

Volume 3

Ask and You Will Receive
Seek and You Will Find

1/20/2012-7/19/2012

1/20/2012 God the Father

My people, is I your Heavenly Father. Hear what I am telling you. Know that you are loved. It is my love that brought you forth from the earth. It is my love that caused me to breathe my Spirit into you, to give you life. I created you man and woman, and placed you in the garden. Here I gave you everything, but the devil tricked you. He caused you to believe his lies and your pride agreed. Your pride has been your stumbling block. In my Heart I have tenderness for my children. I could not allow you to remain far from me, even though your hearts were hard. That is why I sent my only Son into your midst. He came to bring you back to my Heart, to justify you. His sacrifice healed the chasm that existed between us. Once again you are becoming hard-hearted and prideful. Each time you break away from me by your choices, you widen this chasm. What once was unity has become division. Now is the time to reflect on everything you have been told. My child, I hold you tenderly in my Heart but understand that my justice will come. Remain awake and return to my Heart. I love you with an everlasting love. Chosen and cherished you will always be to my Heart.

1/21/2012 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your Heavenly Mother, my dear little ones. “Fear not my children”, that is what my Son has told you. This is truth. Do not fear what is coming. My Son has great mercy for you children. Fear does not come from my Son, only love and forgiveness. If you only could understand what love He has for each of you. You would not choose to allow evil to enter under your roofs. I love you dear little ones. Take what I am telling you to heart. So much I desire for you to come to Heaven. None of you should be lost. That is why I will ask you again to pray from your hearts. Return to family prayer. I cannot stress how important it is that families begin to pray together again. Peace would return to your families if you would only pray. Offer little sacrifices for each other. Children, do small sacrifices for your parents. Husbands, lead by example making sure to especially lead your families in prayer. Mothers, love your children with joyful hearts. So quickly do children grow that you forget to recognize their youthful trials. Keep the family close to your hearts. Shelter them in a warm home full of mercy and forgiveness. Take special care to love your husbands with sacramental hearts. Everything you do for each other my Son will acknowledge before his Father and bless. Keep your families on the paths to holiness. I love you my little ones. Know this.

1/22/2012 Jesus

My people, it is I your King, coming to ransom your hearts unto myself. Hear me children of my Father. Repent of your evil doings. Do not be so fool hearty to think you can wait for another day. Your days are numbered. I will come in my Father’s glory to pass judgment on this world. Men have become indifferent to what I have sacrificed for them. This indifference wounds me.

How little time is spent on reflection or prayer. Even my graces go unnoticed. Repent. Change from your evil ways, while you can still see daylight. I will come as the Just Judge, but first I have come as the Merciful Savior. My mercy is in your midst. Enter into the Chambers of my Sacred Heart. You will receive forgiveness for your many sins. I will place my mercy in your soul. First you must come to me with contrite hearts. Place everything at my feet. Then go and forgive each other as I have forgiven you. Show the same mercy as you have received. Then I will bless your efforts. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings.

My people, it is I your King, coming to ransom your hearts unto myself. How far will you walk my child before you realize you are traveling in the wrong direction? If where you walk leads to despair, you are not in my light. You must listen to the sound of my calling. You must hear my words in your hearts. Then come and follow me. I will lead you in the right path. I will lead you home. Home to my Heart in Heaven where you belong. Chosen and cherished by my Father in Heaven for all time. Brothers and sisters, tonight I call out to you. I ask each of you to listen to these words very carefully and trust what they are telling you. You are children of the Father. You are not lost to His Heart. The very number of strands on your head are counted. Do not let hopelessness enter your heart. I tell you the truth, fear does not come from me. I did not lay down my life, so you would fear my coming. No. On the contrary, I laid down my life because you are loved by my Father in Heaven. I came to do His will on earth, to make you children of the Father. That is why I want you to not have fear in your hearts. Trust. I am coming to judge mankind, but did I not tell you I have already come as the Merciful Savior. Taking your sins unto myself, and baring all for mankind, for you my brothers and sisters. Then tell me this, why do you hesitate in preparing for my coming? Why have you not yet given your hearts to me so I may prepare them? It is my mercy that I will give you. It is my forgiveness that will heal your iniquities. I love you and place you in the Chambers of my Sacred Heart. You just need to say “yes” and accept this. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings tonight.

1/24/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Arise brothers and sisters and take what has been offered to you, the fruit of salvation. Take heart and do not worry, worry will not gain you a single day more. Instead repent and make known all that has afflicted you. Whatever wrongdoings you have done to your neighbor make reparation and seek their forgiveness. When they ask you for forgiveness immediately accept this and give them your mercy also. Whatever you give will be repaid. The Victor has taken His seat and all will be placed before Him. I love you dear children and place my shield before any child who summons my help.

1/24/2012 St. Gemma Galgani

Dear daughter, it is I St. Gemma, coming to offer you words of encouragement. Listen carefully to what our King has told you. Place everything at His feet. Accept His will in all things. Be ready to accept what is coming and accept all trials patiently. It is impatience that will cause you more difficulty. Do not despair, but rely on God for everything. Ask our beautiful Queen Mother Mary to help you with your trials. She is your mother and will take everything you ask of her to her Son. No prayer will be left unheard. She will hear everything and listen with a loving heart. I will be praying for you during this time and know that God is blessing your efforts. You are very loved by all of Heaven. Pray very hard for all of God's children, especially his priests who have received the brunt of the devil's attacks. Offer much sacrifices for their continued conversion of faith. Much of what you offer will be a testimony to your witness of Gods continued graces for mankind's salvation. I love you dear note taker and I will be praying for you. May God's peace rest in you tonight.

1/25/2012 Jesus

My people, it is I your Heavenly King, calling to ransom your hearts unto myself. My children you listen, but do not hear. So quickly you forget what you have been told. Fear not, I will never stop telling you about my Merciful Heart, this very Heart that was pierced for your salvation. My Heart that bore the afflictions of all mankind. Yes, everyone. Even those children who despised me. Even those children, did I sacrifice for and love. My children, if you could only understand the depths of my Mercy. What I have laid out before you. Eye has not seen, nor ear has heard of the glory that I will bestow on my faithful stewards. Be a steward of your faith. I ask you my children, specifically to be good stewards of what I am telling you. Carry these words in your hearts and repeat them in your hearts and to your families. Daily you must look to my Merciful Heart and seek refuge in it. It is in these very Chambers that I hold each of you on your journeys. I love you and I place (in my Chambers) every child that gives me their solemn "yes" tonight. I love you and I give you my Priestly blessings.

1/26/2012 God the Father

My children, it is I your Heavenly Father, calling each of you to return to my loving embrace. My children I have prepared a place for you. Do not forget this. With all of your many distractions you continually forget why you are here. I have not forgotten you. No, you are always in my Heart. I love each of you equally and uniquely. To each of you I grant special graces to help you on your journey. Use each grace wisely and with a charitable heart for your brothers and sisters. I love you with an everlasting love. Chosen and cherished you will always be to my Heart. My peace I give to you.

1/27/2012 God the Father

My dear people, it is I your Heavenly Father, calling for a return of my children's hearts tonight. Nothing is removed from you without your consent. Everything you receive correlates to what you have freely given your "yes" too. That is not to say that I do not wish for all of my children to give their "yes" to my Will. That is exactly what I desire. But you children are hard hearted. You think of temporal wants instead of pondering far greater gifts. So much do I wish to bestow upon each of you, but you must coincide with my plan for you. It is my Saving Grace that I wish to place in your soul, but to receive any gift you must first agree to accept this gift. That is why I said it was my desire for you to give me your "yes". I will not force this upon anyone. This must come freely from you. I love you my children and only want what is best for each of you. Try to be good stewards of the gifts you are receiving. Remember what you received is a gift. What was freely received should also be freely given to your brothers and sisters. The more you practice selfless love the quicker you will grow in holiness. I love you and give you my blessings.

1/28/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Listen children of the Mighty King, chosen are you and righteous in His sight. Come forward into what has been rightfully conquered for you by the Lamb of God. Children to the left, heed my warning and listen wisely you have been counted and fall short of the Glory of God. Repent and turn away from sin. The winnowing fork has been placed and everything not bearing fruit will be uprooted. Change before judgment passes before you. It is not too late for the Mercy of God is upon you. Give your "yes" from a repentant heart and be wise. A good steward of the gifts you have received. Blessings are being sent to all children. The good will receive them with open hearts and all others will be left aimlessly wandering about. For they did not open their hearts to the gifts and squandered the little they had. Give to those who have and remove from the ones who had not. That will be the call heard in the Heavens above. For the Son of man has vindicated mankind. His voice will be herald above all else. I bless you in the name of God dear children and place my shield before all who heed this call.

1/29/2012 Blessed Mother

My children, it is I your Heavenly Mother, my dear little ones. How priceless your souls are my children. Never should you forget the value that you are. How often have you allowed yourselves to jeopardize your purity? How often have you been a slave to immorality? My dear little ones do not be alarmed at what I am telling you. I am merely conveying a warning to you to begin to see how often you discard what is good for what is evil. Evilness comes in many disguises. That is why you must always be on guard. Ask your guardian angels to help you, if you find yourselves at a crossroad. Confusion comes from the devil as a way of tricking you into thinking something is good when it is not. Open your hearts to scripture and listen carefully to what my Son preached. I love you my dear children and I am praying for your conversion of faith. Turn away from all evil and begin to seek only good and holy things. Then you will please my Son and He will bless your efforts. I love you dear children and I give you my motherly blessings. Know this.

1/31/2012 Blessed Mother

My children, it is I your Heavenly Mother, my dear little ones. Strive very hard for holiness. That is what I desire from you dear children. To continually strive for holiness in all that you say or do. My children to become holy you must first forsake the things you want in search of what others need. When you deny yourself you are following the ways of my Son who denied His self for you. He took on your sins as if they were His own denying His true nature becoming a selfless victim for each of you. Selfless love is what He offered to His Father on your behalf. How then can you imitate such perfect love? By forsaking your wants and taking up your brothers needs upon yourself. Then offer this selfless act to my Son who will bless you and place this in His Fourth Chamber. My dear little ones, to understand God's love for each of you, you must also give love. The more you give of yourselves the better you will understand what my Son did for each of you, that my children, is what total surrender is all about. The giving up of one's self for the sake of God's Kingdom. I love you my children and I place you in my mantle of motherly love. Know this.

2/1/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, it is I your Heavenly King, coming to ransom your hearts unto Myself. Hear me my children and do not delay in what I am telling you. My Heart is a refuge for all of my Father's children. My Heart is open to all who seek My Mercy. It is in the very Chambers of My Sacred Heart that I unite Myself with a repentant sinner, a brother or sister, who freely places their souls (in My Heart) by giving their solemn "yes" to My Will for them. I take your "yes" and unite Myself to you. Allowing My graces to give you strength. To sanctify your hearts to all things that are holy and pure. This, my child you cannot achieve on your own. Only through Me can this be done. You must make My Heart your refuge. I love you and place you in the Chamber of My Sacred Heart each time you give Me your "yes" and unite yourself to My Will.

2/2/2012 Blessed Mother

My children, it is I your Heavenly Mother, my dear little ones. My children: how happy are the children that listen to the words of my Son and take them into their hearts. His words are words of truth. Children the time has come to return your hearts to God, and remove them from the idols that you have given them too. You have given your hearts away to things that hold no value and will bring you no joy. What you feel is nothing short of an illusion. Only a temporal satisfaction instead of a true happiness and joy that comes from being united to my Son. It is this union with my Son that unites you to the Father and the Holy Spirit. Do not place false gods in your hearts. They will only bring you sadness and despair. My children I desire only for your happiness. Place God first in your hearts. Give Him everything by giving Him your “yes” first. Love Him with all of your heart. Then my children you will have happiness. In Him you will have eternal joy that can never be taken from you. Return to a life of prayer. Focusing in particular on the Gospels. Learn from what my Son taught every day He was here. He preached on love, forgiveness, and mercy. He gave you a new commandment, to love your neighbor as yourself, and to love God above all else. My children you need to take these words very seriously. This must be practiced in your homes and kept in your hearts. Peace will only return when you begin to return to a life of prayer and unionship with my Son. I love you my children and I place you in my mantle of motherly love. Know this.

2/3/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Arise all who remain asleep. Now is the time to gird yourselves in the truth that is Jesus Christ, now and forever. Hear me o’ children of Israel, do not remain steeped in your evildoing. Repent and return to the ways of your God. He is holy and righteous. Is there anyone who is as God? Even in your conviction, you still falter when trials are set before you. You must stand firm and be resolute with your offerings. The table is set for the return of God's children. Happy are those who have been called to the wedding feast of the Lamb. Truly they are blest, raise up your hearts and lift your eyes to Heaven. Let your lips sing the praises worthy of the Lamb who is King of all. Have mercy on the children of God. May the risen Lord bless you and I will place my shield of protection over every child who calls for my help.

2/4/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Arise you nations. Hear what is being preached to you from the mountain tops. The hour is near, when all things will be brought to light. Everything will be made new. Children, you do not heed what has been said to you. Still you wait with a false hope that you have time. What time you have has not yet been determined but surely you will not be foolish to wait until the last hour. Convert while there is still daylight. Much is to come. Blessed are the children who have heard this and repented of their evildoing. They will be counted amount the sheep. But, you children who remain prideful holding on to your sinful desires, you will be counted among the goats. Removed from the threshing floor and blown away by the wind.

I place my shield of protection to any child who calls for my assistance.

2/5/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb who takes away your sins. Rest in My Heart where you will find peace. I place you in the Chambers of my Sacred Heart each time you give your “yes” to Me and trust in My Will for you. Open your hearts to me and I will make My dwelling there. Whoever eats of My body and drinks of My blood lives in Me and I in him. I will unite you to My Heart and call you unto myself. My children, hear my words and remember them. You were made from my Father in Heaven because He loved you so. I came into this world because I too love you so. Then why do you have a hard time believing in My Mercy for you. When a shepherd watches his sheep he makes sure they are with him always. No sheep should be lost to his fold. That is how it is with you. I am the Good Shepherd who lays down his life for his sheep. Those who keep my commandments are my sheep. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings tonight.

2/5/2012 Blessed Mother

Dear children, it is I your Heavenly Mother, my dear little ones. Listen to the words of my Son. His words are truth. Dear children, when you become lost, listen to the words of my Son. Return quickly to His Heart through repentance of what caused you to wander off from His sight. If you only knew how loved you were, you would never wander away from my Son again. Stay close to Him especially through the sacraments. Arise each morning with prayer in your hearts and on your lips. Retire each evening the same. Throughout your day think often of what my Son sacrificed for your salvation. Especially at three o’ clock in the afternoon. That is when he bore everything for you dear children. I am always interceding for you on your behalves. Pray for each other and offer small sacrifices for each other. Then you will resemble my Son and joy will fill your hearts. I love you dear children and I place each of you in the mantle of my motherly love. Know this.

2/6/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St Michael coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Arise all you nations, hold steadfast to your crosses and bare them with much gratitude. For the cross you bare will deliver you from perdition. It is the cross of our Lord that frees you men from your sins. Listen and take notice. Be witnesses to the saving power of Jesus Christ, King of Mercy and Salvation. The battle for souls has begun. The winnowing fork is at the threshold ready to do battle. Remain steadfast giving your solemn “yes” to God always being faithful witnesses. I love you dear children and place my shield before any child who cries out for my intercession.

2/7/2012 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your Heavenly Mother, my dear little ones. A journey can last a short while or it can take many days. Every journey is unique to each child. My Son lived among you for a short time before returning to his Father. So many things He taught His disciples while He was here. They learned many things. When He returned to His Father, He sent us the Holy Spirit to teach us truth. That is what I am talking to you tonight about. You have so many gifts and graces to help you as you continue on your journey. Just as each journey is unique, so are each of your gifts and treasures. My children, do not waste time comparing what you have against what your brother has received. My Son has given each child what is necessary for that child to earn merit. Simply call on the Holy Spirit when you stumble. If you fall, do not worry. Simply ask my Son to forgive you and He will give you His Mercy. Everyone in Heaven is eager to help each of you. Give your “yes” to God in every moment. Then you will find peace. Remember to share what you have with each other. Always having a joyful heart. Why is this? Because my little ones, you are loved. Be joyful, you are loved by your Heavenly Father. Redeemed by my Son your Savior and given truth and grace by the Holy Spirit. Celebrate this and know that you have a place at the banquet table. I love you my little ones and I am praying for your conversions of faith. Know this.

2/8/2012 Jesus

My people, it is I your Heavenly King, coming to call you unto myself. Remove the hatred that is pervading your world. No peace will come until you change your ways. You have continually chosen things, instead of your Lord. Turn from this destructive path. Nothing can replace what you are losing, time. Your time is counted and your days are running short. Stop looking to your things for happiness. Stop answering the call of the one who has deceived you and return your hearts to my Sacred and Merciful Heart. It is through the Chambers of My Sacred Heart that your joy and happiness will be found. It is in Me that your peace will return. Stop wasting time toiling away in the dirt that will yield you no crops. Only weeds will invade and grow in your soil until you return your hearts to the Father who created you and the Son who bore your sins. It is through my Merciful Heart that you are redeemed, remember this. I love you and I am blessing your efforts. Know this.

2/8/2012 Blessed Mother

My children, my dear little ones, take heart and return to the ways of my Son your Savior. He is truth. Never wander far from His embrace. Always stay faithful to His commandments. Then you will have only joy in your hearts. The quicker you return to a life of prayer and obedience, the quicker you will receive the Mercy of my Son. Do not wait for His justice to descend upon this world. My children, no longer will I be able to hold back the hand of justice. Judgment will come to everyone. My children, you are not ready to face judgment. So many of my children will be scattered. Listen to your mother who loves you. Return to my Son with a repentant heart. Shower Him with prayers of atonement. It is through the suffering of my chosen children that justice has been held back this long. My children, you will have much to suffer. So be willing to offer everything to my Son. He loves you my children, but you do not return this love. Be faithful and begin to return your love by listening to Him and following His words. Treat everyone you meet with much love. I am praying and interceding for each of you tonight. Know this.

2/9/2012 Jesus

My people, it is I your King, coming to ransom your hearts unto Myself. Children enter into the Chambers of My Sacred Heart. It is here that you will find redemption. It is here that your battle will be won. Come to me and do not be lost. No child should be lost to me, for I am the Good Shepherd. I know my sheep and my sheep know me. You my children who follow my commandments are my sheep. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings tonight.

