11/3/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. Have hope in my words to you. You are loved dear children, know this. My Son has authority over all. Given to Him by His Father. He has your needs and concerns in His Heart. Trust that He will provide you with what you need. You belong home in Heaven. This is where the Father has called you too. This He created out of love for you; and this is what my Son gave up His life to redeem you. Therefore, have hope in your hearts. You are wanted by all of Heaven. Take heart and no longer worry. Place everything at the feet of my Son. He hears every prayer. Nothing is lost when you place your trust in Him. I love you my little ones and I am placing my mantle of motherly love around you tonight.

11/3/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for her people. Listen to this story: There were two women sewing. Each was carefully stitching away at her craft. The one woman looks to the other and notices that she is not being careful with her stitches. She warns her that her sewing might not last and offers to help her. This the woman accepts and realizes that she was not being as prudent in her work. I tell you this story because I want you to understand that it is alright to help correct your siblings when you see they are erring in a task. That is not judgment but instead that is showing thoughtfulness. It is important to help one another in all things. That is why you have each other. To learn love. Let love guide all of your actions. Then every action will bring joy. I tell you whatever you give to another will be given back to you tenfold. Nothing is lost to my Heart. When you offer yourselves to your brothers and sisters I place you in my Fourth Chamber. It is here you build your treasure in Heaven. Always strive for this. I love you and I am sending my blessings to you.

11/4/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. You must begin to realize the importance of living in a state of grace. Never let your difficulties become your choices. Instead when a barrier approaches you pray for my Son to deliver you from this battle. Armor yourself with prayer just as a warrior getting ready to do battle would. My children your very souls are at stake and you do not realize this. That is why I urge you to pray from your hearts. It's through prayer that wars can end. But you must begin to believe this. Have faith. My children I love you and I am giving you my motherly blessings tonight.

11/5/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, it is I your Heavenly King. Calling out to you. Return to my Heart. Return to my Father's Heart where you were formed. It is here that we wish to unite ourselves to you. Come to me and do not be afraid for my yoke is easy and my burden is light. Ask yourselves what good does it a man to gain the whole world and lose his soul? Is this not what you are doing right now? Seeking the things of this world rather than the things of God. Brothers and sisters, I have told you I come like a thief in the night, to ready yourselves. Still you remain steadfast in your ways. How will you face the Son of man when I call you unto myself. When the time of my judgment comes to where will you stand? At my right and enter your reward or my left and enter eternal punishment. My desire is to have every child united to me in paradise. Yet so many remain far from my Heart. My love which was poured out for all mankind. But still I say fear not. I am patient. Have I not also said that my Mercy was for this generation? Any soul who asks for my Mercy will receive what he has asked for and then some. I will pour into his soul my sanctifying grace. I will unite myself to him and make my dwelling there. For whoever I love, my Father also loves. Everything I have was given to me by my Father. This I tell you because I love you.

11/6/2011 St. John the Apostle

My dear people it is I St. John, (the apostle) coming tonight to bring you glad tidings. The risen Lord came into this world to set you free from your chains of bondage. In this, rejoice and be glad. You are free to love unhindered. To fully participate in the wedding feast of the Lamb. Take this gift with all seriousness. Do not let this gift become burdensome because you fail to use it wisely. It is when we waste the graces and fall into sin that we again become burdened. Let the Mercy of God reign in your souls. Jesus is Lord of all. In His name we should rejoice. Let every knee bend and tongue confess this very truth that Jesus Christ is Lord. I love you and I extend my blessings of peace to you tonight.

11/7/2011 St. John of the Cross

Peace be with you children of God. Rejoice and be glad. It is I St. John, (of the cross) coming to tell you of the good news which is Jesus Christ. Prepare your hearts to be worthy to receive the bread of life who came down from Heaven to enter under our roofs and make his dwelling with us. Rejoice in these words, whoever believes in him will have eternal life. Alleluia. Make room in your hearts and give your “yes” freely. It is through your “yes” that you will be saved by God. Accept his mercy and trust fully in his promises. You children have nothing to fear except sin. Yet even in sin you can be assured of forgiveness when you repent. Offer everything and remain steadfast on your journey. It is through the narrow gate that leads to his heart. I send you my prayers and blessings as you take these humble words into your souls. May the living Christ bless you.

(Tonight as I was saying my prayers, a cross made of light appeared on my wall. I saw this for a short time.)

11/8/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. Can my children hear the voice of their Shepard if their hearts are closed. No my child, you must first open your hearts then listen. It is through your hearts that you will hear my Son calling you. I cannot stress enough the importance of prayer. To begin to grow you must seek my Son constantly. Use your voices to sing of His glory. Teach your brothers and sisters of His merciful ways. Begin to read scripture then you can arm yourselves with knowledge and wisdom. I love you my children and I place all of your prayers in my apron of motherly love. Grow in prudence. Then you will become the beautiful flowers in God’s garden.

11/9/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. I Pray, let prayer become a part of who you are. Let everything you do come from prayer. Let your conversations be a prayer, even to each other. For what is prayer, but a loving union with your creator. When you pray you bring that love to everyone you meet along your road. Begin to see everything you do as a prayer. Then offer all of your prayers to my Son to be blessed. My children how much merit you will receive? You will quickly move through the chambers of my Son's Sacred Heart. The more you pray the closer you will grow in faith and trust. Begin to pray from your hearts. I love you my little ones. Tonight I am praying especially for you to receive the graces from my Son to help you begin to have understanding in your souls, concerning prayer.

11/10/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for her people. Brothers and sisters, enter the Chambers of my Sacred Heart by giving me your "yes" tonight. It is in my Heart that you will find salvation. I come offering you Mercy and compassion for your many transgressions. There is no fault that my love cannot burn away and turn into a grace. ( I see a person with faults that Jesus sets a blaze, a fire, in that person's soul. The fault changes and beautiful graces appearing as gold emerges and this person radiates God's love). My love is enduring for all time. Enter into my Heart. You will find comfort. Oh how I will seek you out, my lost sheep. Do not hesitate for a moment. Instead, trust as a small child blindly trusts without worry. Fear not for you are loved. Trust, I love you and I am calling you to my Heart. I will make my dwelling with you. I know my sheep and my sheep know me. You my child are my sheep. I love you and I am sending you my priestly blessings tonight.

11/11/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for your freedom. Freedom from the bondage of sin. I am the gate which you must enter through. Brothers and sisters, tonight I come to talk about my Mercy. My Mercy is endless. To receive my Mercy you simply give me your "yes" and enter my Sacred Heart. My very Heart was pierced open so that my Mercy poured forth for the salvation of mankind. So freely do I give this to any soul who believes in me. Yes, this means trust. You must not be afraid to give me everything. Place all of your sorrows in my Sacred Heart and I will turn them into joys. Every tear will be wiped dry by me. No longer will you wander aimlessly in your desert. You will take refuge in me. It is in my Heart that you belong. Therefore, I tell you fear not in confessing your many sins to me. Again I tell you, my love far out weighs your many sins. If you only knew how loved you are. If you could understand the depth of my Mercy you would not hesitate in coming to me and placing everything at my feet.

You are loved by me and my Father. Wherever two or more are gathered I am there. So begin to gather in my name. Look to each other and you will see me. Begin to love as I have told you. Forgive each other as I have forgiven you. Be merciful just as I have shown you mercy. It is in giving of yourselves that you will receive. What you do for your brothers and sisters I will place in my Fourth Chamber and I will reward that kindness. Listen to what I am saying. If two men travel along on a road and the road splits into two, which road should they take? Neither knows what lies ahead but if they choose to journey the same road then neither will become lost from the other. Neither do I wish for you to be lost from my Heart. Therefore, whichever path you choose offer me every step. Give me your difficulties along with your successes. Then you will be blessed by me and I will call you to myself. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings.