2/10/2012 St. Michael

2/10/2012 Blessed Mother

Dear children, it is I your Heavenly Mother, my dear little ones. Prepare your hearts for my Son's coming. He will come when you are not ready, if you do not prepare ahead. Listen to my plea little ones. I love you so dearly. I do not want any of my children to be vanquished into the fire. But you my children, have very hard hearts. You have forgotten my Son's commandments to love one another. You place things before your Father in Heaven. Do not continue on this self-destructive path. Instead return to a life of prayer and repentance. Spend this lent preparing your souls for my Son's return. Prepare your children by instructing them in the ways of the Lord. Always remembering to remind them of how much God loves them. How important it is to love and forgive each other. The more mercy you show each other, the more mercy my Son will show you. I love you dear children and I am always interceding on your behalf's. Remember this.

2/11/2012 Blessed Mother

My children, my dear little ones. Cover your souls with good deeds offered to my Son. This will gain you treasure in Heaven. Place others needs ahead of your own. Then you will be like my Son, who placed your needs ahead of His comfort. So much He gave to this world. So much did He sacrifice, for your salvation. But my little ones, you do not listen. You have grown lazy in your prayer life. So much has been offered to you and you continue to turn away from the gifts being offered. How will you bare fruit if you are unwilling to sow? How will it be when you come empty handed to my Son and offer Him nothing when He has given you so much? Begin to earn treasure for the Kingdom, by caring for the brothers and sisters that my Son has placed in your life. My Son has gone before you to prepare a place for you. This He has promised. But you must accept this gift with a loving and compassionate heart. Do not come unworthy and expect for my Son to know you. Unless you begin to love from the heart and show mercy, my Son will not acknowledge you before His Father. He will pass judgment. My children I love you so dearly and only wish for your eternal happiness. Choose to give my Son everything while the choice is yours to give. Do not wait. Soon the hour will come, when time will no longer be yours to count. I love you dear children and I give you my motherly blessing. Know this.

2/12/2012 Jesus

My people, it is I your Heavenly King. I call each of you unto myself. In the Chambers of my Merciful and Sacred Heart I wish to place you. Do not fear the things you have been told. Everything that has been said, was said with a purpose. To bring you back from where you were. How lost you have become. How far from My Heart you have allowed yourselves to be. That is why I am asking each of you to listen to my words tonight. I love you. You are priceless in my sight. Chosen and cherished are you by my Father in Heaven. Guarded by a multitude of angels while you are here. Everything you need has been given to you. But still you look elsewhere for My Love. You will not find Me in your things, for I am not a thing. No, I am your God. I am your Shepherd. I am your friend. Because of this I laid down my life for you. Nothing in your world will bring you the joy that I am offering you. Here your joy is temporal. In me, it is everlasting. Continue to work on loving each other. Move forward in your journey with trust. Trust that I will provide you with the graces necessary for your salvation. Am I not salvation? Am I not the resurrection? Then believe what I am telling you. There is nothing greater than My Love for you or my forgiveness, I place in your souls. So ask, I hear all of your pleas. Nothing goes unheard of by me. It is you who are not listening. You listen with your pride and not your hearts. Humble yourselves, then you will hear what is being said to you. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings tonight.

2/13/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpet and awaken men's souls tonight. Arise all who slumber. No longer will you be able to sleep. The time is coming when no man will be able to hide in the darkness. The light of the world is coming to remove the darkness causing all of men's transgressions to be laid bare for everyone to see. No one will be able to avoid this. Everyone will be brought to light. Then the evildoers will be brought to justice and the righteous to eternal life. Do not hesitate any longer. The winnowing fork is at the threshold waiting to separate you. Enter into the Heart of your Divine and Righteous King. He is Lord of all, no longer will you be able to cry out have mercy on us Lord. His Mercy is now and you are not making good use of this hour. Repent and make good use of your time. What you have will be taken from you unless you repent and return to the ways of God. I love you and place my shield before the hearts of all who are contrite and call on my assistance.

2/14/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken men's hearts. Return to the Lord and give up your vices. You have become slaves to your sinful ways. Free yourselves from the bonds of your sins through the mercy of Jesus your Sovereign King. Lord of all. Testify to the truth. For the truth is with you. The truth will again reign in your world bringing all to light. Therefore repent while the hour is still yours to do so. The time is coming and is almost here when all truths will be brought to light. None will be able to avoid this day. For the King shall sit upon his appointed throne and judge all the nations. The righteous shall be vindicated and the lost shall receive punishment for they chose to remain lost of their free choosing. Do not waste the time you have been given on idol things that will bring you no closer to redemption. Place yourselves at the Mercy of your Risen Lord who all is subject to. He is Mercy. He will yield in everlasting peace. May the Risen Lord reign in your harden hearts where he will conquer your afflictions and return joy to your hearts. I love you dear children and place my shield before each of you who lends a hand to his brother.

2/15/2012 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your Heavenly Mother, my dear little ones. Persevere in prayer always. Moving forward with trust. Make your homes a dwelling place for the Lord. Then He will see fit to come join you and break bread with your Family. Do not squander away your precious time. The enemy sits and waits to devour my children. Oh my little ones, do not be fooled by satan. He wishes to lead you far from my Son. Remain close to the Sacraments. Remove the pride that is dwelling in your hearts. My Son cannot enter such a dwelling. Repent and return to my Son. Offer Him everything. I love you dear children and I give you my motherly blessings.

2/16/2012 St. Peter

Chosen people, it is I St. Peter, coming to announce the good news that is Jesus Christ. Take comfort children the Lord is with you. Have peace in your hearts because the Lord has redeemed them. Take consolation in what I am telling you. No where, will you find happiness except in your Risen Lord. So be faithful, remain steadfast, focus yourselves. You have been chosen by God to lead by example. Never forgoing today what you shall accomplish with a firm trust and repentance. Humility is a way to draw yourself, in closer union with the Lord. So humble yourselves, become what you are. The children, of the King. No longer are you lost. You have a shepherd in Jesus Christ. Follow Him always and He will lead you to eternal life. I love you and give you the blessings of God. Peace, be with you children.

2/17/2012 Jesus

My people, it is I your Heavenly King, coming to ransom your hearts unto Myself. Join Me at the feast that has been prepared for you. Learn to put aside your differences with your brothers and sisters. Remove the hatred from your heart. Then my child, you will be free to accept the love I am offering you. You are chosen, by my Father. Begin to understand what you are receiving. These messages are gifts to help you return to my Merciful Heart. I am sending you the opportunity to turn away from your sinful past and embrace the salvation that I purchased for you with my life. Freely given, you only need to freely accept this. I love you and place you in the Chambers of my Sacred Heart.

2/18/2012 Jesus

My people, it is I your Heavenly King, calling all sinners to come to the Chambers of My Merciful Heart and do not delay. Wait no more for my hour is coming. I will call each child to Myself. All will be made known before men. Therefore I tell you to wash yourselves in My Precious Blood; this I have given to you. Remove your pride-ridden hearts and learn from Me. I am meek and humble of heart. Brothers and sisters do not think you can hold back the hour of My coming. I will come and set a blaze to this world. I will enkindle a fire in the hearts of all so everyone will know that the Son of man does exist and sits at the right hand of His Father, judging the twelve tribes of Israel. My Father has given this to me and this I am telling to you, so you may understand that my Glory will come. So do not wait. The hour is coming and the hour is almost here. I love you dear children and I am blessing you with my Merciful Sacred Heart tonight.

2/19/2012 God the Father

My dear people, it is I your Heavenly Father. Come to Me my children and do not delay. For thus is the measure I wish to give. That each of my children turn away from the evil that is pervading your world and return to a Father who gives justice to his wayward children. Justice and judgment will descend upon the Earth. For it is written that night will come upon the land unless men return their hearts to Me. It is my mark that you should choose to have upon yourselves. Return to My Heart. It is in My Heart that I formed you. It is My Justice that I will call out upon you. But seek My Mercy and pray for My Gift of Wisdom. You do not wish to be separated from Me for all eternity. Return to My Heart. A heart, that offers eternal love. A gentle caressing love, of a parent. I love you dear sons and daughters and I am blessing you.

2/20/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for your freedom. Come to Me all who are heavy burdened for My yoke is easy and My burden light. Hear me My brothers and sisters and listen to what I am telling you. To enter into a covenant with Me you must first remove all hatred from your hearts. How can you unite yourself to My Heart if yours is burdened with sorrow and heaviness. It is your pride that causes you to sin. Remove the hatred from your hearts then you will have room for My Love to enter. What price did I pay for your freedom? How much did I sacrifice for you out of love? Do not reject what I am offering you. Do not continue with your hard untrusting hearts. The day will come when I beckon the children of my Father. With great anticipation they will listen to My call. Those who have prepared their hearts will be ready for My arrival. They will see My Glory descending like a cloud. How happy will those children be when they share in My Eternal Glory set before them. What once was lost becomes found. But to those children who have remained far from My Heart. Who have journeyed with out love for neighbor or concern for their God who bore so much for them. I say woe to you. What has been given to you will now be taken for you did not wish to enter into My Merciful Heart. You abandoned your covenant that you made and left your gifts to be trampled on by the wolves.

Away with you, you evil doers. You who have tried to take from the rightful heirs to My Father's Kingdom. It is in you that I find no recompense. Therefore I warn you now to repent of your evil ways so that judgment may not come upon you. I love you brothers and sisters. I am giving you my priestly blessings. Go and spread what you have heard.

2/21/2012 Blessed Mother

Children, it is I your Heavenly Mother, my dear little ones. How happy you would be if you started to live the messages you have received. Your hearts would become full of my Son's graces. No longer would you have hardness or anger, jealousy or rage. You would bare fruit. You would become united to my Son and begin to remove all of the faults that keep you heavy hearted. Turn away from the evils that plague your world. The choices of men have become scornful and bitter. No longer do my children take on the role of caretaker to their brothers and sisters. Yet that is why you are here, to learn love and be loved. First however you must remember, what love is. It is denying oneself for the sake of another. Look to my Son and you will learn what love is. He is love. Everything that He offered for your salvation was out of love for you and love in doing His Father's will. My children begin to make a point of loving everyone you meet. Share what you have been given. The more you give of yourself the more my Son will bless your efforts. I love you dear children and I am praying for your ability to serve each other in love.

2/23/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for your freedom. Come to me all who are heavy burdened and I will give you rest. For my yoke is easy and burden light. Brothers and sisters, I ask you again tonight to be aware of what you are surrounding yourself with. Where do you place importance? On things that will rust and decay or have you realized your true treasure is in loving and caring for each other. Why do you still look to your things for satisfaction? Do you expect your wealth to last? I can remove at once all you have acquired. What then will you hold onto? Where your treasure is, there too is where your heart resides. What you give your heart to, is how you will be judged. If you give your heart to the service of others you will have treasure. If you give your heart to things, you will lay awake empty handed. Give away what you have excess of. Begin to realize everything you need, will be given to you just ask. But this is not for temporal wants that you have a desire for. But rather I will give you what you need for salvation. I love you and I am blessing your efforts.

2/24/2012 St. Theresa the little flower

Children of God, it is I St. Theresa (the little flower), sending you warm greetings. Be cheerful dear children for the time of Jesus is now. Truly, he is risen. Take this time of lent to prepare your hearts for his return. Ready yourselves by sacrificing for each other. Look upon your brother as your friend and love your enemy. Everything you do whether big or small will be seen and blessed by God if it is done out of love with a heart that is pure. You must begin to purify your hearts by going to frequent confession. No sin should be left un-repented. Nothing can be hidden from God so reveal everything. Then you will find favor with Him and He will grant you mercy. Dear children know that everyone in Heaven is anxiously awaiting your conversion of hearts. I too am praying for your time here to be used wisely. So much can be gained with even the smallest of effort. A smile can gain you much merit. What a selfless gesture to make someone's day brighter. We are all called by God to be holy. So begin to live each day with this in mind. Serve each other as if they were God. Forgive each other as if Jesus was forgiving you. Practice kindness in everything you say. Remember the tongue needs careful pruning. Use this gift wisely. I love you dear children and I am praying for you always.

2/25/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpet and awaken mankind from his slumber. Arise all you nations that have held onto your evil ways, judgment is coming. Repent of your falsehoods. Remove the scorn that you have placed on your burdensome hearts. The time of the Lord is coming. Be fervent in your prayer life. Do not scoff at those trying to return their hearts to God. They are blessed and will see his glory. But you who do not wake up will see judgment. For the hour of mercy is now. I warn you do not be foolhardy thinking you can escape the wrath of God. Judgment will come to all. Those who have repented will receive mercy and be saved. Everyone else will fall short. Do not let this hour pass before you with out exclaiming the Lamb of God has truly risen. He is just before all, righteous in the sight of his Father and all men. Give glory and praise to the one who bore the sins of all mankind. Blessed be his name for all eternity. I love you children and I place my shield of protection before all who cry out for repentance.

[When St Michael talked about the nations I could see leaders of countries who were enslaving their people. Evilness was everywhere. God's children were trying to remain faithful and were being punished for their faith. Wars were in the street. People were running afraid for their lives. I see God watching. He will lift up those who are trying and show them mercy and kindness. St. Michael will shield their souls from the hour of darkness that is coming.]

[When St Michael said we should exclaim the Lamb of God has truly risen... I see Jesus in Heaven. I see him exalted in Heaven. Everyone there witnesses the glory of God. All voices sing the Glory of Jesus's righteousness. His sacrifice is remembered with solemn reverence. All hearts are focused on His Mercy for us. Everyone in Heaven, including the angels bow as if they were falling to the ground when His name is said.]

[That is something I wish I could describe better. How everyone bows in Heaven. Nothing on Earth comes close to the joyful reverence shown to Jesus. Everyone has understanding of His sacrifice. Beyond what I can explain or describe.]

2/26/2012 St. Paul

Beloved, it is I St Paul, coming tonight to plead for your return to our Risen King. Ask yourselves where do you stand. Are you willing to be on the left where there is only loss and despair? Or will you become triumphant over your sinful ways and stand on the right where you will be welcomed in the Kingdom of God, where there is only hope and joy. Brothers and sisters, this is the question you must ask yourself each time you begin a new task. What are you doing to wisely spend this time you have so generously been given? How willing are you to die to self so you can gain the gift of eternal life? To follow in the path of the Lord you must first die to self. Then pick up your cross and follow Him. In truth you will follow. In truth you will be set free. Jesus Christ is truth. He is the manna sent from Heaven, to free men from their eternal punishment, by granting them forgiveness and mercy. This is the only way to eternal happiness, through the Lamb who bore the sins of the world and opened the gate to Heaven. He is the Paschal Lamb. In Him you have salvation. I love you and bless you in the name of Jesus our Sovereign King. May peace again enter your hearts and world.

2/27/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpet and awaken mankind from his slumber. Take notice of the battle growing in your world. Lines are being drawn. Every day you must choose between what is good and holy or fall for what is evil and foolish. Children the choice is yours to make. I place my shield of protection over any child who calls out for my aid. Do not wait for the war to be at your doorstep before you change from your evil ways. Return to a nation that is good and holy. Putting God first and neighbor second. Much time has already been wasted. No longer can you sit idly by. Now is the time to arise and reclaim your souls from the accursed. No child will be lost that repents. The Son of God is merciful to the Father's children. You must heed my warning. I love you and place my shield before all who cry out for my aid.

2/28/2012 Blessed Mother

Dear children, it is I your Heavenly Mother, my dear little ones. Only through fasting and prayers will peace again return to your hearts and world. Wars are the result of hardened hearts. Pride causes my children to turn their hearts away from my Son's teachings. He taught love. This He commanded of you. But you my children have grown prideful and no longer listen to my Son's words. In anger you try to resolve your conflicts. You pass judgments. This should only come from my Son because He is the Just Judge. I love you dear children. Begin to amend your ways before it is too late. Your world will have much to suffer because of your great offenses against my Son and your God. So much has been given to you, but you have not made good use of your gifts. This you must stop before the hand of justice descends upon you. I love you and I am interceding for you on your behalf. Pray the rosary every evening for the conversion of your world. Men must return their hearts to God. I love you and give you my motherly blessings. Know this.

2/29/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Children of God, where do you stand? To what do you see when you look into the depths of your soul? Have you accepted God in your hearts and given Him your "yes" or are you still preoccupied with your sinful pleasures that you have forgotten where you are. Now is the time to remove what you have placed in your life that is causing you to remain far from your Lord. He is merciful to His people. Slow to anger and quick to forgive. Yet you continue to put this loving Savior last in your hearts. Forgoing His love and mercy for the things of this world. Begin to testify to each other, whom you belong to. You will be separated like sheep and goats. Where your heart is, that is where you will stand. I love you children and I place my shield before any child who calls on my assistance with their journey.

2/29/2012 Blessed Mother

Children, it is I your Heavenly Mother, my dear little ones. Pray from the heart. That is how you will again return to the ways of my Son. It is through prayers and sacrifices that you will be able to overcome the evil that is lurking in your world. My children I am praying very much for your conversion. But my children I need your continued prayers to offer my Son. In this time there is great confusion. This confusion is causing my little ones to become lost. You must begin to pray for each other. Begin to see your neighbor as your true brother and sister. Be willing to offer them your love and forgiveness. Then my Son will bless you and show you the same forgiveness. The more mercy you give to each other the more merciful my Son will be to you during these last days. Love each other as He has commanded you. I love you dear children and I am sending you my motherly blessings. Know this.

3/01/2012 Jesus

My daughter I accept your heart and place you in my First Chamber. You have given me your “yes” freely. I have not forgotten you. You are never away from My Heart. As long as you freely give me your “yes” I will place you in my First Chamber. Every time you are contrite and ask for my forgiveness I will place you in my Second Chamber. Here I will bathe you in my precious blood and wash you clean of your sins. I will place My Mercy in your soul and call you unto myself. This I offer to every child that comes to me seeking forgiveness. Ask and you shall receive. Seek and you shall find. Knock and the door will be opened for you. Everything must begin first with your “yes”. That is why since the beginning I have told you to give me your “yes” in each and every moment. It is by your “yes” that I can enter your heart and make my dwelling there. I offered everything to My Father on your behalf. I also offer everything to you but you must accept this gift. Your freedom to choose is your free will. This is a gift my Father bestowed on all of his children.

3/1/2012 Blessed Mother

Children, it is I your Heavenly Mother, my dear little ones. Unite yourselves to my Son. He is the way, the truth, and the light. Everything given to you, comes from my Son. He is the barer of gifts. You must be children who take what has been given to you and make good use of your gifts. My children salvation will come when you accept the will of my Son. He died for each of you but you still must accept this gift with your whole heart. Then take what you have received and share it with all of your brothers and sisters. The more love and compassion you show, the more mercy my Son will show you at judgment. Practice kindness. I love you dear children and I send you my motherly blessings. Know this.

3/2/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, it is I your Heavenly King, I call you unto myself. Listen to my words. You are loved. This brothers and sisters is truth. My words are truth. You must take what I am saying deep into the recesses of your soul. You are loved. I have never abandoned you. In your deepest sorrow I am there. In your weakest moment I am there. You must sacrifice your desires that will bring you no salvation. Instead return your heart to me. I am salvation. I am the one who will lead you out of this darkness and into the light. You must begin to trust. The more you trust in my love and mercy the quicker you will move through the Chambers of My Heart. Your journey will lead to Me. I will unite Myself to you and we will make our dwelling with you. My Father’s house has many dwellings. My child you belong to my Father. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

3/3/2012 St. Michael

Holy people, it is I St. Michael, sending you greetings from Heaven. Arise and rejoice. Your time of renewal approaches. Be steadfast in faith. Awaken from your slumber and return to your journeys. There is much work that needs to be done to prepare your hearts for your risen King. Jesus Christ who is Lord of all. Children confess this truth with courage. Come to the table with great joy and anticipation. Your seat is ready and the bridegroom is coming. Now is the time to repent of everything still un-repented. Clear the threshing floor of your hearts. Let there be only one thing you hold above all else, your “yes” to your Heavenly king. The lamb who bore the sins of mankind, to set him free. I love you and place my shield before all who call on my assistance.

3/3/2012 Blessed Mother

My children, it is I your Heavenly Mother, my dear little ones. How dearly I hold each of you in my heart. You are cherished by your Heavenly Father, for all eternity, know this. I love you dear children and I place each of you in the mantle of my motherly love.

3/4/2012 St. Paul

Children of the King, it is I St Paul, sending you greetings from Heaven. Dear children, you are at a time in your journey, where you need to take time and reflect on where you are at. Is this where you wish to be? Are you united to the Father in all you speak or do. Are your actions trustworthy and do you have your brothers and sisters intentions in your heart. Where have you placed your heart? Have you given it fully to the Son who redeemed you at such a high cost. Will you be ready to return this love with the same sacrificial love? What greater love is there? You must begin to study scripture so you can answer these questions with Holy insight. Pray for wisdom to enter your hearts and minds. Become learned men. Then you will understand what is at stake. How can you stand firm ready for battle if you do not yet understand what you are fighting for. This is a battle. Every choice you make comes at a cost so choose wisely. I love you and I offer my prayers for you tonight. May God's peace reign in your hearts and world.

3/5/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, it is I your Heavenly King, coming to ransom you unto myself. Brothers and sisters, do you hear the cries of your brothers and sisters? Do you understand what the value of each child is before Heaven? You are all my Father's children. Yet, there are children suffering at great cost. How many souls are slipping away into perdition because no one is willing to teach them my Father's love. No one is there to explain my endless ocean of mercy, I have for them. Who among you are willing to explain each Chamber of my Sacred and Merciful Heart. You must begin to have a voice. You must proclaim justice and truth. Your brothers and sisters are walking blindly and there is no one willing to pick up their cross and help lead them back to My Heart. Begin anew this day. Start to replace your selfish ways with selfless acts of love and reparation to My Merciful Heart. Lead others into the folds of my forgiving embrace. Lead by example. The more love you are willing to have for your lost brothers and sisters the more mercy I will show you on the last day. Whoever cares for one of my Father's children, I will reward greatly. For this you have done out of love and this is the treasure for which I am speaking of, that will never rot or decay. No one can take a good deed from you. What you do in secret my Heavenly Father will see and reward you. Be peace-makers and I will call you son's of men for truly you will be following in my footsteps. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

3/6/2012 Blessed Mother

Children, it is I your Heavenly Mother, my dear little ones. Happiness comes from being united to my Son. Pray for happiness to return to your world. If you wish to be joyful begin to have prayerful lives. Joy will again return to your families when you begin to pray as a family. Unite yourself to the will of my Son. He will place His peace into your hearts. When your country returns to being a God fearing world and place, (placing) the Father (first) ahead of its own desires, peace will again return. The Father will bless your land and you will again prosper. This children will only happen, when the hearts of men change. Right now your hearts are hardened. You do not seek the ways of my Son. Instead you seek only the ways of men. Placing things ahead of each other. You will find no solace in your things. Return to prayer. Offer each moment to my Son to bless. Ask your Heavenly Father for His blessings and repent of your wrong choices. My children I only desire for your happiness. I place my mantle of motherly protection over you but you must desire this in your hearts also. I love you dear children and I give you my motherly blessing. Know this.

3/7/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St Michael, coming to sound the trumpet and awaken the hearts of mankind. Hear me children. Arise from your slumber. Sleep no more. Your vindication is upon you. No longer will you be able to hide in the darkness. The light of the world will set a blaze in the hearts of all mankind. Children you must heed my words. Take them into your hearts and listen well. Souls are at stake. Your world has been in great turmoil. No longer will you be able to be silent witnesses. Now is the time to unite your hearts to the Lord. Now is the time to carry your crosses in allegiance to the one true King, Jesus who is lord of all. What once was lost is found. Children, lift your eyes and hearts to Heaven and prepare for His arrival. I love you and place my shield before any child who listens to my words.

3/7/2012 Blessed Mother

Dear children, it is I your Heavenly Mother, my dear little ones. Harken your hearts to the words of my Son. His words are everlasting. Children if you only knew how loved you were you would cry with joy. How happy you would be again, if you unite yourselves to my Son's compassionate Heart. He is your King who bore a crown for you. Upon His flesh He ransomed Himself for your sins. Remember this with compassion. Return to a life of service to your King. It is in service that you will begin to understand what perseverance is. To persevere in faith will yield you much fruit. No longer will you be a slave to sin. Children you must learn love if you wish to overcome your sinful ways. This can be achieved only through trust in my Son your Savior. He showed you the way. It was through His love for you that He laid down His life. Do not forget what has been given to you. Can any of you proclaim such a testimony of selfless love of neighbor? Yet this is what my Son has offered for you. He asks each of you to love each other as well. My children begin to learn selfless love. I love you and I give you my motherly blessings. Know this.

3/8/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, it is I your Heavenly King, calling all of you to return to my Sacred Heart. Remove the anger that has been festering in you like a purulent wound. Anger and jealousy will consume your heart. Begin to forgive. Replace your anger with love. Then your anger will be turned into gladness. You will be happy to be reunited with the brothers and sisters that you have lost. Do not let jealousy enter your hearts. With it comes anger and indifference. Soon you begin to judge and no comfort will come to a judgmental heart. Be content with what you have. Offer to your brothers and sisters whatever you can. The more you give the less you will want. Become children that love each other without condition. Then my Heavenly Father will love you without condition. What you sow you will reap, so be sowers of faith. Teach others about the goodness of my Father. Remember what you have received. Remember how I loved you to my death. That is how loved you are. Follow this, love unconditionally, forgive immediately, follow the commandments, whatsoever you do to the least of my Father's children you do unto me. This I will hold in my Fourth Chamber. Here is where your rewards will be counted. I can assure you this treasure will neither rust, nor rot away. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings.

3/9/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Be faithful witnesses to the truth. Remain steadfast and strong. You must be vigilant in the coming days. Much will be asked of each of you. Many sacrifices will be made. This will teach you love of neighbor. It is through your sacrifices that you become aware of how self centered you have become. Do not focus your efforts on your own needs. The Son of man will give you what you require in the coming days. Instead begin to focus your attention on practicing mercy towards others. Be a constant light in your ever darkening world. I love you and I place my shield in defense of all the defenseless and those who call out for my assistance. I love you children.

3/10/2012 Blessed Mother

Children, it is I your Heavenly Mother, my dear little ones. Do not allow the holocaust that is invading your world to continue. Every life is precious to God. He is the creator of all life. Every child is equally important in His Heart. Do not be fooled into thinking one has more value than another. Dear children this is wrong. You need to love and cherish each other just as the Heavenly Father loves and cherishes each of you. It is in loving each other that you begin to grow in holiness. This is what your Heavenly Father wishes from His children, to love and respect each other. Learn from my Son who gave everything for love of you, His brothers and sisters. He gave His life for your eternal salvation. He did this freely out of love. A love that is never ending, filled with faith and justice. Pray for the ability to see all life as sacred. Pray to learn forgiveness from your hearts. Pray especially for your brothers and sisters who are lost or without hope. They are being misled. They need your loving prayers and forgiving hearts. My little ones, the more you begin to love the more you will resemble my Son who is love. I love you dear children and I give you my motherly blessings. Know this.

3/11/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, it is I your Heavenly King, calling each of my Father's children unto myself. Never fail to understand the importance of surrendering yourselves completely to my Sacred and Merciful Heart. It is through the Chambers of my Heart that your souls have been redeemed. Brothers and sisters, much has been said and yet you still seem to grow weary quickly. How will you be able to ready yourselves for me? When I come to dwell among you how will you receive me? You must begin to awaken your hearts and prepare them for my arrival. I will come descending into your midst. I will call all of my Father's children before me. Then I will place you who have followed my commandments and teachings to my right. Where you will receive your just reward. Then I will turn to those children on my left and say to them, I tell you I don't know you. How often I called out to you and you did not answer. How much I loved you and you did not accept me into your hearts. Now you will leave and go where you will suffer for your crimes. This my children, is why I tell you repent from your evil ways. Stop what you are doing that removes you from my midst. You are creating a great chasm between us. It is my desire for you to amend your ways. Trust in my Merciful Heart. Will I not go after the lost sheep? Did I not lay down my life for each of you? Tonight I come to you as your Merciful King. Soon I will bring justice to your world. Do not wait for the hour when judgment befalls you to convert. Convert now. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings.

3/12/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, it is I your Heavenly King, calling each of you to enter into the Chambers of my Sacred Heart. It is in these very Chambers that salvation was won for you. My brothers and sisters how often are you looking into your own hearts. Looking with the purpose of uniting your hearts to mine. Each day I desire that you give your solemn “yes” to me. Trust in my will for you. How much I desire for each of my Father’s children to be united to us. This must be a choice you make. I love you and I place every child in my First Chamber each time they give me their “yes”. Remember this.

3/13/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St Michael, coming to awaken men's hearts. Learn from your past mistakes. Look at what you have taken for granted. Soon you will not be able to do this. Mankind must awaken from his slumber or evil will beset you. Nothing will come to the one who is sleeping when the master is away. Only the children who stayed awake watching and readying themselves will be ready. They will stand and be counted among the righteous. These children did not lose the battle that was placed before them. They persevered even when difficulty rose around them. You must stay faithful until the last day. Remain united to the Risen Lord. He is salvation. I love you and place my shield before any child who listens to these words and takes actions.

3/14/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for her people. Choose wisely for you do not want to be caught off guard. Do not grow weary of your travels, for you still have further to go. Much will be expected of my trusted ones. Those brothers and sisters who freely offered me their “yes” will be remembered in my First Chamber of my Sacred Heart. They will not be defeated when the enemy comes. I will keep them safely united to me in the Chambers of my Heart. First then understand what is expected of each of you. Love one another. Give alms to the needy. Forgive just as I have forgiven you. Do not take that which you do not have ownership of. Forsake everything for the Kingdom and you will receive everything back tenfold. Do not allow even the hardest of my little ones to fall prey to the devil on your account. These very small ones are just as beloved by me and my Father. Give and expect nothing in return. I will give you your reward. Remember what you have been told. Take each lesson into your heart. The time is coming when I will descend and pass judgment against all of mankind. Do not be forsaken by me. Remain in the light then everything you do will be seen. By the light of day all things are revealed and all will see these truths. Do not wait till darkness comes. Only in darkness does man try to hide what he is ashamed of. Be children of the light. Never fearing my presence among you. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

[When Jesus said forsake everything for the kingdom and we will get everything back tenfold. I could see people willingly giving up all of their vices. Even their lives for the Kingdom, the love of God. Then I saw them entering Heaven. Everything they had given up and sacrificed was rewarded in Heaven. The happiness they felt was so much greater than the sadness they felt giving up their different things for God.]

3/15/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, it is I your Heavenly King, coming to ransom each of you unto my Heart. Fear not the time you are living in. I am sending my graces into your world. Listen quietly and patiently. Open your hearts to receive my graces. They are for you to use during your journey. When you face an obstacle remember how much I love you. I will give you fortitude to help you persevere. When you fall I will place you in my Second Chamber and cover you with my precious blood forgiving all of your sins. My child my Mercy is for every repentant heart that reaches out to me. I hear your cries. They are not left in the silence.

[I see a dark night with complete silence. Looks like a forest with a small voice that begins to cry out to the Lord in distress and Jesus lovingly placing the cries into His heart.]

I place them in my Heart and pour my Mercy out to you. Recall how much I suffered at the hands of my brothers and sisters who turned their backs on me. Still I loved them. Not a moment went by during my Passion that you were not in my thoughts and prayers. Yes, I prayed to my Father for your salvation. I offered Him everything. I gave Him my “yes” to His Will. Now I ask you to give me your “yes” to my Will for you. Be still and do not fear. I come to you tonight as the Merciful Savior ready to unite myself to you. Accept my love and offer me everything. I will place you in my Heart and make my dwelling with you. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings tonight. Know this.

3/15/2012 Blessed Mother

Dear children, it is I your Heavenly Mother, my dear little ones, persevere in prayer. Let your prayer lives be an example of your loving trust in my Son. Do not hesitate in offering everything to my Son. Whatever you give He will surely bless. I love you dear children and I place each of you in my mantle of motherly love.

3/16/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, it is I your Heavenly King, coming to ransom each of you unto my Heart. Brothers and sisters, hear what I am telling you. A man can only serve one master. If he served two he would begin to love one and despise the other. When I come into your midst to whom will you serve? If I knocked at your door would you open it upon seeing me? These are the questions I am posing to each of you tonight. You must become prudent in your thinking. Your choices must be grounded in truth. If you desire to love and serve me you must begin to deny yourself. You must begin to detach yourselves from the things of this world and renew your faith. Start to renew your covenant with me, by giving me your “yes”, and fulfilling that promise. Nothing should come between us. Again I tell you, no one should be lost to me. Would I not go and find even the smallest of lost sheep. Yes. I am the Good Shepard who laid down His life for all of my Father’s children. No one is excluded, except the children who have excluded themselves. Their choices have been made by their lack of love. Do not be this way. You belong to my Heart. Love one another and you will receive a just reward. What you do for someone out of love and a desire to please me, I will reward. I will place you in my Fourth Chamber. Here I will keep you and your reward will be great. For no one can take away from you, what I am giving you. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

3/17/2012 Jesus

My people, it is I your Heavenly King, coming to ransom each of you unto my heart. Brothers and sisters, your pleas do not go unnoticed by me. I hear every word that is uttered. My Heart goes out to all of my sheep who are trying to follow my words. You are my chosen ones. You listen and take my words deep into your souls. You work hard trying to set an example for others to follow. I see the fruits of your labor. In my Fourth Chamber I place you. You will see your just reward. Tonight I give words of encouragement for all of my Father’s children, especially those who have fallen asleep. Open your eyes and hearts. Listen to the words you are hearing. You must become prudent in your choices. When you see your choices are destructive to your soul, then stop and immediately seek my forgiveness. Do not delay for even a second. You do not know which second I will call you before me in judgment. Therefore do not allow sins to take root in your hearts, repent and learn from your failings. Start anew. This moment has been given to you. Rejoice in this brothers and sisters. Peace will again return to your world. But first you must yield to my words. You must change your hardened hearts and seek justice. My Mercy is for you, so ask. Am I not here ready to give you what you need? If you ask any thing of me I will give to you what you need. But you must accept my will. You must give me your “yes”. When you freely give me your “yes” you are uniting yourself to me. There I will place my graces into your soul. I will help you during your difficult moments. It is you who must remember to trust in my love for you. It is my love for each of you that caused me to offer everything on your behalf. Even my last breath I gave for your salvation. I love you. You belong to me. Know this.

3/18/2012 Blessed Mother

Dear children, it is I your Heavenly Mother, my dear little ones. Persevere in your prayers tonight. When praying, pay particular attention to what you are praying. Say your words slowly and thoughtfully. Remember to try to be present. So often your minds wander far away just like your hearts. When you pray from your hearts, your thoughts and heart is united to that prayer. Contemplate what my Son has done for you through His Passion. Realize what sacrifices He made for you and how much He suffered for you out of love. Then take what you have realized and place this in your heart. Remind yourself throughout the day how often you were in His Heart as He took each step towards His Crucifixion. Those steps were wrought with crushing pain and solace. Each step was offered to His Father on your behalf. When you walk throughout your days offer Him your prayers of gratitude. Begin to learn the gift of gratefulness . Do not overlook what has been given to you. Also do not take this time for granted. You are living in a time of God's grace. Pray for His continued grace. I love you and I give you my motherly blessings.

3/19/2012 Blessed Mother

Children, it is I your Heavenly Mother, my dear little ones. Do not be afraid of your journey or the road you are on. Much is learned from each step you take. You must remember to make sure that when you walk along your road you are taking your steps in union with my Son. Be united to Him in prayer. Offer Him all of your trials, your sorrows and your joys. Keep nothing from Him. He is the gate that you must enter through. Dear children, I only wish for your eternal happiness. You will have complete happiness in Heaven. Here you will always be united to your Savior. You will see the glory of God. Everything is brought to light. In Heaven there is no darkness. Only love and joy my children. You must begin to live your Heaven on earth. You must start living in truth. Prepare your hearts now for my Son. Live every day united to His love. I love you my children and I am praying for your conversions of faith. Know this.