11/12/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. Prayer and sacrifice must become for you a living symbol of your faith and trust in God. You must become a light for your brothers and sisters who live in darkness. Live your lives with a purpose of serving. Never wasting the precious time you have been given. My children, you do not realize just how short this time is. I caution you to make good use of each moment. Always giving your “yes” to God and submitting yourselves to His Holy Will. Then, you will truly be children of the Father. I love you my little ones. Take my words to heart. I place each of you in the mantle of my immaculate heart.

11/13/2011 St. Michael

People of God, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets in mankind's hearts. Arise from your slumber and take notice of the path that lies before you. Is this where you wish to be? Are you seeking the Kingdom of God or are you still putting your heart in the things of man. This will yield you nothing but wasted time. Therefor stand upright and invoke the name of your Lord. Ask for the intercession of us, your heavenly hosts. A choir stands on guard ready to protect any child who calls for assistance. A battle is at hand and you must armor yourselves with prayers and sacrifices. Clothe yourself in the humility and cover yourself with the blood of the Lamb. Here is your salvation. The kingdom has been won for her children. Be ready to take your rightful place. Now is the time to give your “yes” and stay steadfast on your journey. Neither looking back or seeking ahead. Rather stay in the present moment where your choices have merit. I am praying for your journey and place my shield of protection before you. Take comfort in this knowledge. Never is it too late to return where you belong.

11/14/2011 Jesus

Peace be with you. Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for her people. Tonight I wish to teach you about charity. You have heard me say it is in giving that you receive. Now I will explain this. Love only becomes love when it leaves your heart and is given to another. How priceless you are to your Heavenly Father. So much so that He created you in His image and likeness. He is love. Therefore you were created with love, His love. Never to be lost or forgotten. Now I ask you what good does it, to keep love locked away, never to grow or flourish? When you plant a seed you tend the soil, with much sacrifice and effort, a plant emerges and bears fruit. Giving more than what it received. Charity is rooted in loving kindness. It is self-sacrificing and self-giving. To be charitable means placing another ahead of yourself. The more you offer your brothers and sisters, the more you will receive. Whatsoever you have done for the least of my Father's children you have done for me and I in return for your efforts will reward you tenfold. Nothing is lost or wasted in my Father's house. Each kindness is placed in my Fourth Chamber. Let love reign in your heart. The more mercy you show the more mercy you will receive. Again I tell you, the more charitable you are with your brothers and sisters, the more treasure you will build. Not that of gold and silver that will remain in the earth, but heavenly treasure that will neither rot nor decay. A treasure that will not be taken from you. I love you and I am blessing your efforts in this. My peace I offer you.

11/15/2011 St. John of the Cross

Chosen people, It is I St. John of the cross. Coming to teach you about sacrifice. To sacrifice one's self means to deny yourself of anything that causes you to remain far from the Lord. If earthly pleasures take the place of God then you must begin to deny yourself of those pleasures. It is better to freely deny yourself now, then be denied by the Lord at judgment. Today you have the opportunity to begin to decide which kingdom your heart desires. You cannot serve two masters. This has been already told to you. Sacrificing can also be an act of giving of one's self for the greater good of God's kingdom. You can sacrifice your time in the help of someone else. So many opportunities exist if you simply begin to look around and take notice. That is why sacrificing is so important for spiritual growth. When you remove the self-love from your heart you can begin to focus your time on the needs of your brothers and sisters in Christ. May the Lord's peace reign in your heart tonight

11/16/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. Happy are those children who follow the ways of God and not of men. Dear children, you are loved by your Heavenly Father. So much so that He sent you His only Son. My only Son for your salvation. You must begin to live the ways of God. Freeing your heart from all attachments that only cause you to stray. Keep yourselves always united to my Son offering Him everything. Take time each day to remember what was sacrificed for you. Do not hurry along in this, instead surrender your time and place all of this in your heart and ponder with great joy how loved you are. Then spending time with my Son will become a joy for you. I love you my little ones and I am blessing you with my motherly blessings.

11/16/2011 St. Michael

Good and holy people, it is I St. Michael coming to awaken your hearts and help lead you in battle. Armor yourselves in prayer. Wear the breast plate of courage for the Lamb of God has won your victory. Each moment you will have to be victorious over the battle between avarice and fortitude. A cross you will bare on your backs. Hold this valiantly because it is in your crosses that you resemble the one True king. Victor of all. I am blessing you and I place my shield of protection before you when you harken to me for help.

11/17/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, tonight I have come to place my Mercy in the souls of any child who asks. Ask and you shall receive. Seek and you will find. Do not wander lost in your desert. Be still and listen to my voice. I am calling you from your wilderness. I am calling you unto myself. You are mine. You belong to me. Take notice of what you are receiving. Be aware of the graces being given to you. How do you plan on using these graces? Again you have choices.

How you choose will determine what you receive. So much has been given to you. I tell you this because what you waste will be accounted for. Be careful to take care of the brothers and sisters placed in your lives.

11/18/2011 St. Michael

Good and holy people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpet and awaken mankind from his slumber. Arise and be steadfast in your efforts. Pursue the Kingdom of God. It is by the sacrifice of the Lamb that salvation has been won for you. Take notice of which side have you placed your heart. To whom are you giving your “yes” to? If you are not convicted in your choices then you will fall prey to the devils trap. Armor yourself through prayer and fasting. Place your complete trust in the one True King who is Lord of all. Here is where your salvation lies. In Him you will find peace. I send you my blessings and place my shield before you.

11/19/2011 Jesus

My dear people, brothers and sisters, tonight I have come to teach you about your pride. The pride that you carry comes from a hard heart. A heart that is unwilling to forgive. How often I send you opportunities to forgive your brothers or sisters and you turn your back. You would rather clothe yourself in pride than robe yourself in humility. It is a humble heart that pleases me most. Learn from me for I am meek and humble of heart. Are your crosses so heavy that you are willing to burden your siblings with more? How often you come to me asking for my forgiveness. Do I turn my back on you? No, I love you infinitely and tenderly. I place my mercy in your soul and forgive every sin. Forgive everyone who asks. It is better for you to forgive and earn mercy than to remain entrenched in your own selfishness. Return to my Heart. Place your trust in what I am telling you. I love you and I am blessing your efforts. Know this.

11/20/2011 St. Michael

Good and holy people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken all of mankind. Arise from your slumber and heed my words. You are brothers and sisters of the One True King, Jesus Christ. Who laid down His life for each of you. Yet you have fallen asleep. How much longer are you willing to allow the battle to continue without so much as a word spoken from your lips.

Have you become so slothful that you would prefer to remain asleep all the while your Kingdom is removed from you. Ready yourselves and be convicted in the choices set before you. Armor yourself with sacrifices. It is the denying of oneself that will gain you merit. Therefore, arise and begin anew this day. Offer your “yes” to the King whom ransomed Himself for your salvation. The Kingdom of God is at hand. Sleep no more. Remain awake for you do not know which hour your Lord will come. Make ready yourself. I am here present for you. Call on your angels to assist you as you bare your crosses. Nothing will be accomplished without your “yes”. Given with a heart full of servitude. I love you and I send my shield of protection before you.