3/20/2012 St. Michael

3/21/2012 Jesus

My people, it is I your Heavenly King. Enter into the Chambers of my Sacred Heart pierced open for your salvation. I am the narrow gate through which you must enter. I am the Good Shepherd who laid down His life for His sheep. You who have listened to my words and follow them with your hearts are my sheep. Listen carefully to what I am saying to you. You have become complacent in your prayer lives. You have fallen asleep and have allowed yourselves to become lax. You must regain your freedom from the bondage of sin by recognizing your sinful ways and repenting. Turn your hearts to me and I will forgive your sins. I will place you in my Second Chamber. Here I will cleanse you with my blood. You must first accept what I am telling you. Give me your "yes." This has not changed. What I seek is your total surrender to my will. In order to enter my Heart you must first give me your "yes". Then I will place you in my Chambers. Each Chamber I will lead you through. No matter what your condition is when you enter I will make you clean. You are precious in my sight. I long to take you into my Heart and unite Myself to you. It is in these very Chambers that salvation has been won for you. I held nothing back. You have continued to remain far from me. Remove what is separating you from my Heart. When you remove your hatred then you will see truth. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

3/22/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Hear me oh children. To which side do you stand? Where are you being led to? Which path are you following? It is by your choices that the answers will speak. Choose wisely. When you find yourself lost and astray call out for assistance. We are here to help return you to the right path. The road that leads to salvation, who is Jesus Christ. Victor over all that is evil. Remove the facade that you are hiding behind. Only in truth will you be set free. Jesus Christ is truth. Nothing defiled can enter Heaven. Therefore you must repent and wash yourself clean with the blood of the Lamb. In Him you will find repentance. He is the gate you must enter through. I love you children and I place my shield before any child who calls on my assistance. Repent the hour is upon you when all things will be made new and the righteous will see God.

Revelation 7:14

I said to him, "My lord, you know." And he said to me, "These are the ones who come out of the great tribulation, and they have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

[Sometime I have to research what St Michael is talking about. He amazes and mystifies me. He started his message asking 3 questions. Then he said our choices will answer the questions.]

Matthew 13: 37-42 He answered, "The one who sowed the good seed is the Son of Man. The field is the world, and the good seed stands for the people of the kingdom. The weeds are the people of the evil one, and the enemy who sows them is the devil. The harvest is the end of the age, and the harvesters are angels."

"As the weeds are pulled up and burned in the fire, so it will be at the end of the age." "The Son of Man will send out his angels, and they will weed out of his kingdom everything that causes sin and all who do evil." "They will throw them into the blazing furnace, where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth." "Then the righteous will shine like the sun in the kingdom of their Father. Whoever has ears, let them hear."

Matthew 24:30-31 "And then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven: and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and they shall see the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory. And he shall send his angels with a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other."

[Just wanted to share what I found.]

3/23/2012 8:54 AM Jesus

[Message given after Mass while in adoration.]

My Children, you are in my Heart. I hear your cries. My children you have become concerned with your temporal lives. Instead you must begin to become concerned with your souls. You do not know which hour I will call you unto myself. Therefore repent of your wrongdoings and begin to prepare for my coming. Remain awake and steadfast. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

3/23/2012 Blessed Mother

My children, it is I your Heavenly Mother, my dear little ones. How often you walk away from what matters most, your opportunity to earn treasure in Heaven. Pay careful attention to the needs of your brothers and sisters. Sometimes it is through their silence that much can be heard.

Listen carefully. Remove any ill will that you may harbor in your heart towards anyone. First and foremost you must learn to love. Everything will flow out from there. I love you my little ones and I am praying for your conversion of hearts. Know this.

3/24/2012 St. Paul

Children of God, it is I St. Paul, bringing you glad tidings. Enter into the covenant that is Jesus Christ your Sovereign King, who bore the sins of mankind upon His flesh. He is true man and true God. Place yourself at the foot of His cross tonight. Withhold nothing from Him. He will place his mercy upon you and cancel all of your debts. This is your salvation. In Him you will seek refuge. The door has been opened for you. With great anticipation you must seek your King. In gladness you will find Him awaiting you with open arms. He is the resurrection. In Him you will find peace. I love you brothers and sisters. May peace reign in your hearts and world tonight.

3/25/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Gird yourselves in truth. Let the victory of Christ reign in your hearts. He at last has put all things asunder. Listen to the cries of your brothers and sisters. Offer up their cries to the Father and pray for His intercession on their behalf. You will learn love. This children, is your lesson tonight. Learn from the wise man, who stored what was good and holy. He removed what was evil. In his strength he carried his brothers and sisters miseries turning them into joy. What merit he has secured for himself at the appointed time. Nothing you do for each other goes unnoticed. Pray that you may understand what opportunities are being placed before you. I love you and place my shield of protection over all who win the hearts of their brothers.

3/26/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Remain steadfast children. Pay particular attention to which course you are on. Where is this road leading you? Be prudent in all your decisions. You do not want to be far away distracted when the master comes to call you home. Busy yourself with the things of Heaven. Make room in your hearts for mercy. Remove all selfishness and replace that with selfless love of brother. It is through love of brother and sister that you will gain treasure in Heaven. I love you dear children and I place my shield before all who call for our assistance.

Children of the King, it is I St. Paul, coming to share the good news that is Jesus Christ. Prepare your hearts for His coming. Await in eagerness the day of His resurrection. In truth you will find Him. He is truth. Go and make yourselves bearers of His light. Awaken the hearts of your sleeping brothers and sisters. Let nothing put enmity between you. As you journey take along two of what you need so you may share what you have. Bring to the Lord everyone you can find. In Him will you receive peace. I love you dear children. May the peace of the Risen Lord remain in your hearts and world tonight.

3/28/2012 St. Paul

Children of the King, it is I St. Paul, coming to deliver the good news that is Jesus Christ. Children do not be fooled, by what you see or what you hear. Many will be deceived in the coming days. Do not be one of them. Remain steadfast in your faith. Keep the words of Jesus always about you. Refer to His teachings often so you will not be misled. The time is coming when the King of Glory will make all things new. Be quick to get up and prepare your hearts for His arrival. The King of Salvation at last has come. Rejoice in the knowledge that Jesus Christ is our Sovereign King. Lord of all, victor over the enemy. In truth will you know Him. He is truth. Understand what you have been told. The hour is upon you. I love you and pray for peace in your lives and in your world. May the peace of Christ remain with you.

3/29/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, it is I your Heavenly King, coming to ransom you unto myself. My children hear the words I am giving you concerning the journey you are taking. Be filled with the Holy Spirit. Seek wisdom and fortitude. Have understanding and piety. Offer holy counsel that would be pleasing to me. In justice you shall rule. In truth you shall guide. Do not labor more than is necessary. Offer the first fruits of your labor to me so I can bless everything. Seek each other out. Give what you have so your brothers and sisters can have also. I will reward such efforts. It is kindness I desire from each of you. Be merciful with each other. Then my Heavenly Father will be merciful to you. Give from your heart. Expect nothing in return. It is selfless love I wish to teach you. To begin to learn love you must first open your hearts to be loved. Allow others to help you. Give every brother and sister the opportunity, to earn their own treasure in Heaven.

Unite yourselves to each other and all will be united to me. It is in the Chambers of my Sacred Heart that I hold each of my Father's children. In the very walls of my Heart I have carved your name. No one should be lost, to me, or my Father. Before you were formed in your Mother's womb I knew you. Go out and begin to love each other. This is my plan for you. Spread my love to everyone you meet. Be a light in a darkened world. Do not be afraid. I will never abandon you. In my Sacred Heart you will reside in. I will make my dwelling in you. Seek solace in my Merciful Heart. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

3/29/2012 Blessed Mother

Children, it is I your Heavenly Mother, my dear little ones. Pray from the heart. Pray until prayer becomes joyful to you. Lift your hearts to the Lord in song and praise. Everything should be offered to my Son who offered everything on your behalf. Enter into a covenant with Him by giving Him your "yes" in every moment. So loved are you by all of heaven. How happy heaven is when one sinner repents. Children if you only knew what awaits you how happy you would be with great anticipation. Do not worry about what lies ahead of you. Instead accept everything that comes from my Son. Unite everything to Him. He will bless you. I love you dear children and I give you my motherly blessings.

3/30/2012 God the Father

Message received after Mass

Children, it is I your Heavenly Father. Come to me my children and do not delay for the time is coming when I will place my judgment against the children of this world. In vain do you toil. Awaiting fruits that will only spoil. You do not seek the fruits of everlasting life. In the depths of my Heart I have formed you. I made you man and women. I breathed my life into you. My mercy I set in your souls. I have tended you as a good father would. Providing you with all you have needed. But still you seek your own pleasures. Still you have defiled yourselves before me. I have seen the sins you are committing. In darkness you can no longer hide. In your miseries do I seek you out. In darkness do I come to find you. I have not abandoned you my children. On the contrary I have loved you. Even to the death of my Son. So you can have mercy. You could be justified before me. Righteous in my sight, all of this I have given you, yet still you remain far from my Heart. It is union with my children that I wish. In my Heart I wish for you to reside. Come to me my children. Do not be afraid. Even in your misery I love you. If your mothers turn away from you I will stay. Give me your "yes". Accept my will in your lives. Repent, my mercy will be upon you. Tenderly will I console you. I love you dear children. Chosen and cherished will you always be to my most Merciful Heart. I give you my mercy and my blessings.

3/30/2012 St. Paul

Children of the King, it is I St. Paul, coming to teach you about wisdom. What you hold sacred in your hearts is not wise. You have sought to fill your hearts with things of this world. Transitory items that hold no value in the Kingdom. Begin to ask for the gift of wisdom. Seeking the knowledge of the things of God. Here is where your true treasure lies, the treasure that will yield you a vast amount in the Kingdom. Govern your senses with wisdom. Learning to avoid the traps set out to remove you from the Lord's grace. Nothing is worth the loss of salvation, especially your salvation that was purchased for you at such a high price. Wisdom comes from an open heart united to God. Wisdom is granted to any child who seeks her out with a firm purpose of trying to amend their lives. Becoming aware of what you allow in your hearts will help you to become more vigilant in your future choices. Learn from the chosen children of God who have been placed in your path to teach you. It is a wise man, who seeks the Lord with everything he has. Grow in wisdom children. I love you and I pray for continued peace in your families and world tonight.

3/31/2012 St. Michael

Chosen People, It is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. The hour is near when all things will be made new. Where darkness can no longer dwell. Only gladness will fill the hearts of men. Mankind will rejoice in the saving power of Jesus Christ. The Lord is in your midst. Be watchful, you do not know the hour that He will come so prepare. Better to be prepared and join in the great feast of Heaven than to be caught unprepared and be left outside in the darkness where great sorrow and disappointment exists. Prepare your hearts for the Lord's arrival. Sacrifice your desires and bring holy works instead. The fruit of your labor will be your just reward. I love you and place my shield before any child who calls on me for assistance.

4/1/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, It is I your Heavenly King, coming to ransom you unto myself. Open your hearts today to receive my message of love. It is my Heart I wish to unite to you. In the Chambers of my Sacred Heart all of my mercy pours out for my Father's children. It is your sins that I wash away with my Blood. It is my mercy that I place in your souls. Come to me my children to be nourished. For my Body is true food and my Blood is true drink. What I offer to you is salvation. To never be hungry or thirsty again. For this was my purpose in coming, to do the will of my Father in Heaven. Out of love I offered everything on your behalf. In my Divine Nature I heal you and cleanse you of your many sins. In my human nature I suffered and died on a cross giving up everything as a holocaust in reparation for the many afflictions your sins have caused. If only you could begin to see how loved you are. To my last breath I loved you. In my heart I held each of you. In my final moments I united myself to each of you offering the world to my Father. He in turn offered me the door to His Heart. Opening the gate, which had been locked, so all of His children could enter into Heaven, your home, where each of you belong. I have told you no one should be lost to me, or my Father. This is true. It is by your actions that you freely choose to remove yourself from the Heavenly banquet prepared for you since the beginning. I tell you now is the time to stop where you are at and quickly repent. Remove whatever is keeping you from giving me your solemn yes. Nothing is worth losing your soul. What good does all of your earthly treasure gain you if you can not earn a single minute more? What then do you seek when your time here has run out. Will you be left out in the cold wailing for your wrongful deeds you did not repent of? Clearly you would have done so if you knew the hour of my coming. My child, this you do not know, so act quickly. Then when I come, I will seat you at the table of plenty. I will wash your linens clean with my blood. You will be among the children who arrived before you and the angels who existed before men. You will be home. United to my Heart. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

4/2/2012 St. Michael

[Heavenly Father, I give you my yes today.]

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Arise all who have fallen asleep. Wake up those of you who are weary. The time has come to slumber no more. Stand firm the Lord is with you. His mercy is upon you. Unite yourself to your King by giving Him your solemn “yes”. Hold nothing back. Everything you give will be accounted for. What you receive from God should be graciously received. Share what you have so everyone will have something. I love you children and place my shield before any child who heeds these words.

4/3/2012 St. John the Apostle

Children of the King, it is I St. John the Apostle, coming to bring you the good news that is Jesus Christ. Who was, is and still to come. May God's peace reign in your hearts tonight. Become bearers of the truth. Lift up your voices in praise to your Sovereign King. In my many travels I learned much about stewardship. Giving of self to aid a brother or sister. You must begin to realize that your journey is not a journey you take alone. This is a journey of learning and understanding. A lesson in fellowship and unity. In everyone you meet you will discover trust and fidelity. You will learn stewardship and overcoming your own obstacles through the help of each other. Learn from the birds in the air. They travel in flocks across many miles. They travel together in unison to make the flight easier. By traveling together they help each other and are able to arrive together. This would not be possible if they traveled alone. Children you are not meant to travel alone. You are here to help each other, to be bearers of light for each other, when one of you is lost. Become a light in your world. Do not hide away the many talents you have been given. The fruit of what you sow will be gathered at the harvest. How many brothers and sisters will you help reach the table prepared for them by God Himself. Work together in unison. Bring about the change necessary to return everyone safely to the Father's arms. We are all called to follow what Christ taught. Even in death we still reveal the many mysteries that we have received. I love you dear children and I give you my prayers and blessings.

St John the Apostle: I found out he is also called St. John the Evangelist because of his extensive travels. (this I did not know)

4/4/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, it is I your Heavenly King, coming to ransom you unto myself. Children where are you tonight? Again I ask this question of you. Have you gone astray? Where are you leading your brothers and sisters? You must become cognizant of this. You cannot remain asleep wandering lost and leading others away from my mercy. I tell you my mercy is for all of my Father's children. Begin to become leaders in faith. Be a witness to my mercy. No one should be lost to me. I love each of you and bore all for each of you. Never are you far from my Heart. It is you that have wandered away from me. Fear not, I will seek you out. Even to the ends of the earth. That is how loved you are. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

4/5/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for your freedom. Do not fear entering into the Chambers of my Heart tonight. It is in my Chambers that you will find salvation. Here is where the greatest of love was revealed. A love so great that even in death, death itself could not conquer it, for I am greater than death. Nothing can be found that is greater than the love for a brother or sister. Nothing will give you more joy or greater peace than when you unite yourselves to each other in unison with my Sacred Heart. Brothers and sisters, you must begin to conquer your doubts and fears. They will yield you only wasted moments. Forgive each other immediately and love each other unconditionally. Do not place heavy burdens on each other's backs. Instead resolve yourself to assist your brother in everything so that you may lighten his load. Then I will lift your load in return. Seek each other out. You are brethren. Here is the treasure you should be seeking. To join your brothers and sisters at the table prepared for you by my Father in Heaven. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings.

4/6/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for your freedom. Come to me all who are weary and I will give you rest for my yoke is easy and my burden is light. Children do not fear entering into my passion with me tonight. I accepted everything that my Father asked of me. It is my will for you that I wish for you to unite yourself to. I love you. Upon my flesh I bore your transgressions. For your salvation I laid upon a cross. My hands and feet pierced. What love I have for you. How long I have desired to have you enter the Chambers of my Sacred Heart. So I tell you again, fear not. Though your sins be as scarlet, my mercy is greater than your many sins. Even in death I freely gave everything for you. I held nothing back. Open your hearts to accept this gift of love. Enter into the tomb with me. It is this hour that your freedom was won. Soon I will come in all my glory. Descending on a cloud. Those who have loved me will have eternal life. I will call them unto myself. For such as these that my Father in Heaven has created all for. Do not be lost to my Heart, but remain with me. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

4/7/2012 Jesus Holy Saturday

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for your freedom. Hear me my child, do not be afraid. Enter into the abode of my Heart. It is in my Heart that I have carved your name. As the lance pierced my Heart, blood and water issued forth for your redemption. My mercy is for all of my Father's children. You my brothers and sisters, not one of you was forgotten nor should any of you be lost to my Heart. Go out and proclaim what you have heard. I came into this world to set mankind free. This I have done out of love for you. Now I desire that you go forth and unite yourselves to each other in union with my Sacred Heart. Whatsoever you do to one another you do also to me. In my Father's house there are many dwellings. I am going ahead of you to prepare a place for you. If this were not so I would not have said it. But it is true. This is my gift of love I pour out to all. I am the gate. To enter Heaven you must come through me. I am the resurrection. Whoever believes in me shall have the gift of life. Believe in what I am telling you. If still you doubt, then look at my hands. Place your hand in my side. I love you and I place you in the Chambers of my Heart tonight where love and mercy abides. I give you my priestly blessing. Know this.

4/8/2012 Jesus Easter Sunday

My Peace I give you children. Enter into the Chambers of my Sacred Heart that was pierced for your salvation. I am the Lamb who was slain for your freedom. Again I say my peace be with you. Let my peace reign in your hearts. What I offer you I wish for you to offer each other, love, mercy, forgiveness. These three examples of selfless love are what I place in your hearts tonight.

To become like me you must deny yourselves pick up your crosses and come follow me. I am the way the truth and the light. Whoever enters through me, will have eternal life and I will raise them up on the last day. My resurrection was for all to see. You are my beloved brothers and sisters. I call you this because I have united you to me. I have made you my own. In your hearts I place my peace and mercy. I willingly give you the cup of my Salvation. Freely drink what I am offering to you. What you freely receive freely give. Go out into the world and exclaim the good news. What I bore for you I did because I love you. In my mercy I have forgiven you your sins and erased your debts. Rejoice in this. In me you will find the solace that you seek. Come to me all of you who are weary and I will comfort your afflictions. Give me your burdens and I will place them in my Merciful Heart. Gather among yourselves and ask of me anything. Where two or more are gathered in my name I am among you. Seek my love in each other. Be a light in this hour. My mercy is upon you. I love you and I place my mercy in you. My peace I give you and my salvation I grant to you.

4/9/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for your freedom. In my Father's house there are many dwellings. If this were not true I would not have said it. But it is true. Listen to what I am telling you. The days are numbered. When the final count of days is done where will you be left standing? To where shall I call you to? My right where you will receive your just reward or to my left where there will be wailing and gnashing of teeth. My child all should enter my Father's Kingdom. But I am the gate. It is through my judgment you must pass. I am the Just Judge but for now I am the Merciful Savior ready to place my mercy in your soul. Therefore follow me. Do what I have commanded of you. Love each other, then you will earn treasure in Heaven. The more mercy you offer to your brothers and sisters the more mercy I shall grant to you. Nothing you do will go unnoticed by me, or my Father. We will reward such efforts at the appointed time. Until then reap what you have sown. Offer everything to me and I will bless it. Hold no anger in your heart. Anger will yield you nothing but lost time. Do not waste the time you are receiving. My justice will come and woe to that man who is found empty handed. He will wish he had not wasted his efforts on useless things. Instead be prepared. Unite yourself to my Sacred and Merciful Heart. Then everything you do I will place in my Fourth Chamber where I will bless it and remember what you have done. Here your treasure will yield you much fruit. Neither moths nor decay can take away what I will give you. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

4/10/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Listen children be fruitful with the time you are receiving. Mercy is being placed in your midst through the suffering death and resurrection of our Sovereign King. Jesus Christ,

Lord of all. He is in your midst. Rejoice in what you are hearing. In Him lies truth. He is the gate through which all must enter. Be brave and live your life in servitude to our lord. Be a faithful witness to all that you have been told. Nothing should come between you and the Heavenly Father. Give everything to God. Remember your “yes” is to fully accept His will in your heart. Stay strong in this battle. Prostrate yourselves and do homage. What has been granted to you has come at such a high price. Who among you are willing to testify to this truth? Be bearers of light in your darkened hour. The time is coming when everything will be brought to light. So remain in the light. Then you will have nothing to fear. I love you children and I place my shield before any child who listens to my words.

4/11/2012 St. John of the cross

Holy people, it is I St John of the Cross, coming to help you discern what your vocation in life is. Whether male or female each are called to serve God in one form or another, whether religious or married. In the priesthood or as a consecrated single all are called to live out a specific vocation. So what is a vocation? A vocation is a calling. It is an opportunity, to offer yourself to the Lord through service. As a married person you can offer God your service by serving your spouse, to keep your sacramental vows as husband or wife. Be in fellowship with each other by obeying God's commands. Especially bringing forth children out of your union. As a consecrated single you are still living a vocation. Your service will be related to your love of neighbor. In the world you have opportunities to bring the good news of Jesus Christ to everyone you meet. You become faithful witnesses to the gospels by living in fellowship with God first and mankind second. For religious your union with God is more intense but a way for the purpose of bringing souls to Christ through prayer and mortification (sacrifices). What a wonderful opportunity you have to unite yourself spiritually with God's children. Always placing yourself before the tabernacle and giving everything to God. As a religious your vocation allows the freedom to remain steadfast in your efforts without the worldly distractions plaguing society today. Finally to my brothers the priests. Your vocation brings you face to face with our risen Lord in the Holy Eucharist. Can a closer union between God and man be found anywhere else I ask you? Pray hard and discern what God is asking of you in this most intimate of vocations. You have the responsibility to shepherd God's people. A flock chosen for you. You are to unite your sheep to their Heavenly Father through the scripture. What a profound impact you have on your brothers and sisters soul. Love freely. Forgive immediately and have a patient countenance. Much will be expected and much will be given. Unite yourselves to the cross of our Lord. He is the salvation of all. I love you and place myself at the foot of the cross with each of you in prayer for your return to a sacramental life in your chosen vocations.

4/12/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Be bearers of the truth. Be soldiers bearing witness to the good news that is Jesus Christ. Gird yourselves in truth just as Jesus is truth. Put on the armor of humility and stand as a witness to a prideful world. Your brothers and sisters, are being led astray by the adversary. They have allowed themselves to be lulled to sleep. Arise oh ye sleepers and rest no more for the Lord is coming to pass judgment on this generation. Sanctify yourselves in the blood of the Lamb. He is your salvation, in Him alone will you find solace. Be attendant to His words. Ponder them in your hearts. Do not allow yourselves to wander further in the darkness, but rather walk forward in the light of Christ. Who was, is, and still to come. I love you and place my shield of protection to any child who calls on my assistance.

4/13/2012 St. Michael

Children, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Listen and heed what you are hearing. The grape is already placed into the wine press just as the wheat is being placed into the winnowing fork. Neither the grape nor the wheat will be ready and still they will be pressed and the chaff removed. So it is the same with you dear children. The day of judgment will be upon you. You will be caught off guard unless you prepare ahead of time. Follow the birds in the sky. They build nests in anticipation of their coming flocks. They do not wait until the eggs have arrived. They prepare ahead of time. You too must prepare for the coming of your Lord, with great anticipation. Busy yourselves with the things of Heaven. Forgoing the things of this world. Become seekers of truth and be stewards of each other. I love you and place my shield before all who heed my words.

4/14/2012 St. Faustyna Kowalska

Children of God, rejoice and be glad for the Lords mercy endures forever. It is I St. Faustyna, sending you greetings from Heaven. Prepare your hearts for the Lord to place His Divine Mercy in you. Trust in Him always. Be a brother or sister that He can make His dwelling with. Do this by emptying yourselves of your pride allowing Jesus to fill your soul with His eternal goodness. Give Him everything. The more you practice charity of others the more our Lord will be merciful to you. How wonderful is our Lord. His mercy cannot be out done by men. Nothing will the Lord not honor when a deed is done with a trusting heart. I love you dear children and pray for your trust in our Lord.

4/15/2012 Blessed Mother

My children, it is I your heavenly mother. My dear little ones, pray pray, pray. Pray until prayer becomes a joy in your heart. Learn from the teachings of my Son. He loved each of you with an everlasting love. Remain close to His Sacred Heart. Give me your prayers and sacrifices. I will unite them to my own and present them to my Son on your behalf. My children if you only understood the importance of prayer you would pray unceasingly. Teach your young ones to pray the rosary every day. Through my rosary I will chain the devil. When you are struggling call out to me and I will place my mantle of motherly love around you. How much I love you my children. Do not be afraid to give my Son everything. He is mercy itself. Simply trust that He will give you everything you need for salvation. It was through His sacrifice on the cross that He won for you salvation. Go to Him and do not be afraid. He is all loving and all merciful. I love you my little ones and I am constantly interceding for you before the throne on Heaven. I give you my motherly blessings.

4/16/2012 God the Father

Dear Children, it is I your Heavenly Father. I come tonight to ask for your return to my Heart. It is in my Heart that I wish to make my dwelling with you. You are my beloved children. Chosen and cherished by me. Infinitely I love you. As often as you ponder my existence I have beheld you in my arms. I nourish you with good things. Never have I abandoned you. You are mine. You belong to me. I love you with an everlasting love. Chosen and cherished you will always be to my Heart. My peace I give to you and my blessings I bestow upon you.

4/17/2012 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones, carefully assess your current life choices. Are they in union with your Heavenly Father, or are you traveling further down the road, away from His Heart? To get back on the right path you must pray from your hearts. Ask for my intercession. I will help you back to my Son's Merciful Heart. To turn away from your sinful ways is to be living in a state of God's grace. I love you my dear children and I am praying for your changed hearts. Give your "yes" to God always, then you will be living like the saints in Heaven. I love you and I give you my motherly blessings. Know this.

4/18/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Children, which direction are you leading yourselves and others. What compass are you using? This is a question you must analyze for yourself. Have you chosen a direction that the world tells you is right and safe knowing that this direction is not aligned with our Lord. Are you leading others to follow you by your actions and choices? You are called to be men and women of God. The one True King who is Lord of all. Put on your coats of armor and be a witness to this darkened world. Set your compass to God's direction then ask others to follow. Your duty is to God first and each other second. Lead by example, the example given to you by Jesus Christ.

He led by love. I love you and place my shield before all who need my help. Sojourn on in the name of the Lord.

4/19/2012 St. Paul

Children of God, it is I St. Paul, coming to bring you the good news that is Jesus Christ. Be triumphant in your fight against sins of the flesh. This battle will require much grace and prayer. Rely on our Lord to provide you the graces necessary to overcome your sinful ways. Be present when you pray. Ask for the strength you are lacking. No one can win this battle without the grace of God. Be good stewards of the graces you are receiving. Do not accept them in vain. Rather accept them with a loving heart opened to God's plan of salvation for you. I love you and I pray for God's peace to reign in your hearts and families tonight.

4/20/2012 God the Father

Children, it is I your Heavenly Father. Each of you my children are important to me. My love for you is everlasting. It is beneficial to your soul to listen to my words and the teachings of my Son. He taught you everything you need to live in union with each other. He gave you the tools to have peace in your hearts and lives. He then became the gate through which you must enter. My children do my words still remain spoken in vain. Have you forgotten that you belong to me? You are mine. This world I created for you to learn love, to be able to learn from each other and your surroundings. Here you could learn the joy of watching seedlings grow and take root. To mature into great trees that give you shelter. I provided you with nourishment and made it pleasing to your senses. Finally I gave you each other, to learn love, sacrifice and honesty, to be givers of life, not takers. Understand that what I am telling you is for your benefit. To see where you are at. My words are not difficult if you live in my truth. It is when you dwell in darkness that you find my words hard. I love you my children. I only desire for your happiness. Live in the light of truth. I love you with an everlasting love. Chosen and cherished you will always be to my Heart. My peace I give to you.

4/21/2012 Jesus

Children, my peace I give to you. I am the Lamb slain for your freedom. Turn away from the evil that is pervading your world. Instead return your hearts to me. It is in the Chambers of my Sacred Heart that I wish to place you in. Where you place your heart, this is where your treasure lies. Do not give your heart to this world. Instead give your heart to me. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings Tonight.

4/22/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Arise children and become victorious. The hour is near when all things will be brought to light. The King will sit on His throne and judgment will befall mankind. Ready are the children who prospered when the time was given. They will have mercy. They will be seated at the banquet, but woe to those who were foolish and wasted the appointed time. They will be judged for their crimes. They did not show mercy to their brothers and sisters. Wailing and gnashing of teeth will be their eternal punishment. Remove the hatred from your hearts and repent while the hour is near. For soon it will be upon you. I love you children and I place my shield of protection over each child asking for my assistance.

4/23/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for your freedom. Brothers and sisters my peace I give to you. Love one another. That is what I have commanded of you. Teach the faith to all who have ears. Tell them of my mercy. Teach them of my love. What you share with your brother or sister I will remember. I will call to mind your generosity when I place my judgment on your soul. Love one another. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings.

4/24/2012 God the Father

My people, it is I your Heavenly Father, calling all of my children to return to my Heart. You my child are so precious in my sight. How quickly you forget that I have chosen you. I have called you out of the earth and breathed life into you. Carved you in the palm of my hand. From love I brought you forth. From love I called you into being. Now I ask you to learn from my example. Love. Do not allow evil to destroy what I deem Sacred. You my children are Sacred. How can you not see your own value? Where you place your heart, is what you hold dear. You are in my Heart. It is I that loves you. My child you are precious to me. I love you with an everlasting love. Chosen and cherished you will always be to my Heart. Remember this.

4/25/2012 Blessed Mother

My children, it is I your heavenly mother. My dear little ones, how happy you will be my children when you return to a life of the sacraments. To grow in faith you must make use of the gifts given to you. How many graces are received through continual use of the sacraments. My children. I desire for you to become virtuous. To remain steeped in the ways of my Son. The closer you walk with Him the further you will grow in your journey. Each step you take is a step closer to complete union-ship with God. Grow in faith through the sacraments. I love you my children and I give you my motherly blessings. Know this.

4/26/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for your freedom. My children why do you sit with hardened hearts. What good does it to harbor such anger towards your brothers and sisters? What merit does your anger gain you? None. Your anger is rooted in your pride, your lack of selfless love. I have commanded you to love each other as I have loved each of you. Still you remain steadfast in your wickedness rather than changing your hearts. Start forgiving. Then you will receive my forgiveness. Show mercy to your brothers and sisters who are struggling. I have placed them before you so you can earn treasure in Heaven. Take advantage of what I am giving you. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings.

4/27/2012 St. Paul

Good and holy people, it is I St. Paul, coming to bring you the good news that is Jesus Christ. Do not delay in your journey. Do not become distracted and be caught off guard. Now is the time for all to stand and be counted among the chosen. Spend your days in preparation for the coming hour, the new advent that will reign. Rejoice that the hour is near. Prepare your hearts, then you will be ready when the Good Shepard calls His sheep. I love you and give you my blessings of brotherly love.

4/28/2012 St. Paul

Holy people, it is I St. Paul, coming to bring you the good news that is Jesus Christ. Carry the light of Christ wherever you travel. Be bearers of this light. Dispelling darkness anywhere you go. Be good stewards of the gifts you are receiving. Complacency is a deception from the devil. Strive for greatness giving all glory to God. Make good use of the talents you have received. Then you will have gifts to bring to the table. I love you dear children and I give you my brotherly blessings.

4/29/2012 St. Michael

4/30/2012 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones, pray. Pray until prayer becomes a joy for you. Dear children you must begin to change your lives. You must begin to surrender your hearts over to my Son. Give Him everything, then you will have true joy and peace. Children your world is suffering so. You have become concerned with your personal satisfaction rather than the needs of each other. Children you need to listen to what my Son has commanded you, love God with all your heart then love your neighbor. My Son did not say love your things. He said love your neighbor. Do you not understand that each of my children are precious to me? You are. I intercede before the throne of God for each of you, especially my children who are lost and struggling. Pray for each other. Practice self - denial and replace your wants with love of neighbor instead. My children happiness will only come when you learn love from your hearts. A love that is full of concern for others well being. I love you my little ones and I give you my motherly blessings. Tonight. Know this.

5/1/2012 God the Father

My people, it is I your Heavenly Father, coming tonight to remind each of you that you are my children. Chosen and cherished by me. Do not look at each other's faults and think that you are better. No one is above the other in my Heart. Each of you are unique and each of you are special. Yes, you all have faults. No one can come before me without going through my Son first. I have given Him authority. He is the gate through which you must enter. Children make a point of helping each other. Nothing will come easy to the child who refuses to give or accept help from their sibling. I did not give you each other without purpose. You are here to learn love. Selfless love. I want you to become each other's servants. The more you serve each other you will understand selfless love. You will begin to see the joy of being truly present with your brothers and sisters. How quickly you will become good stewards of what I have given you, each other. I love you my children and I give you my blessings.

Servant: a person in the service of another.

5/2/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Arise oh ye faithful ones, the glory of the Lord is upon you. Rejoice, the hour is drawing near when the faithful will be placed in the arms of the King. Children do not delay in your fight. Your world is in mourning , the children have fallen asleep while the beast devours her young. Stand erect and unite yourselves to the cross of salvation. Prepare your hearts so you will be counted among the elect. I love you and place my shield before all who hear my words and respond with conviction in their hearts.

5/3/2012 Jesus

My peace I give to you. I am the Lamb, slain for your freedom.

Listen to what I am saying. Two birds begin to fly south for the winter. Along the path, they are joined by two more and so on. When they get to their destination they are tired and need to stop and nourish themselves before they can continue on with their journey. This is no different for you. You have six days to toil away at your labors. Six days to journey working hard. But on the seventh day you need to rest. You need to nourish yourselves. How quickly you become distracted when you are hungry. Hunger no more. Take and eat. For my flesh is true food and my blood is true drink. I tell you if you eat and drink what I am offering you, you will never hunger or thirst again. Your ancestors ate manna in the desert. Today you are in your own desert starving. Do not forsake the manna given to you from my Heart. I am the bread that has come down from Heaven. My children you need to nourish yourselves. I love you and I am blessing your efforts. Know this.

5/4/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, I am the Lamb slain for your freedom.

Love one another. Teach with kindness. Do not judge. Be merciful. This my children, are the lessons you have received. When will you take what you have been told and practice? My words cannot be nothing more than echoes long forgotten. No, keep my words in the front of your hearts. Remember what I have told you. Every time you have adversity come your way, practice what you have heard with everyone you meet. Do not forsake what I have given you, hearts that are meant for love. Free will that is meant for choosing strong moral convictions and a hunger for the truth. All of this has been bestowed upon you. Begin to live out what you are learning. Then you will truly be good stewards of the gifts you are receiving. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings.

5/5/2012 Blessed Mother

Dear children, it is I your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones, keep prayer in the center of your families. The devil is hard at work trying to devour my little ones. Do not be fooled by his lies. You belong to your Heavenly Father. You are His children and He loves each of you with a love that is eternal. There is only love and mercy that He desires to give you. Accept His Mercy with a loving heart. Rejoice in what my Son has sacrificed for you my little ones. This was done with a heart full of joy. Do not turn your hearts away from Him. Now is the time for reunification of families. Take the time you are being granted to make peace with everyone. Begin to read scripture in your homes. Read every night even if only a verse or two. The more you read the more you will realize the love that your Father has for each of you. Pray from your hearts. Keep prayer the central focus in your families. How quickly you will grow in your journeys if you pray together. I love you my little ones and I send you my motherly blessings. Know this.

5/6/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind's hearts. Open your hearts and look inside. How closely does your heart coincide with the will of the Lord. How quickly you forget your purpose. What God's will is for you. Have you taken time to discern His plan for your time here? Have you prepared for your journey by asking for the graces you are lacking? What areas of your heart still harbor anger? What vices are you struggling with? Do not wait to ask yourself these questions. Soon you will be unprepared for what lies ahead. Prepare your hearts now while there is still the light of day. If you wait until darkness comes you will be blind to your failings. Only the mercy of God can save you. I love you and place my shield before any child who calls on my assistance. The hour is near, ready yourselves.

5/7/2012 St. Paul

Children of the King, it is I St. Paul, coming to bring you the good news that is Jesus Christ. Who was, is and still to come. Children what you sow now will become tomorrow's harvest.

I implore you to sow a strong faith. Be bearers of good fruit. What you labor today you will harvest tomorrow so be careful in what you sow. Do not allow your vices to become weeds in your gardens. Choking out all of your efforts. Be strong in your moral convictions. Then you will grow a healthy morality to be offered to your King on the last day. You will be called to give an account of how wisely you spent the remaining days. How will you be counted? How will you reconcile yourself? Much will be expected from each of you so be diligent in what you are doing. Prepare ahead before the harvest. I love you children and pray for peace in your families and world. Remain united to Christ in all things. Then you will avoid the wrath of God.