11/21/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. You work hard at the things of this world and very little for the Kingdom of God. You must begin to think about your home in Heaven. While you are toiling through your days duties, ponder the goodness of my Son. Remind yourselves of His unending Mercy. Think often of His sacrifice for your salvation. Think about all of these things and thank Him. Be resolute in this. The more you begin to acknowledge what has been given to you and at what price the more you will ready yourselves for eternity. Be joyful in everything. For you are loved. I love you my children and I am sending you my motherly blessings.

11/22/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. Pray from the heart. Everything you do for each other should first come from a heart that is ready to serve. Do not do a deed and then regret that deed or be angered because the deed required more effort than you originally planned. Instead offer your patience when doing deeds for others. Then your deed will earn you treasure. Let everything you do, be done with a loving joyful heart. Serving others is a great sacrifice. Doing so will lead you to having a selfless heart. I love you my children and I am sending you my motherly blessings.

11/23/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. Practice your virtues daily. Then you will grow in faith. My little ones, I am praying for you and I send you my motherly blessings. Know this

11/23/2011 God the Father

Dear children, each of you are struggling with temptation. I know your hearts. Nothing can be hidden from me. I created you. You are mine. You belong to me. Do not be afraid when it comes to your struggles. Look at what you are struggling with. How can this be overcome? What grace do you need? Then ask for that grace. Are you angry? Ask for the gift of temperance. Are you slothful? Ask for fortitude. Arrogance, ask for help with humility. There is no sin that cannot be forgiven and no obstacle that cannot be overcome. First you must look into your heart and seek clarity. Yes, ask for help in this too. I will show you what has been hidden in the dark. I can assure you that you already know but still wish to remain hidden. That is your pride. You must begin to practice humility. To grow in virtues you must battle through your barriers. Nothing will move you along quicker than a loving honest heart. Be contrite. I will forgive. I love you. Chosen and cherished you will always be. I give you my blessings tonight.

11/24/2011 Jesus

Dear people, it is I your Heavenly King. Rest assured in my words of comfort to you. You are my people and I am your King. Lord of all. I did not come to abolish the laws but rather fulfill them. My laws are everlasting. Love one another, as I have taught you. Teach others to follow my commandments. Teach with kindness and gentleness. Never have harsh words. Practice loving kindness towards one another. Then you will do all that I have commanded. When you begin to love, you will understand servitude. Serving with a loving heart without expectation in return. Never judge lest you be judged. Keep holy the Sabbath for this day was given to you to rejoice in your God and all that was made for you. Understand what is being laid before you. I love you and I am sending my peace to you tonight.

11/25/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, come to the table that has been set out before you. Take and eat, for the bread you eat is my body and the cup is my blood. This is my covenant with you. What I have set out before you is your salvation. Do not be afraid to approach me for I am meek and gentle of Heart. I love you. Take what I am telling you into your hearts. I give you my peace tonight.

11/26/2011 God the Father

My people, it is I your Heavenly Father. Coming to unite all of my children back to my Merciful Heart. There is not a single child that does not belong to me. No one is lost to me. It is you that have wandered away. Choosing against my will for you. Fear not, I have not forsaken you. It is you who has forsaken me. Yet I will forgive your sins and once again call you back to my Heart. This is where you belong. A father never gives up on a lost child. I am no different. You are my child. I am patient. I am love. A repentant child is never lost to my Heart. Simply give me your "yes". I will place graces into your heart. I will guide you and challenge you. I will help you grow strong.

11/27/2011 Blessed Mother

My children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. Pray unceasingly. Offer everything to my Son, our King. Open your hearts and listen faithfully to His words. Let my Son enter your heart. Give Him your “yes”. When you freely give your “yes” you will enter into the covenant that my Son has made with you at Calvary. My children, your very souls are at stake. My Son is Merciful. He must also be just. Keep yourself busy with good and holy things that will bring you closer to my Son. Remove from your life anything that causes you to sin. Sin is the removal of my Son’s grace from your soul. Do not allow yourselves to be deceived. Instead repent as soon as you offend your God. Be sorry from your heart and work hard to not allow yourselves to be tempted again. The more you guard yourselves the easier this will become. Therefore watch and listen. You do not know the hour my Son will come. Be on guard. I love you and I am sending you my motherly blessings. Know this.

11/28/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for your freedom. Come to me all who are weary and I will give you rest. For my yoke is easy and my burden is light. Brothers and sisters, listen to this story: There was a man who planted a vineyard along a road. Everyday some boys would pass by his vineyard and steal grapes. Each time the man would yell for them to stop but they would just laugh and run away. The man wondered if he befriended the boys would they stop stealing from him. The next day he offered to let the boys work in his vineyard. In exchange for their hard work they could each harvest a bushel full of grapes for themselves to keep.

Compromise, do not let your hearts become angry and refuse to allow yourself the opportunity to make friends of your enemy. So much can be gained when you try to befriend those who are troubling you. Ponder this. I love you and I send you my priestly blessing.

This is what was shown to me. The road is gravel and the vineyard runs along the road. There are many rows of grapes and they stretch far. The land is hilly but more dirt than green. There were 3 boys maybe 12-15 years old. The man was older seemed to be in his late 50's, rugged yet very kind. His house was small and on the same property as his vineyard.

11/29/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for your freedom. To what can Heaven be compared too. It is like a rose whose petals encircle the seed which gives life to new roses. Heaven can be compared to the sands of the ocean floor. Vast and holding everything in its mighty base. Children, you belong to Heaven. For such has been created for you. What value do you place on your choices. Each choice will be brought forth at judgment. How will you fair? Repent of your wrong choices and go make amends. Then come to me and I will place graces into your soul. It is your choices that set the direction you travel. I love you and I am sending you my priestly blessings tonight.

11/30/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for your freedom. What is sin? Sin is choosing what goes against your Father in Heaven. This is a willing action on your part, a choice. Brothers and sisters, you have free will, a gift given to you by my Father. Therefore you have the choice to remain in my Father's presence or remove yourself through your choices, followed by your actions. That is why I told you, if you desire something in your heart, you have already sinned. The longer you place yourself near temptation the harder it will be for you to walk away. Ask for my help. Surrender your weaknesses to me and I will help you overcome this. When you fall do not despair thinking I would not understand or forgive. I can assure you that I will forgive the repentant brother or sister who comes to me with a contrite heart.

My Mercy is for such as these. Understand my Mercy exceeds your sins. You need not fear me. I love you. How joyful Heaven is when a sinner repents and returns to his Father's arms. You have heard me say my Father's house has many rooms. This is where you belong. Unite yourself to my Sacred Heart by repenting of your wrong doing. Strive to live a virtuous life. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings.

Do not focus on what you don't have but rather pay attention to what you have been given.

12/1/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. Giving my Son your "yes" is the first step you must take to unite yourself to His divine will. Giving your "yes" means accepting all that my Son places on your journey. Each step must be made with a firm purpose. Every choice must be made with the knowledge of what is right or wrong. Do not become lazy in your prayer life and be caught off guard. Purposefully walk on the road that leads to my Son. Be vigilant concerning your lessons on loving your neighbor. Take what you have heard to heart. My Son will find favor with you and He will bless you. Be ready my children. Learn what has been taught to you. I love you and I am sending you my motherly blessings. Know this.

12/2/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, listen to this story: There was a king who held court. He asked all of the leaders to attend. When they arrived he asked what each one had done to serve him. They all talked about the monies they had made. The food that was grown. The laws that were kept. Then he asked what they did to take care of his people. How were their needs being met?