5/8/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, it is I your Heavenly King calling each of you unto my heart. Children do not be afraid of the coming hour. Receive what I am telling you into your hearts. You are loved by me and my Father. If this were not so I would not tell you this. But it is so. I have come to make you aware of your choices. To prompt you to believe in what I am saying to each of you. Prepare your hearts for my coming glory. I wish to set a blaze in the hearts of all mankind. But you must choose the path I am setting before you. You must accept my words into your souls. You must begin to discern which path you are willing to travel. Every choice takes you a step closer to my heart or a step further away from me. This journey you must travel. The choices you make are yours to make freely. Just remember to make your choices wisely. Discerning each option thoroughly. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

5/9/2012 St. Paul

Beloved it is I St. Paul, coming to bring you the good news that is Jesus Christ. Be good stewards of the gifts you are receiving. Be a light in this darkened hour. What you carry with you on your journey will become for you either a treasure or a vice. Only carry what will bring you treasure in Heaven. Bring along two of everything so you may share with your brother who is lacking. Remember you have been called to a life of service in the name of God. Serving with an open loving heart shows you are living your faith. This is what you are to carry with you. Love of neighbor and a selfless forgiving heart. You will travel down many roads sharing what you have and bringing children back to the Kingdom. Be a beacon of light so your brothers and sisters might follow you and not be lost. All are called to the Kingdom of God. Rejoice with your brothers and sisters who are praying for your continued faith. I love you and pray for peace in your families and world. Know this.

5/10/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, it is I your Heavenly King calling each one of you unto my heart. Prayer is the words you say from your hearts. Offer me your words of love. Give me your words of kindness towards your brother. Your words are prayers you lift your brothers and sisters up to me with. Words that come from your heart are not selfish. They have no motive behind them except love. Truly love conquers all evil. It was my love for you that I conquered the grave. This brothers and sisters I did, so you may have eternal life with me and my Father. Choose your words wisely. Speak only with a forthright simple purpose. To offer another what you have received. Then you will understand prayer. I love you and give you my priestly blessings tonight.

5/11/2012 Blessed Mother

Dear children, it is I your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones. Do not allow my Son's words to be lost. Rather take them into your heart and put them to practice. Learn from the example He has given. His words are truth. My children the sooner you begin to listen the quicker you will grow on your journey. Be children grounded in the truth of my Son. Then you will set a good example for others to follow. I love you my little ones. Know that I am constantly praying on your behalf. This is how much I love you. I gave my only Son to be ransomed for you. Do not forget this. I love you and I give you my motherly blessings. Know this.

5/12/2012 Blessed Mother

Children, it is I your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones. How happy you will be when you place your trust in my Son. He alone will bring you happiness. Give Him everything. He will bless your efforts. I love you my children and I am interceding for you before the throne in Heaven. Know this.

5/13/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Be on guard. It is your soul that is at stake. The devil will devour the young because mankind is asleep. Awake all ye children of God. Do not go wearily into the night unprepared for what is lurking in the darkness. Instead keep yourself girded in truth. Remain awake the hour is coming when all of man's evil deeds will be brought to light. Much will be asked. Many will be called to sacrifice for others mistakes. Offer yourself now for the service of your fellow brothers and sisters. Then you will have a bounty of good deeds to present to the Risen King on the last day. You will be counted among the sheep for your efforts. Know this. I love you and place my shield before any child who bears much for the sake of another.

5/14/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, it is I your Heavenly King, calling each of you unto my salvific heart. Count yourself among my chosen because I have chosen you. You are mine. I have called each of you by name. Children do not be led astray. Listen to my voice. I am the Good Shepherd who laid down His life for his sheep. I know my sheep and my sheep know me. You are my sheep. You only need to open your hearts and give me your "yes". Then you will hear me calling out to you. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

5/15/2012 Jesus

Brothers and Sisters, it is I your Heavenly King, calling each of you unto myself. How difficult is your journey when you try to move forward with indifferent hearts. You are neither impassioned or weak. Return your hearts to me and I will ignite a flame. You must remove your indifference first. Begin to look closely at your choices. Then you will begin to see why you have become indifferent to begin with. I have told you that where your heart is, there to are your choices. Therefore begin to choose the path that leads to my heart. I love you. Give me your hearts and I will ignite a fire in them. A fire so strong that all will know you belong to me. I love you and give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

5/15/2012 Blessed Mother

My dear children, it is I your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones. How much I desire to place each of my children in the mantle of my motherly protection. How I yearn for you to have hearts that have a love for my Son. Children you must begin to love with a pure unselfish heart. Always trying to grow in your understanding of sacramental love. The closer you enter into the sacraments the easier it will be for you to remove the hatred and indifference from your hearts. Pray always my children, and know that I am interceding before the throne of Heaven for each of you. I love you my children. Know this.

5/16/2012 St. Michael

5/17/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, it is I your Heavenly King, calling each of you unto my heart. Children turn away from your evil doings. Sin no more. It is my heart that I wish to give you. My salvation that I wish to bestow upon you, but you must accept what I am offering you. You must not place barriers between us. Open your ears and hear what I am telling you. Time is a gift you are wasting. Still you harbor anger. Still you have hard hearts. My words fall on deaf ears. Do not be the rocky ground that my seed falls on. Do not be thorny or sandy. Instead be the good soil so my words may take root in your soul. Then you will bring about fruit. Your deeds will be precious in my sight because they will come from hearts full of love. I love you my children and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

5/18/2012 Jesus

Brothers and Sisters, it is I your Heavenly King, calling each of you unto myself. Children listen to my words. My words are everlasting. You are loved. Believe in this. Do not let your foolhardiness lead you astray. Remain in me, as I desire to remain in you. Keep my commandments. If you love me then it will not be hard for you to follow my words. When you give your heart to something everything about you will follow. Your mind, your soul, your body. Everything will go in the same direction. It is when you sin that there is confusion. Each member wants to go in a different direction. Suddenly your mind and soul are in discourse with your body. Nothing is united. Then how can you offer me everything when you are in a state of sin? My child you cannot. You cannot be united to me if you are not in union with yourself. Therefore start to live in me. Follow my words. Then we will be in fellowship. You will live in peace. Your happiness will be tenfold. I love you and give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

5/19/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Arise all ye nations. Stand erect and be counted among the chosen. Remain steadfast in your calling, everything you do will be seen by the one who judges. Let your deeds be worthy. Open your hearts to all that is being offered to you. Hold back nothing. Giving everything to God, you are chosen by the Father. Redeemed by the Son and given life in the spirit. In turn you must offer what you have received for your brothers and sisters who have been placed in the road before you with outstretched arms. This children, is where you must take notice. Then you will bear fruit for the Kingdom. I love you and place my shield before all who call upon my assistance.

5/20/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Children. Arise from your slumber. Sleep no more. The hour is upon you when all things will be made new. Hear the words of your King. He is truth. Open your hearts and unite yourselves to the Shepherd who bore all for the sins of mankind. He is your salvation. It is time to enter into a new covenant. Where no longer do you wait outside in the darkness. Now you will be joined to the peace keeper who is the gate for all. Stand firm and be resolute in what you are hearing. I love you children and I place my shield before all who listen to my pleas.

Covenant: a solemn agreement

5/21/2012 Jesus

Brothers and Sisters, it is I your Heavenly King coming to ransom each of you unto my heart. No longer will you be called slaves. I have chosen you. You did not choose me but rather I have chosen each of you. You are not my slaves. You are my friends. Each of you I call by name. Each of you I place in the Chambers of my Sacred Heart. All I have I offer to you. Share with one another. Just as I have loved you, share my love with everyone. Just as I have been merciful with you, go and be merciful to each other. Be a witness of my love. Spread my words so no brother or sister remains lost without someone to care for them. Much has been given to you and much will be expected. In these remaining days I ask you to be persistent in your faith. Journey with the assuredness that I am with you. Open your mouths and I will place my words in them. Speak the truth. Dispel the darkness that surrounds my Father's children. Anyone living in sin cannot see the light. Teach those children to sin no more and return to my Sacred and Merciful Heart. I bore their sins upon my back just as I did for you. No one was without merit before my eyes. I saw each of you children and I loved each of you. Even to my death. A death that I willingly accepted for your freedom, your salvation. I send you out like sheep to the wolves but fear not. I am the Good Shepherd. I know my sheep and my sheep know me. You are my sheep. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

5/22/2012 Jesus

Brothers and Sisters, it is I your Heavenly King, coming to ransom each of you unto my heart. Hear what I am saying. No one can go to the Father except thru me. I am the narrow gate, which you must enter through. It is my heart that I wish for you to be united to. It is my heart that I wish to give you. Open your hearts then you will hear what I am telling you. You must begin to believe what I am saying to you. Whoever believes in me will have eternal life. Do not hesitate thinking you have tomorrow to begin accepting what you have heard. Accept my words now. Tomorrow has not yet been given to you. So listen carefully and act quickly. Do not let the sun set on this day before you say "yes" to my will for you. I desire for you to give me everything. Do not hold onto this piece or that piece. Anything you hold onto will only bring you sorrow, because you neglected to unite it to me. On your own you are desolate. In me you have true joy. I am the Bread of Life. Whoever eats of me will have eternal life. You can do nothing separate from me. Therefore do all things united to me. Then I will bless your efforts. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

5/23/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken the hearts of men. Listen children the Risen King is calling each of you to stand and be numbered among the elect. Chosen and cherished are you by the almighty Father. When will you begin to let your faith take root in your heart. How can you stand firm, unwavering when you still have doubt in your minds. When you remain divided how easily you will fall. Now is the time to unite yourselves to the one true King who is Lord of all. He is salvation. Every knee must bend and tongue confess this solemn truth. Then you will understand the great mystery set before you. (Jesus) He has conquered the grave and freed mankind from his bondage. He has set a place for each child at the table. He sits at the right hand of His Father judging all the inhabitants. Yet who among you is ready to be counted? Least of all be judged. Blessed are the children who forsake their own needs and wants for the sake of another. They will receive mercy at the appointed hour. Ready yourselves. The hour draws near when all will be brought forth before the throne of God. Prepare your hearts now. I love you children and place my shield before any child who calls upon my intercession.

5/24/2012 St. Paul

Children of the King, it is I St. Paul, coming to bring you the good news that is Jesus Christ. Be good stewards with the gifts you are receiving. Place everything at God's feet to be blessed. Happy are the children who unite themselves to God the Father in union with Jesus His Son and together with the Holy Spirit. They have what is truly good. Nothing will be taken from them. Children do not be fooled in the coming days. Everything has been foretold to you. Merely look around and decide for yourself at the occurrences that are happening. Prepare your hearts. Everything else will follow. Be joyful in this time of bewilderment, you are assured of God's coming. Triumphant and Sovereign King who is Lord of all. Be joyful witnesses in these remaining days. The more you speak about God's mercy the more your brothers and sisters will begin to seek the light. Dispel the darkness with your faith. Be a beacon of hope in this time of sojourning. I love you children and I pray for peace in your families and world. Know this.

Sojourning: to reside temporarily.

5/25/2012 St. John

Chosen people, it is I St. John, coming to bring you glad tidings. Embark on your journey with faith filled hope. Do not burden yourselves with heavy loads of doubt and shame. Nothing is impossible for God. In Him all will find salvation. Do not let your sins cause you to delay yourselves. Trust in God's providence. His mercy endures forever. Will He not forgive the most hardened heart if He was asked? Yes my brethren, even the most hardened heart will be granted full remission of sin and punishment. One only needs to ask and trust in His salvation for that person's soul. Do not question your importance to God. All are equal in His Heart. Each one of His children are significant. Did Christ not die for all of mankind's sins? So do not worry. Rest assured that you are loved. Nothing should take a greater place in your heart than your love for God followed by your love for neighbor. This is the law given to us by Christ. Do this and you will begin to clearly see what is before you, God's salvific plan. I love you children and pray for your conversion of hearts.

5/26/2012 Jesus

Brothers and Sisters, it is I your Heavenly King calling each of you unto myself. Where are you at? Everyday you must ask yourself this simple truth. You wander aimlessly because you are hiding from this question. Yet I have come to bring truth to each of you. I did not come so you could remain far from me. I came so I could unite myself completely to you. Tonight I ask each of you children to look into your hearts and awaken what has remained dormant. If what you see is dark then remove that darkness. Turn away from all that is evil. Then come to me with contrite hearts. I will place my light in you. I am the light of the world. Whoever believes in me will not dwell in darkness because I will dwell in them. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

5/27/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpet and awaken mankind from his slumber. Children of Israel slumber no more. The hour is approaching when all things will be made anew. The winnowing fork is at the threshold ready to separate the wheat from the chaff. Take what you have heard and be resounding in your answer. The King of Salvation has taken His place at the right hand of the Father. Soon He will take the seat of Judah judging all mankind. The sins of all will be laid bare. Repent before judgment befalls you. Enter into a covenant with the Lord. He is merciful to His sheep. Come and light a flame before darkness is upon you. I love you children and I place my shield before any child who calls on my assistance.

5/28/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters, it is I your Heavenly King, calling each of you unto my heart. Children you must start to discern everything that is placed before you. Evaluate what is good and wholesome versus what will take you further away from my heart. Each day you are faced with many choices. Sometimes you choose wisely and you begin to grow and blossom. Other times you choose incorrectly and you take away what is good. You remove grace by your submitting to evil and sin when you willingly partake of what you know is wrong. I am not telling you this to cause your hearts to be troubled but rather I am asking you to begin to discern what you are allowing in your hearts. You must be careful in your choices. A person can eat a large sum of food and receive very little nourishment. He is jeopardizing his health. Whereas a different person can eat a small amount of food and receive much nutrition benefiting their health. Choose wisely so you do not become spiritually weak and sick. Instead come to me and I will nourish you with Life Giving Bread. In me you will find nourishment and salvation. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

5/29/2012 Jesus

Brothers and Sisters, it is I your Heavenly King. Calling each of you unto my heart. Dwell in the chambers of my Sacred Heart. It is here that I wish to unite myself to you. Persevere in faith This I call each of you to strive for. Be convicted in your words and do not give false testimony. The hour is approaching when I will call each of you into the light. Nothing will remain hidden from me. So speak the truth. Love unconditionally from your heart. Take nothing for granted. Everything you have has been given to you with a purpose, to learn love, sacrificial, unselfish love of neighbor. This I command of you, to love one another as I have loved you. Once you have achieved this everything else will follow. You will belong to me and I will make my dwelling in you. Receive me with a heart that is pure. Do not defile yourselves. Be holy just as the Father is holy. Then you will truly be children of my Father. Everything has been given to you. Receive this with gratitude. What I give you is salvation. It is my mercy that I bestow upon you, my forgiveness that I place in your soul. Children take comfort in these words. Truly you are loved. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

5/30/2012 Blessed Mother

Children, it is I your heavenly mother, my dear little ones, pray from your hearts. Continue to remove the obstacles that litter your paths. My children you must frequent confession often. Confession removes the weeds that have taken root in your hearts. How can you grow good fruits if you are allowing weeds to take root. The weeds will grow rapidly and choke off the good attempts you are making. Be good stewards of your gardens. Faithfully trim away the branches that have become rotten. Remove the weeds and cultivate your soil. Then nourish your soil with good and holy virtues. You will grow strong moral convictions. Great faith you will yield. Children, let your gardens be a gift to your King. Present Him with a bounty full of love and gifts of gratitude. Always reminding yourselves of the sacrifices that He made for your salvation. My little ones, my Son bore your sins upon His flesh. He accepted death as your ransom. What a price He paid. This my children is love. Pray from your hearts and give everything to my Son. Learn from His example. I love you and give you my motherly blessings tonight.

5/31/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people, it is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Ready yourselves children the hour is fast approaching when all things will be made anew. Remain faithful witnesses to what you have received. You will be called to give an account of what you have sowed. Where are your fruits? What will you present to your King at the appointed hour? Go and bear fruit. The King of Salvation has come. Rejoice, the victor has taken His seat at the right hand of God. His judgment will come like a mighty clap of thunder. No one will be able to escape this. Prepare your hearts now while you still have the light of day. I love you and place my shield before any child who calls on my assistance.

6/1/2012 St. John of the Cross

Chosen people, it is I St. John of the cross, coming to bring you the good news that is Jesus Christ. May the presence of our Lord reign in your hearts. Children renew your strength in Jesus Christ. Offer up all of your sacrifices to His Sacred Heart and accept everything presented to you with love. Yes even the crosses that are most difficult. In your crosses you will find crowns. In your everyday mundane, many gifts of perseverance can be given to our Lord. Just unite your trials to His Passion. Everything you do in each moment can be united to Our Lord's Passion for the salvation of souls. You simply must choose to unite them. What a difference you will begin to effect in your soul when you start living for God alone. How many brothers and sisters could be saved if you lived your faith with true love and mercy?

Begin to see our Lord in every person you meet. Love them with a pure heart filled with selfless intentions. Not only will God's Kingdom grow, your love of God will surely manifest itself in everything you touch. Grow your love in abundance. What you sow today you will reap in plenty and God Himself will reward you. I love you and pray for your increase in faith.

6/2/2012 Blessed Mother

Children, it is I your Heavenly Mother, my dear little ones. Begin to fast on Fridays. Start out with something small that you can offer to God. Fasting from your favorite things helps you to learn detachment. It is not good to be so attached to your things that you would risk your salvation for. That is why I am asking you to begin fasting, especially on Fridays. It was on a Friday that my Son bore everything for you. How often do you pause to reflect on this? Fasting on bread and water is the best way to focus intensely on my Son. Pray very hard and offer my Son everything. Yes you will endure some sufferings. How much did my Son suffer out of love for you. Could you not offer small sacrifices in return? The more you learn to deny yourself in small desires the quicker you will be ready when a difficult task is placed in your midst. Always be ready for what my Son has prepared for you. Take nothing for granted. I love you my children. Realize how important this time is. So much is being asked of each of you. Always know that every sacrifice made with love is seen by your Heavenly Father. I love you and I am interceding for each of you before the throne in Heaven. Know this.

6/3/2012 Jesus

Brothers and Sisters: It is I your Heavenly King calling each of you unto my heart. Children in each present moment I ask you to unite yourself to my most Sacred and Merciful Heart. Do not fear coming to me. I am meek and humble of heart. Children ask and you shall receive. Seek and you shall find. Knock and the door will be opened for you. It is my mercy I wish to give you. My peace I wish to place in your souls. You only need to accept this. To enter the Chambers of my Sacred Heart you must give me your yes. It is your yes that unites us together. I do not force myself upon you. But I am here waiting with an open heart, pierced for you. Place yourself in my first chamber by giving me your yes. I will give you the graces necessary to enter each of my chambers. How quickly you will travel through my heart if you trust in me. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

6/3/2012 Blessed Mother

Dear children: It is I your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones, I encourage you to follow what my Son has been teaching you. His words are truth. My children how quickly you will grow when you give yourselves to my Son. Trust Him in everything. He loves each of you. If only you would embrace what I am telling you, you would have joy in your hearts even when you have sadness surrounding you. Nothing is impossible when you trust in God's plan for you. Begin to trust. This can be accomplished through opening your hearts and giving God your yes. Only by accepting his will for you will you begin to develop a trusting heart. I love you my children and I am interceding for you before the throne of God.

6/4/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people: It is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpet and awaken mankind from his slumber. Come children and be faithful witnesses to God's merciful and saving heart. He is Lord of all. Bring souls to God by living the gospel messages. Be united to the cross of salvation. All hope is found in Him. His cross became your redemption. Hold this truth in your hearts as you prepare yourselves in battle against the enemy. Armor yourselves in truth. Be faithful witnesses to what you have received. True glory and might comes only in service. Children, be ready to serve with hearts adorned with sacrifices. What I am telling you will be a lesson, preparing you for trials to come. You must begin to learn love. I love you and place my shield before any child who heeds my lesson.

6/5/2012 Blessed Mother

Dear children: It is I your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones, children learn from the examples given by my Son. He led a life of service to others. He loved and cared for His brothers and sisters. He even offered His Father the ultimate sacrifice. He died for your sins. My children He loved. You must start to live your lives with a firm purpose. To choose love over your things. Not love of self, but love of neighbor. A willingness to sacrifice your wants for others needs. This, my children, is what will yield you treasure in Heaven. To love each other for the sake of others. (selfless love) Then you will experience true joy. This, my children cannot be bought. It can only be given away. Give to your brothers and sisters. I love you and I am interceding on your behalf's before the throne of Heaven.

6/6/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters: It is I your Heavenly King calling each of you unto my heart. Children wearily you travel along your path dragging your misfortunes behind you. You have allowed your baggage to consume you. Children come to me. I will remove from your hearts these heavy burdens. Just give them to me. Place everything in the shelter of my Sacred Heart. Do not spend your time focusing on the size of your burden or how you will carry it from here to there. Just listen to my words. Trust in what I am telling you.

6/7/2012 St. Michael

6/8/2012 Jesus

Brothers and Sisters: It is I your Heavenly King coming to ransom each of you unto my heart. Children listen to what I am telling you. Be merciful. The hour is fast approaching when I will make all things new. I will come into this world as the Just Judge. Everything will be brought before me. I tell you this so you can prepare your hearts ahead of time. Do not wait and be foolish. No one knows the hour of my coming. Therefore, do not delay. I will come like a thief in the night. So again prepare for my coming. Remain in me. Then you will not be caught off guard. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

6/9/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people: It is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpet and awaken mankind from his slumber. Children arise and take notice of what is occurring around you. Do not be misled in these final hours. Nothing will remain hidden before the Lord. All things will be revealed in His coming glory. Return to a heart that is pure and holy. Nothing unclean can enter Heaven. Wash your garments in the blood of the Lamb. He is your stronghold against all that is evil. In Him you find truth. He is your salvation. I love you and place my shield before all who call on my assistance. The winnowing fork is at the threshold. Prepare your hearts. The hour is fast approaching.

6/10/2012 Jesus

Brothers and Sisters: It is I your Heavenly King calling each of you unto my heart. Brothers and sisters, tonight start to open your hearts to what I have been teaching you. You must start to deny yourselves. Pick up your crosses and come follow me. My ways are truth. In me you will find salvation. Keep my words firmly rooted in your hearts. Then you will not fall so easily into your sinful choices. It is my heart I wish for you to seek. It is my mercy I wish to place in your soul. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

6/10/2012 Blessed Mother

Dear children: It is I your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones, listen to the words of my Son. His words are truth. My children do not be so quick to judge one another. Instead look to your brothers and sisters as opportunities to learn love. Be meek and humble just as my Son. Learn from His examples. You must begin to see that each of you as priceless in God's heart. When you begin to see the goodness that exists in your brothers and sisters you can begin to learn patience concerning their mistakes. Each of you have faults that you are working on overcoming. It is through the graces of my Son that this can be accomplished. So instead of judging, pray to my Son for graces for your brothers and sisters. Then my children you will be serving each other through prayer. This my Son will reward. I love you and I give you my motherly blessings. Tonight.

6/11/2012 St. John of the Cross

Chosen people: It is I St. John of the Cross coming tonight to share the good news that is Jesus Christ. Children you must learn to open your hearts to what is being said. This children, is not the time to become weary. Today your crosses seem heavy because you are dragging them behind you all the while missing their true hidden value. It is through your crosses that you earn treasure. Merit is found in a child who picks up his cross and follows after the Lord. That child has uncovered the pearl hidden in the sand. Start to view your sufferings as crowns of glory. Be ready to unite your sufferings to that of Jesus who bore everything. Remember the more you resemble Him in your sufferings the more you will also resemble Him in His glory. Give everything to Him with a heart full of gladness. Let joy permeate your every move. Then all you do will be for the good of the Kingdom. Salvation was won through the Cross of the Lamb. He is victor over sin. Place this truth in the midst of your hearts. I love you children and I send you my prayers and blessings.

6/12/2012 St. John of the Cross

Chosen people: It is I St. John of the Cross, coming to bring you the good news that is Jesus Christ. Dear children I come again tonight to talk further with you about the value of bearing your crosses. A cross should be your symbol of your continued renewal of your faith in the redemption given to us through the passion of our Lord. By choosing to accept His cross our Lord could freely bear the sins of mankind. He became a Lamb slain for His Father's children. This was only possible through God's only Son. He was the perfect unblemished Lamb. You must truly pick up your daily crosses and follow Jesus. You must emulate Him in all things. Then you too will become victorious over evil. Remember your cross is your symbol of freedom. A freedom over death paid with the blood of the Lamb. A king, who ransomed His life for each of us. This, my children should burn like a flame in your souls. I love you and pray for your continued conversion. Accept your crosses with renewed understanding and total surrender to God's salvific plan.

6/13/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters: It is I your Heavenly King. Calling each of you unto my heart. How far will you stray away from my voice before you realize that I am calling you unto my heart. Did I not tell you that I would seek you out. Even till the ends of the earth. Children I love you with a heart that is merciful. I call you with love. Remember how I have loved you. What I bore for you. How I hung for hours offering everything on your behalf. Do you still not believe that I will seek you out? That I will place you in the Chambers of my Sacred Heart pierced for you. My will is for all of my Father's children to return their hearts to me. Give me your yes tonight. Offer me everything and I will place you in my first chamber. Simply trust. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

6/13/2012 God the Father

Dear children: It is I your Heavenly Father. I love you with an everlasting love. Chosen and cherished to my heart you will always be. You are loved. This I tell you. Let this be the truth you accept. My words are everlasting. My children you are never far from my heart. Stop running and simply trust. I love you and I give you my blessings.

6/14/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people: It is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpet and awaken mankind from his slumber. Listen children and do not delay. The hour is fast approaching when all things will be made new. Everything hidden in darkness will be brought to light by the judgment of the Lamb. Who will stand before the king of Glory? This children is where you will be called forth. In judgment you will stand. Call on our help (the Angels) to prepare your hearts for battle. You must be convicted in your faith. No stone will be left unturned. Arm yourself with the blood of the Lamb. He alone is your salvation. Be merciful so our Lord will be merciful to you. Come and bow down in worship. He who was slain is the true victor. Await with gladden hearts, the hour is near. I love you and place my shield before all who call on my assistance.

6/15/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people: It is I St. Michael coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Children the hour is fast approaching when all things will be made new. By the blood of the Lamb you have been saved, rejoice in this. Open your hearts tonight so His spirit may dwell in you. I love you children and place my shield before any child who needs my assistance.

6/15/2012 Blessed Mother

Dear children: It is I your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones, happy are my children who obey the word of God. The Kingdom shall be theirs. My children. Begin to pray from your hearts. Pray until prayer becomes a joy for you. The more you begin to unite yourselves to my Son in all things the quicker you will progress on your journey. Enter into the chambers of His Sacred Heart by giving him your yes. Children you are loved. Know this. I love you and I give you my motherly blessings.

6/15/2012 St. Therese the little flower

Children: It is I St. Therese (the little flower) sending you warm greetings from Heaven. Dear children remain simple before the Lord, your Risen King. Become like little children who trust Him with their whole hearts. Children love Jesus just because. (I can see small children playing happily and holding hands circling.) They do not go around requesting signs and miracles. They are happy merely being His children. Uniquely loved by Him. Become God's trusting little children in all things. Then you will become trusting in much greater things. (I could see men and women carrying difficult crosses. They were walking and smiling looking towards Heaven with total trust in God.) I love you children and send you my blessings from Heaven.

(St. Therese came tonight because it was the feast of Sacred Heart Of Jesus. She was very happy because she loves Jesus's Sacred and Merciful heart. She was very happy and is praying for all of us.)

6/16/2012 Jesus

Brothers and Sisters: It is I your Heavenly King. Calling each of you unto my most Sacred and Merciful Heart. Children where your hearts are, is the direction you are headed. Look carefully at your hearts. Are you seeking pleasure that will only yield you fruitless love? Or are you learning sacrificial love that will yield you treasure in Heaven. Learn from the fig tree. If the tree is ripe it will produce much fruit. But what if the tree bears nothing. Then it will be chopped down and thrown into the fire. Bear fruit, then you will grow treasure in Heaven. Give me your hearts of stone and I will change them. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

6/17/2012 Jesus

Brothers and Sisters: It is I your Heavenly King. Calling each of you unto my heart. Children the path that you are taking is brought on by your choices. Every step is made with either a "yes" to my plan for you or a "no" and you begin to go off on your own. Walking further and further away from my heart. Give me your yes in each step you take. Then you will always be united to my will for you. Remember what I have told you. My yoke is easy and my burden is light. So do not fear picking up your crosses and following me. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

6/17/2012 Blessed Mother

My children: It is I your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones, my children. Follow the ways of the Lord. His ways are truth and will yield you happiness. Children, you must begin to listen to what my Son is teaching you. How happy you would be if only you began to listen and offer Him your hearts. Unite yourselves to my Son. Then my children you will begin to have happiness in your hearts. I love you and give you my motherly blessings. Know this.

6/18/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people: It is I St. Michael coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Children do not delay in your preparations. The hour is coming when the Son of man will make all things new. He will sit on His throne in judgment. Where will you be delivered to? (the right or handed over to the left) Where are your treasures? What worth is a man's soul if he forfeits the Kingdom for his useless trinkets. What value is in greed, or idolatry, or fornication? Children the axe is at the grinding stone. Anything found that is not producing fruit will be cut down. Value the lessons given to you. Learn from them. Put into practice all that has been told to you. This, children is the direction you are receiving. Start to live your days according to what your King has asked of you. Begin by giving your yes to His eternal heart. Followed by loving your brothers and sisters. Everything else will follow from there. I love you and place my shield before any child who hears my message and responds.

(St. Michael is asking what worth is a man's soul. God told us in His prayer He gave us. We are to ask God to help us understand our soul's value. It is priceless before God. In the prayer we are to be reminded that it was the sacrifice of God's only Son, Jesus who was worthy enough to be ransomed for our souls. We must begin to see our value to God our Father and live our remaining days accordingly. We need to stop risking our salvation on things like greed, idolatry, or fornication. Instead we must return our hearts to God alone. Giving him our "yes" and learning to love our neighbors.)

6/19/2012 Jesus

Brothers and Sisters: It is I your Heavenly King. Calling each of you unto myself. Children, be bearers of light in your darkened world. Live by my words. They are truth. I desire for you to help bring your lost brothers and sisters back to my most Merciful and Sacred Heart. You can do this by living a life deeply rooted in faith. The more you love everyone I have placed at your doorsteps the more others will see the fruits of your abiding love in me. Love begets love, the same of mercy too. You must become merciful just as I have shown you mercy. I have told you I desire mercy not sacrifices. This is because a merciful heart brings children back from their sinful ways. Do not judge. None of you are without sin. Instead be faithful witnesses to all that I have said. Live each moment united to my heart. It is in the chambers of my heart that salvation was purchased for you. Open your hearts to each other. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

6/20/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters: It is I your Heavenly King calling each of you unto myself. Children open your hearts to me tonight. For I am meek and humble of heart. Let me lift your sorrows and turn them into joys. Have I not said that I will comfort my children in their time of sorrow? Unite everything to me. I will place every thing in the chambers of my Sacred and Merciful Heart. Here I will make all things new. Simply trust in my will for you. I love you and give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

6/20/2012 Blessed Mother

Dear children: It is I your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones, continue learning and never give up hope. In my Son lies all hope. Trust in his mercy. His words are everlasting. I love you my children and I give you my motherly blessings. Know this.

6/21/2012 St.AloysiusGonzaga

Holy people: It is I St. Aloysius Gonzaga, coming tonight to spread the good news that is our Savior Jesus Christ. In my coming tonight I wish to share some insight into the treasure of redemption. Jesus redeemed us by offering his Father his body. He became our true food. By this sole act of love he redeemed mankind from his many sins. Do not be frightened of what is coming. Many trials will come along in your life but these trials will help you grow strong in faith. You must learn from everything presented to you. Be strong and evangelize the gospel wherever you go. I love you children and I pray for your safe return to God's heart.

(In the sick, the helpless, the dying, St. Aloysius saw the crucified Christ.)

6/22/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people: It is I St. Michael, coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Have peace in your hearts. The hour is near when all things will be made new. Tend to your soil. The harvesters will arrive soon. Anything not producing good fruit will be cut down and burned. Children, now is the time to cultivate what you have sown in your hearts. Everything you have has been given to you. What are you doing with your opportunities to grow the Kingdom? Where are your fruits? Do not worry about what your neighbor is growing or how hard they are working. Focus on what has been placed in front of you. Work on your soil. When you have prepared well then go help your brothers and sisters. But you must first stay focused or you will become distracted and nothing will be accomplished. I love you and place my shield before any child who desires my help.

6/23/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters: It is I your Heavenly King, calling each of you unto my heart. Children. You have heard that I require mercy. It is through mercy that mankind will return from his peril. I wish for you to follow my example and begin to sow mercy in everyone you meet. It is not for you to judge their deeds. So do not judge. Rather be a beacon of light in this darkened hour. I love you and give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

Sow: to spread for the purpose of growing

6/24/2012 Blessed Mother

Children: It is I your heavenly mother. My dear little ones, children how happy you would be if you began to develop an ardent prayer life? You would see how quickly your lives would be transformed. Your hearts would be united to my Son, who is all good. He will bless your efforts. Acknowledge your weaknesses before God. He will listen and take everything in His heart. He will send you graces to overcome your difficulties. Do not become discouraged. How quickly you will progress through the chambers of my Son's heart when you give Him your yes. Children do not put this off any longer. You must humble yourselves and ask for mercy for your world. I am constantly praying for your conversions of heart. But you must be committed to changing. My little ones, I love you. Take this time of grace and use it wisely. I love you and I give you my motherly blessings. Know this.

6/25/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people: It is I St. Michael coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Children do not become deaf to what is occurring in your world. Stand up and take notice. The time to prepare your hearts is now. Let the words of God enter your hearts and return to the King who paid your ransom. He is Lord of all. This children is the path you must take to enter the Kingdom prepared for you. You must enter through the narrow gate. I love you and place my shield before any child who will listen.

6/25/2012 Blessed Mother

Children: It is I your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones, do not be afraid of what you are hearing. This is to prepare you. Your hearts have grown hard. You must return to the ways of my Son. His ways are truth. Do not be fooled into thinking you have unlimited time to change. My children you do not know what time your Lord will call you. Prepare now. Then you will face your judgment with hearts that have been given fully to my Son. He will show mercy to you. My children you must continue to strive for holiness. I love you and give you my motherly blessings. Know this.

6/26/2012 Blessed Mother

Children: It is I your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones, pray from your hearts. Pray until prayer becomes a joy for you. Do not become discouraged during these remaining days. Instead remain faithful trusting always in my Son. His mercy endures forever. I love you my children and I give you my motherly blessing. Know this.

6/27/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people: It is I St. Michael coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Be wise children. Do not let this hour pass you without your giving your yes to your Risen King. He is Lord of all. Remove the clutter that is filling your lives. Surround yourselves with God's eternal word. This, children will bring you truth. Set out before nightfall and renew your baptismal promises. Then live by your words of faith. Judgment will befall mankind. Enter into a union with your Lord before it is too late. I love you and place my shield before all who ask for my assistance.

6/28/2012 Blessed Mother

Children: It is I your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones, be faithful to what you are receiving. Graces are being poured out for your salvation. You must accept this with hearts full of gladness. Willing to offer my Son everything. In Him you will find truth. I love you children and I send you my motherly blessings.

6/29/2012 St. Paul

Chosen people: It is I St. Paul coming to bring you the good news that is Jesus Christ. Be a beacon of light in the coming days. Do not let the darkness pervading your world enter your hearts. Do not become distracted by the thoughts of men. Remain united to Christ in all things. I encourage you to stay focused on what is before you. Namely the path and choices set before you. If your direction is not in union with God then you are traveling against His will. Change courses. Be united in all things. Seek mercy when you fall. Forgiveness will be given to those children who ask with ardent contrite hearts. Persevere and be faithful witnesses to the gospels. If you live according to the word of God you will not fall prey to the ways of the world. But this must be accomplished through many sacrifices. You must first die to self. Then your heart will be ready to do the will of God. I love you children and pray for your continued efforts. May the peace of Christ reign in your hearts and families.

6/29/2012 St. John of the Cross

Good and holy people: It is I St. John of the Cross coming tonight to talk about sacrificing. You must first learn how to deny yourselves in small matters. Giving up meat on Fridays. Removing immoral desires from your hearts. Giving of your time to help someone else in need. This is how you begin sacrificing for the Kingdom. Everyone is called to sacrifice in some small way. It is through sacrificing that redemption is possible. Jesus sacrificed the greatest gift of all. He laid down His life for everyone. He was the good Shepherd. This children is where you see the fruits of that sacrifice. Do not be afraid if you find yourself struggling. When you struggle stop and pray. Offer your struggles to the Lord. Even struggles can be of merit when united to Jesus with a sincere heart. Have joy within you. The more you learn to sacrifice the more ready you will be to accept the gifts God is waiting to place in your souls. But first you must empty yourselves of everything contrary to God's holy virtues. Work tirelessly on achieving this simple first step. I love you and I am praying for your efforts in this matter. May God's peace reign in your hearts and world tonight.