(I see a room full of important men standing before a king. When the king asks this question they all look at one another and remain silent.)

Brothers and sisters. I will come to you at a time you will not know. I will ask you what you have done to care for your brothers and sisters. How will you answer me? To where do you place your importance? On things that only bring you a moment of joy and is gone from you tomorrow. Or do you place yourself in the service of others where your treasure will grow tenfold. Take this story and ponder it's meaning, for surely I will ask you the latter. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings.

12/3/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, how will you fair when I come in my glory? To which side will you find yourselves? At my right ready to enter your just reward, or at my left where you will be cast away to eternal punishment. Yes, this is a difficult question. One that you try very hard to avoid. This will do you no good for I will judge this generation. No stone will be left unturned. That is why I tell you, ask and you will receive. Return to my Sacred Heart that was pierced open for your salvation. When you unite yourself to my will you are giving me your "yes".

Whoever loves me will follow my commandments and in return, I will love them and call you unto myself. In my Father's house there are many rooms. I have gone ahead of you to prepare a place for you. You have a shelter in my Heart. Do not think for a minute that you are unwanted. On the contrary, you are loved by me and by the one who sent me. It is for this reason that I laid down my life for you. I love you and I am blessing your efforts.

12/4/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for your freedom. I come tonight to set a flame in your heart. Turn away from all wickedness. Begin anew. For you are loved by me and my Father in Heaven. Prepare for my coming with great anticipation. Ready yourselves so you will not be caught off guard. The day will come when I come descending on a cloud ready to pass judgment on this world. That is why I have come to tell you prepare for I will come and separate the sheep from the goats. I will call you unto myself and bring you to the place I have prepared ahead of you. Never should you be apart from me. Here all things are made new. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings.

12/5/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for your freedom. Come to me who labor and I will give you rest for my yoke is easy and my burden is light. It is my peace I wish to place in your hearts tonight. Do not fear my coming. Prepare yourselves, for it is my Heart that I wish to unite you to. Place your trust in my Divine Mercy. Here you will find your salvation. Inside the very depths of my Sacred Heart I hold every brother and sister who gives their “yes” to me. I will send down graces to each of you. Graces necessary for you to grow in holiness. What I offer you is a drink from the cup of salvation. Here you will never hunger or thirst again. For everything you need will be given to you. Simply ask and you will receive. Place everything in my Heart. Do not delay. For the hour is coming when I will make all things new. I will come in my glory. Setting a blaze in the hearts of all who heed my call. I tell you the truth. No one should be lost to my Heart. How much I have loved each of my Father’s children. How willingly I bore the sins of mankind. Yet this sacrifice, this covenant goes unnoticed by so many. How wounded my heart has become to the indifference of so many of my chosen ones. Begin anew this day. Place all of your trust in me. For I am meek and humble of Heart. Hear me my child. I am calling this world unto my Heart. Unite yourself to me. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings.

12/6/2011 Blessed Mother

My children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. How much I wish for you to be united to my Son. But to be united means you must choose this through your actions. Everything you do must come from love. Every choice. Every action. Even your words must come from a place of love. If you wish to enter the Kingdom you must begin to trust. Never doubt my Son even for a moment. No one has sacrificed more or paid a greater price for your salvation than He did. Honor Him with all of your hearts. Abide by the commandments that you have been given. My dear little ones, I am always interceding on your behalf. Pray from your hearts. I will take your prayers to my Son. I love you and I give you my motherly blessings. Know this.

12/7/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I place my Mercy in the souls of all who come to me with contrite hearts. It is my Mercy that quenches the flames. Do not be afraid. Listen to my pleas for conversions of your hearts. Unite them to my Sacred Heart. It is in my Chambers that Mercy and Salvation exist. No one should be lost to my Heart, my Mercy is for just as these. Brothers and sisters, I did not come into the world to heal the healthy, but rather the sick. I know your weaknesses. I know your failings. Nothing is unknown to me. Therefore do not try to remain hidden from my Mercy. It is for you. My love heals all and conquers all. Remember you are loved. I hold all of my Father's children close to my Heart. It is your pride and selfish ways that causes you to sin and remove yourselves from me. Repent, it is not too late. I have said there is no amount of sin that my Mercy will not forgive. You cannot understand the vastness of my Mercy. It is endless just as my love. Trust in my words. All that I have said I have told you so you can begin to trust and turn your hearts away from evil. I love you and I send you my priestly blessings.

12/8/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for your freedom. Come to me all who wish to live. For I am the Bread of Life. Take my yoke upon you for I am meek and humble of heart. Brothers and sisters. Prepare your hearts for my return. Remove anything that keeps you from uniting yourself to me. It is your poor choices that places obstacles between us. Never do I desire to have any brother or sister far from me. I am the Good Shepherd who laid down His life for my sheep. Why then do you distrust what I am telling you. Is it easier for you to believe in falsehoods than the truth. Yes, it is easier to remain in darkness but I tell you the time is coming when every deed will be brought to light. Better for you to repent of your sins now than to have a judgment placed against you. Trust, that is what I desire. Trust in my Mercy. All you need is to ask for forgiveness and it shall be granted. My child I desire all of my Father's children to be united to my Sacred Heart. Choose wisely. It is by your choice that your redemption will be made. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings.

12/9/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I call each of you by name. I call you unto myself. How will you answer my call. Listen to what I am telling you and ponder all I have said. A wise man reflects carefully so as to not be led astray when temptation comes to strike. No, he girds himself and robes himself in the virtue of fortitude. He nourishes his soul with truth so as to not be caught uttering a single slander. Do not be like the foolish who wait until the last hour thinking they have time to change. How quickly they will be lost and forgotten. Instead be like the wise and prepare while it is still daylight. For the hour will come. But woe to those who remain steeped in their wickedness. I love you and I am blessing your efforts.

I received a very special grace tonight. Jesus appeared to me. He came with his arms outstretched and I could see his sacred heart exposed. He was wearing what looked like a long white robe. He didn't say anything but I fell to my knees and just told him I loved him. A few moments later and then I couldn't see him anymore but knew he was there.

12/10/2011 Blessed Mother

My children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. How eagerly children are ready to set out on their own. They become so excited they often forget the lessons they have been taught. A good parent reminds them and helps to re-instruct and nurture their child so they can be safe and successful as they go forth. I have come tonight to remind you to listen to the lessons that my Son has given to you. You have been instructed in all things concerning your time here and how to spend this time wisely. How often you can begin living your new learned instructions zealously only to soon tire and forget the very lessons you have been taught. Take a breath and sit quietly in prayer with my Son. Ask for whatever graces you need to help you retain what you have learned. If you are unsure what to ask simply ask for His will. Trust my Son without question. He is truth. I love you and I am sending you my motherly blessings. Know this.

12/11/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. A mother's plea should be heard deep within her child's heart. That is why I plead with you tonight. Remove the obstacles blocking your progress towards my Son's Heart. Take away anything that causes you to sin. My child you will quickly forget why you sought such destructive choices after you have lived without your certain vices for a period of time. How much clearer you will see when you remove the distortion currently covering your senses. My children. I desire for each of you to be happy. Happiness comes from being united to my Son. It is love you desire not things. I love you my children. Begin each day with prayer. Listen with your heart for what my Son is asking of you. It is in the silence of your heart that will enable you to listen. Therefore quiet yourselves. Sit still and contemplate my Son's words. Reflect on His messages. Then envelope yourself in His Merciful Heart. My children, how much I love each of you. I take your concerns and place them safely in my immaculate heart. I love you and I am praying for you tonight. Know this.