6/30/2012 Jesus

Brothers and Sisters: It is I your Heavenly King calling each of you unto myself. How long will you continue to remain far from my heart? How many obstacles will you put between us. You must surrender everything to my Sacred and Merciful Heart. It is in the chambers of my heart that your redemption is found. Children do not forsake what I am telling you so you can remain in your current state. How will you face me when I come in all my glory? If I ask you at judgment to show me the fruits you produced with the graces I had given you, what will you produce for me? Will your arms be empty? How can you place such value on things and so little value on your brothers and sisters? Love one another. This I ask of you, to do my will. Love one another. Then you will bear fruit. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

6/30/2012 Blessed Mother

Dear children: It is I your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones, how much you have already forgotten. Look back on the lessons you have received. You become distracted easily and soon forgot what you have been told. Return to my Son's heart by giving Him your yes in each present moment. Abandon the evilness that you have allowed to take root in your souls. Then go to my Son for forgiveness. Keep nothing hidden. Everything will be revealed by Him, so be contrite. The more you humble yourselves like little children the greater His mercy will be poured out in your soul. A proud heart has no room for graces. Pride consumes the soul. Children remove your pride through humility. I love you and I give you my motherly blessings.

7/1/2012 St. John of the Cross

Chosen people: It is I St. John of the Cross, coming to bring you the good news that is Jesus Christ. Children empty yourselves so you can become a vessel for the Lord. Keep your hearts open to receive graces. Then you will have what you need in the days ahead. To armor yourselves will require you to submit yourselves to self - sacrifice. Be prudent in your choices. What you carry with you may require that you carry it for a long time. Do not be afraid of what lies ahead. If you armor yourselves with the gifts of the Holy Spirit you will be triumphant in your journey. It is the will of God that all of His children return to His merciful heart. There is no exception. Remain close to the cross that won your redemption. In your crosses many graces can be found. I love you children and pray for peace to return to your families and world.

7/2/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people: It is I St. Michael coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Be watchful of your present moment. Who are you giving it to? In whom do you place your trust. Affix your eyes to the Lord who is ever present and ever merciful. This, children is where you must go. To spend your time in service of others all the while uniting this service to the Lord. How quickly you will grow in understanding the vastness of God's mercy. Children the more you make your self available to those in need the more you will be able to offer your King at the appointed hour. So again I call out to you. Be watchful of the present hour. Where you stand will be decided by the choices you make. I love you and place my shield before all who call upon my assistance.

7/2/2012 Blessed Mother

Dear children: It is I your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones, be present in everything you do. Offer everything to my Son with glad adoration. Remembering the hope and salvation that He bestowed upon mankind. My children if you only knew how loved you are. You would never wish to offend my Son again. Be joyful as you work taking care of what has been placed in your lives. Remember every cross will also bring graces. It was through my Son's cross that salvation was won. I love you dear children and I give you my motherly blessings. Know this.

7/3/2012 Jesus

Brothers and Sisters: It is I your Heavenly King, calling each of you unto my heart. Verily I say to you unless a grain of wheat falls to the ground and dies it remains just that. But when it does die it produces much fruit. Children I tell you this because you must learn to die to your ways. How can you produce fruit if you remain in your self - absorbed ways. Begin to leave behind your slothfulness. Remove your pride. Cast away your sinful pleasures. These are the things you must die of. Then you will see clearly how much time you have wasted forgetting about the brothers and sisters you could have helped. How often I send children to you and you turn away from them. You cast them aside, as if they were a nuisance to you. Yet these are the very brothers and sisters who will arrive ahead of you. (in the Kingdom) Remain focused on removing everything that takes you away from my heart. Then come to me and I will place you in my second chamber where I will place my mercy in your soul. I will forgive you of your sins and unite myself to you. Come to me. I love you and give you my priestly blessings.

7/4/2012 Blessed Mother

Children: It is I your Heavenly Mother, my dear little ones. How happy you will become when you follow the ways of the Lord. In Him you find truth. Children you have become lost. You continually avoid living in truth. Do you not yet see that you are living in a world that boasts lies. Only when you turn your hearts over to my Son will you begin to live in truth. Become seekers of truth in everything that is placed before you. You must learn to discern what you are hearing or being given is bringing you closer to God, or are you being led astray. Children I love you. I am praying for you before the throne of God. Begin to live lives of prayer. Ask the Holy Spirit to give you the grace of wisdom to help you learn how to discern. I love you and give you my motherly blessings. Know this.

7/5/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people: It is I St. Michael coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Slumber no more children of Israel the hour is fast approaching. No longer will you look upon the lowly for the Kingdom of God will raise up the lowly before your eyes. In the coming days you will be brought forth. Peril is at your doorstep. No longer can you call yourself children of the King. You have been perpetrators of lies. Do not be deceived. The Lord Himself will come when you least expect it. Woe to those children who remain asleep at the appointed hour. Darkness will befall them. Instead children remain in the light where your fruits can be seen and rewarded. I love you and place my shield before all who call upon my assistance.

7/6/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters: It is I your Heavenly King. Calling each of you unto my heart. Children never worry about what you are to eat or drink. I am the Bread of Life. You only need worry about removing yourself from my heart. If you are in me and I in you how then can I neglect your needs. Did I not say I will nourish you with my own body? Will I not give you life-giving waters? Yes, I will take care of each of you that have taken shelter in the abode of my heart. You have listened and heard well. You have taken all of these lessons and are changing your ways. But to the children who listened and did not hear, I tell you the hour is coming when I will make all things new. Now is the time to take shelter in my most compassionate and merciful heart. You do not know the hour I will come and judge this world. Better to be ready now than caught off guard when I come. My judgment will come swiftly and I will leave no stone unturned. Listen then to what I am telling you. The wise man will go out and prepare for the harvest. He will work in the vineyard awaiting the appointed hour. When the time is right He will harvest His grapes and His bounty will be abundant. But the wicked will not work. They will remain asleep until the last hour. They will try to take away from my chosen ones what is not theirs. But they will not be successful. They will see the mighty hand of God come down in judgment against their deeds. Every truth will be brought to light. No one will escape this. Therefore be wise and prepare your hearts now while it is still light out. Darkness will come and no longer will you have time to prepare. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

[I see a man watching over his grapes. He guards them night and day. When they are ready he is glad because the time has come and he had produced a lot of grapes. The wicked people are angry at God. They blame God for their plight. They try to steal from the man but God sends his Angels to protect him.]

7/7/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters: It is I your Heavenly King calling each of you unto my heart. Children be weary of wolves dressed in sheep's clothing. They have come to destroy your efforts. Do not be afraid of what can kill the body. Only be concerned with what can harm the soul. You have heard me tell you that I did not come to condemn you but rather to save you. This is truth. You however must remain in my heart. You must return to me whenever you falter trusting that I will place you in the second chamber of my heart and forgive your sins. I will place my mercy in your soul so you can once again go out and journey towards my heart. Therefore again I tell you do not be afraid of what can harm the body. Do not let that occupy your thoughts. Instead realize that you are more than just a body. You are both body and spirit. I will raise you up. Do not let anything remove you from my heart. Work very hard and tend what I have placed in your path. Then you will grow and produce fruits. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

7/8/2012 Jesus

Brothers and Sisters: It is I your Heavenly King calling each of you unto my heart. Children listen to what I am telling you. The moon is in the sky giving off light. Soon darkness will come, even the moon will remain hidden. Therefore you must prepare your hearts while you have the light of day. Do not cover your eyes and avoid what is happening around you. Likewise do not cover your ears in the hopes that evil will not reach your ears. You must stand firmly rooted in my heart. I will give you the words at the appointed time. You will not be lost to me. Open your eyes so you may see the truth. Open your ears so you may hear too. Do not remain hidden while your brothers and sisters are being led astray. You must be a voice clearing the way so your siblings will hear the truth. I love you and I give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

7/9/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people: It is I St. Michael coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Arise all you sleepers. The hour is fast approaching. Where are your hearts? Remove the hatred and pride that still exists and replace it with sacrifices and obedience. Out of sacrifice and obedience comes forth love. Begin to have hearts that are ready to learn love. Love each other. I love you and place my shield before all who call upon my assistance.

7/9/2012 Blessed Mother

Children: It is I your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones, learn to love each other by praying for each other first. Start simply by asking God to watch over everyone. Offer small sacrifices for one another. Throughout the day whenever you think of someone say a quick prayer for that person. How quickly you will learn love through prayer. A prayerful heart is a forgiving heart. When you are hurt by a brother or sister love them even more. Pray for their hearts to not be hardened. Do not curse or be scornful. Do not let anger take root. My children anger will only lead to hatred. This goes against what my Son has taught you. You must begin to make prayer an important part of your day. Then you will grow and become beautiful children with kind and loving hearts. I love you and intercede for each of you. Know this.

7/10/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people: It is I St. Michael coming to sound the trumpet and awaken mankind from his slumber. Give praise to the Lord all you nations. Shout with gladness all you peoples, for the Kingdom of God is among you. Be good stewards during this hour of mercy. Do not let this hour pass by without notice. For once it is gone it cannot be retrieved. Be ready to watch, for the hour is at hand. The Anointed One will sit on His throne in judgment. All will bow and rejoice in His Holy Name. Awaken your hearts and fill them with joyful offerings of praise and worship. Now is the time to offer gifts of servitude to your Risen King. Slumber no more. I love you and place my shield before any child who calls upon my assistance.

7/11/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people: It is I St. Michael coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind from his slumber. Arise and take notice of what is surrounding you. Here is your treasure. You reap what you have sown. Children where are your fruits. Where are your efforts. This coming hour will be upon you. Have you anything to offer your King at the appointed hour? This I have come to ask you tonight. Do not be foolish and continue to wait before you begin to return your heart to your Risen Lord. The time to convert your lives is now. I love you and I place my shield before any child who calls on my assistance.

7/12/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people: It is I St. Michael coming to sound my trumpet and awaken the hearts of mankind. Come and rejoice the hour is near when all things will be made new. No longer will mankind walk in darkness. Every deed will be brought to light. Let every tongue confess this truth. Be ready to stand the test. Guard yourselves against all evil. Only through the blood of the Lamb will you be victorious. I love you and place my shield before all who call upon my assistance.

7/12/2012 Blessed Mother

Children: It is I your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones, keep watch my children. Do not allow sin to take root in your souls. The devil is a deceiver and will try to remove you from your path. Do not fall for his traps. Arm yourself with frequent communions and confessions. Begin to live prayerful lives entrenched in holy virtues and sacrifices, especially the sacrifice of yourselves. The more you die of yourselves the quicker you will gain sanctity. I love you children and desire for you to lead holy lives. Continue to pray for my intercession. I love you and I will intercede before the throne of Heaven for each of my children. Know this.

7/13/2012 St. Michael

Chosen people: It is I St. Michael coming to sound the trumpets and awaken mankind. Children slumber no more. The hour is near when all things will be made new. Now is the time for you to awaken from your sleep. Too long have you rested and let evil enter in your midst. You have allowed your houses to be abandoned and the enemy has entered. No longer do you have dominion over your families. They too have gone astray. Return your hearts to the Lamb. He is the victor over the enemy. Come back with contrite hearts and you will be forgiven. Remain awake now, no longer allow yourselves to be deceived. The hour is upon you when every deed will be brought to light. Repent now and be counted among the elect. They have the Kingdom awaiting them. This, children you must seek, to know God. To love God. Nothing else will yield you fruit. Except to know and love your God with hearts and minds that are pure. I love you and place my shield before any child who calls upon my assistance. Dominion: rule or authority

7/14/2012 Jesus

Brothers and Sisters: It is I your Heavenly King calling each of you unto my heart. Children never fear coming to me, for I am meek and humble of heart. Listen to what I am telling you. My words are truth. You cannot serve two masters. You will either love one and despise the other. You cannot serve both me and your things. I am asking you to remove everything that stands between us. How can you be close to my heart when you are being distracted by your things. How can you listen to my words when you are busying yourselves with your own thoughts. Thoughts of slander, greed, and the like. How can you serve me by caring for your sick and needy when you are too busy being a glutton or drunkard. No, my children you must begin to remove these obstacles from your hearts. They will only cause you to be lost. No longer do I wish for you to be lost to my most compassionate and merciful heart. Simply call out to me and I will be there. Reach out to me and I will give you graces , you only need to ask and it will be given to you. But you must ask with hearts full of trust. Do not ask me and doubt my love. I love you. Do not ask and then turn away from my mercy only to return to your sinful ways. Ask and return to my heart. I love you and give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

7/15/2012 Jesus

Brothers and Sisters: It is I your Heavenly King calling each of you unto myself. Children do not adorn yourselves and allow greed to take root in your heart. Remember how I have asked you to take care of your brothers and sisters I have placed in your lives. Do not waste this time of grace on useless things that bring you no merit. When I call you what will you show me? Arms that are void of good deeds. Take this time and be good stewards of the graces you are receiving. Be thoughtful to those around you and you will be rewarded by their kindness in return. Tend to what I have given you. Cultivate what you have been taught. A good teacher teaches by example and a good student takes what they have learned and puts it to good use. Listen to what I am saying to you. Be wise with the time you are receiving. It will not always be daylight outside. So work now while you have my mercy with you. My justice will come, but woe to those who have not made good use of their time. Darkness will come upon them. Then no one can work outside. Work while you have the light of day. I love you and give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

7/15/2012 Blessed Mother

Children: It is I your Heavenly Mother. My dear little ones, continue to work hard. Always strive for perfection in your tasks. Then offer everything to my Son to bless. Even when you fall short of expectations offer your short comings to Him also. Is he not the great consoler? Unite yourself to my Son. Then you will be ready when He comes. I love you my children and I give you my motherly blessings. Know this.

7/16/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters: It is I your Heavenly King calling each of you unto my heart. Children, hear what I am telling you. You must understand the value of your soul. It is priceless. Yet you are to willing to jeopardize what you have been given for your own selfish pleasures. How can you comprehend my lessons if you are unwilling to remove the sin you are allowing to enter your hearts. If my Father in Heaven loves you so dearly that your soul is worth more than any other creature, why can't you see your value also? What about your brothers and sisters value? Begin to understand that you are not just a body. You are both body and soul. I am addressing your soul tonight because you think so little about it. You spend many hours adorning your body all the while ignoring your spirit. Do not be misled any further. Your body will return to the earth for a time but your soul returns to the Father. I love you and give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

7/17/2012 Jesus

Brothers and sisters: It is I your Heavenly King calling each of you unto my heart. Never fear coming to me, for I am meek and humble of heart. Do not fear asking anything of me. I am always ready to place graces into your souls. Never fear asking for my mercy. To a contrite sinner mercy has already been given. Do not fear anything except sin. Only what separates us should you be fearful of. [I see a person cowering in shame for having offended God. Jesus kneels beside her and places his arm about her shoulder.] Only then do I offer you my forgiveness and my mercy. I love you and give you my priestly blessings.

7/17/2012 God the Father

Dear children: It is I your Heavenly Father coming tonight to talk about salvation. A covenant was made with my children. Unbroken. This, my children has become a source of life giving bread; a cup of everlasting blood to be shared with all. Yet this solemn offering has gone unnoticed by mankind. How many of my children soon forget what has been given to them. My children nothing has been held back. I have offered you everything a Father can give His children. It is you that have remained far from my heart. Now is the time to turn back to me. I am a benevolent Father ready to give His children many gifts. Simply come to me and I will take you into the palm of my hand. I will again place you in my heart. I will shelter you in the abode of my mercy. I love you my children I call you my own. Each of you unique to my heart. Do not allow this hour to pass without returning to me where you belong. Chosen and cherished to my heart you will always be. I love you each with an everlasting love.

7/18/2012 Jesus

Brothers and Sisters: It is I your Heavenly King calling each of you unto myself. Children I desire for you to be examples of my unending mercy. You will accomplish this by offering your mercy to everyone who asks for it. Turn no one down, even those who seem undesirable or difficult. Forgive them immediately and offer them mercy. Unite this to my most Sacred and Merciful heart. I understand that this may seem like a daunting task, difficult to achieve. You only need to rely on my graces. Accept what I am placing before you, opportunities to unite yourself to me. Showing love by example. Remind yourselves that love is patient. Love is kind.

Love testifies to the truth and abides in each of you. That is because you were created from eternal love. This I tell you that you belong to your Father in Heaven. This is truth. But to love your Father back in a fitting manner requires you to learn self-giving sacrificial love. I love you and give you my priestly blessings. Know this.

7/19/2012 God the Father
18 month Anniversary

Children: It is I your Heavenly Father coming to speak with you. Listen children to your Father. How loved you are by me. I desire to shelter you in the palm of my hand. It is in the depths of love that I called you forth. Man and women I created you. I blessed you and placed you forth to be fruitful and fill the earth. How much I desire for the same today. I wish for you to be fruitful, full of graces and mercy. Constantly striving for peace and mercy to fill your hearts. You only need to look at what my only Son taught you. He followed my will. He was blessed and blessed. He withheld nothing, offering everything to each of my children. This, my children, is the way to my heart. Through my Son, your gate. It is in trusting what has been given to you that you will find salvation. Trusting in the mercy that was granted to each of you by my Son's sacrifice on the cross. How dearly He pleased me. How much He loved each of you. Now I ask all of you my children to begin uniting yourself once again to my heart full of mercy and unending love for my children. Do not avert your hearts to my gaze. Do not shut your ears to my calling you. It is my love I wish to give you. My mercy I wish to bestow on you. Simply return to my heart. Here I have called you forth and here I wish for you to return. You are a treasure I hold in delight, beauty of unparalleled value. Do you not see how cherished you are to me? Still I call out to you. My children you are loved. Chosen and cherished you will always be to me. Everlasting will I love you. This I tell you. You are as unique to my heart as tear drops. In my heart I place you. Tonight I give you my blessings. Know this.

Daughter: I desire to tell you to continue on the road you are working on. Do not give up when you are struggling. Offer me your struggles. I will listen. I will send you graces necessary for you to overcome what you have burdened yourself with. Do not think for a moment I have forsaken you. On the contrary I love you. I see that you are trying along with your struggles, that my child is your journey. I only ask that you unite yourself to me in all things. Trust in my mercy for you and seek out my forgiveness. You have written well the words you have received. I ask you to continue writing. Still my children remain asleep and far from my heart. Pray with earnest for their conversions. Not a single child should be lost to me. Pray in particular for families. How quickly children can lose their way. Bring forth fruits of mercy and kindness. Live in truth with gladness in your heart. Practice humility and always have a heart full of contrition when you fall. I love you my child. Each volume written is unique and each word should be contemplated with a heart resolute on learning. Many lessons and graces are contained in each passage. Fear not what you have been given or told. All will be brought to light soon. Then you will understand fully what has been given to you. Ask and you will receive. Seek and you will find. This is the third title.