12/12/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for your freedom. Place yourself in the Chambers of my Sacred Heart. It is here that you belong. Make this your choice. Nestlé yourself in my bosom of forgiveness. Give me your “yes”. In return I will feed you life giving bread. I will give you a drink from the cup of salvation. Here is where you will be cleansed of your many sins. I will place my Mercy in your soul and clothe you in new garments. Garments that were washed with the Blood of the Lamb. Slain for your freedom. Unite yourself to my Sacred Heart. All things I will make new. What I offer you is everlasting life. Do not fear coming to me. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings tonight.

12/13/2011 St. John of the Cross

Chosen people, it is I St. John of the cross. Coming to bring you the good news that is Jesus Christ. Unite yourselves to your crosses just as our Lord so willingly bore his. What he sacrificed he did so out of his desire for your freedom from eternal death. Look to his testimony of his saving power of grace. That is your salvation. Pick up your cross and carry it with love for you too can bring salvation by your suffering united to Christ. By offering everything and accepting his will completely you are bringing about salvation by accepting his plan. Everything we offer carries value. But only when united to Christ. On our own we gain no merit. Only when we unite ourselves do we then partake in the role of redemptive suffering. I love you and I am praying for you.

12/14/2011 God the Father

My dear people, it is I your Heavenly Father. Heed my words and do not delay. For I am your God and you are my people. Nothing should come between us. I did not create a Kingdom to turn away my children who I created it for. It is your insistence on material wealth that keeps you from me. If I were to destroy your wealth where would you be? What then would you surround yourselves with? My love is what you must attain first. Then I will give you what you need. Do not place things before your God. Do not be idolaters. You are here because I have called you into being. With my spirit I breathed life into you. My love I placed in your heart. Return to my Heart by giving your “yes” to what I have asked of you. Follow what you have been commanded to follow. Then I will bless your days. Joyfully I will call you home to my Heart where you belong. I love you with an everlasting love. Chosen and cherished you will always be to my Heart.

12/14/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. Do not let your vices take away what is yours. Remove these vices with even greater virtues. The more you place God first in your hearts the easier it will be for you to remove sinful pleasures from your lives. Each day awaken with a prayer. Petition your holy angels to help avert your eyes to the dangers befallen to you. Ask for wisdom from the Holy Spirit to guide every decision for that day. Ask for my intercession and I will take your prayers to the throne of Heaven and place them before my Son. How willingly Heaven is to help you during your time here. How much all of Heaven waits in anticipation of your coming home. That is why this is so important for you to remember what has been taught to you. Read the Gospels everyday. Learn from the lessons my Son taught while He too walked the earth. Place everything in your heart to ponder throughout the day. Each night reflect on your choices. Offer God everything. Place all of your good deeds as gifts at my Son's feet. Then kneel down and ask for forgiveness for your failings. Trust in His Merciful Heart. Begin anew each day always persevering in your journey. I love you and I am giving you my motherly blessings tonight. Know this.

12/15/2011 St. Michael

My peace I give to you, children of the King. It is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets in the hearts of all mankind. Arise from your slumber and become victorious over the devil. Carry your crosses as if it were a banner symbolizing your allegiance to your Shepherd and King. Bare your crosses and start to resemble your King. What you choose today will be the direction you travel. Choose wisely from your heart. Give everything to God. Then you will no longer be a slave to sin. How can you remain in the devil's trap if you surrender everything to God? Give Him your solid "yes" and commit yourselves to following your Risen Lord. I love you dear children and I place my shield before you as you stand armed for battle.

( I could see us standing with crosses on staffs. Thousands of God's children ready to defend their faith. St. Michael watching over us like a general. Shouting words of encouragement. Read this message and imagine hearing each sentence individually. As if he were giving us our directions before we head into battle.)

12/16/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for your freedom. Come to me all who are weary. For my yoke is easy and my burden is light. Brothers and sisters. I come tonight to say again fear not coming to me with your troubles. I love you. I will make all things new. Do not fear your difficulties that lie ahead. For every tear will be wiped dry. I have come to save mankind not condemn him. Therefore remain steeped in my Merciful Heart. Offer all of your burdens to me and I will lift them up. Seek my justice and trust in my Mercy. If you only knew when the master was returning you would surely have prepared yourselves. Therefore do not wait. For I tell you the hour is coming when I will set a blaze in the hearts of all, heed my call. I love you and I send you my priestly blessings.

12/17/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. Learn to be steadfast in your prayers. The more you unite yourselves to my Son the more peace will reign in your hearts and in your families. For you to have peace again you must return to a life of prayer. Never sacrificing your prayer time for the sake of pleasure or laziness. How much time is wasted on unimportant and often destructive vices. Instead I ask you to practice your virtues. Grow in the virtue of faith, hope, and love. You can do this by committing yourself to the will of my Son. Placing everything in Him. Then begin to love your neighbor as my Son has commanded of you. To love is to place another's needs ahead of your own. This need could be something as simple as listening or as courageous as denying oneself for the sake of another. My children nothing is lost that is done with a loving heart. All good deeds you will carry with you and my Son will bless and reward you. Do as He asks of you and love one another. I love you my children and I place all of your prayers in my mantle of motherly love. To be placed before the throne of God. Remember how loved you are by all of Heaven. You are precious to your Father in Heaven through my Son in union with the Holy Spirit. I love you my little ones. Remember this.

12/18/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for your freedom. Open your hearts to me tonight. I will place my Mercy (in the soul) to any brother or sister who trusts in me. Fear not, for what I am offering you is eternal life. A drink from the cup of salvation. Poured out for the salvation of mankind. Place yourself at the foot of my cross and offer me your "yes". Unite yourself to me. It is my desire for no one to be lost to my Sacred Heart. In my Father's house there are many dwellings. Such has been made for you. Do not turn your hearts away from what I am offering you. My mercy is your freedom.

Freedom from eternal death. I am the resurrection. Whoever believes in me shall have eternal life and I will call him on the last day. Before my Father's throne in Heaven, I will call you unto myself. I will sit in the seat of judgment. How will you fair my child. Without my Mercy in your soul. Do not be misled by foolish lies. Remain close to my Heart. It is in my Heart that I give you repose. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings.

12/19/2011 God the Father

My dear people, it is I your Heavenly Father. Hear me my children. I am your Father. I love you with an everlasting love. From the depth of my being I called you forth. From nothingness I created you. Male and female I created you, unique and pleasing. Cherish one another as I cherish each of you. Learn to have compassion and understanding to each other's needs. From love you were called forth. To my Heart you shall return. Place your "yes" solidly in your hearts to my will for you. Learn from my commands. They were placed to free you from wrongfulness. To keep you on the narrow path that leads to my Heart. I love you with an everlasting love. Chosen and cherished you will always be to my Heart.

12/20/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. Happy are those who follow the ways of my Son. For mercy shall be theirs. My dear little ones, pray often and from your hearts. Seek forgiveness and it will be given. My Son will turn no child away who has a contrite heart. Trust Him with everything. Follow closely the ways of my Son. Keep all of His words in your hearts. Stay close and you will steer clear of the traps set out by the devil to deceive you. That is why I ask you always to pray from your hearts. Every prayer is heard and answered. Accept the will of my Son. His Mercy is your salvation. Remember this dear children. I love you and I am sending you my motherly blessings. Know this.

12/21/2011 Jesus

My peace I give to you. Brothers and sisters, listen to this story: There was a woman who was with child. Each day she would walk a long distance to get her share of wheat to make bread. Others in the village saw she was with child and were moved with pity to help her. Soon all of the villagers came out to help her gather her wheat. Some even shared what little they had. When the time of the baby's arrival came all were joyful. Each person felt a great connection with that child since each person had helped during that time.

My children one simple act of love can grow and blossom into a whole field of virtues. How many graces were received by this woman and child. How indebted the woman was to all who had helped here. This my children is what I am asking of you. Seek each other out. Help everyone who needs it. Every act of charity is seen by me and I hold this in my Fourth Chamber. How ready the world would be for my coming if each brother and sister looked upon the other with a loving kindness and charitable heart. I love you and I give you my priestly blessing tonight.

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for your freedom. Come to me all who are weary and I will give you rest. For my yoke is easy and my burden is light. Brothers and sisters, my Mercy I give to this world tonight. All should come and enter the Chambers of my Sacred Heart. Here is where your salvation lies. Do not be afraid. I tell you the truth my Mercy is for this very generation, but to accept this Mercy is a choice you must make. You must freely choose to accept my Mercy. That is why I said all should enter my Sacred Heart.

To have free will is a gift. A gift given from love. Great responsibility comes with such gifts. That is why I tell you to ponder what I am saying tonight.

Take my words into your hearts. Ponder the greatness of your gifts the Father has given to each of His children. How thoughtfully do you use your gifts. How you use what has been given to you will surely be counted at the last day. Make good use of your gifts. A wise man does not waste what is good. Only what is wicked does he despoil of. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings tonight.

12/23/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for your freedom. Come to me all who are heavy burdened and I will give you rest. For my yoke is easy and my burden light. Brothers and sisters, seek the Kingdom of Heaven with all your hearts for such has been made for you. Place your hope in me, for I am your salvation. I am the resurrection. Come to me and never hunger or thirst again. Brothers and sisters, so much has been given to you. So many teachings for you to ponder. Take all that has been given to you in your heart.

Everything has been given to you to afford you the opportunity to seek repentance. To start anew and return to my Sacred Heart.

Listen carefully to all that I have said. Each of you will be called forth. All will be revealed and brought to light. Be ready for this day. Prepare as if the master was returning tonight. Then you will not be caught off guard when I come. Remain awake and keep steadfast. I love you and place all who give me their “yes” in the Chambers of my Heart. I love you and I give you my priestly blessing.

12/24/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb, slain for your freedom. Come to me all who are burdened and I will give you rest. For my yoke is easy and my burden light. Brothers and sisters, tonight I wish to unite myself to you. Give me your “yes” and enter the Chambers of my Sacred Heart. Here you will be comforted. Here I will make all things new. Do not fear, for you are loved by me. If I love you, my Father also loves you. Nothing should stand between us. Therefor seek the Kingdom with all your heart. Such has been made for you. Just as I came into this world to take away your iniquities I will come to bring justice to the upright. To many salvation will be theirs. Do not remain seated waiting, instead get up and remain awake. Be watchful, prudent is the man who keeps busy while the master is away. Surely he will reward his perseverance. I love you and I send you my priestly blessings.

Christmas Evening

Welcome children of the King. It is I St. Michael, coming to announce the birth of your Savior who is Jesus Christ. Lord of all. Let us adore Him.. This child is your salvation. Renew your commitment to God by giving your “yes” each and every day. Awaken your hearts to the sound of joyful celebration. For on this day in the city of David a Savior was born. Your savior, King for all the nations. Both in Heaven and on earth He is Lord of all. Let every knee bend and tongue confess this truth. Arise from your slumber the time to rejoice is now. Let your voices be one with us your heavenly hosts. May your Savior bless you and your efforts. You are loved, remember this.

12/26/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for your freedom. Come to me all who are weary and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you. I shall comfort you and heal all of your afflictions. Listen to my words.

To you : seek the Kingdom of God. For such has been made for you.

Reconcile yourself do not wait thinking I will tend to my soul tomorrow. Tomorrow may not come.

Do not be fooled into thinking the Son of man will not come. I will come to bring justice to this world. All things I will make new. For as the time, do not be caught off guard. For the hour and day you do not know. Only the Father knows. But I can assure you this hour will come. Woe to the children who have heard and walked away.

It would have been better if they were never born. Seek my Mercy now. Learn from the wise men who followed their hearts to Bethlehem. To pay homage to their new born King. They did not falter. Instead they remained steadfast on their course. Do the same. This is your hour of Mercy. My justice will prevail. Therefor seek repentance and do not be afraid. I will give you forgiveness and shelter you in my Sacred Heart. It is there, you will be comforted. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings.

12/27/2011 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. Do not become discouraged on your journeys. Each time you overcome an obstacle you gain virtues. Sacrifice from your hearts and offer everything to my Son. He will bless your efforts. So much wisdom will be gained when you open your hearts to hear the words of my Son. The more you begin to humble yourselves the sooner you will be ready. My children pay attention do not become weary. Nourish yourselves with my Son. He is the Bread of Life. Do not think you can gain Heaven by your own means. No my children you must enter through the gate. That of my Son, who bore the sins of mankind. He is your salvation. He is the gate through which you must enter. Remember this, I love you dear children and I send you my motherly blessings.

12/28/2011 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Arise from your sleepful state. Do not delay in this. The time to renew your covenant with your Risen King is now. Begin to live faithful conventuals lives. Return to a life faithful to the sacraments. Persevere in all things holy. Always giving your solemn “yes” to God. He who was slain is truly risen. Bow down before your Savior with great servitude and homage. Rejoice that you are true children of the King. Hold steadfast always baring your crosses as if they were banners of allegiance. The cross is a symbol of your freedom. Think of this often as you go about your day. I love you children of God and I place my shield before you as you go forth spreading this message of faith.

( I see people holding banner type flags with crosses on them. St. Michael is in front holding a banner of the Paschal Lamb.)

Conventual: not concerned with the temporal world. From the word convent.

12/29/2011 Blessed Mother

My children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. My children you seek peace in a world that has forgotten how to pray. So much noise exists today. Quiet yourselves, silence your hearts and begin to listen to the words of my only Son, your Lord and Just King. His words are truth. They are everlasting. That is why I again ask you to learn to pray from your hearts. Part of praying is listening. Prayer is a conversation that you begin each day. But my little ones this cannot be done with all the distractions that you allow in your lives. Go and seek my Son in the solitude first. Then you will be able to again unite your families in prayer. The more you unite yourselves to my Son now the closer you will be to understanding the glory that is to come. I love you dear children and I give you my motherly blessings. Know this.

12/30/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for your freedom. Come to me all who are weary and I will give you rest. For my yoke is easy and my burden is light. Brothers and sisters, do not tie up heavy loads on one another. Choose to have mercy instead. The wicked already are carrying the burden of their actions. Remain in the light choosing the path that leads to my Heart. It is in the Chambers of my Sacred Heart where you will find respite. For mercy and salvation is yours. Ask and you will receive. Seek and you will find. Knock and the door will be opened. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings.

12/30/2011 St. Michael

Children of the King, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets in the hearts of all mankind. Arise from your slumber and take heart. For what once was lost is found again. Take nothing you have been given for granted. Surely each grace has been bought with the blood of the Lamb. What a price your freedom was purchased for. Do not remain asleep and quickly realize the hour is near. Remembering you have forgotten to take notice of what has been offered for your salvation. Instead take notice now while you still remain here in this world. Offer true thanksgiving and worship for the One True King, Lord of all.

Let Heaven and earth fall down in great anticipation of Jesus Christ the King. I love you and place my shield before you as you work diligently on your task at hand.

(I see everyone in Heaven and on earth falling down in worship of Jesus. Jesus is sitting on a throne chair with a crown on His head and a scepter in His hand.)

12/31/2011 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, my peace I give to you. Fear not coming to me tonight. My Merciful Heart is opened for this world. Accept this truth. I did not come into this world to condemn it, but rather save it. I came to free mankind from the slavery of sin. Therefore come to me all who labor and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you for I am meek and humble of Heart. Again I tell you fear not entering the Chambers of my Sacred Heart. I have told you my Mercy is for this generation. Therefore renew yourselves. Receive my cup of salvation, (Jesus holds out a golden chalice containing His precious blood) poured out for your salvation. How dearly I hold each of my Father's children. Nourish yourselves with my life giving bread. Here you will never hunger or thirst again. I have come to make all things new. It is in me that you will find what you are seeking. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings.

1/1/2012 Blessed Mother

My children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. How happy you make me when you are working hard practicing your virtues and earning treasure for the Kingdom. Every person you meet is an opportunity to practice what you have learned. Each encounter with a brother or sister gives you the chance to merit graces. My children, look all around you and you will see so many chances to love and care for one another. Do not allow any opportunity to be wasted. Make good use of this time that you are being given. I love you my children and I give you my motherly blessings.

1/2/2012 God the Father

My children, it is I your Heavenly Father. The return of my children is what I desire of this world. The removal of hatred and dissidence from my children's hearts towards one another. My children you need to learn to replace that with unselfish love and comforting acknowledgements of each other's sacrifices. Learn to realize that each of you struggle with something. Whether this is doubt or perjury, unchasteness or lack of unity. Each of my children struggle. But if you sought my love in every cross you would still see the opportunity available to you. Learn from your struggles and learn from watching those who are serving others. Servitude is what you need to place in your hearts. Not just as slaves but as brothers. Servitude from a brotherly heart. You will grow in faith because you will begin to see what has been placed before you. Not futile crosses. No you will discover what redemption is and why I sent my only Son to redeem your sins. To understand redemptive love and justice you must first understand servitude and mercy. I love you my children. Chosen and cherished you will always be to my unchanging heart.

1/3/2012 Blessed Mother

My children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. Sacrifice for each other from your hearts. Then offer this to my Son, in union with His sacrifice on the cross. He poured out all He had for the salvation of all His brothers and sisters. Even those who would wound Him and deny Him. He loved. Learn from him. I love you and place you in the mantle of my motherly love. Know this.

1/4/2012 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. Persevere in prayer always. Accept everything as if it was handed to you personally by my Son. If this be a cross then accept it, lovingly with the understanding that you will gain wisdom and fortitude. If graces are what you are receiving then accept these with the utmost gratitude. Understanding that you are receiving these on behalf of a brother or sister who was willing to sacrifice prayers and offerings for you on your behalf. My children everything is given with a purpose. Nothing is given in vain and nothing should be wasted either. So my children accept everything. Love with a joyful heart and pray always. Especially for the intention of serving other's needs. My Son will always reward such kindness. He will show mercy to you. Practice loving kindness. I love you my children and I am sending you my motherly blessings. Know this.

1/5/2012 Jesus

My children, it is I your Heavenly King coming to awaken you to my Heart. Listen with stillness in your voices. I have come to call your name. To awaken you, to hear what I am telling you. Rejoice and be glad because the hour is near when I will make all things new. I will descend on a cloud coming in judgment of this world. Be ready because you do not know the hour when I will come. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings.

1/6/2012 Jesus

My peace I give to you. Dear children, I am the Lamb who was slain for your freedom. I am the King who ransomed His life for your salvation. I am the brother who came to heal your affliction . Hear me my Jerusalem how I have desired to hold each of you in the Chambers of my Sacred Heart. How many times do I call out to you and my call is met with silence. But again I tell you do not fear for I am meek and humble of Heart. I love you from the depths of my Mercy and it is my Mercy I wish to offer to you tonight. Give me your “yes” in every moment. Hold nothing back from me. I did not come to condemn you. I came rather to save you from your sins. To make all things new. I tell you the truth who ever believes in me and trusts in my Mercy shall have peace and I will call them unto myself on the last day. No one should be lost to me or my Father in Heaven. Heaven was made for such as this. That all of my Father's children would reside with Him in paradise. Where every tear is wiped dry and the splendor of my Father's glory exists. I love you with an everlasting love. Chosen and cherished are you by me and my Father in Heaven. I give you my priestly blessings tonight.

1/7/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for your freedom. Come to me all who are weary and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you for my burden is easy and my yoke is light. Fear not coming to me in your times of difficulty. I love you even when you are struggling. It is your pride and distrust that keeps you from coming to me. Am I not merciful? Did I not promise to forgive your many sins? If I tell you to forgive your brother and you do, how much more will I forgive you? What mercy you show to others I will return that mercy to you tenfold. Whatsoever you do for the Kingdom I will place in my Fourth Chamber and reward you. But woe to the man who causes others to sin. How will he fair in my coming glory? To where will he stand? I tell you the truth, nothing will go unnoticed. Again, everything will be brought to light. Therefore seek the Kingdom and do righteousness. I love you and I give you my priestly blessing.

1/8/2012 Jesus

My people it is I your Heavenly King coming to call you into the Chambers of my Merciful Heart. In me you will find peace. Here you will find rest. Place your trust in me always. Surrender your doubts to me. Give me your failings. I am merciful. It is in my Heart that I wish to place you. Do not fear.

1/9/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Here me O Israel the time to awaken is now. Here me Bethsaida arise from your slumber. Here me Mesopotamia likewise arise. The hour is coming when your Shepherd will return with staff in hand. He will separate the goats from his sheep like a winnowing fork to wheat. Arm yourselves in truth everything will come to light. I place my shield before any child who calls on me for protection. Your angels await your call. Call on us. We are here to guide you through the forest and into the light of Christ. I love you dear Children. Understand this.

1/10/12 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael coming to sound the trumpet and awaken mankind from his slumber. How long will you wait Jerusalem for the bridegroom is ready and the wedding feast is set. Prepare yourselves, the hour is coming when the bridegroom will come. When he does come where will you be standing? How will you ready yourselves if you are still asleep? Men of God take what has been sown for you. The chaff will be removed and the wheat is ready to gather. Enter into the covenant between the Creator and His chosen ones. I warn you the hour is nigh. Take heart for God's Mercy is upon you. I place my shield before all who call out to me.

1/10/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for her people. The hour is near when I will make all things new. Fear not the approaching hour. Rest assured I will come. Be ready and do not delay for the Son of man will descend from the Heavens. Ready to take His seat at the appointed time. Learn from what you see in nature. When the harvest is ripe the fruit must be picked before the vultures come and eat the rotting flesh. I come to you now as the Merciful Savior.

But soon I will come as the Just Judge. To make all things righteous in my sight. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings.

(When Jesus talks about rotting flesh I see an orchard with apples decaying on the ground and vultures picking at the remains. Worms are crawling and brown spots cover the fruit.)

1/11/2012 Jesus

My people, it is I your King, calling out to my lost sheep. Do not stray away from my Heart. For the hour is coming when I will call you home. Like a Good Shepard I will call my sheep. Listen to what I am telling you. Fear not, the hour is near when I will make all things new. No stone will remain unturned by me. For I am the cornerstone. Do not reject what I am telling you. Do not turn away. Instead remain steeped in my Mercy. Now is the time to seek shelter in my Merciful Heart. Here I will wash away your iniquities and cleanse your many sins. I will clothe you in robes washed in my blood. For you are my chosen ones. You who have remained faithful until the end. Your reward will be great. As my Father has told you the Kingdom of Heaven was made for you. Created from His love for His children. Take heart for the hour is fast approaching when I will say blessed are those who feared the Lord. The Kingdom of Heaven is theirs. I love you and I am blessing your efforts.

1/13/2012 Blessed Mother

My children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. My children, do not fear entering into the Chambers of my Son's Heart. It is in His Sacred Heart that you belong. I ask each of you my little ones to continue praying from your hearts. Do not lose hope. In my Son is truth. Trust in His words. Live each day in union with my Son. Offering everything to Him. All of your difficulties as well as your joys. May my Son set your hearts aflame and return to the zeal of faith for which you once had. I love you my children and I am sending you my motherly blessings. Know this.

1/13/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for your freedom. Fear not my coming. For when I come I will make all things new. Do not fear your salvation for I have freely given this to you. You only need to accept this in your hearts. The more you unite yourself to my Sacred Heart the quicker you will grow in your journey. My brothers and sisters, you are loved. If it were not so I would have not stated this. You are loved, accept this. Also accept that everything I have given you I have given out of love. Yes, even your crosses. Each of you must learn while you are here. Many lessons will be difficult but trust in my ardent love for you. Accept my Mercy in your soul by trusting in me. Each night repeat these words,” My Jesus I trust in you.” I am your King, Lord of all. I am also your Merciful Savior ready to forgive any brother or sister who comes to me with a contrite heart. That is how much I love you. Trust in what I am telling you. Remember my child I am the Merciful Savior but I will come as the Just Judge. Placing judgment against this world. Repent, I love you and I place my Mercy in your souls tonight. Ask and you will receive.

1/14/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Arise O Jerusalem the hour is at hand. Listen to the call of the Son of God. He is calling out to His lost sheep like a Good Shepherd. Be on guard. Stay diligent in your efforts. Nothing will be gained if you continue to lose your way. Follow the road that leads to the only begotten Son, Lord of all, Jesus Christ. It is in Him that every knee should bend and tongue confess this solemn truth. The Son of man is coming ready to take back what belongs to his Father. Righteous in His sight. I love you children. I am praying for your strength and offer to you my shield of protection. Know this.

1/15/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Here me O Israel. Where were you when all truths were made known. How will you be counted at the end of days. Bethsaida are you awake or do you slumber. To which side do you stand. At our Lord's left to be condemned, or at His right and receive your just reward. The righteous will see the Kingdom set out before them and the goats will be left wailing outside. Here me brothers and sisters now is the time to gird yourselves in the truth. Prepare, for the victor will take His seat and all will be at His feet awaiting judgment. No stone will be left unturned everything will be brought to light. I love you children and I place my shield before anyone who hears my plea.

1/16/2012 Jesus

My people it is I your Heavenly King coming to call you unto my Heart. Learn from your brothers and sisters who are placed in your life to teach you patience. Seek the virtue of fortitude in your difficult journey. Ask for wisdom to understand when you are being deceived by evil. Stay close to me for my yoke is easy and my burden is light. My path is the one which leads to salvation. Know this.

1/17/2012 Blessed Mother

My children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones. Happy are the children who follow the ways of their Lord. You my children will inherit the Kingdom. Learn from your elderly they are wise and can help you avoid temptation. Be good stewards of the children you have been given. Truly they are gifts from Heaven. Do not allow any child to stumble without much concern. You will be held accountable to my Son that they are taught the ways of God. Lead by example. Just as your elderly are good role models be good role models to the next generation. Teaching them the love of their Heavenly Father and the importance of their souls. Guard all that they encounter. You still do not comprehend how precious your soul is to God. Do not allow evil to enter and shelter your little ones from evil. This can be accomplished with the return to family prayer. Read the Bible every night as a family. Pay particular attention to the teachings of my Son. It is in Him that you will find refuge. His words are words of consolation in your present world. How important it is to not lose sight of His sacrifice for all mankind. Remember this especially on Fridays during the hours of noon to three o'clock. That is when he offered everything to the Father on your behalf. How many of my children forget this holiest of hours. My Son is Merciful but He is also your judge. I love you dear children and I stand before the throne of Heaven constantly pleading on your behalf's.

Listen to my plea to you. Return to my Son with open and contrite hearts. Pray always with a desire to please Him and make retribution to those who have offended Him so dearly. How lovingly He accepts the sacrifices of His brothers and sisters when they are sacrificing for someone else. I love you and I am placing your prayers in the mantle of my motherly love to offer my Son. May His peace reign lovingly in your hearts tonight.

1/18/2012 Jesus

My people, it is I your King. Look into your hearts and tell me what you see. Are you loving your neighbor as I have asked of you. Or do you harbor malice and ill will. What you see in your heart pales in comparison to what is really there. You have much pride, so you only see what you desire to acknowledge. But I see the truth. All of your hidden secrets will be brought to light. Nothing can be hidden from me. I tell you this so you can start to remove the pride from your hearts. I will come and judge you. How will you fair? To where shall I place you? At my right, or will you be lost to me!

No child should be lost to me. You have the freedom given by my Father in Heaven to choose your path. Nothing is taken from you without your consent. Likewise everything will be given to you by your decision to give me your "yes" tonight. My child the choice has always been yours. Strive for holiness. I have given everything for you. I have opened the door to Heaven with my unconditional sacrifice. You must only have the desire to enter through me. How much I love you. How much I desire to have you sheltered in the Chambers of my Sacred Heart. So I ask you again to look into your hearts and see. Then come to me and I will forgive what you place before me. I will place my Mercy into your soul. I will heal your afflictions and cleanse your many sins. This my child is how much you are loved. Trust, that is what I desire from you. To trust me completely. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Tonight.

1/19/2012 God the Father

1 year Anniversary

My people, it is I your Heavenly Father. Coming on this one year anniversary. A year ago I started by asking you how do you begin to communicate with me. I told you that you start by saying Hello. I am here. I have told you to listen. I have asked for your “yes” to my salvific plan. I told you that I have given you each other to learn love. I have promised that I did not leave you orphans. That I love you with an everlasting love. This has not changed. Nothing changes with my words. They are the same always. That is why I have come tonight to celebrate with each of you who have listened to these many teachings. To you, my children that have taken these teachings to heart and are giving their “yes” by uniting themselves to me, I bless your efforts. I place my peace in your hearts and I will reign in your hearts. To my children that have heard my words and remain unchanged I challenge you to reread my words. Open your hearts for it is not too late to give me your “yes” tonight. My children I carry each of you in the Palm of my Hand. Created from my Heart. Unique to me. I have chosen you. This I wish for you to remember. I have chosen you. You are cherished by me. In my Heart is where I carry you. Do not allow yourselves to be tempted by false hoods. Instead study what you have learned. Take to heart what you have been told. Ponder all that has been placed before you. It is my Heart that I wish for you to return to. If only you could see what awaits you. Strive for my Heart. You belong to me. Chosen and cherished you will always be to my Heart. My child you are loved. Remember this. I give you my blessings tonight.
